3 To Review Procedures for Rescue

Fire department chief Wallace MacGeorge, city manager Cal Zorn and police department chief Merlin Mowery will meet sometime in the future with the sheriff's department to "review procedures" for calling the Tecumseh rescue squad of the city's fire department.

Monday night, Duane Carpenter, a Tecumseh fire department volunteer and one of the eight city emergency Medical Technicians, asked Council why the city rescue squad is called on some accidents and not others.

He stated examples in which he felt the city rescue squad could have responded to personal injury accidents faster than ambulance service.

He asked Council to seek ways to cut lapse time for treating the injured and to eliminate nuisance calls for the department.

Big Boy Back to Board for Annexation to City

Tecumseh Big Boy, Inc. is expected to return to Tecumseh Township at its Jan. 11 meeting to request, for a second time, that the building site in Tecumseh Township on M-50 be released for annexation to the city of Tecumseh.

First request for release for annexation was denied in November. Township objected to "piecemeal annexation" by the city.

The decision to press for annexation was made by local developers, Joe Mannino, Gene Tuckey and Earl Baldwin, after discussing an agreement with Tecumseh City Council Monday night.

At the Nov. 15 Council meeting, Council agreed to grant city sewer and water to Tecumseh Big Boy, Inc. if the developers agreed to pay a special assessment.

Agreement discussed at the Nov. 15 meeting was that the developers would pay city millage minus two mills.

Developers understood that they would pay an assessment equivalent to current city millage minus current township millage. Current city millage now is 13 mills and current township millage is two mills. But, during negotiations in the last month, the developers discovered they misunderstood the city's suggestion.

Monday night, Mayor Harold Easton told the men he intended the assessment to be current city millage minus two mills, regardless of the township's millage increases.

City officials explained this was necessary, because they could not control the townships millage.

Developers argued if township millage increases along with the city's millage, they would be taxed double for duplicate services.

Councilmen Carlton Cook and Len DeMoss stated they did not understand the city's proposal as Easton had intended. Cook then agreed with the mayor, admitting that his former thinking was "erroneous."

Motion made by Councilman Carlton Cook and seconded by Council member Mary Bowers at the Nov. 15 meeting stated:

City agrees to provide sewer and water facilities to "Big Boy" property if property owners Gene Tuckey, Joe Mannino and Earl Baldwin agree to pay assessment in lieu of taxes. Motion carried unanimously. Councilman Aden Mead was absent from the meeting.

Monday night Council passed a motion to allow the city manager and attorney to draw an agreement with Big Boy for city sewer and water services for city millage, minus two mills.

However, the developers said their alternative now was to seek annexation again.

Franklin, Raisin Report Building

Building permits in Franklin Township have seen a "steady increase" in 1976 over 1975 figures, said township supervisor Richard Platt, whereas in Raisin Township the number of the 1976 building permits have been "comparable" to 1975, said township supervisor Richard Gallaway.

Franklin Township reported 25 single family residence building permits, totaling $818,000, for an average of $32,700. Nineteen residential garage building permits were issued for a total of $80,400, or an average of $4,230.

Nineteen permits were issued for residential additions, or alterations, for a total of $76,100 or an average of $4,000 per permit.

One industrial building permit was issued at $20,000 and three mobile homes were added to Country Village Mobile Home Park.

In Raisin Township, 31 single family residence building permits were issued for a total of $1,970,300, or an average of $63,550.

Three industrial permits were issued for a total of $113,000. Permits for 18 garages totaled $43,800, at an average of $2,433, and one school building permit was issued for Sutton School at $127,515.

A non-residential permit was issued for an $18,000 well house at Lake Arrowhead Estates.

Nineteen permits were granted for residential alterations and additions for a total of $92,700, and 11 permits were issued for changes for mobile homes. Two other permits totaled $7,000.

TM Survey Results Will Be Released at Jan. 12 Meeting

by KATHY BROWN

Results of a preliminary survey by a Town Meeting '76 special task force on the need for a multi-purpose community meeting facility will be presented at a public meeting at the Tecumseh Public Library at 7 p.m. on Wednesday, Jan. 12.

One of the Town Meeting '76 proposals was to examine the feasibility of "a community activity building that would facilitate meetings, luncheons, theatrics and other activities." At a follow-up meeting, citizens voted the proposal a top priority.

A task force headed by Marjorie Steiner was delegated to investigate the proposal. Because the Tecumseh youth were considered the quickest to survey, a questionnaire was circulated in the senior and junior high schools. Teens were asked about their needs for a meeting place or "teen center."

Other groups — adults and senior citizens — will be surveyed at a later date, said Mrs. Steiner.

Survey results show that of 895 junior and senior high school students surveyed 745 students want a teen facility. More than half, 421 students, would be willing to help. Thirty-three students were undecided and 25 students had no comment.

Survey questionnaires were distributed by teachers in the study halls with the cooperation of senior high school principal Clarence Lacny and junior high school principal David Dick.

Mrs. Steiner said the special task force is aware of problems that must be dealth with to make a teen center work. However she firmly believes that the community can make the project work if there is committment.

"What we're trying to do is to make people aware that there are 745 kids that you can do something for," said Mrs. Steiner.

People interested in working with young people are invited to discuss the survey at the meeting Wednesday. "We want them to come with their ideas," Mrs. Steiner said. "We need lots and lots of ideas."

Comments from the students showed that 62 specifically wanted to stage to perform school plays and summer theater and an auditorium for rock band concerts.

Fifty-four responded that they wanted a place to play sports in spare time. Specific suggestions were an indoor swimming pool, soccer field, volleyball court and skating rink.

Willingness to help was higher among the ninth and 10th grade students. A desire for a theater facility was higher in the senior high school grades.

Mrs. Steiner noted other trends in the survey.

"Cynicism is high among 11th and 12th grade students. They don't believe that anything good can happen. They don't feel anyone is really interested in their needs, or that anyone cares enough to help them make it work."

Fear was expressed by some students. "The most prevelant fear is that (a teen center) will be taken over by dope and alcohol. They fear there won't be any discipline to keep the unwanteds out."

On the positive side, "there is a great willingness of the young people to work to have this, to commit themselves to the problems involved."

The task force was impressed with "the overall

HENRY MASTIE CHALLENGED

Britton President Faces Recall Vote on Monday

By MARY MASKA

BRITTON — Jan. 10 has been set as the date of a special recall election for Henry Mastie, Britton Village President. Polls will be open from 7 a.m. until 8 p.m., at the Ridgeway Township Fire Hall for the qualified electors of the village.

Petitions, calling for the recall of Mastie, were circulated in the village last October and November, and then filed with Pat Johnston, Lenawee County clerk.

Mastie, a councilman, was elected village president Sept. 20, succeeding Stewart Niblack, who had resigned.

Next Monday's recall vote may well be the first ever for Britton.

Deadline for application for absentee ballots will be Saturday, January 8, 1977 at 2 p.m. with the village clerk.

Following are the charges and rebuttal which will appear on the ballot:

CHARGES

1. Organized and participated in irregular procedural acts of the Village Council, including the refusal to approve Council minutes regarding presidential appointment, which enabled him to achieve higher position within the Council.

HENRY MASTIE

2. Failed, as one responsible, to assure that village employees were compensated per contract provisions.

3. Failed, for an unreasonable time, to provide the village citizens with a village clerk capable of taking voter registrations.

4. Obligates the village to undue financial burden by employing an attorney without proper authorization.

5. Displays a lack of knowledge of village ordinances.

6. Signed a State Grant-in-Aid without the advice and consent of the Village Council.

7. Monopolizes village council meetings to the extent that important business is not discussed nor acted upon and time does not permit others to voice their opinions.

8. Above actions, among others, create dissension within the village council and citizenry, resulting in resignations of village employees and disruption of village government.

MASTIE'S REBUTTAL STATEMENT

My actions, since becoming village president, have always been in the best interest of Britton. Any temporary inefficiencies in village administration resulted from the abrupt resignation of the clerk and mismanagement by the prior administration.

My specific response to the charges contained in the Recall Petition is as follows:

1. Those council minutes referred to were false and did not reflect the actual vote on the question, therefore they were not approved.

2. After the clerk quit, there was no one available to pay these people.

3. Efforts were immediately made to employ a new clerk to register voters, the only delay being to bond the new clerk, as required by law.

4. The attorney was present only after state requirements regarding the parade route were not followed.

5. No village ordinances have ever been printed or published.

6. The grant requested was signed as president, upon recommendation of the engineer.

7. I have only spoken to prior mismanagement. If that took much time, then it was due to prior mismanagement.

8. Those employees who have left, did so for reasons other than my actions.

Council OKs Appointments to Boards

Ted F. Ehinger was appointed to succeed himself as a member of the Board of Review for a three-year term.

Cecile Smith and Perry Satterthwaite were appointed to succeed themselves as members of the Election Commission for one year terms.

Councilman Aden Mead was appointed to suceed retiring Councilman C. Raymond Puffer as a member of the Retirement Board.

Appointment of a new member to the City Planning Commission to fill the unexpired term of R. Timothy Tietsema was postponed until the next meeting. That term expires in 1979.

Easton Mayor; City Reorganizes for '77

Councilman Carlton Cook will continue to serve as mayor pro-tem. Four ballots were taken. The first three ballots showed Cook, 3, Mead, 2 and Councilman James Palmer, 1.

Mead then asked his name be withdrawn and that Cook be unanimously elected.

Council member Mary Bowers, also re-elected in November, was delayed at Metropolitan Airport on return from vacation. She took the oath of office Tuesday.

Retiring Council member C. Raymond Puffer was recognized for his contribution to Tecumseh city government in a special resolution adopted at Monday's Council meeting.

Puffer served Council 14 years. He will continue to serve on the Tecumseh Recreation Board.

6 Cited in Accidents

Tecumseh police investigated eight accidents this week, arresting two individuals in connection with an accident last Friday.

Dec. 30 - David A. Sims, 18, of Adrian was traveling east on Muscody St., drove to the left and almost hit a pick-up. He then reportedly swerved and hit a parked vehicle.

The parked auto belonged to John C. Rodlund, 104 Muscody, who had parked the car in his driveway. Sims was cited for failure to have his vehicle under control.

As police were investigating the accident, Sims reportedly began arguing with the parked car owner. He was staggering and smelled of alcohol when police arrested him for drunk and disorderly.

An on-looker, Douglas E. Sessoms, 17, of 703 S. Pearl was then arrested for being disorderly. He was reportedly belligerent, yelling a number of times at officers. When he would not stop interfering with the officers, he was arrested.

A resume of other accidents includes:

Dec. 29 - Raul Flores, 42, of 413 E. Logan was cited for failure to have his vehicle under control after he struck the rear of a parked auto belonging to a Palmyra couple. Flores was northbound on Maumee when the accident occurred.

Dec. 30 - Ruben R. Tapia, 21, of Adrian was cited for failure to yield when he slid through a stop sign and struck a vehicle driven by Merrill McClain, 59, of Adrian. Tapia was heading west on Pottawatamie when he slid into the southbound auto at the S. Evans intersection.

Jan. 1 - Sheila C. Kelley of Lansing reported a hit and run accident involving her car. She had parked along the road when a auto came around the curve on Pontiac St. near Union and struck her car. A neighbor did witness the incident.

Allen W. Luckhardt, 705 Outer, reported a hit and run when he parked his car in the parking lot at 5200 Milwaukee Rd. An unknown vehicle was parking when it struck the Luckhardt auto at the Country Club.

Jan. 3 - Marlene J. Sexton, 43, of Britton backed out of a private drive and struck a passing auto driven by Gale W. Hooton, 64, of 110 S. Division. Sexton was cited for improper backing.

Guy C. Cox, 19, of Tipton, was traveling east on W.

PVT. AND MRS. GLENN DAVIS JR.

Sandra Sommers and Glenn Davis United

Junction City, Kan. will be the new home of Pvt. and Mrs. Glenn Davis Jr. who were married Dec. 18 at St. Elizabeth Catholic Church.

Fr. Vincent Howard officiated at the marriage ceremony for the daughter of Mr.and Mrs.Gerald Sommers of Britton and the son of Glenn Davis Sr. of Saline and the Jenny Collins of Ann Arbor.

Pat Patten was organist.

Katherine Campbell, the bride's cousin of Britton was maid of honor. Tom Davis, the groom's brother of Saline was the best man.

The bride is a Britton-Macon High School graduate and the groom is a Saline High School graduate. He served in the United States Army in Ft. Riley, Kan.

The engagement of Debbie Marie Baker to Paul Andrew Royal is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arden L. Baker, 9383 Tecumseh-Clinton Rd. She is a 1976 graduate of Tecumseh High School and is employed at Herrick Memorial Hospital. Mr. Royal is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. Royal, 203 N. Democrat St. He is a THS graduate and is an airman in United States Air Force, training for law enforcement specialist at Tech School, Lakeland AFB, Tex. Wedding will take place April 15 in St. Peter's Episcopal Church.

Teenager Pagent

Young ladies of the State of Michigan applications are being accepted for the Miss Michigan Teenager Pageant to be held at the Kalamazoo Center Inn, Kalamazoo, on July 22, 23, and 24, 1977. The Michigan pageant is the official state preliminary to the Miss United Teenager Pageant to be held in Washington, D.C., Dec. 1977.

Contestants will be judged on scholastic and civic achievement, beauty, poise and personality.

Contestants must be between 14 and 18 years of age as of Dec. 31, 1977 and must have at least a "B" average in school.

Those interested in entering the Michigan United Teenager Pageant may write for information to Barbara Popovich, State Director, P.O. Box 80, Menomonee Falls, Wisc. 53051.

Camp Fire Girls Adventure Group

The group roller skates each month, visited the Adrian College planetarium for the program, Halloween with the Stars; attended the area Camp Fire Girls fall party at the Tipton Community Church, toured Proctor Funeral Home, sponsor of the group; attended the area Christmas Caroling party, and sold candy as a fund raising project.

Officers of the group are Virginia Florez, president; Rachel Florez, vice-president; Debra Walters, secretary; Leslie Handy, corresponding secretary; and Jackie Johnstone, treasurer. There are twelve girls.

Completes GT Course

Completion of the ten-day course will enable the participant to detect, isolate and correct the residential service problems.

Roesch, his wife, Diana, and their son, Matthew, live at 216 Main St. in Onsted.

You Are What You Eat

by Shirley Weekley

According to the reports I've seen, the majority of New Year's resolutions are to take off the extra pounds and inches put on over the holidays. With that in mind, I am going to avoid printing the rich desserts and stick to main dish recipes for the next few weeks. Your suggestions will be welcome.

This first recipe is excellent for busy days. The roast bakes slowly all day and produces a tender meat in its own tasty gravy.

BUSY DAY ROAST

1 medium chuck roast, frozen
1 can condensed cream of mushroom soup
1 envelope dry Lipton onion soup mix

Place frozen chuck roast on sheet of heavy duty aluminum foil. Sprinkle with dry onion soup mix. Add undiluted mushroom soup. Wrap foil securely to prevent leaks. Place wrapped roast in shallow uncovered pan. Bake at 275 degrees for 8 hours.

BARBECUE MEATBALLS

1 pound ground beef
½ cup bread crumbs
1 egg
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon garlic salt
½ teaspoon pepper
½ cup onion
4 tablespoon milk

Combine all ingredients and shape into balls. Brown meatballs and drain. Pour sauce over and bake 350 degrees for one hour.

SAUCE

2 (8 ounce) cans tomato sauce
2 tablespoons vinegar
4 tablespoons brown sugar
2 tablespoons Worchestershire sauce

Mix together and pour over meatballs.

Correction on last week's recipe: The cheeseball recipe should read one (8 ounce) cream cheese not 18 ounce. Let me hear from you.

THS Menu

JAN. 10-14

TUESDAY — Marzetti, vegetable, gelatin, bread and butter and milk.

WEDNESDAY — Spaghetti and meat sauce, rolls, vegetable, fruit and milk.

THURSDAY — Hamburg gravy, mashed potatoes, cabbage salad, fruit, bread and butter.

New Year's Eve Is Setting for Wedding

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Neal Smith, 5444 Pocklington Rd. and Mr. and Mrs. Gary Underhill of Adrian.

Attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Harris of Adrian.

The bride is a 1974 graduate of Tecumseh High School. The groom attended Adrian High School and served two years in the army.

Mr. and Mrs. Underhill will reside at 721 Caton in Adrian.

Through My Window

by Marda Gene Duncan

LOTS OF SPARROWS

The near-my-window feeders are busy these days and some of the most charming customers are sparrows. No, not the common and ordinary run-of-the-mill English sparrows - - - although there are a few of these who do drop in once in a while they are certainly not around in the great numbers that they sometimes are.

I am sure the situation will not last but please believe that we are all enjoying each and every English sparrowless day that comes along.

As for the kind of sparrows we are enjoying, they are three. One species is a year around regular, another is a strickly cold weather visitor at the feeders, and the third is quite unpredictable.

The attractive white-throated sparrows are the ones who refuse to be bound by a rigid schedule. They usually can be counted upon to make brief stops at the feeding-stations during migration time.

As they fly north in the spring and south in the fall free handouts are much appreciated; however, whether they will stay in the neighborhood for a day or a week there is no way of guessing.

And, although we seldom have them in the summertime, there is an occassional winter when a few hardy souls decide that this is as far south as they will go. It looks as though this might be one of those winters for daily the feeders are playing host to three or four white throats.

They are most welcome and make a fine addition to the winter bird population. They are fairly large sparrows, 6 ¾ inches of heavy bodies and longish tails, and the male and female dress alike. The back is stripped, dark brown on lighter brown, the wings have a rather indistinct off-white bar, the breast is a stripped gray which fades to a lighter unmarked tummy.

The birds's head is striking - - black and white stripes with a dot of bright yellow between the base of the bill and the eyes.

As might be assumed from the name, there is a showy white bib under the bill. An immature bird, and we seem to have a couple of them, look much like the adults except that the head markings are buff and brown and the throat patch is rather dirty.

The sparrow our feeders host only during the cold weather is the neat and dapper three sparrow. At first only one showed himself but lately there have been two and who knows perhaps the third and fourth are 'waiting-in-the-awnings'.

The tree sparrow is slightly smaller than the white-throat, has a more slender build and seemingly, a much shorter temper. In fact, our tree sparrows can be down-right nasty and, not only do they refuse to share with other birds, they often do not even relish the idea of being nice to their own kind.

With head lowered and bill open this sparrow impolitely rushes toward every bird who chances to land on the feeding tray - - - usually the charge succeeds and the tree sparrow has the feeder to himself.

Again, both male and female of this species are garbed alike. The brick red top of the head and the black eye stripe are quite distinctive. So too is the solid soft gray of the breast with the single stick-pin marking.

The two white wing bars are a good field mark too, and, if the bird is close enough and the light is good, it is fun to notice that the tree sparrow has an unusual bill. The upper mandible is dark and the lower one light.

The year around regular is, of course, the song sparrow. Fat bodied, heavily stripped all over - - - head, front and back - - - the fail-safe identifying mark is the stick-pin worn in the middle of the striped breast.

The feeding trays of which we watch all of these pretty sparrows are only a couple of feet from the west window and thus, our looks at the birds are close-ups.

Unless seen really close-up or through binoculars sparrows can be confusing. There are so many different kinds and they often look so much alike.

One of our books claims that there are at least 51 different species of sparrows breeding in this country and Canada and there are several times that number of subspecies. For example, there are 31 different song sparrows. Mind boggling!

Planes save the day when you have to shave a little wood off the edge of a sticky door. The handiest plane is a block plane. This is a little one you can hold in one hand while holding the work with the other. When you rent it, get the kind that has a little knurled knob on a screw shaft that runs parallel to the angle of the blade. All this is pretty much out in the open where you can see it. If you're not sure it's the right kind, try turning the little knob at the back. Turning it clockwise should make the blade stick out farther through the bottom of the plane. Turning it the other way should pull the blade back in again. If it does what it's supposed to do, that's it.

Whenever you have any questions at all about tools or equipment come to TECUMSEH RENTAL CENTER, 112 S. TM Action Committee To Meet

A meeting of the Tecumseh Area Town Meeting Action Committee will be held on Tuesday, Jan. 18 at 7 p.m. in the Tecumseh Public Library Clara Waldron room. The meeting will conclude at 9 p.m.

Purpose of the meeting is to formally establish the group as a non-profit grassroots citizen's organization seeking improvements in the community.

The meeting is open to any citizen and or organization in the greater Tecumseh area.

Agenda will cover a proposed set of by-laws and selection of a steering committee. Sub-committees will report on a Teen Club and publicity.

"We urge citizens of all ages and sections to meet and unite with us so the Tecumseh area can continue to grow into a more vibrant community, serving the needs and wishes of all its people," said Bill Frownfelder, one of the meeting coordinators.

Macon Montage

By Sharon Connors

MACON — Bishop Kenneth Povish, bishop of the Diocese of Lansing, celebrated Mass for the Boysville staff on Dec. 27. Fr. Steve Sedlock, CSC was the co-celebrant of the liturgy which began an evening of festivity.

The bishop's homily for the feast of St. John the Evangelist pointed out that the world's great truths have been said in the simplest of words. He commended the Boysville staff for its Christian work.

At the beginning of the offertory the bishop invited Bernard and Pearl Tucker to renew their marriage vows on the occasion of their 35th wedding anniversary. The Tuckers are members of the Boysville staff. Following the Mass a buffet dinner, prepared by the entire kitchen staff was served in the dining hall. Dancing followed with music by Louis Prange.

In addition to meeting Bishop Provish, several officials of the Knights of Columbus visited with a former Adrian CC student, Jim McLaughlin and his wife, Marsha. Now living in Ann Arbor, Jim was a graduate from Eastern Michigan University and is the newly appointed director of development, Detroit.

It is always fun to talk about days gone by with former athletes even if they were the opposition and Jim was happy to hear Ron Spagnoli (his former coach) and Pat Connors were now on the same side of the field.

A table was shared with Dennis and Lynn Fox of Adrian. Dennis is known to many in this area. Involved in officiating he has also worked at Maurice Spear Campus and is now on the Boysville faculty teaching physical education.

Strains of the wedding march played by Hallie Jane Mehler filled the Macon Methodist Church Sunday afternoon as Bernard and Pearl Tucker renewed their wedding vows on their 35th wedding anniversary. Guests were seated by nephews, Ed and John Clark, before Pearl was escorted down the aisle by her son, Wayne to meet the Rev. Albert Raloff, Bernard, and other family members at the altar. Pearl's brother Ed Clark sang "O Promise Me" accompanied by Miss Mehler. The Tuckers were married in the Mary Martha Chapel, then across the street from the present Methodist Church. Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church hall, decorated by poster size reprints of the couple's wedding pictures. The plans for the whole affair were made by the Tucker's two sons and their wives, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Tucker and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Tucker.

The Priscilla Circle helped with decorations and worked in the kitchen, as family members served the cake, coffee etc. The cake was made by Mrs. Helen Robinson of Saline, a co-worker of Pearl's at Boysville.

Mrs. Luella Rhoades had dinner Sunday afternoon for the Rev. and Mrs. Albert Raloff and Ed and Wilma Clark and sons.

Paul and Rose Kollar drove to West Palm Beach for Christmas.

Ed and Wilma Clark had as Christmas dinner guests the Richard Beal family, the Bernard Tuckers, the Fred Withrows of Tipton, Norm Tucker and family and Mrs. Myrtle Clark.

Mrs. Luella Rhoades was a Christmas dinner guest of the Robert Hammond's in Saline.

Bill and Leeann Gibson were home for the holidays from Houghton.

A birthday party was held Christmas Eve at the home of the Imber's to honor Edmund C. Imber on his eighth birthday. Guests were, Mike and Matt Conrad, Kelly Cue, Clark Griffin, Bryan Kingston, Jimmy Phillips and Matthew, Agnes and Philip Imber. Games were played and prizes awarded. The guests were treated to cake and ice cream.

Larry and Mary Ann Bush will open their Pennington Road home to the Macon Historical Society Saturday, Jan. 8 at 8 p.m. Bill and Linda Phillips will be co-hosts. Prof. David Lewis will present the program on Ford Country. New members and guests are welcome.

"The Word", a Christian book store operated by John and Lucille Banks of Macon in Ann Arbor, is presently looking for a new home and can be found temporarily at the Bankses' home.

Staff Sgt. Richard Zick, Nancy and children have returned to Ft. Riley, Kan. after spending two weeks in Macon with Mr. and Mrs. Ed Zick.

Home Economists Are Invited

All County Home Economists are invited to attend a meeting Jan. 11, 1977 at 4:30 p.m. in Rooms 101-103, North Hall, Adrian College.

Ruth Frost, of the Michigan Dairy Council, will present a program on 'Nutritional Labeling" with a sharing time and refreshments following.

Fred Feight Named to ASC

Fred Feight, Tecumseh Township dairy farmer, was named to the Lenawee County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee by delegates to the ASC County Convention, held Dec. 20, 1976 at the Farm Bureau Building in Madison Center.

Feight farms several hundred acres and maintains a large dairy operation in Tecumseh Township. He is serving his first term and has been elected for three years.

The County ASC Committee is responsible for local administration of government farm programs such as wheat-feed grain, commodity loans, facility and dryer loans, wool incentive payments and the agricultural conservation program (ACP).

The vacancies were filled by farmer-delegates who are newly-elected ASC community committeemen for 1977.

Garden Display

A pictorial history of Hidden Lake Gardens Rock Garden is currently on display until Jan. 31 in the entrance of Peele Hall at Adrian College. The restoration of the Rock Garden is the project of the Town and Country Garden Club.

The exhibit traces the Rock Garden from its construction in 1933 to the present day. Of particular interest are photographs of rocks being placed in the garden.

Despite its natural appearance, the entire rock ledge is manmade, each stone having been placed there by the late Harry Fee. Fee's purpose was "to revitalize and maintain a demonstrative rock garden at Hidden Lake Gardens for the benefit and education of the public."

The garden club's restoration project has been underway for a year. It is expected that another four years work will be required to complete the 7,500 sq. foot garden.

Course Offered

Lenawee Vo-Tech and the Cooperative Extension Service are working together to offer a special evening course called "Parents are Teachers Too." The course, which will be offered on Tuesday evenings at Vo-Tech, is designed for parents of 3 and 4-year old children.

Sessions will begin January 11, 1977 and will last 10 weeks, from 7-9 p.m.

For more information about course content, contact Ann Hinsdale, Extension Home Econimist, at the Cooperative Extension Service, 263-8831, ext. 329. To register for the course, contact Lenawee Vo-Tech at 263-2108.

Building and repair permits for 1976 amounted to $418,620 Wilson reported.

Permits included seven new houses, one new commercial, one commercial addition, five new garages, nine new pole barns and a new pavilion.

Board approved the annual $300 contribution to Region II Planning Commission.

Supervisor Frank Gignac was appointed as a representative to the Region II Planning Commission for a three year term.

A meeting with the Lenawee County Road Commisssion was planned for Monday, Jan. 24 at 1:30 p.m. in the Clinton Township office to plan the year's road work in the township.

George Matthews, a representative of Detroit Edison Co. was present to explain the requirements for renewal of the Detroit Edison electrical franchise for a 30-year period.

This will require further discussion to be held at a special meeting of the Clinton Township Board at 7 p.m., Jan. 17.

Minutes of the Dec. 21 Riverside Cemetery Board meeting were approved.

Karen Faust was appointed as the new deputy treasurer.

Spend 3 Months in South America

BRITTON — Mr. and Mrs. David Fairbanks left Sunday after two weeks visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Fairbanks of Britton, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Parsley of Detroit, and other relatives and friends in the area.

They were headed for Milledgeville, Ga., where Dave has accepted the position of unit director, psychology department, at the state hospital there.

Mr. Fairbanks received his master's degree in psychology last May, after attending graduate school at Florida State University at Tallahassee for two years. A 1969 graduate of Britton-Macon High School, he attended General Motors Institute for two years and received his bachelor of science degree from Eastern Michigan University.

Dave and his wife, Sharon, a special education teacher, spent three months the past summer traveling in South America. They visited the Panama Canal Zone, Ecuador, Peru, and Columbia.

Their adventures included traveling over primitive roads on the country's antiquated transportation system, visiting Indian villages high in the mountains, and spending some time in the seaside city of Playas, Ecuador.

They purchased a number of hand-embroidered shirts and dresses, plus tapestries hand-woven on 200-year-old looms.

The highlight of the entire trip, they state, was the visit to Cuzco, the ancient capital of the Incas, and Macchu Picchu, the hidden fortress, perched high in the remote Andes of southern Peru, which they reached by a 24-hour train ride in a steam train "straight out of Greenfield Village, or Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid."

"You can still feel the spiritual vibrations of those ancient people," stated Fairbanks. The couple plans to return for another visit.

Bicentennial Journey

Christmas Traditions

By Thelma Younglove

BRITTON — As the Christmas season drew near, preparations were under way for the joyous season. Families observed the holidays in various ways. Many follow family traditions.

From my earliest memories, we had a Christmas tree. When we were quite young the tree was usually a small, scrubby, prickly one cut from a relative's pasture lot. We were as happy with it as if it had been a nicely shaped, cultivated one.

The tree was decorated with homemade items — candy canes, strings of popcorn and Christmas cookies in shapes of rabbits, hens, horses, stars, Santas, and wreaths. Each cookie was frosted and decorated.

After Christmas, when it was time to take the tree outdoors, we left the strings of popcorn and some of the cookies on it to serve as a treat for the birds.

Our Christmas gifts consisted mainly of much needed clothing — underwear, stockings, mittens, outer garments, scarfs, or caps and one year a warm fake fur coat. For these we were grateful and didn't complain about not receiving more than one or two small inexpensive toys or books.

Almost all of the children in our community participated in the Christmas exercises at school and at church. Some families opened their gifts after returning from the Christmas program at church.

Our family usually waited until after breakfast on Christmas Day to open our gifts. By that time the livestock had been fed and grandfather and an uncle had arrived to watch the delighted expressions on our faces as we opened each present.

In some homes it was a tradition to serve roast goose for Christmas dinner. Other families preferred roast duck, some insisted on a particular breed, such as muscovy. In recent years turkey or ham seems to be preferred by many families. Stuffing or dressing (seasoned bread crumbs) is usually served with goose, duck , or turkey.

When oysters were less expensive and not so scarce, stew or escallopsed oysters were traditionally served by some families as part of the Christmas meal.

Certain famillis thought that plum pudding must be on the menu at Christmas. Others served suet pudding accompanied with hard sauce. Pies - mince, apple, or Fruit cakes rich with is a favorite during the holiday season.

Home for Christmas has long been a tradition in America. It is a special time of the year when family members yearn to be together and desire to be at mother's or grandmother's for that festive occasion. For those miles away and unable to gather with close relatives, it is a time of homesickness - an unpleasant feeling.

A spirit of good will prevails at Christmas time. People greet each other in a friendly manner. Cards and messages are sent to relatives and friends.

May peace on earth and good will prevail throughout the entire year.

Wood Carving Is Hobby

BRITTON — Allen Bower, 213 N. Main St., has the unique hobby of wood carving, which he does in his spare time at home. He is employed at General Motors.

The self-taught hobbiest began about a year-and-a-half ago, when Bower became bored with watching TV. He has carved many special pieces since.

His first wood carving was a ball in a cage with a six link chain. His second piece was two balls in a cage on a handle.

Bower carves a piece resembling a baby rattle. This is made with a ball in a cage with a handle. He uses a wood burner and engraves baby's name and birthdate on the handle, to make a keepsake gift.

His smallest carving is a pair of initial earrings. He is presently working on a wood macrame hanger, resembling square chain pieces with wood balls inside the chain.

He has given approximately 115 carvings to friends, and relatives in Ohio, Texas and Maine and also eight pendants to students from Denmark, Brazil, Japan and Thailand (four continents of the world).

Bower has visited the Wharter Woodcarving Museum in Dover, O., and the Jackson and Livonia Woodcarving clubs.

His only tool is a Stanley slim line knife which he uses on wood such as mahogany, pine basswood, butternut, poplar and some of his work is done on unknown wood. At present he is working on lilac wood.

Bower said he would like to meet other wood carvers in the area.

2 Speakers Stolen, Police Investigate Seven Complaints

Police investigated seven complaint reports this week, including the theft of two speakers from the high school band room.

Dec. 31 — Robert Glasscock, custodian at THS, reported two speakers missing from the band room between the night before and 10:30 a.m. Friday. Point of entry to the building is unknown; there was no damage to the school.

Estimated loss is impossible to set as the speakers were purchased as part of a system, but they were covered by insurance.

A resume of other complaint reports includes:

Terry Keith, 215 S. Oneida, reported the larceny of 50 garbage bags.

Mrs. Royetta Sisson, manager of the VFW on N. Evans, called police as she was unable to make a customer leave. Police arrested Lyndal L. Dove, 53, of 302 S. Maumee. Dove could not walk under his own power and was reportedly "bad-mouthing" officers.

Dec. 31 — Ron and Sandy Schmidt, 312 E. Chicago, reported the theft of a CB radio from their home. Police do have a suspect. The radio was recovered in the Schmidt back yard shortly after the theft was reported.

Jan. 3 — Jean Parmley, 212 E. Logan, reported that someone had stolen a security box from her home sometime since Dec. 7. The fireproof box contained cash and bonds valued at $300.

Indian Gymnasts Begin 2nd Year

Tecumseh's fledgling gymnastics team opens its 1977 season next Wednesday, hosting Litchfield. The Indian gymnasts are still an independent squad since the Huron League still does not offer gymnastics as a regular league sport.

Tecumseh will meet Jackson and Ann Arbor teams.

Last year the team ended with a 7-3 record according to coach Mary Wood after its first year of existence. The Indians lost three seniors to graduation including Gwen Vavrinek, Debbie Rodgers, and Michelle Jahner. Mary Kane is not out for the team this year.

Tecumseh's team for this season is young but improving quickly according to Wood. Junior Cindy Egli is the strongest and most experienced of the team, having been consistently among the top three team scorers last season.

A team score is made up of the top three individual scores from each event. According to Wood, judges look at four categories in scoring a performance. They are, difficulty, composition, originality and general impression.

State gymnastic authorities have, however, made some changes for this year, Wood confides. To score high in the category, difficulty - girls will now have to include three superior moves in their routines instead of the two required last year. In addition, if a participant succeeds in those three superior moves she will be awarded three points, instead of the four received last year.

As a result of the changes, Wood feels the team will probably score lower than last season. Last year, the Indians ranged in scores from 85 to 95 points. This year their average will probably be closer to 75, Wood said.

Wood feels that Ann Arbor Huron will be Tecumseh's toughest meet this year. Huron is state ranked.

"Most of the team is inexperienced. But they have improved (from last year) and I have confidence in them. Our schedule is harder this year than last and I'm looking more for improvement in the girls than their scores."

Grapplers Win Over Flat Rock

Tecumseh's wrestling squad took a 39-25 win over Flat Rock Tuesday night. The victory opened the Indians' league season.

At 98 pounds, Matt Barrett won by pin at 1:44; 105 John Southard won 2-1; 112 Jack Bugbee won 10-1; 132 Dan Yoder drew his opponent; 155 Dan Tilton won by pin at 3:16; 165 John Silberhorn won by pin at 1:29; 178 Eggleston won by pin at :25.

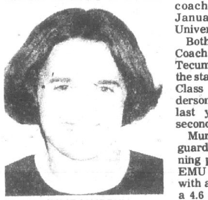
Anderson, Murphy on EMU Cage Squad

Two former Tecumseh High School students, Julie Murphy and Julie Anderson, are current members of Eastern Michigan University's women's varsity basketball team, which will open the 1977 season under first-year head coach Kathleen Hart on January 11th, at the University of Michigan.



JULIE MURPHY

Both girls were members of Coach Diane Nelson's 1974 Tecumseh team which won the state championship among Class B high schools. Anderson started for the Indians last year when they were second in the state.

Murphy, a 5-6 sophomore guard, is one of eight returning players from last year's EMU team which finished with an 8-9 record. She owned a 4.6 scoring average, with a single-game high of 12 and was the team's sixth-leading point producer and fifth-leading rebounder, seeing action in all 17 games.

Anderson is one of just three freshmen to make the varsity team, and is being counted on by Hart to provide more strength on the front line. She will probably man the center spot.

The team is expected to be much-improved over last season, and according to coach Hart, may be one of the top teams in the state in '77. Five of the squad's nine losses a year ago were were by three points or less, including three by just a single point.

Both Murphy and Anderson were also members of Eastern's volleyball team this past fall, helping it to one of its best seasons ever. The squad finished with a 16-10-2 record.

The women's basketball team will play a 14-game schedule, with the first home encounter featuring Oakland University on Jan. 13th at 7:30 p.m. Also included in this year's slate are appearances at the Third Annual Can-Am Tournament at the University of Windsor on Jan. 21st-22nd and at the University of Western Ontario Invitational Tournament on Feb. 4-5.

JULIE ANDERSON

Redskins Victorious

Clinton's basketball squad won its first contest of the season last week during the Deerfield tournament but fell to Dundee 62-48 Tuesday night of this week.

The Skins defeated Sand Creek 53-48 in overtime last week. The action took place in the Deerfield tournament won by Deerfield.

The Redskins were forced into overtime after Sand Creek tied it up 43-all at the end of regulation play. Tim Sharpe, Richard Brown and Mike Risner combined to come up with the winning margin for Clinton.

Sharpe led in scoring with 18 followed by Bob Santure and Riser each with 10.

The Skins trailed Dundee by just five points Tuesday night at the half but a strong 14-6 third quarter put Dundee out of reach. Clinton trailed Dundee 24-19 at the half.

The Redskins hit 18 of 47 attempts from the field for 36 percent compared to 24 of 57 and 42 percent for Dundee. The Skins knocked in 12 free throws to 14 for Dundee.

The Skins are 1-8, 0-3 in the LCAA. They traveled to Addison this Friday hosting Onsted next Tuesday.

The junior varsity continued their undefeated season by downing Dundee 49-43. The Redskins post a 9-0 record.

JV'S Notch 2 Wins

Tecumseh's junior varsity cage squad notched two more victories in the past week decimating Columbia Central 62-33 on Tuesday night of this week and Adrian 66-51 last Friday.

John Ely was top scorer for the team with 15 followed by Mark Creswell with 12 and Glen Shough with eight. Bruce Phenecie led in rebounds with 16. John Ely and Steve Sisson were strong on defense according to coach Carl Novak.

In the Adrian game, the Indians led 30-14 at the half. Creswell led in scoring with 18 followed by Greg Borton with 10 and John Faulkner, eight.

Borton and Sisson were strong defensively.

The junior varsity has a season record of 6-1.

Tories Fall to Ida

Britton's basketball squad lost to Ida Tuesday night 87-46 in a non-league affair.

Ida led at the half 49-21 after a strong 28-8 second period.

The Tories completed 18 of 62 from the field for 29 percent and Ida made 36 of 76 for 49 percent. Britton connected on 10 free throws to Ida'a 15.

Ida outrebounded Britton 38-23 and lost the ball 11 times to the Tories' 38 turnovers.

Lon Wagenschutz was the leading scorer for Britton with 16 followed by Greg Fanslau with 11. Bill Lutz had 10.

The loss dropped Britton's record to 1-5 overall.

The Tories host Madison Saturday night.

Youth Hockey

Tecumseh Recreation Department's hockey teams skated to a third and second place in the Tam O'Shanter Holiday Tournament.

In the Squirt division, the Squirts lost 5-3 to Reeb's. Tecumseh led all the way 3-0, until the last three minutes of the second period. Then it was Reeb's game all the way. Reeb's of Sylvania, went on to defeat Jackson and capture the Squirt division trophy.

Steve Eardley received the hat trick, putting in the Tomahawk's three goals. Assists in two of Eardley's goals went to Dave Schoenberger and Todd Switala, with one each.

Both teams will resume league play this weekend, with the Squirts playing Saturday, Jan. 8, at 10 a.m. The Bantams, who are still in first place, will play Sunday from 12 to 1 p.m.

Cagers Bounce CC, Fall to Adrian

Tecumseh's cagers found their shooting to be as cold as the frigid nighttime air when they faced Adrian Friday night.

The Indians fell to the Maples 60-47. On Tuesday night, the local squad bounced Columbia Central 68-52 in a non-league contest.

Tecumseh's record stands at 4-3, still undefeated in the Huron League 3-0.

In the Adrian game, the Indians couldn't find the basket in the first half sinking only two of 25 attempts from the field. Tecumseh trailed the Maples 25-10 at the half.

The Indians perked up in the second half scoring 16 and 21 points for the last two frames to Adrian's 17 and 18. For the entire contest, the Indians completed 17 of 60 attempts for 28 percent.

Jeff Hans was the top scorer for Tecumseh with 18 points. Dave Bohannon had eight. Hans also grabbed 14 of the Indians' 36 rebounds.

Glen Butler led the Maples with 21.

The Indians put it together Tuesday night maintaining a comfortable lead throughout the contest. They were ahead 32-25 at the half stretching even further in the second half.

Tecumseh got the shots off attempting 87 from the field and connecting on 25 for 29 percent. Columbia Central completed 19 of 62 for 31 percent. From the line the Indians dumped 18 and their opponents 16.

The Indians easily controlled the boards grabbing 60 rebounds to 37. Tim Mayers had 19 rebounds, Jeff Hans 16 and Gary Allen 10.

Mayers also led in scoring with 19 followed by Bilkie with 17 and Hans with 11.

Bilkie had five of the teams' 13 steals.

Score By Quarters

Tecumseh	13	19	16	20—68

THS Volleyballers Open Season Next Monday

Tecumseh's volleyball squad opens its season next Monday when it travels to Bedford.

Coach Sue Allen is fielding an inexperienced but "hard-working and aggressive" team. She lost her core of varsity starters to graduation including Sue Brown, Jane Faulkner, Sue Gould and Connie Younglove.

Other players lost include Amy Montague, Sharon Phelps, Carrie Hyatt and Betsy Miller. Peggy Harvey is not out for the team this year.

The Indians had an illustrious season last year losing only in the state semi-finals to Parchment. Parchment went on to win the state title. Tecumseh's final record stood at 19-1.

Probable starters for the 1977 Indian edition are seniors Tammy Downing, Tori Iffland and Patty Brosamer. These three are also the team's only returning lettermen.

Juniors Sandy Dunn, Debbie Steadley and Robin Isom along with sophomore Sandy MacGeorge form the Tecumseh core. Six of the seven will start Monday.

Allen is optimistic about the season. "We are loaded with heighth and we hope to be more aggressive at the net this year. The team lacks court playing experience but they have worked hard over vacation. We should have a good season. We'll be blocking more at the net and spiking more."

Allen is looking to her seniors to become the squad leaders.

The Indians play at Ann Arbor Pioneer on Jan. 17 and open their league season hosting Flat Rock Jan. 19.

Allen figures Grosse Ile and St. Mary's to be tough this year since both teams are returning most of their starters.

Junior varsity coach for Tecumseh is Karen Baker.

Tecumseh Shut Out

Tecumseh's club hockey squad couldn't pull off an upset over division A Jackson last Sunday.

The local team lost the contest 7-0.

Tecumseh will face Adrian next Sunday at 3 p.m. The squad now posts a 2-7 record in regular season play.

PVT. AND MRS. GLENN DAVIS JR.

Sandra Sommers and Glenn Davis United

Junction City, Kan. will be the new home of Pvt. and Mrs. Glenn Davis Jr. who were married Dec. 18 at St. Elizabeth Catholic Church.

Fr. Vincent Howard officiated at the marriage ceremony for the daughter of Mr.and Mrs.Gerald Sommers of Britton and the son of Glenn Davis Sr. of Saline and the Jenny Collins of Ann Arbor.

Pat Patten was organist.

Katherine Campbell, the bride's cousin of Britton was maid of honor. Tom Davis, the groom's brother of Saline was the best man.

The bride is a Britton-Macon High School graduate and the groom is a Saline High School graduate. He served in the United States Army in Ft. Riley, Kan.

The engagement of Debbie Marie Baker to Paul Andrew Royal is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arden L. Baker, 9383 Tecumseh-Clinton Rd. She is a 1976 graduate of Tecumseh High School and is employed at Herrick Memorial Hospital. Mr. Royal is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. Royal, 203 N. Democrat St. He is a THS graduate and is an airman in United States Air Force, training for law enforcement specialist at Tech School, Lakeland AFB, Tex. Wedding will take place April 15 in St. Peter's Episcopal Church.

Teenager Pagent

Young ladies of the State of Michigan applications are being accepted for the Miss Michigan Teenager Pageant to be held at the Kalamazoo Center Inn, Kalamazoo, on July 22, 23, and 24, 1977. The Michigan pageant is the official state preliminary to the Miss United Teenager Pageant to be held in Washington, D.C., Dec. 1977.

Contestants will be judged on scholastic and civic achievement, beauty, poise and personality.

Contestants must be between 14 and 18 years of age as of Dec. 31, 1977 and must have at least a "B" average in school.

Those interested in entering the Michigan United Teenager Pageant may write for information to Barbara Popovich, State Director, P.O. Box 80, Menomonee Falls, Wisc. 53051.

Camp Fire Girls Adventure Group

The group roller skates each month, visited the Adrian College planetarium for the program, Halloween with the Stars; attended the area Camp Fire Girls fall party at the Tipton Community Church, toured Proctor Funeral Home, sponsor of the group; attended the area Christmas Caroling party, and sold candy as a fund raising project.

Officers of the group are Virginia Florez, president; Rachel Florez, vice-president; Debra Walters, secretary; Leslie Handy, corresponding secretary; and Jackie Johnstone, treasurer. There are twelve girls.

Completes GT Course

You Are What You Eat

by Shirley Weekley

According to the reports I've seen, the majority of New Year's resolutions are to take off the extra pounds and inches put on over the holidays. With that in mind, I am going to avoid printing the rich desserts and stick to main dish recipes for the next few weeks. Your suggestions will be welcome.

This first recipe is excellent for busy days. The roast bakes slowly all day and produces a tender meat in its own tasty gravy.

BUSY DAY ROAST

1 medium chuck roast, frozen
1 can condensed cream of mushroom soup
1 envelope dry Lipton onion soup mix

Place frozen chuck roast on sheet of heavy duty aluminum foil. Sprinkle with dry onion soup mix. Add undiluted mushroom soup. Wrap foil securely to prevent leaks. Place wrapped roast in shallow uncovered pan. Bake at 275 degrees for 8 hours.

BARBECUE MEATBALLS

1 pound ground beef
½ cup bread crumbs
1 egg
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon garlic salt
½ teaspoon pepper
½ cup onion
4 tablespoon milk

Combine all ingredients and shape into balls. Brown meatballs and drain. Pour sauce over and bake 350 degrees for one hour.

SAUCE

2 (8 ounce) cans tomato sauce
2 tablespoons vinegar
4 tablespoons brown sugar
2 tablespoons Worchestershire sauce

Mix together and pour over meatballs.

Correction on last week's recipe: The cheeseball recipe should read one (8 ounce) cream cheese not 18 ounce. Let me hear from you.

New Year's Eve Is Setting for Wedding

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Neal Smith, 5444 Pocklington Rd. and Mr. and Mrs. Gary Underhill of Adrian.

Attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Harris of Adrian.

A reception for 50 guests followed the ceremony in the home.

The bride is a 1974 graduate of Tecumseh High School. The groom attended Adrian High School and served two years in the army.

Mr. and Mrs. Underhill will reside at 721 Caton in Adrian.

Through My Window

by Marda Gene Duncan

LOTS OF SPARROWS

The near-my-window feeders are busy these days and some of the most charming customers are sparrows. No, not the common and ordinary run-of-the-mill English sparrows - - - although there are a few of these who do drop in once in a while they are certainly not around in the great numbers that they sometimes are.

I am sure the situation will not last but please believe that we are all enjoying each and every English sparrowless day that comes along.

As for the kind of sparrows we are enjoying, they are three. One species is a year around regular, another is a strickly cold weather visitor at the feeders, and the third is quite unpredictable.

The attractive white-throated sparrows are the ones who refuse to be bound by a rigid schedule. They usually can be counted upon to make brief stops at the feeding-stations during migration time.

As they fly north in the spring and south in the fall free handouts are much appreciated; however, whether they will stay in the neighborhood for a day or a week there is no way of guessing.

And, although we seldom have them in the summertime, there is an occassional winter when a few hardy souls decide that this is as far south as they will go. It looks as though this might be one of those winters for daily the feeders are playing host to three or four white throats.

They are most welcome and make a fine addition to the winter bird population. They are fairly large sparrows, 6 ¾ inches of heavy bodies and longish tails, and the male and female dress alike. The back is stripped, dark brown on lighter brown, the wings have a rather indistinct off-white bar, the breast is a stripped gray which fades to a lighter unmarked tummy.

The birds's head is striking - - - black and white stripes with a dot of bright yellow between the base of the bill and the eyes.

As might be assumed from the name, there is a showy white bib under the bill. An immature bird, and we seem to have a couple of them, look much like the adults except that the head markings are buff and brown and the throat patch is rather dirty.

The sparrow our feeders host only during the cold weather is the neat and dapper three sparrow. At first only one showed himself but lately there have been two and who knows perhaps the third and fourth are 'waiting-in-the-awnings'.

The tree sparrow is slightly smaller than the white-throat, has a more slender build and seemingly, a much shorter temper. In fact, our tree sparrows can be down-right nasty and, not only do they refuse to share with other birds, they often do not even relish the idea of being nice to their own kind.

With head lowered and bill open this sparrow impolitely rushes toward every bird who chances to land on the feeding tray - - - usually the charge succeeds and the tree sparrow has the feeder to himself.

Again, both male and female of this species are garbed alike. The brick red top of the head and the black eye stripe are quite distinctive. So too is the solid soft gray of the breast with the single stick-pin marking.

The two white wing bars are a good field mark too, and, if the bird is close enough and the light is good, it is fun to notice that the tree sparrow has an unusual bill. The upper mandible is dark and the lower one light.

The year around regular is, of course, the song sparrow. Fat bodied, heavily stripped all over - - - head, front and back - - - the fail-safe identifying mark is the stick-pin worn in the middle of the striped breast.

The feeding trays of which we watch all of these pretty sparrows are only a couple of feet from the west window and thus, our looks at the birds are close-ups.

Unless seen really close-up or through binoculars sparrows can be confusing. There are so many different kinds and they often look so much alike.

One of our books claims that there are at least 51 different species of sparrows breeding in this country and Canada and there are several times that number of subspecies. For example, there are 31 different song sparrows. Mind boggling!

New Series LaLeche League Starts

Planes save the day when you have to shave a little wood off the edge of a sticky door. The handiest plane is a block plane. This is a little one you can hold in one hand while holding the work with the other. When you rent it, get the kind that has a little knurled knob on a screw shaft that runs parallel to the angle of the blade. All this is pretty much out in the open where you can see it. If you're not sure it's the right kind, try turning the little knob at the back. Turning it clockwise should make the blade stick out farther through the bottom of the plane. Turning it the other way should pull the blade back in again. If it does what it's supposed to do, that's it.

Whenever you have any questions at all about tools or equipment come to TECUMSEH RENTAL CENTER, 112 S. Pearl St., 423-4470 where we are always available to answer your questions, even if you own the tool or equipment and don't need to rent it from us. We believe in being friendly, like a next door neighbor, that's why we go out of our way to give yu what you want whether it be advice or renting a tool or a piece of equipment. There is plenty of parking next door, and ask us about delivery service. Open: Mon.-Sat. 9-6, Sun. 9-3.

TM Action Committee To Meet

A meeting of the Tecumseh Area Town Meeting Action Committee will be held on Tuesday, Jan. 18 at 7 p.m. in the Tecumseh Public Library Clara Waldron room. The meeting will conclude at 9 p.m.

Purpose of the meeting is to formally establish the group as a non-profit grassroots citizen's organization seeking improvements in the community.

The meeting is open to any citizen and or organization in the greater Tecumseh area.

Agenda will cover a proposed set of by-laws and selection of a steering committee. Sub-committees will report on a Teen Club and publicity.

"We urge citizens of all ages and sections to meet and unite with us so the Tecumseh area can continue to grow into a more vibrant community, serving the needs and wishes of all its people," said Bill Frownfelder, one of the meeting coordinators.

MR. and MRS. HARRY GRAHAM

Honored at 40th

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Graham of Paul's Trailer Park will be honored at a 40th wedding anniversary open house, Sunday, Jan. 9 at 2 p.m. at the Eagles Club.

Marguerite Mattis and Harry Graham were married Dec. 26, 1936. They have lived in the area all their married life. He is a Tecumseh Products employee.

There are eight grandchildren.

Friends and relatives are invited to attend the reception.

Family Flicks at Library

It's Family Flick time again at the Tecumseh Public Library.

This Saturday's feature is "Fantastic Voyage." The movie will run from 2 p.m. to approximately 4 p.m.

Accept Bid

Council accepted Monday night the low bid of the Efco Equipment Co., Inc., of $3,746 for a 24,000 lb. two-post truck hoist at the Department of Public Works garage. City presently uses homemade ramps to elevate equipment.

Installation costs will add an additional $700.

City rejected the bids of Lenawee Fuels, Inc., for $4,125, and R.V. Seaman Co., of $4,200 for the hoist.

Omitted

Airport Bowl was inadverntly omitted from the recent list of Century Club members who contributed $100 or more to the Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation.

Raisin Department Responds

Raisin Township fire department responded to a fire call Tuesday at the Gladys Cowen residence, Adrian.

Mrs. Cowen was found to be in the house when firemen arrived. She was removed and taken to Bixby Hospital to be treated for smoke inhalation.

The fire was confined to the kitchen. Cause of the fire is unknown.

Macon Montage

By Sharon Connors

MACON — Bishop Kenneth Povish, bishop of the Diocese of Lansing, celebrated Mass for the Boysville staff on Dec. 27. Fr. Steve Sedlock, CSC was the co-celebrant of the liturgy which began an evening of festivity.

The bishop's homily for the feast of St. John the Evangelist pointed out that the world's great truths have been said in the simplest of words. He commended the Boysville staff for its Christian work.

At the beginning of the offertory the bishop invited Bernard and Pearl Tucker to renew their marriage vows on the occasion of their 35th wedding anniversary. The Tuckers are members of the Boysville staff. Following the Mass a buffet dinner, prepared by the entire kitchen staff was served in the dining hall. Dancing followed with music by Louis Prange.

In addition to meeting Bishop Provish, several officials of the Knights of Columbus visited with a former Adrian CC student, Jim McLaughlin and his wife, Marsha. Now living in Ann Arbor, Jim was a graduate from Eastern Michigan University and is the newly appointed director of development, Detroit.

It is always fun to talk about days gone by with former athletes even if they were the opposition and Jim was happy to hear Ron Spagnoli (his former coach) and Pat Connors were now on the same side of the field.

A table was shared with Dennis and Lynn Fox of Adrian. Dennis is known to many in this area. Involved in officiating he has also worked at Maurice Spear Campus and is now on the Boysville faculty teaching physical education.

Strains of the wedding march played by Hallie Jane Mehler filled the Macon Methodist Church Sunday afternoon as Bernard and Pearl Tucker renewed their wedding vows on their 35th wedding anniversary. Guests were seated by nephews, Ed and John Clark, before Pearl was escorted down the aisle by her son, Wayne to meet the Rev. Albert Raloff, Bernard, and other family members at the altar. Pearl's brother Ed Clark sang "O Promise Me" accompanied by Miss Mehler. The Tuckers were married in the Mary Martha Chapel, then across the street from the present Methodist Church. Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church hall, decorated by poster size reprints of the couple's wedding pictures. The plans for the whole affair were made by the Tucker's two sons and their wives, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Tucker and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Tucker.

The Priscilla Circle helped with decorations and worked in the kitchen, as family members served the cake, coffee etc. The cake was made by Mrs. Helen Robinson of Saline, a co-worker of Pearl's at Boysville.

Mrs. Luella Rhoades had dinner Sunday afternoon for the Rev. and Mrs. Albert Raloff and Ed and Wilma Clark and sons.

Paul and Rose Kollar drove to West Palm Beach for Christmas.

Ed and Wilma Clark had as Christmas dinner guests the Richard Beal family, the Bernard Tuckers, the Fred Withrows of Tipton, Norm Tucker and family and Mrs. Myrtle Clark.

Mrs. Luella Rhoades was a Christmas dinner guest of the Robert Hammond's in Saline.

Bill and Leeann Gibson were home for the holidays from Houghton.

A birthday party was held Christmas Eve at the home of the Imber's to honor Edmund C. Imber on his eighth birthday. Guests were, Mike and Matt Conrad, Kelly Cue, Clark Griffin, Bryan Kingston, Jimmy Phillips and Matthew, Agnes and Philip Imber. Games were played and prizes awarded. The guests were treated to cake and ice cream.

Fred Feight Named to ASC

Fred Feight, Tecumseh Township dairy farmer, was named to the Lenawee County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee by delegates to the ASC County Convention, held Dec. 20, 1976 at the Farm Bureau Building in Madison Center.

Feight farms several hundred acres and maintains a large dairy operation in Tecumseh Township. He is serving his first term and has been elected for three years.

The County ASC Committee is responsible for local administration of government farm programs such as wheat-feed grain, commodity loans, facility and dryer loans, wool incentive payments and the agricultural conservation program (ACP).

The vacancies were filled by farmer-delegates who are newly-elected ASC community committeemen for 1977.

Garden Display

A pictorial history of Hidden Lake Gardens Rock Garden is currently on display until Jan. 31 in the entrance of Peele Hall at Adrian College. The restoration of the Rock Garden is the project of the Town and Country Garden Club.

The exhibit traces the Rock Garden from its construction in 1933 to the present day. Of particular interest are photographs of rocks being placed in the garden.

Despite its natural appearance, the entire rock ledge is manmade, each stone having been placed there by the late Harry Fee. Fee's purpose was "to revitalize and maintain a demonstrative rock garden at Hidden Lake Gardens for the benefit and education of the public."

The garden club's restoration project has been underway for a year. It is expected that another four years work will be required to complete the 7,500 sq. foot garden.

Spend 3 Months in South America

BRITTON — Mr. and Mrs. David Fairbanks left Sunday after two weeks visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Fairbanks of Britton, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Parsley of Detroit, and other relatives and friends in the area.

They were headed for Milledgeville, Ga., where Dave has accepted the position of unit director, psychology department, at the state hospital there.

Mr. Fairbanks received his master's degree in psychology last May, after attending graduate school at Florida State University at Tallahassee for two years. A 1969 graduate of Britton-Macon High School, he attended General Motors Institute for two years and received his bachelor of science degree from Eastern Michigan University.

Dave and his wife, Sharon, a special education teacher, spent three months the past summer traveling in South America. They visited the Panama Canal Zone, Ecuador, Peru, and Columbia.

Their adventures included traveling over primitive roads on the country's antiquated transportation system, visiting Indian villages high in the mountains, and spending some time in the seaside city of Playas, Ecuador.

They purchased a number of hand-embroidered shirts and dresses, plus tapestries hand-woven on 200-year-old looms.

The highlight of the entire trip, they state, was the visit to Cuzco, the ancient capital of the Incas, and Macchu Picchu, the hidden fortress, perched high in the remote Andes of southern Peru, which they reached by a 24-hour train ride in a steam train "straight out of Greenfield Village, or Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid."

"You can still feel the spiritual vibrations of those ancient people," stated Fairbanks. The couple plans to return for another visit.

Caristmas Traditions

By Thelma Younglove

BRITTON — As the Christmas season drew near, preparations were under way for the joyous season. Families observed the holidays in various ways. Many follow family traditions.

From my earliest memories, we had a Christmas tree. When we were quite young the tree was usually a small, scrubby, prickly one cut from a relative's pasture lot. We were as happy with it as if it had been a nicely shaped, cultivated one.

The tree was decorated with homemade items — candy canes, strings of popcorn and Christmas cookies in shapes of rabbits, hens, horses, stars, Santas, and wreaths. Each cookie was frosted and decorated.

After Christmas, when it was time to take the tree outdoors, we left the strings of popcorn and some of the cookies on it to serve as a treat for the birds.

Our Christmas gifts consisted mainly of much needed clothing — underwear, stockings, mittens, outer garments, scarfs, or caps and one year a warm fake fur coat. For these we were grateful and didn't complain about not receiving more than one or two small inexpensive toys or books.

Almost all of the children in our community participated in the Christmas exercises at school and at church. Some families opened their gifts after returning from the Christmas program at church.

Our family usually waited until after breakfast on Christmas Day to open our gifts. By that time the livestock had been fed and grandfather and an uncle had arrived to watch the delighted expressions on our faces as we opened each present.

In some homes it was a tradition to serve roast goose for Christmas dinner. Other families preferred roast duck, some insisted on a particular breed, such as muscovy. In recent years turkey or ham seems to be preferred by many families. Stuffing or dressing (seasoned bread crumbs) is usually served with goose, duck , or turkey.

When oysters were less expensive and not so scarce, stew or escallopsed oysters were traditionally served by some families as part of the Christmas meal.

Certain famililts thought that plum pudding must be on the menu at Christmas. Others served suet pudding accompanied with hard sauce. Pies - mince, apple, or Fruit cakes rich with is a favorite during the holiday season.

Home for Christmas has long been a tradition in America. It is a special time of the year when family members yearn to be together and desire to be at mother's or grandmother's for that festive occasion. For those miles away and unable to gather with close relatives, it is a time of homesickness - an unpleasant feeling.

A spirit of good will prevails at Christmas time. People greet each other in a friendly manner. Cards and messages are sent to relatives and friends.

May peace on earth and good will prevail throughout the entire year.

Wood Carving Is Hobby

BRITTON — Allen Bower, 213 N. Main St., has the unique hobby of wood carving, which he does in his spare time at home. He is employed at General Motors.

The self-taught hobbiest began about a year-and-a-half ago, when Bower became bored with watching TV. He has carved many special pieces since.

His first wood carving was a ball in a cage with a six link chain. His second piece was two balls in a cage on a handle.

Bower carves a piece resembling a baby rattle. This is made with a ball in a cage with a handle. He uses a wood burner and engraves baby's name and birthdate on the handle, to make a keepsake gift.

His smallest carving is a pair of initial earrings. He is presently working on a wood macrame hanger, resembling square chain pieces with wood balls inside the chain.

He has given approximately 115 carvings to friends, and relatives in Ohio, Texas and Maine and also eight pendants to students from Denmark, Brazil, Japan and Thailand (four continents of the world).

Bower has visited the Wharter Woodcarving Museum in Dover, O., and the Jackson and Livonia Woodcarving clubs.

His only tool is a Stanley slim line knife which he uses on wood such as mahogany, pine basswood, butternut, poplar and some of his work is done on unknown wood. At present he is working on lilac wood.

Bower said he would like to meet other wood carvers in the area.

Hospital Hosts Expectant Parents

First session is Jan. 5 from 1-2:30 p.m. for a tour of the obstetrics department and labor and delivery rooms.

Other meetings and topics are Jan. 12, labor and delivery; Jan. 19, breast and-or bottle feeding and Jan. 26, infant care. All are at 7 p.m.

Classes are repeated on the first four Wednesdays of March, May, July, September and November.

2 Speakers Stolen, Police Investigate Seven Complaints

Police investigated seven complaint reports this week, including the theft of two speakers from the high school band room.

Dec. 31 — Robert Glasscock, custodian at THS, reported two speakers missing from the band room between the night before and 10:30 a.m. Friday. Point of entry to the building is unknown; there was no damage to the school.

Estimated loss is impossible to set as the speakers were purchased as part of a system, but they were covered by insurance.

A resume of other complaint reports includes:

Terry Keith, 215 S. Oneida, reported the larceny of 50 garbage bags.

Mrs. Royetta Sisson, manager of the VFW on N. Evans, called police as she was unable to make a customer leave. Police arrested Lyndal L. Dove, 53, of 302 S. Maumee. Dove could not walk under his own power and was reportedly "bad-mouthing" officers.

Dec. 31 — Ron and Sandy Schmidt, 312 E. Chicago, reported the theft of a CB radio from their home. Police do have a suspect. The radio was recovered in the Schmidt back yard shortly after the theft was reported.

Jan. 3 — Jean Parmley, 212 E. Logan, reported that someone had stolen a security box from her home sometime since Dec. 7. The fireproof box contained cash and bonds valued at $300.

SHOWING NEW ADDITION SUNDAY

Open House at THS

First opportunity for the public to inspect the new addition at Tecumseh High School will be Sunday afternoon when school officials host an open house. Hours for the open house or public inspection are from 2:00 to 5:00 p.m.

The new addition, costing nearly $1.5 million, is the first major expansion to the school since Ray Herrick built an addition there about 10 years ago.

All of the addition and remodeled offices will be open to the public. Areas include the cafeteria, kitchen, vocal and instrumental music, two double classrooms, art classroom, storage areas, foyer and new entrance off N. Maumee St.

Prior to the construction, which was just recently completed, the high school consisted of 95,520 square feet. Today, the total is 120,620 square feet. In addition to the 25,100 square feet of new construction, approximately 1,700 square feet of the old building was altered.

Major costs were construction, $1,215,577; special equipment, $86,247, and other equipment, $35,296. Architectural fees and other legal expenses exceeded $100,000.

New Foundation Officers

Other officers elected last week were Dr. Paul Fackler, vice-president, and Marten Vegter, secretary-treasurer. New trustees are Mrs. Wilma Higgins, who replaces Gil Purse, and George DiCarlo, who succeeds the late Mrs. Ruth Rentschler.

'76 Construction Tops $2.2 Million

Compared to recent years, construction boomed in Tecumseh in 1976, thanks to the $1.5 million high school addition. Nearly $1.3 million of the addition was strictly construction.

Robert Hamden, city building inspector and assessor, reported to Council Monday night that building last year amounted to $2,296,230. His report for 1975 showed construction at $589,100, and for 1974, $1,234,330.

Second largest building expenditure last year was $300,000 for the initial stage of an apartment complex at the Tecumseh Country Club. Builder is William M. Powell, local real estate broker.

Breakdown of Hamden's 1976 report is:

New Construction	Permits Issued	Cost
Multiple-Family Units (20)	1	$ 300,000
One Family Houses	10	260,000
Residential Garages	10	26,550
Industrial buildings	3	71,200
Other than buildings	4	53,500
Additions and Alterations
Residential buildings	17	52,680
Other buildings, structures	10	263,300
High School addition	1	1,296,230

Neighborhoods Plan Meetings for Ordinance

Neighborhood meetings have been organized to discuss the proposed historic district ordinance. The meetings, arranged by the Tecumseh Historic District Study committee, begin Jan. 22 and are scheduled for residents of the proposed historic district.

The district includes those properties from 107 to 710 W. Chicago Blvd. and from 107 S. Union to 408 N. Union. This area is already on the state of Michigan Historic District Register.

All home owners in the district are urged to attend the meeting designated for their neighborhood, or attend any of the other meetings listed.

The meetings are scheduled on three successive Saturdays at a home in the district. Sunday, Jan. 30 is an extra meeting for residents who missed an earlier one.

The Tecumseh Historic District Study Committee was appointed by Tecumseh City Council in 1973 to survey Tecumseh's architecture and recommend an appropriate ordinance for the city to protect its historical architecture.

The ordinance will primarily affect homes built before 1900. However, all homeowners in the 11 block district are invited to attend and give their opinions regardless of the age of their homes.

Dates of the neighborhood meetings are:

Jan. 22, 1-3 p.m. at 218 W. Chicago Blvd., the home of Flora Betzoldt for residents of 206 to 312 W. Chicago Blvd.

Jan. 22, 3-5 p.m. at 508 W. Chicago Blvd., the home of Joseph J. Saksewski for residents of 501 to 516 W. Chicago Blvd.

Jan. 29, 1-3 p.m. at 301 N. Union St., the home of Emery E. Powers for residents of 310 to 408 N. Union St.

Jan. 29, 3-5 p.m. at 115 S. Union St., the home of Alice Schneider for residents of 107 S. Union St. to 401 W. Chicago Blvd. and to 415 W. Chicago Blvd., including 313 and 316 W. Pottawatamie St.

Jan. 30, 7-8:30 p.m. at 211 W. Chicago Blvd., the Presbyterian Church for any residents who missed an earlier meeting.

Feb. 5, 1-3 p.m. at 710 W. Chicago Blvd., the home of Lee L. Worley, for residents of 601 to 710 W. Chicago Blvd.

Feb. 5 from 3-5 p.m. at 215 N. Union St., the home of Elizabeth Wilson for residents of 107 to 215 N. Union St.

Disallow Sign

Tecumseh City Council denied the United Methodist Church's request for a directory sign along Bishop Reed Drive Monday night. Council will ask the planning commission to work on a solution to allow exceptions to the city ordinance.

According to the city sign ordinance — a sound and "good" ordinance according to council members — such a sign as the church asked for is illegal. Council thought, however, the church's request was legitimate.

The ordinance allows no exceptions to the 'no sign' rule. Council fears that directional and unnecessary signs would "pop up" all over the city for businesses and organizations, and that would be aesthetically unpleasant.

Church members feel the sign is needed because the Church is the only building with an address on Bishop Reed Dr., off Brown St.

Believe Local Sailor Safe

U.S. Navy Fireman Mate Robert Cook was not reported among the 23 casualties when one of the U.S.S. Guam's personnel carriers was rammed midsection by a freighter in waters off the coast of Barcelona, Spain this week.

Cook, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Cook and grandson of Mrs. Neil Pearson, all of Tecumseh, is traveling aboard the aircraft carrier U.S.S. Guam with the sixth fleet. He was a 1975 Tecumseh High School graduate.

Plants Help Save Energy

Coldest January on record has not only left the area shivering but also is forcing energy cutbacks here and throughout the state.

Both Tecumseh Products and Fisher Body are cooperating and taking steps to conserve energy.

"The Tecumseh Products is cutting back on power used on all major lines," reports Virgil Tucker, secretary of the company.

TP plant engineer, Joe Herr, cited some of the energy saving steps that the Products has taken in the last five to six years: conversion to more efficient operations which require less electricity or gas, reducing heat in offices, moving operations closer together or closing down parts of the plant, turning off unnecessary power usage, and winterizing the plant to check energy leaks.

Harry Hans, plant general manager, says the Products has spent many dollars on energy conservation, which has resulted in a 25 percent reduction in use of natural gas and 15 percent reduction in use of electricity.

Fisher Body is requesting all employees to turn off lights and machines when not in use. The company is also lowering plant temperatures to 68 degrees and is seeking energy saving ideas from employees.

Sunday night, 87 customers along Rogers Hwy., near Holloway, were without power for three hours, starting at 1 a.m. when a power line from the Tecumseh substation snapped.

Consumers Power had a five percent power cutback thoughout its system for at least three days this winter. Full power was resumed Tuesday, said a spokesman. The company asks customers to cut back on nonessential power usages.

Taunting Police Leads to Arrests

Police investigated a breaking and entering at the Junior High School Tuesday and arrested five individuals, three of them juveniles, in a seperate incident Friday night

David Dick, principal at the Junior High School here, told police the B & E entry occured in the shop area. Police found a rear window kicked out and a box containing shop fees missing. Investigation remains open.

In Friday's incident, Robert L. Sterling, 18, of Tecumseh was initially the only one arrested. Four other arrests took place in the police station 15 minutes after the incident. According to police, they were called to the 100 block on S. Evans by a report of a fight there. When they arrived, the crowd dispersed, the fight was over, and only one auto remained. Subjects hanging from the windows of that auto began yelling at officers and a pursuit followed.

Raisin Firemen Sponsor Dance

Raisin Township Fire Department's fourth annual dance will be held Saturday night at the Union Hall on S. Maumee.

City Organizes for Employing New Director

Monday night Council adopted a tentative time table for hiring the director of community development, a position created in their first November meeting.

Council set up a four-man committee to join with city manager Cal Zorn and the planning commission to screen the applicants by January 31.

Council members on that committee include Jay Tressler, James Palmer, Harold Easton and Leonard DeMoss.

The committee plans to interview the qualified applicants and present a list to the Council in order of the committee's preference. Council will hire the director.

Council hopes to have the position filled by the end of February and have the person working by the first of April.

The director of community development would be responsible for all aspects of community and industrial development and includes social and cultural development. Other duties may also be assigned.

Bill Will Force Schools To Equip All Cafeterias

Asst. Supt. Gene Cooley told School Board members Monday night about a bill waiting for the governor's signature which, if signed, would have serious implications for the state's school districts.

The bill would require districts to provide a school lunch program for every building in the district.

Cooley said that the program has been coming for years. If put into law, "it would become an immediate problem."

He went on to say that the new high school kitchen facilities could not provide all the meals for the district, and "the elementary schools are not equipped in any way for lunch."

If signed, the bill would take affect this fall. But districts unable to immediately comply would be allowed a one year grace period by simply providing a room and milk for sack lunches in every building.

Tecumseh already does this but would have to make arrangements to offer lunch to all the district's students by the fall of 1978.

Cooley added that the state would pay for capital outlay for additional equipment a year after purchased. But the district would be responsible for the overhead of personnel, workman's compensation, unemployment and other related costs.

The bill does not define what a "school lunch program" would have to be.

The bill also states that districts must provide a breakfast in a building where 20 percent of the students there receive a reduced-cost or free lunch. Tecumseh is unaffected by this portion of the bill.

The board agreed to voice their opposition to the bill to the governor.

Deny Federal Funds for City Projects

Tecumseh's request for public work funds from the federal government has been denied because there were more monies requested than the $156 million appropriated to the state of Michigan.

In Region II alone, which includes Lenawee, Jackson and Hillsdale Counties, $72 million was requested, said City Manager Cal Zorn.

The federal government worked out a formula for aid that would distribute 70 percent of the money to communities with unemployment over the national average of 7.78 percent and distribute 30 percent to communities with unemployment under the national average. Number of people unemployed was also considered, thus giving big cities a better chance for funds.

Tecumseh's unemployment rate is 10 percent, but the city was one in a long line seeking the funds intended to stimulate employment and the economy.

The projects Tecumseh listed were improvements to Russell Rd. from Adrian to Mill and a bridge from Rogers to Russell Rd., an industrial park street and improvements to city hall.

City manager Cal Zorn told Council Monday night that these projects were just postponed and not forgotten.

Zorn plans to meet with Council later this month to discuss the 1977-78 capital improvements and use of anti-recessionary funds, another federal program.

Fill Position

Lawrence Wallenhaupt, of 125 Maple St., was appointed to fill the unexpired term of R. Timothy Tietsema on the planning commission Monday night.

Wallenhaupt was appointed unanimously by the city council to fill the position that expires in 1979.

JOHN KENNEDY

Kennedy New TCC Manager

John Kennedy, 25, greens keeper at the Tecumseh Country Club for the past five years, has been appointed club manager by the board.

He succeeds Allie Luckhardt, who resigned recently to accept a position as manager of the Devils Lake Yacht Club.

The new manager graduated from Tecumseh High School in 1969 and from Michigan State University in 1971, completing a two-year turf grass management course.

He and his wife reside at 6303 Green Hwy.

Talking It Out
IROGER PROCTOR R

Touring our funeral home can be educational

Would your religious, fraternal or civic group like to make a tour of our funeral home facilities? We believe your members would benefit through the discussions with us and each other. Many people have no knowledge of funeral costs or procedures prior to the time of need, so an education tour can be quite helpful to them.

Do you, for instance, know about funeral costs and procedures? Are you aware of the more-than-75 specific details to which we automatically attend? Have you wondered about the formal education and training which a licensed funeral director must have? Are you aware of the many informative books available now on "death-and-dying?"

A tour might satisfy your curiosity about these questions, and others. You'll see how we meet the needs of individual families with the professional expertise our community has come to expect.

If you or your group would be interested in a tour, please call for details.

Chief Speaks to Monday Club

Drug traffic in Tecumseh and surrounding area is the offense that creates the greatest problem for the Tecumseh police, Police Chief Merlin Mowery told 15 members and one guest of the Monday Club recently.

Mowery compared 1975 and 1976 crime statistic. In almost every category, crime had increased. Chief Mowery believes that crime statistics are higher because people are reporting crimes more than before. Three hundred more complaints were made in 1976 than in 1975.

For an area the size of Tecumseh with 7,700 residents and 21,000 people in the area, none of the offenses is extemely high, Mowery indicated. He said there were no known homicides, rapes or arsons.

Arrests were up considerably and Chief Mowery praised the city's 11 police officers for doing a fine job. Adult criminal arrests were up one third, juvenile arrests doubled and drunken driver arrests were up 80 percent. Stolen property recovered was $4,000 more.

Sharing his experience, Mowery told of attending school in Pittsford and Adrian College. He became a state police officer and served in Bay City, Grand Rapids, Clinton and specialized in fingerprints at the Plymouth state police crime lab before becoming Tecumseh chief of police in August 1975. One of eight children, Mowery was one of four doing police work at one time.

Vera Driffill and Ethel Wright served refreshments.

The Monday Club was invited to attend the winter meeting of the County Federation of Women's Clubs at the West Adrian United Church of Christ Feb. 2. Reservations are due Jan. 28.

'Good Shape' Financially

At a meeting of Tecumseh's Board of Education Monday night, Asst. Supt. Gene Cooley told the board the district is halfway through its fiscal year and is in "very good shape financially."

Cooley did express concern over the utility rate structure in relation to appropriations in the budget. "Without a doubt we will be over (the appropriation) in some buildings and hopefully under in others."

He stated further that taxes are coming in, and it is hoped that the district will be able to repay a $700,000 state aid note by the middle of February.

Cooley lamented the fact that the state is still paying half of its state aid payments at the beginning of the month and the other half at the end of the month.

The district receives state aid payments six times a year in August, October, December, February, April and June.

Consultant Tells Board of Career Needs Survey

Curriculum consultant Wayne Kaiser told the Tecumseh school board Monday night about a career education needs assessment survey to be conducted in the district.

Surveys will be given to fifth, seventh, ninth and eleventh graders and parents, to high school and junior high teachers, and fourth, fifth and sixth grade teachers.

The surveys will help school officials discover the strengths and weaknesses of Tecumseh's career education program.

In addition, surveys will be sent to area industry and other employers of Tecumseh students and graduates in regards to how the students are performing.

The surveys will be distributed this week and next, andd officials hope to receive them back by Feb. 1.

"This is the first time that anything this large has been taken on. We will get a fairly good idea where we stand, our strong and weak points," said Kaiser.

Warm Thought, Subzero Weather

Despite the subzero winter weather, there's a warm thought for Tecumseh senior citizens—they can enjoy fellowship at the Tecumseh Community Center where hot lunches are served from 12-12:30 p.m. each weekday. Meals to homebound senior citizens are delivered.

Transportation to lunch or for appointments is also available to senior citizens.

To find out more about meal delivery to the homebound, a senior citizen may call 423-2107, ext. 25. Christine Fliss, nutrition site director will answer questions.

Referals may be made by any interested friend or relative. Approximately 20 different people now use homebound meal services. Meals are delivered by volunteer church members and senior citizens.

For transportation Monday through Friday to the Tecumseh Center for meals and activities, call 423-2107, ext. 25 one day in advance. Pick-up is at about 10:30 a.m. and return home is about 3 p.m. Transportation is also available for appointments outside the county by special arrangement.

On Mondays a van is available ON CALL from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. Seniors may be picked up for appointments or for the meal and return home earlier. A vehicle will be available on call more often if demand for the service increases.

Named to Committee

Donald F. Purkey, of Tecumseh, has been named a member of the legislative committee of the National Oil Jobbers Council, a federation of state oil jobber associations with headquarters in Washington, D.C.

Purkey, who is president of Lenawee Fuels, Inc. in Tecumseh, will represent the interests of the Michigan Petroleum Association in his national committee assignment. He is a former brand chairman of the Michigan Petroleum Association.

A native of Toledo, Purkey attended Eastern Michigan University in Ypsilanti. He worked for several national oil companies prior to founding Lenawee Fuels, Inc. in 1965. The firm is a local jobber for Union Oil Co.

The Michigan Petroleum Association is comprised of approximately 400 oil jobber firms located throughout the state. They are local distributors of gasoline and home-heating fuel oil.

MR. and MRS. TIMOTHY HUBBARD

Cynthia S. House, Timothy Hubbard Wed

Cynthia Suzanne House and Timothy Leland Hubbard were married in Adrian College Chapel Jan. 8. The Rev. George Smith officiated at the wedding ceremony for the daughter of Mary House of Adrian and Gerald L. House of Tecumseh and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. Hubbard, Onsted.

The bride's gown was made by her mother-in-law, Mrs. Richard Hubbard. The gown was made of white antique satin with a nylon overlay. Cape sleeves were made of lace and imported lace accented the lines of the skirt. Her cathedral length veil was secured with a headdress of matching lace with seed pearls.

Mrs. Brenda Wright of Adrian, the groom's sister, was matron of honor. Barbara House of Adrian, the bride's sister; Jo Hubbard of Onsted, the groom's sister; Mrs. Becky Bar of Tecumseh and Mary Kitson of Adrian were attendants.

Terry Furguson of Onsted was best man. Thomas Hubbard, the groom's brother; Larry Lambus and Randy Baker, all of Onsted, and Dean Bishop of Addison were ushers.

The couple will reside in Florida.

Firemen Battle Barn Fire

Firefighters from Raisin Township joined those from Blissfield and Madison to help the Palmyra fire department fight a huge barn fire that caused $45,000 damage to a double barn and its contents.

The fire started at the L.D. Wood farm on Robb Road, just south of Palmyra. Palmyra's department was called at 9:15 p.m. on Jan. 13.

The fire was visible for at least eight miles for some eight hours.

Between 30 and 35 men were on the scene. One from Blissfield was treated for smoke inhalation.

Other units from Riga, Deerfield and Raisin stood by to assist.

Fire apparently started when a heat lamp set insulation smoldering.

Two Receive Centennial Certificates

Two businesses in Tecumseh will receive centennial business certificates at the Tecumseh Area Historical Society meeting at 7:30 p.m. Jan. 25 at the Clara Waldron Room of the Tecumseh Public Library.

The event is sponsored by the Tecumseh Area Historical Society in cooperation with the Historical Society of Michigan.

Businesses that will receive the centennial awards include Comfort Brick and Tile and The Tecumseh Herald.

In announcing plans to honor 100-year-old businesses in Tecumseh, Harold Easton, Mayor of Tecumseh explained the purpose of the program.

"We hope that these centennial business awards will encourage the community to become more aware of its business and industrial history," he said.

Frank C. Wilhelme, executive director, will represent the Historical Society of Michigan at the presentation. Wilhelme, along with Mayor Easton, will make the presentations to Ralph and Gordon Comfort, of the Comfort Brick and Tile, and to Mr. and Mrs. James Lincoln of The Tecumseh Herald.

The local firms being honored are among more than 170 businesses in the state that are receiving centennial business certificates from the state historical society.

A non-profit organization with headquarters in Ann Arbor, the Historical Society of Michigan is supported by 5,500 individual and corporate members.

You Told Us

David Lee Loomis, one month old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Loomis of Adrian, was hospitalized at Mott's Children's Hospital in Ann Arbor on Jan. 12. He is expected to remain until Jan. 18 or longer for tests. The baby's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. A.L. Roe of Tecumseh and Mr. and Mrs. Rex Loomis of Dundee.

Mr. and Mrs. Delmar Crisp of Detroit and Mr. and Mrs. Darrel Ball of Adrian were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Ball on Jan. 16 to celebrate their granddaughter Andrea's fifth birthday anniversary. The Balls also have a five-month-old daughter, Shannon. Mr. Crisp was a former business education teacher at Tecumseh High School.

Accident Reports

Icy, snowy conditions played a major part in Tecumseh's accidents again this week. Seven drivers slid or skidded into parked or stopped autos.

A resume includes:

Jan. 12 — Carl Gruber of 5401 Occidental parked his auto along westbound Pottawatamie. His auto was struck by Peggy J. Leighton, 27, of 306 E. Pottawatamie who was backing out of a private drive and was unable to stop due to icy conditions.

Harold Ruble, 49, of Deerfield, was cited for violating the basic speed law after he was unable to stop and struck a vehicle in the rear. Glenn E. Tirb, 47, of 210 S. Evans, was stopped on Mohawk to make a right when Ruble slid into his car.

Debra M. Baker, 18, of 9383 Tecumseh-Clinton Rd., told police she was making a left onto Cairns from M50 and slid sideways. Denise K. Bagby, 23, of 1201 Murray, was traveling north on Cairns and could not stop to avoid the accident.

Lynelle E. Cook, 140 W. Brown, was cited for failure to have her vehicle under control after she was traveling north on icy N. Union and struck a parked auto. Ray Oliver, of 210 N. Union, had parked his auto on the east side of the street.

Jan. 13 — George J. Pochay, 30, of Lyons, Ohio, was stopped on Chicago to make a left onto S. Maumee when he was struck from behind by Carole S. Wright, 20, of Clinton. Wright could not stop due to the snowy road.

Catarino M. Terres, 17, of 212 Cairns, attempted to back into a parking space in front of Wrong Way Pub and struck a parked vehicle owned by Gail S. Heisler, 19, of 9103 N. Union.

Jan. 14 — Paul W. Whisman, 17, of 107 N. Union, told police he stopped for a truck on N. Evans that was turning from front of him onto Tecumseh-Macon Rd. Whisman was struck in the rear by an auto driven by Owen Eshenroder, 29, of Ann Arbor, who slid on the snowy road.

Theodore L. Stautz, 54, of Manchester pulled out of a parking space and hit a parked auto owned by Jerry L.blohm, 34, of Adrian. Accident occured in the city parking lot behind Gambles.

Jan. 17 — Mary E. Root, 16, of 36 W. Pottawatamie, was traveling east on W. Pottawatamie and slid on a patch of ice created by a broken water main. She struck a parked auto belonging to Frederick F. Dickinson, of 514 W. Pottawatamie.

Marian O. Kime, 45, of Clinton was cited for improper lane usage after she moved into the right lane of W. Chicago and struck a vehicle there. Robert J. Murray, 50, of Adrian was near the Union St. intersection when the accident occured.

Renew License

The Michigan Department of Public Health renewed the license of Herrick Memorial Hospital with 83 beds in Tecumseh.

The licenses of other area hospitals also renewed include Chelsea Community Hospital, 104 beds; Thorn Hospital in Hudson, 25 beds; Morenci Area Hospital, 37 beds; and Emma L. Bixby Hospital, Adrian, 238 beds.

Arrest

Pottawatamie. As officers ran a check on the driver, one subject, Sterling was pulled from the car and warned not to start a disturbance.

Sterling smelled strongly of alcohol and had trouble standing when police arrested him for drunk and disorderly.

Fifteen minutes later at the station, the driver, Richard Yereberk of Britton and three juvenile girls, all 14 years old, questioned officers about the arrest. They all began yelling at the police and began swearing. When repeatedly asked to leave, the would not and kept swearing.

All were arrested. The three girls were petitioned into Probate Court.

Last Tuesday, Bill Groulx, owner of Airport Bowl, called police and reported malicious destruction. His auto was resting at the ally parking lot when someone slit a front tire and stole a hub cap.

Rufner, Miller Are Married

Sue Rufner, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. LaMar Rufner of Tecumseh, was married Jan. 2 to Dennis Miller of Adrian. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Lee V. Miller of Adrian.

After the ceremony, the bride and groom and honor attendants went out for dinner. A reception is being planned for the newlyweds at a later date.

The bride is a 1974 graduate of Tecumseh High School and the groom is a 1976 graduate of Adrian High School. The couple reside at 743 S. Winter St. in Adrian.

Demonstrate Desire, Ability at GM Plant

Wayne J. Gillespie, director, quality control, announced that the employees and management of Fisher Body-Tecumseh Plant, GMC, have demonstrated their desire and ability to build a quality product line by reaching the plateau that allows them to display the "Monthly Quality Achievement" banner in their plant.

This achievement was based upon a recent in-plant audit of trim components produced at the local facility, by Fisher Body Division, Quality Control personnel, as part of the 1977 model year Quality Achievement Program.

In review of the plant achievement, William J. Polk, plant manager, commented "our work force has pride in producing a quality product and can deservedly take pride in this accomplishment."

Johnson has directed youth rallies, assembly programs in high schools, and has been a pastor for 14 years. He taught courses in personal evangelism and false cults at the Appalachian Bible Institute of Bradley, W. Va. for about 25 years.

He entered full-time evangelism and conference work in 1964, and has conducted campaigns and in several states, and in the islands of Trinidad and Tobago in the West Indies.

Johnson has authored 11 books. His albums have had wide distribution.

The Rev. David M. Holly, pastor, invites the public to attend.

REV. CARL JOHNSON

Group Discusses Rescue Assistance

City Manager Cal Zorn briefly discussed the city's procedural methods for rescue assistance with city council Monday night.

In effect, there will be no procedural change. The procedure, however, is now in writing and has been forwarded to police and fire departments.

Zorn explained that in order to best cut lapse time for treating the injured and to eliminate nuisance calls for the fire department rescue squad, a police officer should make the preliminary investigation before requesting the rescue unit or ambulance service.

This, according to Zorn, is no real alteration of present policy. There is still the possibility of human error and nuisance calls, but this is the only logical way emergency situations can be handled.

If the area of the city were much larger, then it would be feasible for the rescue unit to be dispatched the same time as the patrol car.

The report from city and police officials grew out of inquiries at the previous city council meeting concerning calls for both the rescue squad and ambulance service and the lapse time involved in treating the injured.

Early Business In Town of Britton

BRITTON — An amazing number of businesses have changed hands or been discontinued in Britton since the early 1900's.

At one time two or three grocery stores and a meat market were busy six days each week. In addition to groceries, the stores sold boots, shoes, rubbers, overalls, shirts, kerosene, lamp chimneys, lamp wicks, and many other items.

Some of the senior citizens may recall Auntie Martin and her little variety store which was located near the present post office. Mrs. Martin, a highly esteemed lady, had living quarters in a room at the rear of the store.

Men by the names of Edgar Wells and Simon Linn at one time had a clothing store in Britton.

For many years a millinery store did a good business both summer and winter, making, trimming, re-trimming and selling ladies dress hats.

Drug stores served people of the area. Moreland's Drug Store was located east of the Wabash tracks just west of the present post office. The most recent drug store was operated by Carney's in the brick building just west of the hotel.

For several years, a harness shop served the community.

A tinsmith, a highly skilled craftsman, plied his trade in conjunction with Gripton's Hardware Store. The number of articles the tinsmith could make or repair was almost unbelievable.

Beasley's paint store did a thriving business for a time. Later John Beasley operated a furniture store. Ernest and Gertrude Dubois later hand a furniture store in the same location. After the furniture store went out of business, it was used for a restaurant. The store has been vacant except for a short time this summer when it was the Bicentennial country store.

At one time Arthur Gordon and his wife, Bertha, operated "The Golden Rule Bakery." A loaf of their bakery bread was a treat when a housewife ran short and had to buy a loaf.

About the same time the bakery was in operation, Lavern and Nina Pocklington had an ice cream parlor in Britton. It was a popular place, especially on Saturday nights.

At one time three garages (Clark's - later Exelby's, Lawheads, and Reynold's) did automobile repair work, sold tires, batteries, and other automobile accessories.

Gasoline could be purchased at each of the garages and also at the two gasoline stations — one where the bank is now located and the other at the eastern edge of town. Britton Motor Sales, the garage just west of Britton was built more recently.

While most of the above mentioned businesses were active, the poultry and egg business first run by Ben Beasley and later Cheevers (located where Auten's Plumbing is) was a busy place - dealing in eggs, cream, poultry feed and poultry remedies and poultry.

How many remember the cackling of hens, crowing of roosters, squawking of geese, and the quacking of ducks especially just prior to the holidays?

The lumber and coal yard, now vacant, did a lively business dealing in large quantities of both hard and soft coal and many types of building materials and supplies.

The stockyards, especially toward the end of each week, received many sheep, cattle, and hogs. Most were shipped to slaughter houses to be butchered. What sounds came from the pens filled with animals waiting to be shipped.

The elevator has been an active place especially during harvest seasons. The feed grinding business connected with the elevator did a great deal of work for farmers when large lots of livestock were produced in the area. Long lines of vehicles often had to wait in line for feed to be ground.

A shoe cobbler earned a living keeping shoes in repair and doing other leather work. He also sold shoe laces and shoe polish.

When men and boys wore their hair fairly short, two barber shops were open six days each week and some evenings providing services for their customers.

Two blacksmith shops, one on the east side of South Main, just north of the tracks and the other operated by Henry Bachman, were directly across the street from the Congregational Christian Church. Both bustled with activity shoeing horses, repairing buggies, wagons, and other equipment. In addition some wood work was done.

Can anyone imagine what Britton would be like if all of the past businesses were still in operation?

MACON — Brrr. . . Macon shivers through this cold and snow just as everyone else is. If it will help us feel a little warmer, Mrs. Ahlene Connors of Macon shares a few lines from her daughter's letter that comes from near Hibbing, Minn. The car wouldn't start; it was 40 below. The kids are walking to the bus stop in 35 below temperatures. Five below feels like we are having a heat wave. .

Chin up everybody, it could be colder!

Bob and Myra Bush have a busy week ahead. Thursday night the Duets, a church group, will be guests in their home for a potluck supper. Then on Friday night the farm bureau will meet at the Bush's. The following Thursday they will have the extension group. They have their fingers crossed for a little less blowing snow as their Pennington Rd. home is not always easy to get to when the drifts come.

After closing the store Saturday night, Roger and Nancy Ross and sons entertained Roger's mom for her birthday. A dinner was served to Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ross and Mrs. Mamie Reid.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Stormsform of Southgate were dinner guests at the Harold Ross' on Sunday. Mrs. Storms is Mrs. Ross's sister. The couples played cards.

Bob and Debbie Banks are moving from Britton Hwy. into Mr. Edward's stone school in Macon this week.

The Macon Women's Club met at the home of Mabel Burleson on Welch Rd. Jan. 13. Eleven ladies had a potluck luncheon. Celestine Riddell gave a program on early American cookery.

Reminder: The Jan. 25 General U.M.W. meeting will be at the church instead of at the home of Phyllis Thomas. However she will be the hostess. The program is "Prayer and Self-Denial".

You Are What You Eat

by Shirley Weekley

With todays busy schedules, delicious meals that are quick and easy to prepare are a necessity. This weeks suggestions can be prepared from start to table in one hour or less.

Frances Spreeman calls this recipe her wash day dinner because it is an excellent meal to prepare on busy days. Preparation time is one hour and it is very good.

WASH DAY DINNER

6 pork chops
1 medium onion
3 cups dry noodles
28 ounce can tomatoes

Brown pork chops in large skillet. Drain off excess fat. Place a layer of sliced onions over the pork, then a layer of dry noodles. Pour tomatoes over all and simmer until noodles are tender and meat is cooked. Salt and pepper to taste. Three large pork steaks can be substituted for the pork chops.

An entire meal in one pot, meat, potatoes and vegetables — what a way to cook! It's quick, easy, and good with very little clean-up. This can be prepared in one hour or simmered in a crock pot for several hours.

POLISH BOILED DINNER

1 medium head of cabbage
5 medium potatoes
5 medium carrots
1 lb. kielbasa or smoked sausage

Peal and quarter potatoes, peel carrots, and cut cabbage in wedges. Add vegetables to one quart rapidly boiling salted water in large (five quart) pot. Cut sausage in 8 pieces and add to pot. Boil for 5 minutes, then cover and reduce heat to simmer vegetables until tender. Serves 4-6.

I recently tried this quick recipe using ground beef and we all enjoyed it.

KWICK MEAL

1 cup cooked macaroni
1 package brown gravy mix
1½ cup water
1 small (8 ounce) can tomato sauce
1 tablespoon sugar
1 tablespoon butter
salt and pepper to taste

Brown beef until red coloring disappears, then add remaining ingredients and simmer ½ hour. Serve hot.

Returns from Deployment

Navy Yeoman Seaman Appren. Mark R. Huff, whose wife, Helen, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Williams of 305 W. Shawnee, has returned from a deployment in the Southwestern Pacific.

He is serving as a crewmember aboard the guided missle destroyer USS Hoel, homeported in San Diego, Calif.

While deployed, he participated in Exercise "Kangaroo II", the largest peacetime training operation ever held in Australia. He was one of more than 32,000 sailors, Marines, soldiers and airmen from the U.S., Australia and New Zealand (ANZUS) who took part in the exercise.

The tri-nation operation involved more than 40 ships and nearly 250 aircraft, and was designed to test and evaluate plans for combined ANZUS operations in a simulated combate environment.

"Kangaroo II" was conducted in the Tasman and Coral Seas and along the eastern Australia cost. It centered on a major amphibious landing by U.S. forces, and a subsequent link-up of the assault units with Australian and New Zealand ground forces for follow on, combined land operations.

Services on WLEN

Tecumseh House of Prayer is sponsoring broadcasts of their evening services on Sunday afternoons from 4:30 to 5 p.m. on Radio Station WLEN.

Co-sponsor is Agapa Christian Coffee House, also located at 210 W. Bidwell.

Program will feature guest speakers and testimony by youth.

Rev. Mildred Sessons is pastor of the Tecumseh House of Prayer.

For the Record

Strand stuck an auto driven by Gerald R. Frazier, 32, of 6517 N. Adrian, who was pulling into the parking lot at the time.

William Polk Is Reappointed

William J. Polk, plant manager of the Fisher body Tecumseh plant, has been reappointed chairman for 1977 of the GM Adrian-Tecumseh Plant City Committee by GM President E. M. Estes.

In addition to Polk, other Fisher Body executives on the committee are Jerome P. Becker, plant personnel director; Leonard D. Clark, resident comptroller; and Philip J. Chrzan, plant superintendent.

Other members of the committee are Richard C. Brown, personnel director Chevrolet-Adrian; Don L. Fruitt, plant manager, Chevrolet-Adrian; and Kenneth A. Cameron, GM's regional public relations manager.

For 42 years, plant city committees have been responsible for guiding and coordinating GM's community relations activities in some 60 cities where the Corporation has manufacturing facilities or other major operations.

Later sessions concerning other problems will be led by Robert Sage.

A meeting of the "Living with Cancer" group will be held at the United Methodist Church, Adrian, at 7:20 Jan. 24. "Children's Reactions to Death" will be the discussion topic.

Federal Reaches $100 Million Level

First Federal Savings & Loan Association of Lenawee has reached the $100 million in assets level, Allan C. Graybiel, president, announces.

Since 1889, when opening its first office to provide financing for the Adrian farming community, First Federal Savings has been important in the growth of many communities throughout Southeastern Michigan.

During the first year, assets grew to $247,000. By 1920, First Federal Savings had climbed to $630,000, and to $1,740,000 in 1930.

Two decades later, in the '50's, First Federal Savings increased its assets to over $14 million and expanded with its first branch office in Tecumseh.

A second branch office was opened in Blissfield in 1971, and this past year third and fourth offices were added in Temperence and Clinton.

A symbol of First Federal Savings' growth is the new expansion of the main office in Adrian, also completed in 1976.

Graybiel remarks, "Our firm belief in the future growth of First Federal Savings, as well as in the many communities we serve throughout Southeastern Michigan, is reflected by the new offices we have opened the past year."

Hints Given for Antiquers

CLINTON — A lifetime of experiences in buying and selling antiques was recounted by Jean Magee for members of the Clinton Woman's Club, last Wednesday.

Her parents operated Schmidt's Antiques near Ypsilanti since she was a child, and she has had her own antique businesses in Northville and Clinton.

Mrs. Magee recommended those interested in antiques consult the books of Ralph and Carry Kovel, and she also recommended the reading of "American Heritage Guide to Ancestral Homes in the United States."

Since she recently ceased operation of her antique shop in Clinton, she and her husband, Charles, are devoting their time to the restoration and preservation of the Clintonian Inn.

Mrs. James Chellman arranged the program.

During the business meeting, president Mrs. Richard Broniman named a nominating committee as Mrs. Harlin Fraumann, Mrs. Loren Dornes and Mrs. Dan Reilly.

Frozen fruit salad was served by the committee composed of Mrs. Ruth Davis, Mrs. Ina Basham, Mrs. William Neblo and Mrs. George Wolf.

Mrs. Max Stamats poured beverages.

Next meeting will be Feb. 9 at 1:30 p.m. in the Community Center. The Rev. Allan Gray of Tecumseh will speak on the opera.

Through My Window

THE FUN CONTINUES

We continue to be amazed at the fun afforded by our thistle-feeder. The birds are thoroughly enjoying the special treats while we are all having trouble doing anything except watching the activity. It is a great bird show. An all day, everyday affair too.

Goldfinches continue to be the main customers or performers. We seldom need binoculars to identify them either. Of course, when on the perches of the feeder or flitting in the mulberry tree, they are too far away and the light is not right for us to see either color or identifying field marks. However, these are small birds, a scant five inches long, with slender bodies and little heads. Truly, their silhouettes are distinctive.

Our large flock of goldfinches creates quite a commotion and it is surprising how curious other birds are about all the comings and goings. Both male and female cardinals have investigated. Often we have seen one of them perched in the tree and just watching for a while.

One day a female even lit on the tray beneath the seed-holding cylinder. It was a cramped perch though and apparently she did not care for the little seeds. At least she has not become a steady customer.

The unlikely visitor was a yellow-bellied sapsucker. Under the best of circumstances this is an odd looking bird because his feathers are so ragged and ill-kept.

To see him awkwardly clinging to the side of the bottom of this feeder was absolutely ridiculous. Fortunately he must have felt the same for, after a long and careful look, he left the thistle-feeder and flew several trees away to a suet cafe. Much more appropriate.

The one thing which gladdens a bird-watcher's heart, even more than seeing a new bird or even a first-of-the-season bird, is to share the experience with someone.

Mom and I had that pleasure, a week or so ago, and we traced it directly to the thistle-feeder. It was one of those perfect January afternoons, cold but bright and sunny. Ruth D. had dropped in for a visit and the three of us sat by the west-facing window enjoying the view and the busy bird-feeders.

Goldfinches, juncos, mourning doves, an occasional bluejay and the upside-down nuthatches were feasting. Suddenly, when a newcomer arrived, we all exclaimed in surprise and pleasure.

A purple finch. How wonderful! Anytime he is an exciting bird to see but this particular afternoon, standing in the bright sunlight, he was gorgeous. I once read the description of this bird as looking like a sparrow dunked head-first into a jar of raspberry jam. How true. Those few words make the whole picture.

In a short while his harem came to the feeders. There were two then but we have since doubled that number. At first glance these gals look like sparrows — they are on the dark side and heavily striped. Their light fronts are streaked and their heads boldly marked with a light buff or white stripe arching through or just above the eye.

Another interesting thing about their heads is that they can bristle the feathers up a little—at times it almost looks as though they had the beginnings of a crest.

Like the goldfinches the purple finches are avid thistle-seed eaters. They are not about to turn bills up at sunflower seeds though. And before going farther perhaps I should explain the thistle-seed we are feeding. According to all information, these seeds are not from the native prickly thistle which is such a nuisance, and few if any of the seeds will sprout. Thank goodness!

However both finches are nice to have. And, as long as we keep the thistle-feeder full, there should be lots and lots of good looking. Who knows who will visit next.

Barry N. McKeen, son of Mrs. Carol S. McKeen of 303 Clinton-Macon Road, has received his first promotion in the U.S. Air Force.

McKeen, promoted to airman, recently completed technical training at Sheppard AFB, Tex., and is now assigned at Wurtsmith AFB, Mich. He serves as a corrosion control specialist with a unit of the Strategic Air Command.

He is a 1974 graduate of Clinton High School. His father, Calvin R. McKeen, resides at 2010 Island Drive, Wayland, Mich.

Cut Down Electric Use

CLINTON — Electrical emergency caused by the severe low temperatures was the main concern discussed by Clinton Village Council at a special meeting, Monday.

Although Clinton operates its own electrical plant, and can supply all its normal residential customers, additional power is purchased from Detroit Edison.

Detroit Edison has had difficulty in maintaining full capacity electrical production due to frozen coal supplies and other fuel shortages.

If Detroit Edison found it necessary to reduce its supply of power to Clinton, already on standby notice, then larger users on the Clinton lines would be asked to shut down their use of electricity. This would include all major users such as industries and schools.

Clinton householders are being advised by letter that when temperatures drop to 10 degrees below zero or above 85 degrees they are requested to dial down all electricity heated homes, discontinue all small appliance use, and such items as dryers, electrical heaters, dishwashers and water heaters.

Cooperation during this emergency is essential, Clinton householders are being told by council.

In other action, council approved site plans for the proposed sewer building. Cost estimates are still to be worked out for the finish construction by engineers, Ayres, Lewis, Norris and May.

Public hearing for discussion of use of revenue sharing funds was set for the next regular meeting of council on Feb. 7.

Fee Set

CLINTON — At a meeting Jan. 11, Clinton Township Library Board voted to charge anyone who resides outside Clinton Township, a fee of $5 for a library card, effective April 1.

This fee may be paid by the individual or by the township in which they reside.

At the December meeting a member of the board, Harry Comstock, was named to meet with the surrounding township boards having residents who use Clinton's library, in an effort to explain the need for financial assistance in providing library services to these people.

Board also purchased a stereo record-player and radio with speaker and earphones, for use in the library.

Visits U of M

CLINTON — Michael Howe's fifth grade class will visit the Palentology exhibit in the University of Michigan and the planetarium, Wednesday, Jan. 26 from 9:30 a.m. to 1:45 p.m.

Historical Marker Text Is Sought

CLINTON — Since approval has been obtained for listing on the state Register of Historic Sites of the site of the Clinton Inn, Lawrence Bailey, chairman of the marker drive, is now requesting suggestions for the text to be used on the marker.

The text will deal with the history of the Clinton Inn on one side and with the general features of Clinton's history on the other side.

Community suggestions are solicited. Features as the Raisin River, the Sauk Trail, and other old names of US-12, the Woolen Mill, the Atlas Mill and other old businesses should be included.

The next meeting of the Historical Society of Clinton will be Feb. 1 at 8 p.m. in Smith-Kimball Community Center. All interested persons may attend. Membership is not necessary.

Participates In Training

CLINTON — Army Pfc. Jeffery M. Proctor and other members of the 82nd Airborne Div. at Ft. Bragg, N.C., recently participated in a training exercise at Ft. Lewis, Wash.

Pfc. Proctor's foster parent's, Mr. and Mrs. Delmo Hall, live in Clinton.

A 1974 graduate of Clinton High School, Proctor entered the Army in March 1975.

Faulty Boiler Cools School

CLINTON — Clinton Elementary School students were sent home after lunch, Tuesday, because the building was not warm enough.

Boiler problems in the furnace were discovered during the night before, and repairs made. However, the temperature only reached 40 degrees by time school should have commenced.

Children were dispersed to the Middle School and high school and remained until after lunch before dismissal.

According to the elementary principal, Margaret Bless, the furnace was working by Tuesday afternoon and school was expected to resume normally Wednesday.

So, you sang in the choir when you were a kid. And sometimes you snitched cigarettes back of the church while the grownups were having their social hour inside. Sometimes you pretended to have a sore throat, so you could be "excused." You looked like an angel, but were you one?

No way!

But no one held it against you. The door to the Church stood wide open then, and it still does. Why not take a walk inside some Sunday? See what it's like today! The years in between won't seem to matter.

Family Day Is Planned

Family Day — the Lenawee Cooperative Extensions annual learning day for the entire family — will be Saturday, Jan. 29 at Adrian High School.

Child care will be available at a minimal cost for children aged 2½ to six years old.

Topics will include ideas for household management, family communications, youth activities, recreation, travel, hobbies, crafts, homemaking, government and 4-H projects and organization.

Downtown Adrian's second major fire in a year practically destroyed Main TV and Appliance Tuesday morning. Several community fire departments assisted Adrian firemen in the Maumee St. blaze. Although Tecumseh supplied its cherry picker, local fire department was not called and the cherry picker was not actually used, standing by in case the blaze spread to other buildings. Photos show the new aerial ladder of the Adrian department, and the picture at the left when the fire was near its peak. Picture below was taken later when firemen were getting the fire under control. A year ago on S. Main St. in downtown Adrian, Cobblestone Inn was destroyed and several other business stores extensively damaged.

Airman Royal, is being assigned to Scott AFB, Ill., for duty with a unit of the Military Airlift Command. Completion of the course enables the airman to receive academic credits through the Community College of the Air Force.

The airman is a 1976 graduate of Tecumseh High School.

BOOK MARK

News from the Tecumseh Library.

This week's bookmark is all new fiction and several will surely appeal to your reading appetite.

A taxi driver, Martin Bendix, was arrested one fine day in October, and charged with the murder of a young girl, Martin's problem was that he knew he was innocent but he couldn't convince anyone else of this. It would have been easier if he hadn't been the last person to see her alive and if he hadn't been giving her free rides — which usually meant receiving free favors but this was not true in Martin's case. CONSIDER THE VERDICT by Anders Bodelsen is a novel of crime and punishment — the question is whose.

James McClure has written a timely book about the secret forces working in South Africa — forces that could will affect our own lives. While ROGUE EAGLE is a work of fiction it is an excellent picture of current conditions in South Africa.

Justin is no terrorist but he decides to use his vast inheritance to sink the Soviet factory ship "Slava", on which whales are butchered. Because he does not believe in the taking of lives, he must find a way to do this without killing. LEVIATHAN was written by John Gordon Davis.

Jerry loves Sally but is married to Ruth, Sally loves only herself and Jerry but is married to Richard who once had an affair with Ruth. This is the plot of John Updike's new book MARRY ME. Of course, the solution to the problems of such a mix-up remain a mystery and you'll have to borrow the book to find out the ending.

Rome is the setting for Ronald Beard's new book BEARD'S ROMAN WOMEN. His hero is Anthony Burgess, a man haunted by his first wife, presumed dead — but is she? It is a book both humorous and heartfelt as Anthony finds that no matter how much a woman wishes to be a drinking companion, she is a smaller vessel and cannot handle it drink for drink. Cirrhousis was not just for his television characters but also for him.

The disappearance of a religious relic of doubtful value should cause no big ripple on a quiet college campus. Then other things started happening that were not so small. Not a simple Gothic story but one with depth, GRENELLE was written by Isabelle Holland.

The setting is Colorado and the hero is Edgar Bissett, a silent boy who comes to manhood at the time of the dustbowl. It is also the story of "Praises" a religious group formed by Edgar. Leadership passes to Edgar's nephew, Andy and then to his son, young Edgar. It is young Edgar who betrays the faith and exposes the hollowness of a religion with no concept of evil. With a small band of well-intentioned people, Joanne Greenberg has raised disturbing questions about this nation, and about us all. FOUNDERS PRAISE.

THE TERRORISTS is the last Martin Beck mystery, tragically finished only a few weeks before Per Wahloo's death. As in other Martin Beck books the plot comes together in a totally unexpected way. By Maj Sjowall and Per Wahloo.

MILLENIUM. The year is 1999 and the earth's population has hit eight billion. The two major powers are on the brink of a nuclear war as they vie for control of the planet's dwindling supply of natural resources. Two men are deeply involved in this potential halocaust, one American and one Russian. Fortunately they are both men of good will. Do they succeed in establishing a peaceful coexistence? Ben Bova brings his novel to a dramatic conclusion.

Who really knew Tom Westbrook? None of the people listening to his voice on the radio knew him — which is the way he wanted it. Blackmailers have a way of finding things out however, and things went from bad to worse. What had he done to be blackmailed? Read MIDNIGHT LINE by Thomas Savage.

The long awaited third novel about Percival Merewether has at last arrived. FOR KING AND COMPANY by Ellis Meacham is set in the Indian subcontinent and Gulf of Aden. The book is for all readers who enjoy seafaring tales.

The time is 1922 in the midst of the decadent glitter of diplomatic life in Europe's capitals. Joanna Crest is married to a young British diplomat with Socialistic views which alienate the couple from his more orothodox colleagues.

As Joanna sees the interlacing patterns that form the ARABESQUE which influence her life, she realizes that the patterns are sexual, the figures men and women.

While her marriage is crumbling she finds alien feelings within herself waiting to be brought out. Feelings she had never believed possible, seeds of hatred and crime. By Theresa de Kerpely.

THE MAIN is Montreal's immigrant district, teeming with crime, poverty and society's rejects. Claude La Pointe has worked the street for 30 years as a police lieutenant but suddenly his normally turbulent existance is shattered by a grotesque murder. Trevanian paints an authentic study of lives caught in fate's lost and found.

THINE IS THE GLORY is a multigenerational saga of the forging of a nation. The crucible is a smoky triangle called Pittsburgh and the subject is America. Scott Stewart a country boy who makes good is the founder of a dynasty.

As a nephew said "I wonder who is going to be more impressed when they meet--God or Uncle Scott." His record, like his country was imperfect-they deserved and made each other. By Samuel Schreiner.

Rafael Yglesias wrote his first novel at age 15 and thus he becomes an authority on teenage authors. In his latest book THE WORK IS INNOCENT the hero is 16-year-old Richard Goodman who has written his novel and is plunged into the life of an adult who must telescope the usual 10 years of mistakes and decisions into one.

MY FRIENDS GEORGE AND TOM is Jane Duncan's latest book and the setting is again the area surrounding Reachfar. Her many readers will enjoy a whole book about George and Tom.

Suppose that George Custer did not die at the Battle of the Little Big Horn. Suppose instead that he was found close to death at the scene of his defeat, was revived and brought to trial for his actions. THE COURT-MARTIAL OF GEORGE ARMSTRONG CUSTER by Douglas Jones is a blend of fact and fiction.

Malcalm Macdonald has given us a second book about the Stevensons and the Thortons entitled RICH ARE WITH YOU ALWAYS. The world of the rich is more complex, more fascinating and more ruthless and they are already with us.

To RAISE THE TITANIC is the undercover plan of the year. America must have the byzanium from it's sunken hold. If it can be raised it will insure America's security from foreign attack.

Naturally the word gets around and little old ladies near the scene are not what they are supposed to be, toss in two Russian spies and you have an excellant suspense story written by Clive Cussler.

A LITTLE GIRL'S LOVE IN MANY GUISES — Each period of history denotes a different kind of doll. But whatever they are made of, dolls mean "love" to a little girl -- or even a big girl. Left to right are French Fashion circa 1880 made from bisque; Early China doll circa 1845-50 made of glazed china and a wax doll, called a "pumpkin head" circa 1840, a composition doll covered with wax. (Photo by Kent Downing)

'Love' to a Little Girl

by KATHY BROWN

Dolls were not always the most popular gift items for little girls.

The Pilgrim children had no dolls or toys at all. About 200 years ago, the first dolls were made of corn cobs with the husks and silk for the clothes and hair. Sticks, rags, paper — whatever could be found — was probably used by children for play. Anyone who could carve could make wooden or apple dolls for the children. Only the most indulged and wealthy children had store bought dolls. They were considered luxury items.

Even the Romans had dolls made of wax, but here in America wax dolls did not become popular until the 1770's. Papier mache dolls were common from the early 1700's to the 1800's and later mass produced and covered by wax.

China head dolls began to be made in the 1750's but did not become popular until the 1840's. Germany, considered the center of the toy industry, France and England were noted for unique doll faces since many skilled craftsmen manufactured them.

China dolls were fragile and considered a "thing of beauty" rather than a playtoy. Besides children were expected to help with household chores. Playtime was not considered. A china doll might have been a "Sunday" doll for a daughter of a well-to-do businessman. Perhaps the child would be allowed to take along the doll as a companion when the family went for a drive.

With the turn of the century, doll making became a bigger business in the United States as many European craftsmen immigrated.

Beginning in the 1920's, toy makers felt that other materials were too destructable. They began experimenting with composition dolls, dolls made from materials that included celluloid. Strangely enough these were more expensive than bisque. Each manufacturer had their own "special formula."

Penny dolls of bisque, about two inches tall, made dolls affordable to more people in the 20's. They cost but a penny and could be dressed and given tender loving care like any other doll.

Character dolls of popular radio personalities became vogue in the 1920's, 30's and 40's. Probably the most well known is the Shirley Temple doll.

In the 1935 so-called magic skin dolls, the first of natural and synthetic rubber, were made. Eventually the manufacturers hit upon a combination that would not crack, would be pliable yet durable. Dolls with rooted wigs that could be shampooed and combed soon followed.

Mechanical dolls were invented at least 100 years ago, but at no other time have children had so many dolls to chose from that can do so many things. Doll collectors say that those that have been made in good taste will be the ones that endure. Dolls that are a sign of the times are the Cher doll, Six Million Dollar Man doll and Bionic Woman doll.

Reader Writes

To the Editor:

In a recent issue of your paper it was reported that a party had been arrested for possession of marijuana at the rear of Charlie's.

Please be advised we operate only the front of a multiple building. The rear of Charlie's is a garage, operated by Mr. Williamson. The side is a shoe repair.

The arrest therefore had to be made in the rear of one of these establishments or the city parking lot.

Being a popular spot in the block, anything that happens is attributed to us. It's easier to say Charlie's as an identification point.

We were closed for a week for personnel reasons. Upon reopening, I found the area still littered with wine bottles and beer cans. We sell neither so our customers can't be blamed for these.

Did vandalism, drunkeness, and marijuana use cease to exist for this week???

A few mis-informed individuals or self appointed city moniters have been spreading rumors which are untrue. The little trouble we have had has been from drunks coming from other places, and parents who will not assume responsibilities of their children's deeds.

In closing I would like to add that we have more police protection than any other establishment in town. In the evenings it seems like a patrol car passes in front of our store every fifteen minutes. At times they park across the street in the alley and watch.

With this type of protection and our own policing inside, we are able to operate a good place for the teenagers and young people to have some entertainment.

Observe Jaycee Week

The Tecumseh Jaycees join local chapters across the country in observing Jan. 16 to 22 as National Jaycee Week.

The Jaycees is an organization that offers opportunities for friendship and community service to young men 18 to 35.

Community service projects sponsored by the Tecumseh Jaycees in 1976 included a Christmas tree sale and giant coloring book sale. Proceeds supported a shopping tour for needy children, a little league baseball team and banquet and a snowmobile clinic.

"We feel 1977 will be a bigger and better year for the community and the Tecumseh Jaycees," said Mike Bush, publicity chairman.

Upcoming projects are a road rally, an Easter egg hunt and Dawn Patrol on May 22. With the approval of the Parks and Recreation Department, the Jaycees plans to purchase a swing set for Satterthwaite Park.

'Help Self - Friend'

"Help yourself—help a friend" is the theme of the National Education Week on Smoking announced by the Michigan Lung Association's (MLA) Smoking Health committee.

The Michigan Lung Association is trying to insure that awareness and enforcement of the new Michigan laws protecting the rights of non-smokers do not go up in puff of smoke.

In a consciousness-raising attempt, the national interagency council on smoking and health signed and adopted a non-smokers' bill of rights in Jan. 1974, declaring three basic rights: the right to breathe clean air; the right to speak out and the right to act.

The four new Michigan laws passed during the 78th legislative session, largely a result of citizen action, embody the philosophical driving force of three years ago.

The four bills regulate smoking in hospitals, nursing homes, restaurants and grocery stores. The hospital and nursing home bills took effect immediately. The restaurant and grocery store bills become effective April 1.

The new law affecting grocery stores and supermarkets restricts smoking to designated areas that are isolated from the retail food area for staff and the public. Violation of the law will be considered a misdemeanor and is punishable by a maximum of $100.

The new law regulating restaurants provides that a restaurant with a seating capacity of 50 or more has to designate a non-smoking section at the request of a patron. A sign has to be posted in such restaurants announcing the availability of a non-smoking area.

The law passed earlier this year requires hospitals and nursing homes to develop a smoking policy. At the best, this means that patients are able to choose whether they wish to be placed with smokers or non-smokers. Designated smoking areas have to be set aside and both visitors and staff must be restricted to smoking in those areas.

Signs announcing the smoking policy must be posted and a copy of the smoking policy must be kept on hand and available to the public on request.

At Herrick Memorial Hospital patients are asked upon admission whether they prefer to be with a smoker, a non-smoker or have no preference.

Patient smoking is restricted to private rooms, rooms shared with another smoker or rooms with those who have no objection to smokers.

Sale of cigarettes is restricted to the vending room or the Hospital Auxiliary cart.

Visitors or staff are allowed to smoke only in designated areas such as the designated cafeteria rooms, lounges, waiting rooms and private offices.

Hospital reported no trouble with enforcement of the policy. People seem to accept it.

"An interesting consequence of these laws is that the burden of their enforcement is largely with the private citizen who observes a violation and reports it," said William Sedelburg, Ph.D. chairman of the Smoking and Health Committee of the Michigan Lung Association.

The Michigan department of public health will enforce the hospital and nursing home law and the local health departments will enforce the restaurant law as part of their inspection and licensing procedures. The grocery store law will be enforced by the department of agriculture, division of food inspection.

Persons observing violations of the hospital, nursing home and restaurant laws, can contact their local health department.

To report violations of the grocery store and supermarket law, persons can complain directly to the store manager, or they can notify the Department of Agriculture when the store itself is failing to enforce the regulations.

PO Reports Single Injury

Residents and businesses have cooperated by cleaning snow from walks and drives, said supervisor Lewis E. Potts.

"GOSPEL" FAMILY PERFORMS — Tecumseh Assembly of God will present the John Mathews Family from Nashville, Tenn. at 7:30 p.m. on Jan. 20. The all-family group includes the father, son, two daughters and son-in-law. They performed for people across the United States and Canada, have a strong appeal to youth, but offer a program for young and old alike. The church is located at the corner of Rogers Hwy and Chicago Blvd. Pastor R. H. Warnick extends a warm welcome to all.

RENT IT! from

George & Carol Parknowitz

Probably the first two tools in any homeowner's collection are the hammer and screwdriver. These two tools may be used to repair and adjust a great number of common household objects, but they are also exposed to more abuse than most tools. Hammers are divided generally into two types; those for working with wood and those used for metalwork. Screwdrivers are as frequently used as the hammer, if not more so. Most appliances around the house are assembled with machine screws and slotted bolts. There are two main types of screwdrivers -- common slot blade and Phillips. Each one is intended for a specific job.

Whatever the kind of job you have, come to TECUMSEH RENTAL CENTER, 112 S. Pearl St., 423-4470 to rent the right tools and equipment. "Why Buy When It's Cheaper to Rent It," is not just a slogan, it's a fact of life! We have almost everything you need in tools and equipment. If you get a tool or piece of equipment as a gift and need some help learning how to use it, bring it into us and we will be glad to answer your questions. Indians Win 69-67 Thriller

Cagers Put It Together to Take Lead

To the deafening roars of a packed gymnasium, Tecumseh's cagers gained the Huron League lead with an exciting 69-67 victory over New Boston Huron Tuesday night.

The contest — close all the way — represented high school basketball at its best and most thrilling. Both teams were tied for the league lead with identical 6-0 records. In addition, Huron had yet to suffer a defeat this season — before Tuesday night.

With 4:05 left in the first quarter, the Indians found themselves trailing 11-4. But six points from Lyndon Hughes and a pair of buckets from Dave Bohannon and Tim Mayers pulled Tecumseh to a 14-13 lead at the end of the first frame.

Tecumseh maintained its lead in the second quarter and led 34-29 at the half. They scored six points in 14 seconds at the end of the second frame after Tecumseh's defense forced Huron into turning over the ball.

Huron came back in the third quarter to take a 51-50 lead at the end of the stanza.

In the final frame Tecumseh was in the lead 64-63 with 1:18 left. Jeff Hans proceeded to dump five consecutive shots from the charity stripe to cinch the win for the Indians.

Hans led in the scoring sinking nine from the field and seven foul shots for a 25 point total. Hughes made seven from the field and four foul shots for 18 points while Dan Maves came in with 10 points.

Hans also led in rebounds with 16 of Tecumseh's 34 rebounds. Hughes had 10. Huron came up with 25 rebounds.

Tecumseh dumped 28 of 60 shots from the floor for 47 percent and 13 of 20 foul shots for 65 percent.

The victory gives the Indians a perfect 7-0 league record, 8-3 overall.

Tecumseh also defeated Jefferson last Friday 90-44.

In the Jefferson game, the Indians led at the half 42-21. Thev lengthened the margin in the second half on scores of 29 and 19 to 15 and eight for Jefferson.

Tecumseh dumped 33 of 65 attempts from the field for 50 percent and completed 24 foul shots. Jefferson was 15 of 60 from the floor for 25 percent sinking 14 charity tosses.

The Bears suffered 30 turnovers to 19 for the Indians.

Tecumseh travels to Flat Rock this Friday.

Junior Varsity Scores Two League Victories

Tecumseh's junior varsity cinched two more wins beating Jefferson 63-43 last Friday and New Boston Huron 86-63 Tuesday night.

Against Huron, the Indians took a commanding 49-26 half time lead stretching it to 74-46 at the end of the third frame.

Phenicie led in rebounds in 13.

Coach Carl Novak said of the game, "I had the subs in a lot. The team did a nice job. Bob McFadden did a good job on offense and John Ely was excellent on the press intercepting the ball and making some good steals. Steve Valdez also did a good job offensively."

In the Jefferson game the junior varsity easily over powered their opponents. They took a commanding 37-13 halftime lead.

4,000 in Area without Power

Four thousand and seven Consumers Power Co. customers in Tecumseh, Britton and Macon experienced a power outage for approximately one hour on Tuesday during the lunch hour.

Ken Chichester, Adrian district manager said the inconvenience was due to a flashover, or electricity outing, at the substation south of Tecumseh. He explained that a flashover could have been caused by any factor such as a cracked insulator or contaminated insulator due to rainy-snowy weather at the time.

The flashover knocked out the whole service area which includes four other district substations, one off Occidental Road, one near Tecumseh Products, the TP substation and one near Britton.

The company had to backfeed from another source to get the main substation working again. Consumers Power Co. men were at the scene Tuesday afternoon to service the problem.

Estimate B&E Loss at $500

Don Berkley reported the second breaking and entering at the junior high in two weeks. Police were busy again making seven alcohol related arrests.

Police investigating the B&E at TJHS Sunday found a east side window broken. The window lead into a supply room that was padlocked from the outside. The intruders could go no farther in the building.

Eight scales were taken along with a number of weights, valued at $500.

Police report that the investigation does remain open as they have one suspect and fingerprints from the broken glass window.

A resume of complaint reports includes:

Jan. 19 — Eddie C. Williams, 31, of Clinton was arrested for driving under the influence of liquor after he turned into the wrong lane on Evans and cross the center line before police pulled him over. Williams failed police sobriety tests.

Jan.20 — Glen Schmidt, 616 W. Kilbuck, reported a breaking and entering at his home. Three subjects apparently forced open a rear door and broke out a window to gain entry into the kitchen. They took $15 from one of the children's banks.

Schmidt told police the subjects must have known the dogs or they would have been bitten and that the intruders must have known the house would be empty. Neighbors reported seeing three subjects around the house. Case remains open.

Jan. 21 — Rodney Higgins, 17, was arrested for malicious destruction of property after police observed him break up a trash container and then throw a bottle at the fire Station barn from across the street.

Jan.22 — Olive B. Wheeler, 53, of Clinton, was arrested for open intoxicants when police stopped him on northbound Ottawa with one headlight out. Police found open beer, and beer and whiskey under the seat.

Catherine S. Kopka, 20, of Britton was arrested for driving under the influence after she ran a red flasher at Brown and Evans Streets. Kopka reportedly stopped abruptly when chased. The patrol car hit the rear of her auto on eastbound Chicago at Ottawa St.

Sally Moros of 215 S. Evans reported malicious destruction to a window at Don's Contented Sole. Someone had kicked the entrance window in, resulting in $87 in damage.

Jan. 23 — Samuel B. Everly, of Lasalle, was arrested for driving under the influence when he swerved sharply across the center line on M-50 and forced a patrol car off the road.

John M. Katona, of Toledo, a passenger in the Everly auto, was arrested for open intoxicants in the car. Police found two bottles of whiskey.

William A. Durham, 54, of 603 S. Pearl was arrested for being drunk and disorderly in an unrelated incident after police found him lying in the middle of the street at Pearl and Pottawatamie. He told police he had been robbed and injured, but physicians could

Payrolls Top $75 Million

'76 Products' Salaries over $33.6 Million

First survey of industry and business payrolls and employment since 1973 show there were many changes occurring here during the last three years.

The Herald's survey, taken earlier this month for 1976, shows that total payrolls probably exceeded $75 million - a $5 million increase during the past three years - and a record for the city and area.

Six industrial plants and the Tecumseh Public Schools reported annual payrolls for last year in excess of $1 million.

Ever since The Herald started its payroll and employment research, the Tecumseh Products Company topped all reports, and this year is no exception.

Virgil Tucker, secretary of the company, reports a 1976 payroll of $33,613,785 and an average employment of 2,131. He said the company enjoyed a "good year," and "including all corporate operations, the Company is expecting a good 1977."

In comparison to 1973, the Products annual payroll was $37.5 million and had an employment average of 3,193.

Next largest payroll was at Fisher Body, $19,274,962, and an average employment of 1,067. In 1973 the GM corporation had a $13.4 million payroll and employment of 981.

Third largest area payroll was $3,741,744 for the Tecumseh Public Schools.

Supt. Robert Duhan reported employment at 340. In remarks about 1977, he said "January 3 marked the beginning of the use of the 25,200-square-foot addition to Tecumseh High School, and students will no longer be transported for classes at St. Elizabeth School, which has been used for the past one and one-half years."

The schools had a payroll of $2,854,000 in 1973 and an employment of 320.

Faraday's president, Robert Bell, reports a $2 million payroll - increase of $600 since 1973 - and an average employment of 250. He rated 1976 as a good year, and in reference to 1977, he states:

"We believe 1977 will be year of continued growth for our company. Our benefits will be derived both from a strengthened economy and our continuous program of products improvement an expansion."

Herrick Memorial Hospital's payroll amounted to $1,879,188 and average employment was 230, William Groover, administrator, reports. This is an increase in payroll of about $500,000 over 1973.

James Robideau, president of Tecumseh Corrugated Box, says payroll there was $1.5 million with an employment of 120.

He reports 1976 as a "fair" year, and for the first two months of the company's fiscal year, November and December, that "we are running at about the same rate as 1976."

An "excellent" year was reported by Kenneth McElroy, president of United Savings Bank. His remarks were, "I feel our economy will show continued growth if government controls are kept at an absolute minimum. Prices and wages should be determined in a free market place, with supply and demand being the dominant factor. Inflation, however, cannot be allowed to accelerate."

Bank's payroll was $550,000 with an employment of 63, including 14 parttime employees.

Robert Schultz, president of Modular Circuitry, Inc., also cites 1976 as an "excellent" year and says 1977 "should be better than '76 with Modular Circuitry doubling its amount of business.

His company's payroll was $165,000 and had an average employment of 18.

Postmaster Jack Metcalf's return reports a 1976 payroll of $375,000 with 25 employees. He said '76 was a "good" year and believes 1977 will be equally good.

Referring to the recent holiday season, he replied, "I wish to thank our customers for their cooperation in mailing early during the Christmas season. This enabled us to efficiently handle both the Christmas mail and the overflow of packages from the UPS strike."

City of Tecumseh's payroll topped a half-million at $584,000. There were 41 full times employees and 25 parttime.

City Manager Cal Zorn says the two Russell Rd. projects will be let this year, and hopefully, the city can begin construction on Burt St.

Wayne Seagraves at Meyers Industries reports a '76 payroll of $300,000 and an employment of 40. He says last year was "good" and 1977 should be as good or better.

"We have a lot of government contracts for truck and Jeep cabs, and boats should be fair," Mr. Seagraves reports.

Dike Hodge says 1977 "should be as good as 1976." He reports Moore Lumber payroll at $56,500 and an employment of six.

Since a couple of companies did not return their surveys, including one that had a payroll in excess of $1 million three years ago, The Herald has estimated the balance of city and area payrolls in excess of $10, a figure that could be quite conservative.

Budd and Peerless Gear at Clinton are not included in the totals and neither is Stauffer Chemical on Sutton Rd.

Driver Misses Curve

Timothy L. Ables, 18, of Adrian and his two passengers received only bruises Sunday when their car rolled down the embankment on the N. Ottawa St. curve, near Evans, and stopped at the bottom of the hill.

Police report Ables was traveling too fast to make the turn. He was cited for failure to have his vehicle under control.

The pavement was wet, and Ables reportedly skidded 125 feet before hitting the curb and traveling down the hill.

A resume of other police reports includes:

Jan. 19 — Albert G. Dickerson, 34, of 201 Russell backed from a parking space at the Party Shop and struck a parked auto across the street. Parked car belonged to Harold F. Faust, 65, of Adrian.

Jan. 21 — Beth A. Bufford, 23, of Hudson, told police she pulled along the curb and parked on W. Logan when an auto driven by Robert F. Langmeyer, 48, of 411 E. Logan, passed by and struck her open door.

Jan. 22 — Hubert J. Lavender, 47, of 508 Stacy, attempted to pass Eugene O. Brown, 27, of 212 E. Pottawatamie, on the right when two collided. Brown was southbound on Evans near the Brown St. light when he was struck.

Deward E. Hager, 32, of Adrian was cited for failing to stop in an assured clear distance when he struck the rear of an auto driven by Curtiss E. Heaton, 17, of 501 S. Occidental. Heaton had stopped on S. Occidental at the W. Chicago intersection.

Fire Damages Mobile Home

According to John Escott, Raisin Township fire chief, the alarm was received by the fire department at 12:35 a.m. and firemen were at the scene for nearly two hours. Damages were extensive.

The Ertl family had moved out of the mobile home last Friday after cold weather had frozen pipes. Family was living in Tecumseh at the time of the fire.

Escott said cause for the blaze is unknown, and the fire is under investigation.

Water Lines Freezing

Approximately 30 Tecumseh residents have suffered from broken water lines because of the cold weather.

Cal Zorn, city manager, says most lines have been frozen between the street and house. Frost is over 40 inches deep in many places and may go deeper with more frigid weather forecast for this week.

City manager suggests that residents experiencing any difficulties can avoid frozen lines by simply leaving a cold water faucet run. He says a small stream is sufficient to keep the water moving and the lines from freezing.

Dance for Band

The Tecumseh Band Boosters suggest you get away from the winter doldrums and dance among the hearts and snowflakes which will decorate the Valentine's Day Dance Feb. 5 at the United Products Workers Union Hall in Tecumseh.

Dance is from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. and admission includes set-ups.

Tickets are available at Ken-Ray Drugs, Holmes Pharmacy, Tecumseh Area Workers Credit Union, band booster members and at the door. A 50-50 drawing will be held during the dance.

The popular Michigan Week-N-Ders, a local band will provide the music. The profits from the dance will be used to enhance the band program at Tecumseh Public Schools.

Jimmie Rice, head of the high school band department with Robert Schoof and Gerald Bach have ambitious plans for the band members which include summer band camp and competition marching.

"There are many needs to be met in both the junior high and senior high school which are necessary for a well-balanced band," said Lori Egli, Tecumseh Band Booster.

The fund raising projects provide the department with money to buy all the medals the students earn in the junior and senior high schools and to purchase necessary instruments which are expensive.

Chairman of the dance committee is Mrs. Jack Ries. Mrs. Gary Roberts is in charge of the decorations. Mrs. Jack Silberhorn is chairman of the refreshments committee. Publicity is being handled by Mrs. Richard Egli.

FUN FOR WHOM? — Annual donkey basketball game between Kiwanis and Rotary is scheduled for the high school gym on Saturday, Feb. 5. This year's feature will also include a game involving Raisin and Tecumseh firemen, some of whom may outweigh the donkeys! Promoting the game here are John Escott, Fire chief for Raisin Township, and Wally MacGeorge, Tecumseh fire chief. Standing are the Rev. Allan Gray, president of the Kiwanis Club, and Gene Cooley, Rotary president.

Four Games on Card

Donkey basketball will be featured Saturday Feb. 5, at the high school featuring four games and other attractions.

The four games will be between the Raisin Township and Tecumseh fire departments, the high school faculty, the Rotary and Kiwanis service clubs, and the state troopers and local police.

The two clubs are the sponsors of the event.

In addition, there will be a tug-of-war between the two fire departments.

The high school pep band and stage band will also perform.

All proceeds go to community service projects with the emphasis on youth activities.

Game time is 7:30. Tickets are available at the Party Store, the high school activities office, Baldwin's any Rotary or Kiwanis member or members of either fire department.

No School Friday . . . for Students

Friday will be a day of vacation for Tecumseh students, although teachers will be at work in their classrooms.

It's records day for the teachers for the first term of the school year.

Neighborhood Meetings Continue

Neighborhood meetings continue this Saturday and Sunday in the homes of residents in the proposed historic district to discuss the ordinance that was written by the Tecumseh Historic District Study Committee (HDSC).

All homeowners in the district are urged to attend the meeting in their neighborhood, or if they are unable they may attend any one of the other meetings listed.

Historic district includes those properties from 107 to 710 W. Chicago Blvd. and from 107 S. Union to 408 N. Union. This 11 block district is already listed on the State of Michigan Historic District register.

The ordinance will primarily affect those homes built before the 1900's but all homeowners in the district are welcome to give their opinions at the meetings, no matter what the age of their home.

The Tecumseh Historic District Study Committee was appointed by Tecumseh City Council in 1973 to propose a historic district and protective ordinance to preserve Tecumseh's historic architecture.

The homes in the 11 block district were selected because they reflect the cultural, political, social, economical and religious history of Tecumseh's architecture, said Mrs. Carlton Cook, chairman of the HDSC.

The ordinance will be presented to City Council in February.

The meeting dates are:

Jan. 29, 1-3 p.m. at 301 N. Union St., the home of Emery F. Powers for residents of 301 to 408 N. Union St.

Jan. 29, 3-5 p.m. at 115 S. Union St. the home of Alice Schneider for residents of 107 S. Union to 401 W. Chicago and to 415 W. Chicago Blvd., including 313 and 316 W. Pottawatamie St.

Jan. 30, 7-8:30 p.m. at 211 W. Chicago Blvd., the Presbyterian Church for all residents in the district who could not attend other meetings.

Feb. 5, 1-3 p.m. at 710 W. Chicago Blvd., the home of Lee L. Worley for residents of 601 to 710 W. Chicago.

Feb. 5, 3-5 p.m. at 215 N. Union St., the home of Elizabeth Wilson, for residents of 107 to 215 N. Union.

Van Available for Seniors

Beginning Monday, Jan. 31 a transportation van will be available to serve senior citizens Monday through Friday during the day.,

All persons requesting transportation should call the dispatcher at the Tecumseh Community Center at 423-2107, ext. 25 one day in advance or early that morning. A dispatcher will be on duty from 8 a.m.

Transportation is also available to persons from the Tipton area to Sutton Road south of Tecumseh. They should phone the Tecumseh dispatcher to be picked up and taken to Tecumseh.

The Lenawee Council on Aging has made this service available because of the number of requests for transportation in the Tecumseh area.

The service is for senior citizens who do not have a ride to a medical or financial appointment or to do errands or get to the Tecumseh Community Center for lunch at noon. Special arrangements can be made for out of county appointments.

The route is the same with pick-ups starting in Holloway at 9:30 a.m. to Deerfield at 10 a.m. to Britton at 10:30 a.m. and back to the Tecumseh Community Center.

Tecumseh nutrition site director Christine Fliss advised senior citizens to try to make their personal or doctor appointments between 11 a.m. and 1 p.m. "But if they call us in advance, we will make sure they get there," said Fliss.

A free will donation will be accepted for the service.

Wednesday, Feb. 2 at 10 a.m. the Lenawee Council on Aging has arranged for a qualified person to be available at the Community Center to help senior citizens fill out the homestead property tax rebate. Renters may qualify too. Any one with questions may call Christine Fliss at the center at 423-2107.

BAND CONCERT SATURDAY

13 Are Selected

Thirteen Tecumseh Band members were selected to perform in the all-county band at its annual performance on Jan. 29 at Morenci High School. The public is invited to attend.

The 13 students are: Alison Phillips, Scott Brooks, Carey Tuckey, Pegg Lewis, Eileen Campbell, Karen Bunch, Janet Rundell, Brad Sharp, Lynn Smith, Marty Perkins, Dave Roberts, Andy Neilson, and Jeff Watters.

This represents the largest group selected to represent Tecumseh in the 75-member all county band. Students are selected by auditions of band members from the 12 county high school bands.

As in the past two years, six of the high school bands will perform a musical selection at Saturday's concert. The Addison, Adrian, Britton, Clinton, Morenci and Sand Creek High School bands will perform.

Two of the numbers to be performed by the County Band are "March on the Mall" and "Second Site for Military Bands in F Major" by Holst.

300 View High School

Over 300 took advantage of an open house Sunday afternoon for the new $1.5 million addition at Tecumseh High School, Gene Cooley, assistant superintendent, reports.

He said that practically all comments were favorable and impressive at the visitation, which was sponsored by the Board of Education.

Visitors inspected new music room, cafeteria and kitchen, art and craft room, double classrooms, and a new foyer and entrance.

FUNERALS FOR THE MILITARY AND FRATERNAL

When a veteran's military funeral and burial is required, there are specific ceremonies, equipment and procedures that must be adhered to — and exactly! We have the proper ceremonial equipment and are well-versed in military protocol so that we can provide services "by the book" in honoring the veteran in his final hour.

Fraternal orders, such as the Masons, also have specific funeral requirements. We have conducted many, many funerals for members of fraternal and religious orders, so we are used to handling those rituals so important to the brotherhoods.

If you would like to have advance information regarding military requirements and veteran's funeral and burial expense allowances, or about the many fraternal order funerals we have conducted, just call or drop by. We invite you to counsel with our funeral specialists, be he Masonic, military, K of C, Elks or any of the other fine groups in the area.

Reader Writes

To the Editor:

In 1976 my daughter sent me the Herald as a gift. I have enjoyed it so much as it keeps me in touch with so many of my friends that I never get to see when I come home in the summer.

To me friends can't measure in dollars and cents, but they are something that is treasured. I'd like to say "Hello" to all of them in this way.

The Herald also tells of all the things that change and take place in the businesses, factories and everything there. It also keeps me in touch with the churches and Christian friends.

Please send my paper to the new address, as I am enclosing money to renew it. Thank you.

I remain an avid reader.

Extension Club Holds Meeting

Convenience mixes were compared to homemade mixes at the recent meeting of the Northeast Tecumseh Extension Club. Mrs. Fred Helm and Mrs. Ellsworth Robison brought the foods. They compared prices and found that homemade mixes can be cheaper and time savers.

The six members present sampled the foods.

Each member answered roll call by telling about a convenience mix she uses.

Mrs. Charles Koob, the hostess, served refreshments during the social hour.

Offer Three Scholarships

The Adrian Community Chorus is offering three scholarships to three young Lenawee County Musicians

All entrants must audition in the field of classical music.

The winners will perform on the spring chorus program on April 1, at 8 p.m. at the Croswell Opera House, Adrian.

The competition is open to all young people currently living in Lenawee County. Scholarships awarded will be paid directly to the winner in each division — ages 12-14, 15-18 and 19-22.

Applications are available at Croswell office, 9-12 and 1-5 weekdays.

Applications must be returned by Feb. 25.

Plant Care Is Topic

"Plant care" was the program topic of Welcome Wagon's general meeting, Jan. 20. Jan Fox of The Grey Fox Floral was the guest speaker.

Fox stated that most plant disorders are usually caused by improper care. She explained the correct amount of water, light and temperatures for various plants.

The door prize, an azalea plant, was won by Mrs. Anthony Ferraro. Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. John Briggs, Mrs. Tom Phelps and Mrs. Dean Wann.

Welcome Wagon's next general meeting is Feb. 17, at Merkel Home Furnishings. The program will be "home accessories".

Lenawee Council on Aging Is Offering Services to Seniors

The Lenawee Council on Aging began offering services to senior citizens in Tecumseh in July 1976. Since then, many senior citizens and other residents have had questions about the kinds of services available for older residents. Here is an explanation of the services.

Approximately 190-200 different people have used these services, according to LCOA statistics.

Meals are also delivered to homebound senior citizens, by volunteers at noon. Persons interested in homebound meals may call Christine Fliss, Tecumseh nutrition site director at 423-2107, ext. 25. She will answer any questions regarding the service.

Homebound meals may be a temporary service to allow the older person to stay in the home and remain as independent as the person likes.

A dollar free will donation is suggested. Donations are accepted based on the ability to pay. The program is funded 90 percent by federal funds and with state and local funds, too.

About 25 site meals and five homebound meals are served daily.

Beginning Jan. 31, a van will be available (Monday through Friday) to serve Tecumseh area senior citizens during the day for medical and financial appointments, personal errands or for a ride to the community center for lunch.

Senior citizens may call the dispatcher at 423-2107, ext. 25 the before the appointment or early that morning. A dispatcher will be on duty from 8 a.m. Senior citizens are asked to schedule their appointments between 11 a.m. and 1 p.m. if possible. Special arrangements can be made for out of county appointments.

A donation for the transportation service will be accepted.

About six persons use the transportation service every day.

Health care programs are offered by the LCOA the fourth Monday of each month at the Tecumseh center. A public health nurse speaks on health topics such as blood pressure, diabetes, etc. and is available to answer personal questions.

Volunteer nurses administer blood pressure checks which take only a few minutes. Aim is preventive care; no diagonoses are given. Results are forwarded to the person's own doctor. Exercises for senior citizens are demonstrated periodically.

Friendly visiting is a relatively new service. Friendly visitors are volunteers who visit senior citizens and act as companions or assist with small personal needs, for example, a friendly visitor may write a letter or read the paper for a senior citizen.

"Alpha Delta Kappa, the retired teachers' sorority, church members and volunteer nurses are now working as friendly visitors in the community.

Outreach services of the LCOA attempt to find out the needs and the interests of senior citizens through morning visits by the site director. Referals may be made by any interested friend or relative.

These visits "help senior citizens become aware of help available" and "make them feel a part of the community," explained Fliss. Outreach visits identify the people who need help and put them in contact with the people who can help.

A calendar of activities for senior citizens at the community center is listed in The Tecumseh Herald. Senior citizens may consult it and participate in the activities as they wish.

A field trip is planned by LCOA once a month. Vacation weekends or trips are also planned and information is available in local media or by contacting Christine Fliss.

Volunteers are an important of many of the services offered. One of the biggest areas volunteers can help is by participating in a telephone reassurance service Fliss plans to organize. Volunteers make a daily telephone call at a regular time to an individual who is homebound, alone, or in ill health.

"Senior citizens are really concerned about this" said Fliss. The fear of being isolated and unable to get help is the biggest concern of most senior citizens, she explained.

Volunteers can also help with friendly visiting, personal errands for senior citizens or delivering homebound meals. Volunteers are needed for the Tipton area especially. Volunteer drivers for transportation vans are also needed.

"Senior citizens can chose whatever they like from whatever program. They don't have to eat at the nutrition site to participate in the other services. These services are available for them. They shouldn't feel threatened because there are two programs offered to senior citizens. Not everyone needs or wants the same thing,"Fliss emphasized.

You Are What You Eat

Easy on the budget meals does not always have to mean ground beef. The following economical recipes feeds six hearty appetites with 1½ pounds of steak.

This first recipe is a new version of the oriental pepper steak, topped with a tangy muffin. It is super simple and delicious, and a winner in the Pillsbury Bake-Off Contests.

STEAKBAKE

1½ lbs. cube or sirloin steak, cut in narrow strips
1 1/3 cup flour
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 onion, sliced
1 green pepper, sliced
1 can (1 lb.) tomatoes
1 can (4 ounces) mushrooms stems and pieces, drained
3 tablespoons molasses
3 tablespoons soy sauce
1 package (10 ounce) frozen French-cut beans, thawed and drained
1 tablespoon sesame seeds

TANGY MUFFINS

1¼ cups all purpose flour
1½ teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon dry mustard
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup milk
2 tablespoons cooking oil
1 egg

Place meat in 2½ quart casserole. Sprinkle with flour, salt and pepper. Toss to coat meat. Bake uncovered at 400 degrees for 20 minutes.

Add onion, green pepper, tomatoes, mushrooms, molasses, and soy sauce; mix well. Cover and bake at 400 degrees for 30 minutes.

Stir in beans. Drop Tangy Muffins by tablespoons onto hot meat mixture; sprinkle with sesame seeds. Bake at 400 degrees for 15 to 18 minutes.

TANGY MUFFINS: Combine flour, baking powder, dry mustard and salt in mixing bowl. Combine milk, oil, and egg; add to dry ingredients all at once stirring until dry particles are moistened.

Reading Council Holds Meeting

The Lenawee Reading Council held its winter dinner meeting at Ritchie Dining Hall on the Adrian College Campus, Jan. 20. The meeting was well attended with over a 100 members present.

Dr. Herbert Sandberg of University of Toledo was the featured speaker. His talk "The Pleasure Principle of Reading" dealt with the need to make reading a more exciting and interesting experience for children. Dr. Sandberg shared a variety of selections of children's literature with his intrigued audience.

In connection to this need for stimulating reading on all levels, the Reading Council is planning a "Reading Day at the Mall". This event will be held Feb. 26, at the Adrian Mall from 1 to 4 p.m.

Various participants will be dressed as story book characters and reading stations will be located throughout the mall. Clowns and displays will also be present for all to enjoy.

It's Valen-time!

By KATHY BROWN

In a much simpler time, Valentines were stashed in the letter box of one's secret love but today most of the Valentines received are delivered to the mailbox by a postal service carrier.

Valentine's Day is a curious blend of pagan and Christian legends, with more than one version of each legend.

One legend says that on the evening of Feb. 14, boys drew the names of girls in honor of their goddess, Februato Juno on Feb. 15.

In the 15th century zealous pastors substituted the names of saints on slips of paper and had their students draw them and then imitate their virtues to replace the superstitious custom.

Christian legend claims that St. Valentine was matryred during the reign of Emperor Claudius II in 270 A.D. But before execution, he was befriended by the blind daughter of Asterius, the jailor, and eventually she was cured and the family was converted.

While in jail Valentine cut circular designs (heart shapes?) and the night before he died he sent them to the girl and signed them: "From Your Valentine."

Samuel Pepys' diary of 1667 tells that expensive gifts such as extraordinary rings were given for one's Valentine, selected in a lottery, whether or not that Valentine was married.

Mottoes were drawn and Pepys describes how a motto drawn for his wife by a young master was inscribed on a paper heart of blue and gold. The couple was delighted by the inexpensive but sentimental gesture.

In the 18th century, Valentines became more intricate. One version, the "cobweb," consisted of a flower with a tassle. When pulled, it revealed curves and circles and when fully expanded, a personal pictoral message appeared in cupids or lovers kissing.

Publishing the first Valentines in the United States in the 1850's made Esther Howland, a graduate of Mt. Holyoke College in Worchester, Mass., America's first big business woman with a $100,000 a year business.

She came up with orders for $5,000 and all she wanted to do was make enough to buy a bonnet. She set up an assembly line and was in business for over 40 years.

Valentines of that era had satin hearts, mother-of-pearl, tassels, imitation gems, sea shells, "mechanical" designs, and even dried flowers and seaweed.

High price of cards and high postage in the 18th and 19th century helped Valentines lose their popularity.

Christmas cards became more popular because they were less exclusive and could be sent to a friend or acquaintance. Valentines influenced the design of the Victorian Christmas cards.

Another decline in the popularity is said to have come because of the "comic" valentine. It poked fun of lovers and sentimentalists.

Pictured is a collection of Valentine postcards owned by Roberta Anderson of Ypsilanti, sent to her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Keller of Clinton during 1900-1930.

Several in the collection are sentimental, but some are comic, such as:"I want you for myself," "You have the love I sigh for," and "My heart's on fire, turn on the hose."

Most of these were sent by cousins, probably in jest, since one of them asks: "What do you think of the other side?"

Forget-me-nots for remembrance, roses for true love and violets for faithfulness carry the sender's message in the language of flowers.

Although many of the old Valentines that have been saved are not valuable in cash today, they are valuable, if only in sentiment.

DAV to Meet Jan. 28

Disabled American Veterans (DAV) and the Disabled American Veteran Auxiliary will meet Jan. 28 at 6:30 p.m. at the DAV Hall 141 E. Albert St., Adrian.

A potluck supper will be featured. Members are asked to bring a dish to pass and own table service.

The DAV regular business meetings are the second Wednesday of each month at 7 p.m. and social meetings are the fourth Friday of each month, usually at 8 p.m., except on special occasions.

One and All Love a Circus

Everyone of all ages loves a circus. On Feb. 12, local people including children, senior citizens and the working man or woman have an opportunity to see a multi-ring Circus in Detroit.

The Moslem Shrine Circus will be at the State Fair Grounds Coliseum in Detroit during February.

Persons in Lenawee County may join with a group organized by the Adrian Community Services Department and the Lenawee Council on Aging to attend the circus on Feb. 12. The group will leave Piotter Center at 11 a.m.

A child must be accompanied by an adult.

Transportation and tickets are available through reservations at Piotter Center or by phoning 263-2161, ext. 285.

Time of transportation stops in Tecumseh and Clinton will be announced later.

WINTER PASTIMES

Times Have Changed

By Thelma Younglove

BRITTON — If today's young people did not have radios, walkie-talkies, and television sets, how would they spend winter evenings or days when the weather wasn't suitable for outdoor activities?

In the early 1900's, people managed without our modern luxuries and seemed to be quite happy. (Anything a person has never had isn't missed.

For diversion, people played a variety of games, played musical instruments (some homemade) and did considerable crafts. Some of those games are still enjoyed such as dominoes. At first double sixes, later double 12's were introduced. Dominoes were good training. Players soon developed the ability to add rapidly.

terest in our family background and learned to appreciate our American heritage.

Some families were fourtunate enough to possess an Edison phonograph (now a collector's item) with several cylinder records, and a beautiful morning glory horn. When visiting grandfather's home we often asked him to play the phonograph. Some of our favorite records were "The Preacher and the Bear," "Angel's Serenade," and "Red Wing". Grandfather has been gone many years, but memories of happy times spent in his home are still fresh in our minds. Will today's parents and grandparents leave our young people with pleasant worthwhile memories?

Checkers were played by old and young, Often the checker board was a sturdy homemade one. Constructed from the boards of a packing box, sanded until smooth, and the lines and squares painted in black and white.

For checkers a broom handle was sawed into uniform slices, sanded, and half of the checkers painted black. The other half was painted red. Some of those checker boards and checkers were truly a work of art and lasted for years.

Caroms was a popular game at grandfather's home. Carome is a game for two or four players, played on a square board about the size of the top of a modern card table. The players try to shoot 24 round counters into pockets at the corners. Grandfather's caroms board was undoubtedly homemade. The counters looked somewhat like little doughnuts, either sanded or well polished from much use.

A box of anagrams was found in practically every home. Children spent many hours sitting on the floor with the anagrams spread out in front of them competing to see which one could make the most words. Is it any wonder that many youngsters learned to spell at an early age?

Many Sunday afternoons were spent looking at stereopticon views. (some in colors, others in black and white). The stereoscope was passed from one to another for others to see.

The game of authors was entertaining for some. Unconsciously children learned the names of many famous authors such as Longfellow, Tennyson, Shakespeare, and several others. They also learned the titles of some of their writings.

Boys often spent hours whittling, making tops, whistles, and other items. Some worked with leather.

Girls spent some of their spare time learning to crochet, knit, embroider and sew. They learned to mend clothing and made many useful items.

How often mothers and fathers heard the request "tell us what you did when you were little." Some of those stories were of historical value and left a lasting impression. The tales weren't always what happened during mother and father's lifetime, but many stories were of events that took place during grandmother's or grandfather's youth and were of considerable importance. Perhaps as a result of those tales, we developed an in-

Review History of Woman's Club

The older books of the secretary's minutes were turned over to her at the Dec. 29 executive board meeting. She is compiling the club's history.

Other items of business on the agenda included:

The appointment of Helen Millyard as second vice-president to fill the vacancy created by Dorothy Hindes' promotion to first vice-president.

Report from Vivian Brown that the Christmas gifts were bought for needy families.

Communications and thank yous read from Dorothy Brock, Helen and Archie Spohr, Vi Daisher, Truman and Genevive Sisson.

Donation of five dollars to the "March of Dimes".

Announcement of the County Federation meeting Feb. 2 at the West Adrian Church of Christ. Edna Bortel and Iva Bishop are delegates. Reservations are due Jan. 28.

Estella Strong will host the next meeting at her home on Feb. 15 with Melva Kanous assisting. Program is "Michigan".

Mrs. Kanous and Mrs. Strong were hostesses at the January meeting. Vivian Brown and Dorothy Hindes served refreshments to the 15 members present.

20 Attend Baby Shower

BRITTON — A baby shower was held in honor of Mrs. Gary Check of Parma, nee Denise Filter, on Jan. 22 in the home of Mrs. Thomas Smetka, Milan. Mrs. John Check was co-hostess.

Pink and blue decorations were used. A stork and Raggedy Ann and Raggedy Andy cakes were the table centerpiece.

Twenty guests were entertained with games.

Gary Check is an electrical engineer with Consumers Power Co. in Jackson. The couple was formerly of Britton.

Need Mail Substitute

'Corrie' To Show at Ridgeway Church

RIDGEWAY — "Corrie: Behind the Scenes with The Hiding Place," a new full-length color release from World Wide Pictures, will be shown at the Ridgeway Church of the Nazarene, 6886 Ridge Hwy. on Sunday, Jan. 30. A single showing is scheduled to begin at 7 p.m.

"The Hiding Place," a true story filmed in Holland and other European locations, is based on the experiences of Corrie ten Boom, who, with her father, sister, and brother, provided refuge for countless Jewish families. A secret room was constructed in their home as a hiding place for use during Gestapo raids. The ten Boom's activities were discovered, and they were sent to prisons and concentration camps.

The Rev. James Stephenson, pastor of the Ridgeway Church of The Nazarene, stresses that the showing of "Corrie" is open to the public free of charge.

Revisiting the 'Nguyen Family'

By Kathy Brown

The "Nguyen Family," an extended family of 18 Vietnamese refugees sponsored by St. Elizabeth Catholic Church, arrived to make its home in Tecumseh in August 1975. Since that time, there has been a wedding, new homes for the young adults, a birth of a new daughter for the Nguyens and accomplishments for the school children.

Jim Kane, a member of St. Elizabeth parish and salesman for Allied Chemical, is coordinator for the family. He and his wife, Barbara, employed at First Federal Savings and Loan, work with other volunteers to help the family adjust.

Kane has kept in touch with the young adults and shared the news with The Tecumseh Herald.

The young adults moved to other states where they could find jobs to make a living, an indication of their desire for economic independence. Before the men left Tecumseh, their sponsor helped them earn drivers' licenses. They are getting along in their new lives but said they would like to return to Tecumseh someday.

Tecumsehites may recall the Vietnamese wedding of Miss Be and Le Dinh Hy (pronounced He) of Adrian at St. Elizabeth in February 1976. Hy did carpenter work here and was praised by his employer in a letter to the editor.

Hy, a former Vietnamese naval officer, is now a sugar beet factory worker. The couple lives in Lakeland, La. and has a daughter, Giam (pronounced Jim).

Mai Van Tram, 21, is Be's brother. He left a wife and child behind in Vietnam and it is not known if they have had contact. Tram lived in Alexandria, Va. where he was taken advantage of by an employer. He lived with the newlyweds in Lakeland, La. for a time, then moved on to Freemont, Neb. Tram and five other Vietnamese adults work nine hours, six days a week in a Campbell Soup Company chicken processing plant. They saved enough to make a downpayment on a duplex.

Pham (pronounced Fom) Tan Minh, 21, lives with Be and Hy in Lakeland, La. and works as a carpenter. Raised a Buddhist, Minh was baptized a Catholic by his own choice on Christmas Day 1976. Minh, a soldier in the Vietnamese army for four years, was employed at the Italian Village while in Tecumseh.

Ngo Viet, 19, and Minh finished high school together at Tecumseh High School last year. Viet is now a freshman at Delta College in Saginaw. He is studying to be a chemical engineer or chemist. He received an "A" in English and calculus.

"He is absolutely dedicated to getting through college and with his will and intelligence, he is sure to make," said Jim Kane.

Viet may transfer to the University of Minnesota, near his brothers. His parents live in Appleton, Wisc.

Nguyen Nhan, 45, left his whole family in Vietnam and recently heard from two male relatives in Thailand. While in Tecumseh, Nhan was a painter for Masterkraft. He now works for a decorating center in Jackson, Tenn.

Bui Quang Tuong, 21, was a Vietnamese Air Force helicopter pilot but did not know how to drive a car when he arrived in America. "He seemed to have the most hurdles to cross," Kane told. Tuong now lives with a Vietnamese family in Houston, Tex. where he is a welder.

Nguyen Thanh, 21, is the brother of Nguyen Thi Ghi, the mother of the Tecumseh household. Thanh was badly wounded while serving four years in the Vietnamese Marines. He moved to Monroe and worked for a Catholic school. He is now believed to be working in California. "He is having the most difficult adjustment right now," said Kane.

"The intense closeness and loyalty of the family is everything to the grandparents," explained Kane.

Ngan, the father of the family now works the second shift at the Ford Saline plant and loves his work. "All reports indicate he is doing a good job," added Kane. "Mexican American friends have helped to make his adjustment to plant operations as easy as possible," Kane continued, "This is a beautiful Christian expression of friendship."

Nguyen Thi Ghi, 34, is Ngan's wife and the mother of eight children. The couple had a daughter Mai Lon, on June 4, 1976. She was baptized at St. Elizabeth's on July 4, 1976.

The children all do well in math and get good grades. Kane cited the help of administrators, teachers and school friends. Their American friends frequently visit the Vietnamese home.

The boys are interested in American sports. Binh, 16, works for Fr. Vincent Howard. Another son, Minh, 14, in eighth grade is the most outgoing of the three schoolage boys and loves football. Sixth grader Hoa (pronounced Wa) enjoys basketball at Patterson. Both Hoa and Minh attended Boy Scout Camp one week last summer.

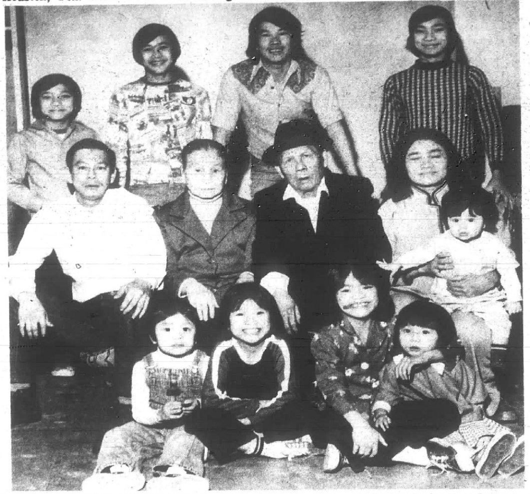
Fourth grader Tuyet and first grader Hanh, both at Patterson, help their mother at home. They attended Girl Scout Camp last summer.

Four year old Quoc "seems like he's grown a foot since he came," Kane remarked. Thuy, who was quite sick when she first arrived, is now a thriving one-year old.

The government offered assistance through the refugee act and the children received some dental assistance from the government.

Volunteers offered transportation for doctor appointments, shopping and English classes, but now the family is able to manage itself. Children speak English well and are a help to the family. Roger Tracy of Plymouth volunteered to help the family with its English.

Many people in the community have worked to give the family "the same chances" as any American, told Kane. One couple that lost a son in Vietnam has been one of the most generous volunteer, Kane remarked.



THE NGUYEN FAMILY — Left to right, back row, Hoa, Minh, Bin Quang Tuong, 21, Bihn, Ngan, Da, Long, Ghi, Mai Lon, Quoc, Kim-Hanh, Tuyet and Thuy. Since August 1975 they have resided at the convent at St. Elizabeth Church, their sponsor. The children are doing well in school and with their English. They have many friends. The father, Ngan, is employed by Ford Motor Co. in Saline. He and his wife, Ghi, have a baby daughter born in Tecumseh. The grandparents, Long and Da, enjoy continued family closeness. Corrie ten Boom Featured

"Corrie: Behind the Scenes with the Hiding Place," a new full-length color release from World Wide Pictures, will be shown at Tecumseh Evangelical Friends Church, 9500 Tecumseh-Clinton Rd., Tecumseh, on Jan. 30 at 7:30 p.m.

The film will also be shown at the Church of the Nazarene, 808 W. Chicago Blvd. on Jan. 30 at 7 p.m.

"The Hiding Place," a true story filmed in Holland and other European locations, is based on the experiences of Corrie ten Boom, who, with her father, sister, and brother, provided refuge for Jewish families.

A secret room was constructed in their home as a hiding place for use during Gestapo raids. The ten Boom's activities were discovered, and they were sent to prisons and concentration camps.

According to Kenneth Bliss, director of distribution for World Wide Pictures, "The Hiding Place" has been extremely well received, both by audiences and film critics.

"Corrie" was produced to give people who have seen "The Hiding Place" or read her many best-selling books an opportunity to hear her share her memories about her life in Holland, her family, and her lifetime of service to others."

The film "offers a great lesson in the perserverance of a personal faith in a dark and trying period of world history. Corrie ten Boom is now in her 80's.

The showing of "Corrie" is open to the public free of charge.

The Rev. Hebert Nation of the Church of the Nazarene and the Rev. Dane Ruff at the Friends Church invite the public to view the film at either church.

Girl Scout Cookie Sale

It's that time of year again when thousands of Girl Scouts will blanket the community selling Girl Scout cookies.

The 1977 cookie sale started Jan. 22 and runs through Jan. 30.

Girl Scouts in the Irish Hills Girl Scout Council, which includes the counties of Jackson, Lenawee and Hillsdale plus the city of Albion, will sell five types of cookies - peanut butter patties, shortbread, thin mints, sandwich cremes, and peanut butter sandwich.

How does the cookie crumble? Eighty cents goes for camp operation and council wide program, 19 cents goes back to the troops and 51 cents covers the cost of the cookies.

Federal Holds Annual Meeting

Annual meeting of the members of First Federal Savings of Lenawee was held Jan. 19, in the main office of the Association.

Re-elected to the board of directors for three-year terms were Charles A. Graham, Charles Schwyn, Jr. and Kenneth A. Wassink.

After the annual meeting, the directors' organizational meeting was held and Allan C. Graybiel was re-elected president of the Association; Harold E. Baily, John Farrell and William H. Glencorse, vice-presidents; Harold W. Near, treasurer; Nancy C. Wells, secretary; Robert Camburn, assistant vice-president and branch manager, Clinton office; Barry W. Marlatt as assistant vice-president; Helen V. Dyer, assistant treasurer and controller; Sharon Hill, assistant controller; Jayne Davis, branch manager, Blissfield office; Opal Dickinson, branch manager, Tecumseh office and David C. Potter, branch manager, Temperance Office.

Schedule To Change

Effective Jan. 31, the transportation schedule for the Lenawee Council on Aging will be changed.

Due to transportation requests in the north east section of Lenawee County and the number of vehicles available for use, it is necessary to have a vehicle stationed at the Tecumseh Community Center.

The route will remain the same with pick-ups in Holloway 9:30 a.m., to Deerfield 10 a.m., to Britton 10:30 a.m. and back to Tecumseh Center.

All persons requesting transportation including persons living in the Tipton area and to Sutton Road, south of Tecumseh, should phone the Tecumseh dispatcher to be picked up and taken to Tecumseh. Phone 423-2107 ext. 25.

Medical and financial appointments in Adrian can be arranged by the dispatcher or by phoning the central dispatcher in Adrian at 263-8996.

Forecast: expensive weather.
So far, this winter has been colder than last winter – much colder. And there's no avoiding what it's doing to your energy bill: When the mercury drops, your use of energy goes up – as a result – your bill goes up too.
Extremely low temperatures combined with an increase in the cost of natural gas from our suppliers are making this winter unusually expensive. So now, more than ever, you need to use energy wisely. Dial down. Turning your thermostat back from 72° to 68° will help you save. Dialing down further can save you even more. And so can insulation.
Expensive weather ahead, and there's no way around it. So let's get through it – together. Our responsibility will be the energy you need. Your responsibility will be the energy you use.

Through My Window

by Marda Gene Duncan

A SNOWY DAY

All day long I felt guilty and such a betrayer of all my past rantings and ravings. I even felt slightly more than a little disloyal to Florida. The day was Monday, Jan. 10, and Tecumseh was literally buried beneath a layer of snow. It stormed all night and when the curtains were opened in the morning — wow!

I can put it off no longer, I must confess that I was thrilled and excited. It was beautiful. On that particular day I wanted to be no place else in the world except here where Evans Creek meets Logan Street.

Mom and Dad thoroughly agreed — of course, our feelings were a bit prejudiced and quite selfish. The house was snug and warm, the views from all windows breathtakingly beautiful and there was not a reason any of us had to go outside.

I did not remember ever having snow piled so high on the near-my-window feeders or the bushes. Mountains of white. As soon as possible Mom opened the window, pushed the snow away and put out generous helpings of bird feed. It did not take the free-loaders long to discover that breakfast was served.

Cold and snow always add up to busy feeders and this day was no exception. Mourning doves, bluejays, cardinals, juncos, nuthatches, goldfinches, purple finches, tree sparrows, song sparrows, white-throated sparrows a starlings. Woodpeckers and flickers were in the trees.

Noticeably absent were the tufted titmice and the chickadees. Several times the chickadees were in the yews but they did not spend much time on the feeders.

Early in the morning the squirrels were busy. Two of them came to the feeder at once and for a while we thought they might be planning to spend the day. Actually they must just have been eating a hearty breakfast. Once their tummies were full they left and we did not see them for the rest of the day. I suppose each went to his own warm and snug tree-hole and slept.

Can't say that I blame them either — their fur coats look warm and heavy but the wind was wicked. It was fun to see the squirrels on the feeder though especially when they went head-first into a little mound of snow and came up white-faced.

The "restaurant" close to the west window is actually two feeding-trays about two feet apart. The large feeding area was put to its fullest use this snowy Monday. Not once but often that day we enjoyed the rather unusual sight of five or six different species of birds dining together. An example: A cardinal, a mourning dove, a tree sparrow, a junco, a goldfinch and a purple finch.

The bad weather was partially responsible for this "friendliness", so busy were the birds with their own personal "battle for survival" that there was little time or inclination to indulge in rivalries. But, of course, once in a while tempers and dispositions did come to the fore.

The belligerent little red-topped tree sparrows could just take so much crowding and then they simply had to "thin the ranks". Occasionally a junco bullied other birds away from the feeders too. When the bluejay came screaming in there was no contest, everyone left.

Perhaps the prettiest sight was when three cardinals joined goldfinches, purple finches, juncos and white-throated sparrows. There were two males and one female. Mom and I barely had time to comment, Papa Cardinal never dines with another male and, at this time of year, neither does he "play the gentlman" in front of his lady love.

There was a flash of red and the brightest male invited both of the other cardinals to leave. It was interesting while it lasted though.

The whole day was interesting while it lasted — the aftermath of the storm created an excitement and, as long as we could stay snug and warm, the snowy and cold Monday was just great. (Besides, it has been rainy and cold in Florida).

Course Offered on Horse Care

Care and selection of horses is the subject of a continuing education course offered by Siena Heights College.

Different breeds of horses, their soundness, disposition, feeding, medical needs, shoeing, and stable facilities will be discussed.

The course will be taught by Mrs. Joyce Bowman. She has taught courses in horse selection and horsemanship at Jackson Community College. She also took sixth place in the judging competition last year at Michigan State University.

The course will be offered on Mondays, January 31 through March 7, from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. in Weber Center, adjacent to the Siena campus.

For further information or course registration, contact the Siena Heights College continuing education office at 263-0731, extension 287 or 238, or visit the office in room 201, Sacred Heart Hall, on the Siena campus.

INTERESTING STORY — Pre-schoolers give rapt attention to story teller-librarian Mary Beth Reasoner during pre-school story time on Wednesdays at 1:30 p.m. at Tecumseh Public Library.

Library Features Story Hour

Pre-Schoolers Welcome

By KATHY BROWN

Is your pre-schooler suffering from a case of the winter blues? Why not introduce her or him to the fun of using Tecumseh Public Library?

The library features pre-school storv hour each wednesday at 1:30 p.m. from now until May. Mary Beth Reasoner, children's librarian, is the story teller.

The half hour program is filled with a children's story, poetry and song to keep children entertained. It does more than teach children that a library is a fun place to be. It introduces them to the artists and the authors of children's books and for some children, the story hour is a first opportunity to be with other children.

Sometimes new words presented in story books provoke discussion and children develop their understanding of words. These experiences help them prepare for other learning experiences.

In selecting the books for story hour, Mrs. Reasoner said picture books with big, colorful pictures are most popular with the children. A short, snappy text keeps their interest.

This season, attendance has fallen off. Librarians think a lack of publicity and a grown-up generation now in school are the reasons. "But the children who do come are regulars. So they enjoy it," said Mrs. Reasoner.

She encouraged parents to bring their pre-schoolers. She recommended that if a child is not afraid to be without his or her mother, then he or she is old enough to enjoy pre-school story hour.

Form Volunteer Adult Orchestra

CLINTON — Nineteen persons have volunteered for the adult community orchestra being formed by Lawrence Bailey of Currier St.

First rehearsal will be Friday, at 7:30 p.m. at Tecumseh Community Center.

Director of the group, Lawrence Bailey, has directed orchestras or bands for over 40 years.

He played trumpet in the Denver Symphony Orchestra; was assistant director of the Washington D.C. Civic Symphony Orchestra; was director of the Buick Band and Orchestra in Flint and has directed several theatre orchestras; played for at least 15 musical shows and directed his own professional orchestra at one time.

Bailey said the group is pretty well balanced musically at this time, however there are still openings. Especially needed are players of violin, viola, cello, oboe and french horn.

For information call 456-7119.

Ronald McCann of the Budd Co., Clinton Plant was chosen second runner-up as "Suggester of the Year" by the National Association of Suggestion Systems at its 34th Annual International Conference in Orlando, Fla.

Sponsor Spaghetti Supper

CLINTON — Clinton Middle School PTS will sponsor a Spaghetti Supper Wednesday Feb. 2 in the Middle School cafeteria. Serving will be from 5 p.m.

Proceeds will be used to pay for the basketball uniforms and other projects of the Parent-Teachers-Students organization, according to the president Mrs. John DeKany.

Selected To Play in Concert

CLINTON — Two Clinton High School students, Kathy Cark, tuba; and Della Ford, trombone, were selected to play in the All-County Band Concert, Saturday, at 8 p.m. in Morenci High School.

The concert is open to the public and will feature one number by the Clinton High School band under the direction of Mark Schnizlein, "Pageantry."

Reach New Agreement

Budd Company and the UAW have reached a new national agreement today on a three-year shop contract covering approximately 10,100 employees of Budd.

The previous contact expired at midnight January 15, and the new agreement rund to Jan. 15, 1980.

Budd employees covered include Clinton, Michigan Local 39.

However, as the Herald goes to press Wednesday, local issues have not been resolved.

UCC Elects Jack Davis

CLINTON — Jack Davis was elected as moderator by members of the United Church of Christ at the annual meeting Monday night.

Meeting was attended by 41 members and was conducted by Charles Steffens, retiring moderator.

Other officers elected are: Evelyn Heimerdinger; treasurer, Bertine Walker; auditors, Gerald Lincoln and Arthur Hill; trustees, Harold Calhoun and Ginny Davis; deacons, Paul McKenna and Jim Heimerdinger; deaconesses, Eileen Pratt, Jean Rhoades.

Named to committees are: Christian education, Irene Steffens; world missions, Marge McKenna and Maxine Calhoun; music committee, Janet Day; stewardship, Don Thomas; memorial, Frank Prichard; fellowship, Sally Faulhaber and Diane Mason.

Lael Searle was named to the nominating committee.

Members voted to recommend that the board of trustees change the constitution to provide for the annual meeting to be held the fourth Monday of January instead of the second Monday of January.

Installation of new officers will be Feb. 13.

Pastor's report and statement of goals, and committee reports were given.

The Rev. Roy Wagner asked that all committees plan to meet in February and organize, set meeting dates and set at least one primary goal for the year.

Major emphasis of the church for the coming year will be to raise funds for the organ repair fund. The first project for this is an after-church breakfast, Feb. 13.

Jack Mowat To Speak

CLINTON — Shamrock Senior Citizens named Doris Negus and Gladys Tirb as historians for the group at their meeting Thursday.

Soup and sandwich bunch was served to 36 members.

Representative Jack Mowat will speak at the Jan. 27 meeting at 10 a.m. to the Shamrock Senior Citizens.

His talk will be followed by a soup and sandwich lunch at noon.

The group will work on decorations for the Valentine party scheduled for Feb. 3. Mrs. Harold Davis is in charge of decorations.

Guests invited for the Valentine potluck dinner, Feb. 3, include the Latinos of Adrian and the Melodaires of Adrian, who will play for dancing in the afternoon.

Macon Montage

By Sharon Connors

Winnie the Pooh stepped forward at the close of the play at the Croswell last Friday night and announced he was not the only one having a birthday — Mindy Swanston was celebrating a birthday too. The entire cast and the audience then sang happy birthday to a surprised little 10-year-old girl.

Seated in the front row were the party guests Susie Palmer, Vicki Hover, Lisa Yerbeck, Donna Plank, Brenda Plank, Shelly Harvey, Mindy's sister, Heather, and mom Marilyn. The evening began with supper at Swanstons and when The group returned to Macon what else but a Winnie the Pooh cake and ice cream were served the girls before the slumber party began. Lois Hover was the one who tipped Winnie off.

Pat & Sharon Connors celebrated their 22nd wedding anniversary Saturday at the first annual Monroe High School Invitational Wrestling Tournament. The Indian team participated in the tournament of eight schools, six class A and two Class B. The boys did a great job finishing in third place. Everyone saw the new Monroe High School.

Kimberly Ann Biskner was baptized at the services on Sunday morning Jan. 16 at the Macon United Methodist Church. Bob and Shirley Kollar were Kim's sponsors. Both families enjoyed dinner at Ed & Glady's Muellers that afternoon. Kimberly is the daughter of Larry and Judy Biskner.

Bob and Mary Beutler of Ford Road are the proud parents of a son, Eli Zachery. The bouncing baby boy born at Bixby Hospital, Jan. 18, weighed in at 10 lbs. 4 oz.

Four Macon couples have missed the past few cold weeks. Paul and Marilyn Hewlett, George and Luetta Osborn, Harold and Vernita Kopka and Don and Eleanor Mueller were in Hawaii for two weeks.

Mrs. Joseph Fojtik, Josie Jones' mom was a dinner guest in the Jones' home Sunday. They attended the open house of the new addition at Tecumseh High School in the afternoon.

Don Davis is still in intensive care at Herrick Hospital. His condition remains about the same although he has been up a little more, and was allowed to shave himself one morning.

Judy Thomas is back on her feet and returned to school Monday morning.

Raymond Betzoldt is a medical patient at St. Joseph Hospital in Ann Arbor. Mrs. Betzoldt reports his heart was not involved in this illness and he will be in the hospital the rest of this week for more tests. As most know Mr. Betzoldt had heart surgery last summer and recovered well. The couple enjoys long walks. Mrs. Betzoldt said they were up to four miles a day before the cold weather came.

Flowers on the altar last Sunday at the Macon Methodist Church were in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Thomas, who celebrated their 35th wedding anniversary. The flowers were from their children and grandchildren.

Harlon Ruhl Is Warmly 'Roasted'

CLINTON — There were lots of surprises for Harlon Ruhl, Wednesday night, when he was warmly "roasted" at a dinner arranged by the Fall Festival committee of the Clinton Area Chamber of Commerce.

Dinner at Clintonian Inn was attended by 40 persons including Harlon's wife, Helene, who was "in" on the secret planning.

Other guests included their son, John, from Western Michigan University, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ruhl and brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George Ruhl, all of Tecumseh.

Joe O'Donnell was master of ceremonies for the program, which was filled with amusing commentary and many novelty gifts from friends of the honored guests.

The Chamber of Commerce presented a certificate of appreciation for Ruhl's many contributions to the success of Clinton's Fall Festival. Ruhl provided space for the display of the raffle automobiles, supervised the dispersal of keys to volunteer drivers and sold tickets at his service station.

Ruhl operates the Boron Oil Co. station at Clinton's main intersection.

Chamber president Kathy Thomas gave Ruhl a medal, in jest, for his non-discriminatory hiring of girls at his service station.

So the evening of fun went, with much good-natured "ribbing" including an offer from another local service owner to provide him with a good gas station location "50 miles north of Iron Mountain."

Surprise of the evening came as Lon Johnson, regional retail sales manager in Michigan for Boron Oil Co., presented Ruhl the Michigan Manager of the Year Award Plaque.

Competition for the award is made by consideration of gallonage sold, merchandise sales, bookkeeping, housekeeping and customer service.

This company award presentation was moved up from late spring, in order to enhance the evening's honors, when family and friends were present.

In recognition of Ruhl's service as Clinton's Fire Chief, decorations included plastic fire hats for each guest.

A letter of appreciation from Village President Clayton Strolle, was read in his absence.

Corsage and boutonniere were presented to the honored couple and an autograph book in which guests signed their names.

RUHL IS ROASTED — Harlon Ruhl, Boron service station manager and Clinton's fire chief, was presented with a certificate of appreciation from the Clinton Fall Festival car sales chairman, Joe O'Donnell, representing the Clinton Chamber of Commerce. This was just one of the "roastee's" many surprise honors at a party Jan. 19.

Clinton's seventh grade cage squad fell to Manchester last Thursday 66-42.

Bank Changes Are Approved

CLINTON — David K. Van Tuyle, executive vice-president of State Savings Bank of Clinton, reported that three changes in the bank's officer alignment had been approved at the organizational meeting of the bank directors following the January 19 stockholder's meeting.

Jerry Langowski was made cashier and Patricia Mattis and Brenda Jacobs were made assistant cashiers.

Langwoski has been with the State Savings Bank of Clinton since January 1973. He was formerly with the Ann Arbor Bank and also was personnel director at Double-A Products Co. in Manchester. He has completed two years at the Graduate School of Banking at the University of Wisconsin, and expects to finish the course this year. He completed various American Bankers Association courses.

Patricia Mattis and Brenda Jacobs have been with the bank for several years and have experience in nearly all departments of the bank.

Other officers were re-elected and the same board of directors is continued for the ensuing year.

Officers and directors of the bank are: W.P. Van Tuyle, president and director; D.K. Van Tuyle, executive vice-president and director; Dan J. Boutell, senior vice-president and director; Gary Miller, vice-president, director and branch mgr.; Jerry Langowski, cashier; Lois Minor, assistant cashier and board secretary; Patricia Mattis, assistant cashier; Brenda Jacobs, assistant cashier and assistant branch manager; Orville Poling, loan officer; Martha Van Tuyle, Orville Bohnenstiehl, Robert Brauburger, Melvin Smith, Ray Service, all directors.

Schedule

Feb. 1, Adrian Drager Middle School 4:30; Feb. 8, at Adrian Springbrook, 4:30; Feb. 15, at Whiteford Middle School 4:30; Feb. 22, Jackson Catholic Middle School 4 p.m.; March 1, at Jackson Catholic Middle School 5 p.m.

Tecumseh Gymnastics

Jan. 27, at Saline, Feb. 2, J.C. Western, Feb. 8, at Adrian, Feb. 12 at Hillsdale, Feb. 16 at Northwest, Feb. 21 Reading, March 5, regionals, March 12 state finals.

Two Changes

Clinton athletic director, Fred McCrate has announced two schedule changes for junior high and ninth grade basketball.

On Jan. 31, Clinton's junior high basketball team will host Onsted at 4 p.m.

On Feb. 7, the ninth grade Redskins will travel to Onsted for a game scheduled at 7 p.m.

Clinton Cagers Notch Victory

Clinton's cagers notched their first win at home in over a year with a 60-51 victory over Waldron Tuesday night of this week. Last Friday they fell to Manchester 82-65.

The Skins came out in the first quarter with a full court press holding the opposition to just four points in the opening frame. Clinton racked up 13 points.

The Redskins had two players in foul trouble in the second period but they still led at the half 25-19. A strong third quarter lengthened the lead.

Clinton hit 22 of 66 attempts from the floor for 33 percent while Waldron had 22 of 53 for 42 percent. Foul shooting made a difference with the Skins dumping 16 of 28 while Waldron had just seven of 14.

Clinton also controlled the boards grabbing 45 to Waldron's 31. Both Sharpe and Dave Tallman had 16 carooms.

The victory upped the Redskins' record to 2-11 overall.

Coach Dave Arnold said of the contest, "I was very pleased with the game. The kids were patient and ran the offense. Sharpe got inside and did a good job offensively. Tallman had probably the best game of his career. Waldron was 5-1 in their league and 9-4 overall."

In the Manchester contest, the Redskins were in the lead 33-30 at the half but their troubles began in the third quarter.

The Dutchmen scored a sizzling 28 points in the third quarter to 14 for Clinton. All together, Manchester tallied 52 markers in the second half to 32 for Clinton.

Tim Sharpe led in scoring for Clinton with 29 points. Roger LaSovage had 10.

Puppeteer Entertains

Tecumseh Acres Parent Teachers Organization sponsored a performance of the Hip Squeak Puppets for the entire school, grades kindergarten through six, on Jan. 20.

Two shows were performed by puppeteer Lisa Marshall and her creations. The children's classic, Pinocchio was featured.

Ms. Marshall works alone and travels with a self-contained stage with lights and sound. Entrance and background music is supplied for each of the characters and each scene. Participation signals, a green light for "booing" and a pink light for "applause" encourage audience participation during the 30-minute entertainment.

In Pinocchio, Ms. Marshall uses a "log" puppet with expandable legs and ears. Another one has a nose that grows.

At the end of the show Ms. Marshall reveals herself as one of the characters. She can control five puppets on stage with foot operated controls.

The production is from Hollywood, Calif. Ms. Marshall has been performing in the greater Toledo area,

BHS Cagers Triumph

Britton's cage squad turned things around Tuesday night defeating Pittsford 39-35. Last Friday the Tories fell to Whiteford 61-43.

In the Pittsford battle, a non-league affair, Britton led at the half 19-14 stretching the margin to 30-21 at the end of the third frame.

The Tories hit on 16 of 45 from the floor for 35.6 percent. Pittsford made just 12 field goals of 43 attempted for 27.9 percent.

Mark Willaert led the Tories in scoring with 10 followed by Randy Smith with nine and Lon Wagenschutz with eight.

Coach Jim Sweigart was very pleased with the team's effort, "The kids played a real good game. We were patient with our offense waiting for the good shots. We had an excellent floor game cutting our average turnovers in half. We also had a lot of good shots."

Against Whiteford, the Tories trailed 35-25 at the half. Britton came up with just six points in the third frame to 16 for Whiteford allowing the Bobcats to take a 51-31 lead.

Phil Loesch topped all-Britton scorers with a 12 point effort followed by Lon Wagenschutz with 10 points.

Score By Quarters

2 Wins for Teams

The Tecumseh Recreation Department's two hockey teams both skated to victories in weekend hockey at Tam O'Shanter Sports Center in Sylvania.

In the first game, the league leading Bantams upped their record by downing Keegan Steel 5-1. This gives the Tomahawk Bantams a 9-2-0 record.

Goals for the Tomahawks were made by Mark VanBuren 2, Tim Eardley, Fred Sanberg, and Wendell West all with one each. Assists went to Dave James, Mark VanBuren, and Kevin Kross each with one.

The Bantams are sponsored by Tecumseh Products.

In the second game, the young Tomahawks again came from behind to tie the First National Squirts, and then, with 1:30 left the third period, Steve Eardley put the winning puck in the net and Tecumseh won 4-3. Eardley had a hat trick with three goals; Danny Lynch had one goal.

Assists went to Steve Eardley and Andy Keller both with one.

Tie With Western

The final tally was 3-3.

All of Tecumseh's goals came in the first period. Jerry McFadden was first to score assisted by Dave Perry. Kevin Brehmer sliced one in unassisted as did Perry.

The tie brought the squad's record to 2-9-1 in regular season play.

Grapplers Romp Over 2 Foes, Tied with New Boston Huron

The Indians romped over Gilbralter Carlson Tuesday night of this week 45-9. Last Thursday the squad traveled to Grosse Ile beating the Red Devils 38-17. And on Saturday Tecumseh placed third out of eight teams at the Monroe Invitational.

The victories leave Tecumseh with an unblemished 5-0 record in the Huron League tied with New Boston Huron. The Indians travel to Huron next Tuesday. This Thursday, the team will hold its final home meet taking on Monroe Jefferson.

By weight class, the meet results were: Matt Barrett, 98 pounds, won on decision 12-11; Jack Bagby, 112, won 6-3; Ben Williams, 119, won 5-3; Steve Bishop won on a pin at :03; Mark Barrett, 132, won on a pin at 1:33; Dan Yoder, 138, won 2-0; Dan DeHaan, 155, won 6-4; John Silberhorn, 165, won 8-1; Jim Neill, 178, won on forfeit; Kevin Eggleston, 191, won on a pin at :48; Eric Butzky, hvy., won on a pin at :30.

Coach Pat Connors said of the victory, "Our effort was superior. It was as good a team effort as we've ever had. We had to do some shuffling because two wrestlers were out of the lineup but the kids responded beautifully. We're looking forward to our last home meet this Thursday with Jefferson. We should be able to beat them."

In the Grosse Ile match, the Indians won nine matches, three of which were pins. Mark Barret, 126 pounds, Kevin Eggleston, 178, and Eric Butzky, hvy., all recorded pins.

Other Tecumseh winners included, Matt Barrett, 98 pounds, 4-0 decision; Jack Bagby, 105, 12-0; Dan Yoder, 132, 3-1; Bill Tooman, 138, 5-0; Dan Tilton, 155, 8-3; John Silberhorn, 165, 5-0.

At the Monroe Invitational last Saturday, the Indians finished in third place out of eight teams with 116 points. Monroe won with 142 points.

Dearborn was second with 129½ and Saline was fourth with 115 points.

For the Indians, Dan Yoder, 132 pounds, and Kevin Eggleston at 178 finished in first place individually. Dan Tilton was second at 155 and John Silberhorn was third at 165. Ben Williams, 112, Mark Barrett at 119, Bill Tooman at 139, Dan DeHaan at 145 and Eric Butzky, hvy., all finished in the fourth spot.

Gymnasts Split Pair with Huron, Vandercook

Tecumseh's gymnastics squad defeated Vandercook Lake 60.45-48.35 last Wednesday but fell to powerhouse Ann Arbor Huron 87.5-61.3 Monday.

The Indians now post a 2-1 record on the season.

Against Vandercook Lake, the Indians finished, by event: floor exercises—1. Cindy Egli, 5.6, 3. Beckey Schneirla 4.8, 4. Grace Gould 3.7; balance beam—1. Egli 3.35, 2. Tracey Isom 2.4, 4. Schneirla 1.9; vaulting-1. Egli 5.9, 4. Gould 4.5, 6. Debbie Patten 4.2; tumbling—2. Egli 6.1, 4. Schneirla 4.7, 5. Gould 3.9; uneven bars—1. Joanie Rapin 5.25, 3. Beth Mueller 2.9, 5. Joanie Spencer 1.1.

Tecumseh had a tougher time of it against Huron Monday. Egli finished third in tumbling overall and Rapin was second on uneven bars.

By event; floor exercises—5. Egli 5.95; balance beam—4. Egli 3.1, 5. Schneirla 2.45, 6. Gould 2.35; uneven bars—2. Rapin 5.6, 6. Spencer 2.55; vaulting 5. Egli 5.85, 6. Gould 4.55; tumbling—3. Egli 5.35, 5. Schneirla 4.6.

The Indians travel to Saline this Thursday.

Flat Rock Rammed by Indians

The victory gave the Indians an undefeated 8-0 league record and a 9-3 overall tally.

Tecumseh shot a blistering 51 percent completing 38 of 71 attempts from the floor. The Rams made 22 of 58 for 38 percent. The Indians also dumped 18 of 26 from the line while Flat Rock had 10 of 25 from the charity stripe.

Tecumseh led at the half 42-24 increasing the lead to 67-35 at the end of the third frame.

The Indians easily controlled the boards outrebounding the Rams 46-23 with Gary Allen nabbing 13 rebounds. Tim Mayers and Richard Cangley each had eight.

Jeff Hans topped the scoring for both teams with 28 points. Ben Maves had 15, Bret DesErmia 11 and Cangley 10.

Maves also had 12 assists and Allen blocked four Ram shots. Hans had four of the team's 10 steals.

Coach Jim Curth was very pleased with the winning effort but is already looking forward to Friday night's battle with Monroe Catholic Central. "I think we're getting better everytime we play. We played good defense Friday night. Catholic Central will be a tough opponent. We only beat them by five when we played them earier in the season and they almost pulled within three with a shot at the buzzer. But if we keep improving and don't let up, the outloook is pretty good for us."

The Indians also face Blissfield next Tuesday, hosting the Royals.

Score By Quarters

JV's Victorious

Tecumseh's junior varsity basketball squad upped its record to 10-2 with a 69-58 victory over Flat Rock last Friday.

The Indians put a full court press on their opponents midway through the first quarter allowing them to take a 14-11 lead at the end of the first frame.

They stretched the margin to 32-22 at the half.

John Ely was tops in scoring for Tecumseh with 19 points followed by Mark Creswell with 18 and Bruce Phenicie with 14.

Ely also led in rebounds with nine.

Coach Carl Novak said of the contest, "Our press made the difference in the ballgame. They put one on us but we eventually broke it."

Starting for CMU

Susie Brown, outstanding guard on Tecumseh's state championship team two years ago and again with the team which was runnerup in the state the following year, has gained a starting berth on Central Michigan University's team which plays Adrian College this Thursday night at Adrian.

For folks wishing to attend, game time is 7 p.m.

Last week, Susie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lillard Brown, tallied eight points in CMU's losing battle to Michigan at Crisler Arena.

On Saturday, Feb. 12, she'll run into former teammates, Julie Anderson and Julie Murphy, when CMU plays Eastern Michigan at Ypsilanti. Both Julies are on EMU's varsity.

That game is scheduled at 10:30 a.m.

Skins Defeated

Clinton's wrestling squad fell to a strong Addison team 46-18 last Thursday. On Saturday, the Redskins participated in the Union City Invitational.

In the Addison match, Clinton had four winners. Chris Wojtowicz won on decision 4-1 at 105 pounds, Lee Russ won 5-3 at 145, Ernie Stanish 178, won on forfeit, and Bill Vantyle, 191 won on a pin at 3:05.

At the Union City Invitational, the Redskins finished 11th out of 12 teams with 28 points. Hudson won it with 150¼ points.

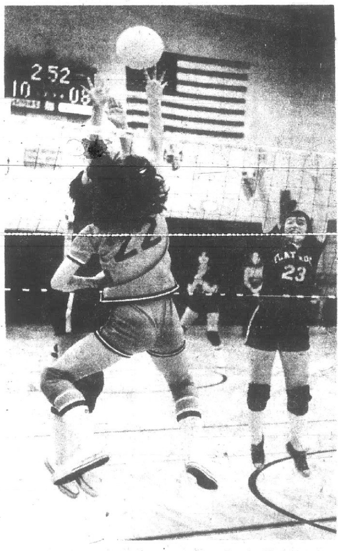
Drop 2 Matches

Britton's volleyball squad dropped two matches to Whitmore Lake last Thursday.

Whitmore Lake won the first match 15-0, 15-3 and the second 15-4, 15-13.

The Tories have yet to taste victory posting a 0-4 record. Mary Armstrong had a total of 11 serving points in the two matches for Britton.

Britton also lost the junior varsity match 15-7, 15-9.



"FROGGY" JUMP — THS volleyballer Patty Brosamer has justly earned her nickname of "frog," depicting her style of spiking. Here, she dinks a potentially spiked ball over the blocking hands of two Flat Rock opponents for a point.

Varsity, JV's Score 2 Wins

The THS volleyball squad scored two convincing victories this week, beating Flat Rock 15-5, 15-10 and Adrian 15-9, 15-12.

In Wednesday's match against FR, Debbie Steadley and Tori Iffland took took top scoring honors with eight serving points each.

In the first match, Tecumseh's first squad manhandled FR to a 9-0 score when the reserves came in and finished them off. In the second match, FR came back with good serves and an early 6-2 lead. The THS girls battled back with good serves to win.

Coach Sue Allen reported that Patty Brosamer and Sandy MacGeorge had particularly good nights spiking.

In Thursday's match against Adrian Sandy MacGeorge proved to be the star as she came up to serve in the first game after the Indians were beaten down to a four point disadvantage.

MacGeorge tied the score at 8-8 after scoring three aces in a row. Sandy Dunn helped pace the team to both wins as she was high server with 11 points.

In the second match Thursday, Adrian quickly fell behind, but came back to close the gap. Tecumseh put an end to that rally with just one point to finish the game.

The varsity's stadings are now 4-0 overall and 1-0 in the league.

The JV squad convincingly beat their Flat Rock and Adrian opponents, 15-12, 15-10 and 15-2, 15-9.

Lisa Caterina was high server in both matches, taking nine points from Flat Rock and 15 points from Adrian.

Their record now stands at 2-2, and 1-0 in the league.

Tecumseh travels to St. Marys Wednesday and to Airport next Wednesday.

Remaining Schedule

The remaining schedule of games for Tecumseh's volleyball squad is as follows: Feb. 2, at Airport, Feb. 3 at Adrian, Feb. 7 at A.A. Huron, Feb. 9 Grosse Ile, Feb. 16, at Carlson, Feb. 21 at Jefferson, Feb. 23 Bedford, Feb. 28 at Jackson Co. Western, March 2 New Boston Huron, March 12 regionals, March 19 finals.

WEATHER TO BLAME — Cold weather has sent frost deep into the ground - some say over 48 inches - and with it the freezing of water lines. Many residents have been forced to call plumbers, who are putting in extra hours keeping residents' lines free of ice. City of Tecumseh has not escaped the freeze, either. Above, Terry Haughn, head of the city's water department, and Bob Ferguson, right, watch as Dick Weirich works to repair a break in a water main Monday on Outer Dr. in Herrick Park. Friday Just Miserable

Friday must go down on record as one of the most miserable days folks have had to endure here.

Blowing snow, coupled with sub-zero weather, not only made life unbearable, it made shopping and business almost impossible.

Did it blow? Winds of 30 and 40 mph were recorded with gusts up to 50. With the mercury sliding below zero, the chill factor was reported in the neighborhood of 55 below.

Not only did rural roads drift over, but many main highways were closed in the area. Weather conditions became so bad by noon that many businesses closed, letting employees go home before roads became impassable.

Although there were no scheduled classes in the Tecumseh schools, teachers working on student records were sent home at noon. Shortly afterwards, Tecumseh Products sent its employees home.

United Savings Bank sent many employees home early and then closed its doors about 2 p.m., two and a half hours early. The bank's closing early because of weather may have been a first.

Downtown businesses started locking their doors at noon, others soon afterwards and practically all were closed by 6 p.m., forgetting the Friday night shopping hours as shoppers were at a minimum - if any.

18 Days!

January has been rated the coldest in over 100 years by many - and city records at the wastewater plant will confirm it.

Tecumseh had 18 sub-zero days last month — and six days in a row.

Lowest recordings were made on Jan. 12th and 13th when the mercury dropped to 16 below.

Our "January thaw" occurred on the 4th when the highest reading of the month brought us a summery 32 degrees!

Street Conditions Not the Best for Motorists

The number of accidents in the city continued to rise this week as road conditions were still icy and snowy.

A resume of those 15 accidents is:

Jan. 26 — James J. Lister, 54, of Britton, pulled out in front of an auto driven by Arlie C. LeBaron, 67, of 137 W. Brown. LeBaron was traveling north on S. Maumee at Patterson St. Lister was cited for failure to yield.

Robert R. Voorhees, 41, of 5233 Pennington hit a guard fence on E. Shawnee, near N. Ottawa, when a young person ran out in front of his auto.

Kurt W. Randall, 19, of Manchester skidded into a curve and struck a guard rail on N. Ottawa.

Jan. 27 — Walter K. Niehart, 30, of Bryon, Ohio, lost control of his vehicle and slid into the guard rail on icy northbound Ottawa.

Thomas E. Bolenbaugh, 51, of Cement City, was traveling in the left lane when the auto in front of him started to turn. Bolenbaugh could not stop and struck the auto, driven by Lee Walden, 44, of Clinton.

Frances J. Jaqua, of 113 Maple, backed into an auto at Dr. Richard Dustin's parking lot. Sara Vaillancourt, of 1007 River Acres, owned the parked auto.

Jan. 28 — Gerry E. Green, 500 Outer Dr., was assisting the Lenawee Sheriff when he struck the rear of an auto driven by Denise C. Bohannon, 18, of Occidental Hwy.

Edward G. Snyder, 25, of Metamora, Ohio, was northbound on Water St. when he slid into a guard rail near the Maumee intersection.

Jan. 29 — Bernard D. Beach, 26, of 8221 E. Monroe, struck the rear of an auto driven by Judith L. Steuwe, 39, of 1422 Southwick. Steuwe was making a right into the church drive on Brown when the accident occurred.

Enid H. Wakeman, 24, of 705 Outer, was leaving the post office when she struck a second auto. Dorothy M. Schmitz, 53, of 9554 Tonneberger was southbound on Maumee.

Jan. 30 — Mariann E. Conklin, 33, of 405 Dillingham, backed out of a parking space at the A&P lot and struck a parked auto belonging to Lewis O. Herrera, of 4884 Comfort.

Jan. 31 — Clarence P. Ebbert, 55, of Cement City was cited for failing to yield the right of way at the corner of E. Patterson and Maumee. He struck an auto driven southbound on Maumee by Rex A. Hill, 57, of Adrian.

Michael P. Alban, 30, of Monroe was pulling out of the parking lot at the post office when he was struck by a second auto in the lot, driven by John W. Sell, 19, of Tonneberger Dr.

Phyllis J. Keys, 35, of 2817 Coachlite, was making a left into Kroger's from M-50 when she was struck by an auto leaving the lot. Kenneth E. Gravitt, 26, was cited for failing to yield from a private drive.

Terry L. Haughn, 30, of 407 Wildwood, was northbound on Wildwood Circle when he lost control on the snowy, icy road and struck a power pole on the east side of the road, near Conklin Rd.

Schools - No Gas Shortage

While schools less than 30 or 40 miles south of here are being forced to close because of gas shortage, Tecumseh schools have no problems at this time.

Supt. Robert Duhan says thermostats are set at 68 degrees throughout the system, and only one building has encountered any problems in maintaining that temperature.

Ridgeway elementary school uses fuel oil and has experienced difficulties in maintaining the 68 degrees, sometimes slipping one or two degrees lower in some classrooms. Tipton also uses fuel oil but has been able to maintain the proper temperature.

All other buildings use gas, and Tecumseh High School even has a backup oil system, Gene Cooley, assistant superintendent, reports.

Neither school official anticipates a gas shortage unless government decides to transfer gas out of the area to areas now running short, such as in Ohio.

With outside temperatures often below zero, officials urge parents to dress their children extra warm, not only while the students wait for their busses but for classrooms as well.

ASK FOR SUGGESTIONS

Foundation Underwriting New Community Project

Directors of the Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation are soliciting any comments, suggestions and recommendations for a new, major community project.

Robert Robinson, Foundation president, says it is the intentions of the Foundation to select and underwrite such a project. He reports that last year's successful drive has provided the Foundation with an estimated $35,000 over and above its budget obligations.

Ideas from the community are sought now and directors are hoping for cooperation and a big response.

Comments should be sent by letter to the Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation, Inc., P.O. Box 142, Tecumseh, Mich. 49286.

Each letter will be reviewed by the directors on its merits and the extent for its support by area citizens at a special meeting on March 1.

Mr. Robinson says, "this is community money, thus supporters of the Fund should have input into how it should be used to the lasting benefit of our community.

Parents Question Thursday's Decision To Have School

Classes were held in Tecumseh Public Schools last Thursday, a fact that has drawn some criticism from parents. Except for Madison, Tecumseh was the only school in the county and area to be operating.

Temperatures were below zero, and roads were snow covered, even drifted in some areas. Some school buses had problems - several running well behind schedule - and some youngsters had to wait in sub-zero weather for transportation.

Why then, did Tecumseh hold school instead of cancelling? The decision was made to hold school by Gene Cooley, assistant superintendent, and Mike Anderson, bus transportation supervisor. According to Cooley, it was not a spontaneous decision.

Late Wednesday night, both school officials personally inspected bus routes, driving rural roads that the local buses travel. That evening, Supt. Richard Wegner of Clinton and Supt. William Saxton of Britton were contacted relative to those schools having classes.

Both Cooley and Anderson were out on the rural roads at 4 a.m. Thursday, making an inspection before reaching a decision. Each covered different areas. Both agreed that Tecumseh could and should have classes, a decision reached after consulting with Supt. Robert Duhan.

Cooley says the safety of students is considered first, and he did not feel that conditions were such that their safety was being threatened.

Both Wegner and Saxton cancelled classes at their schools, and Saxton reached his decision just before Britton buses were to make their runs, reports Cooley.

Weather has forced the Tecumseh schools to close three times this year for students. Friday was records day for teachers, who reported at their buildings as usual in the morning but were sent home at noon, when strong winds caused snow to drift over and close many area roads.

Tecumseh schools operate 23 buses in the district, transporting over 2,300 students. Junior and senior high students are picked up first, followed by elementary pupils.

In addition, the schools operate other buses for special education students.

Honoring Former Coach

An open house will be held in Vic's honor in the high school cafeteria immediately after the game. Friends and former athletes are invited to attend.

This is the first basketball season that Vic hasn't been coaching at the high school level since coming to Tecumseh in 1952.

Prior to coming to Tecumseh, Coach Lawson was head mentor at Jonesville for one year and Greenville for two years.

During his tenure here he guided the Indian basketball teams to three Southeastern conference championships, three Huron League championships, four district championships, one regional championship and three ABHT tournament championships.

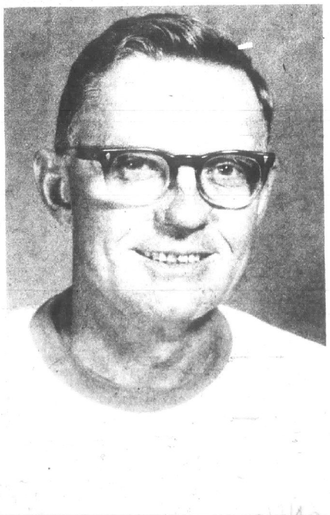
In addition to honors his teams achieved, Vic was chosen by the county newspaper as Coach of the Year in 1965.,

Vic excelled in the classroom as a social studies teacher as well as on the court, and in 1967 was chosen Tecumseh High School Teacher of the Year.

In February 1971 Vic moved to the elementary physical education program where he is presently teaching.

The name Lawson and "coach" can never really be separated, as Vic remains actively involved in sports around the community.

"Coachie" and his wife, Louise, reside on Cairns St. They have three children and three grandchildren; Jim and wife, Debbie of Onsted, daughter Pat married to Jerry Forsyth of Oregon, Ill. with their children, Kirk, Kristin and Kari and son Bob is a student at Western Michigan University.



HONORING VIC — Former coach Vic Lawson will be honored at half time of the Tecumseh-Monroe Catholic Central game here Friday night. The testimonial, sponsored by the coaching staff and the Indian Fan Club, is certainly deserving. Vic was involved in the Tecumseh basketball program from 1953 until this school year, and during his years as varsity coach, the Indians had some of their greatest teams.

Tour To Feature Historic Buildings

Tecumseh's 19th century charming boulevard of homes, churches and commercial buildings will be featured during Promenade the Past 1977: a tour of restored historic homes, churches and commercial buildings.

The tour is Saturday, May 14 and Sunday, May 15 and will include four private homes, two historic buildings adapted for commercial use, one a former church, and a restored church.

This is Tecumseh's second Promenade the Past. The first area residents and visitors may recall was a restoration by professional decorators and volunteer groups of the historic Wells home, 302 W. Chicago Blvd., once the home of Allan Seagar, Michigan author, and now the home of Rita Blake.

This year's Promenade is held through the generosity of Tecumseh's homeowners and business people whom are opening their homes and shops for public tour for two days only.

The purpose of the Promenade is to publicize the significance of the historic district in Tecumseh and demonstrate the economic cultural and aesthetic benefits and advantages of restoring historic buildings which may be used for original or adaptive uses.

Those buildings which will be open to the public for the two day tour are:

A federalist style home, 1301 W. Chicago Blvd., now The August Co., a florist and bath shop. Formerly known as the Occidental Farm House, the home once belonged to Peter Adams, one of Tecumseh's founding fathers and is believed to have been built

Focus on Senior Programs

Last week The Tecumseh Herald featured an explanation of services and activities offered by the Lenawee Council on Aging at the Tecumseh nutrition site, Tecumseh Community Center.

This week The Herald focuses on activities of the Tecumseh Parks and Recreation Department to keep senior citizens informed about what is offered to them.

Senior citizen programs and activities on Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays at the Community Center are planned by the recreation department. Ward Eardley is director of the Tecumseh Parks and Recreation Department.

Tuesdays the arts and crafts group meets at noon for a sack lunch and work on craft projects. Sometimes craft projects are planned by the recreation department with Mrs. Ward Eardley as instructor. Other times senior citizens are encouraged to share their ideas or work on individual projects.

Wednesdays and Thursdays feature a variety of activities. From time to time the following activities have been featured: cards of all kinds, sing-a-longs, movies, conversation, bingo, day trips with the recreation department's own bus or a chartered bus to such places as the Ice Follies.

Potlucks are also held. Eardley described them as "very popular with senior citizens, probably the most popular thing we've got."

"Tecumseh senior citizens like to stay on the move," explained Eardley. That's probably why the field trips and the weekend trips offered by the Recreation Department are extremely popular.

But there are other reasons, too. One is that Eardley strives to make them affordable. Another reason is because Eardley spends a great deal of time planning these trips for the comfort and enjoyment of Tecumseh's senior citizens and the service is appreciated.

Some trips require planning as much as a year in advance. Details for planning must be checked and double checked. Still the effort is worth it according to Eardley. "I wouldn't trade taking trips with those people for any thing," Eardley told.

In the past two to three years the recreation department has taken the senior citizens for a tour of the New England states, Tennessee, Kentucky, the Wisconsin Dells, Niagara Falls, Toronto, Sault St. Marie, Frankemuth, Archbold, Ohio to name some favorites. Suggestions for trips are welcomed.

For the past two years the Recreation Department has helped the senior citizens organize a Senior Citizens Arts and Crafts Christmas Bazaar. Proceeds from the sale were used by senior citizens to spend collectively as they decide. This year they made a gift to Wayne Nix, kidney transplant patient and also planned to give a gift to the Herrick Nursing Home.

Christine Fliss, the Lenawee Council on Aging site director and Ward Eardley, Tecumseh Recreation Department director cooperate to offer Tecumseh senior citizens a well-rounded program of services, activities and recreation opportunities.

A joint calendar of activities appears weekly in the Tecumseh Herald. Senior citizens are welcome to participate in any or all activities.

In most cases, trips listed are sponsored by the Tecumseh Recreation department, unless otherwise stated.

Ward Eardley may be contacted for information about Tecumseh Recreation Department programs at 423-5602 and Christine Fliss may be contacted at 423-2107, ext. 25, for information on Lenawee Council on Aging programs.

THELMA SWARTS

Services were Jan. 31 at the Purse Funeral Home for Thelma Swarts, 66, of Tipton, who died Jan. 28 at Herrick Hospital where she had been a patient since Jan. 19.

Mrs. Swarts was born April 11, 1910 in Atwood, Ill.

On May 25, 1933, she married Grover Swarts. He died in 1967. She was the former postmaster at Tipton and retired in 1975.

Mrs. Swarts lived in Tipton for 61 years. She was a member of the Tipton Community Church, the Tipton Pythian Sisters, the Tipton Grange, the Tipton Grandmothers Club and the Maples Farm Bureau.

She is survived by one son, Kenneth of Houston, Tex.; three sisters, Mrs. Harold (Myrtle B.) Radant of Tipton, Mrs. Arthur (Fern) Snyder of Adrian, Mrs. Kenneth (Gertrude) Munger of Tecumseh; four brothers, William Jones of Lansing, John Jones of Onsted, Robert Jones of Tecumseh and Glen Jones of Tipton and one grandson.

She was preceded in death by one brother.

The Rev. Max Bailey officiated and burial was in the Tipton Cemetery.

Memorials may be made in memory of Mrs. Swarts to either the American Cancer Society or the Tipton Community Church.

Pay Now and Save

After Feb. 14, a collection fee of four percent must be added to 1976 taxes collected by city and township treasurers, as required by Sec. 44 of The General Property Tax Law.

1977 dog licenses are also available at township and city treasurers until March 1. Rabies certificate is necessary. Fee is two dollars more after March 1.

After March 1, all 1976 taxes are deliquent and payable at the County Treasurer's Office with a collection fee of four percent and interest of ¾ of one percent per month.

Basketball Stage Set

The stage is set for the donkey basketball game, sponsored by the Tecumseh Rotary and Kiwanis clubs.

The contest will be this Saturday at the high school gym starting at 7:30 p.m.

Game one will be between the Raisin Township and Tecumseh Fire Departments. Game two will feature the state police, Clinton and Blissfield posts and Tecumseh Police Departments.

After an intermission, the two fire departments will have a tug-of-war. Game three will spotlight a combined game between the high school faculty and the high school volleyball team. Final game will be between the two service clubs.

All games will last 12 minutes each.

ROGER PROCTOR

Seek out a professional!

"It is a truism in the legal profession that the vast majority of widows lose a substantial part of an uncontrolled bequest within seven years." So states Ms Therese Morse in her book, "Life is for the Living."

She points out that a team of experts (a lawyer, accountant and investment counselor) can provide the professional advice that well-meaning friends and relatives simply cannot. All of us may need some or all of that "team." Ms. Morse counsels a widow, especially, to seek out a lawyer with whom she can communicate frankly and comfortably. He must be "right" for her, and he and other counselors must earn her confidence and trust. Only through this trust can they help chart her short and long-range courses of action.

So, too, must we earn your trust. You should be comfortable discussing your funeral wishes with us. As with your lawyer, we conduct our affairs on a professional level. We want you to consider us as members of your "team," ready to help make pre-planned arrangements or provide information in advance of need.

An open house will be Feb. 13 from 2-5 p.m. in honor of Walter and Margaret Wiemer who celebrate their 40th wedding anniversary. Friends and relatives are invited to the party at the Tecumseh Evangelical Friends Church. The couple was married Sunday, Feb. 14,1937 by the Rev. Howard Archer at the United Brethren Manse in McClure, Ohio. They lived almost all their married life in Lenawee County and 35 years in Tecumseh. Mr. Wiemer is employed by the Tecumseh Products Co. as an engineering tool maker. Mrs. Wiemer has been employed by Emma L. Bixby Hospital as a licensed practical nurse and medication technician. Their children, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel L. Wiemer of Tecumseh and Mr. and Mrs. Larry R. Baker of Tipton and families are the hosts. The couple asks that gifts be omitted.

Announce Marriage

The forthcoming marriage of Velma Jean Burton to Kevin Michael Kline is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Burton of Niceville, Fla. Her fiance is the son of Mrs. Esther Moore of Gove Ct., formerly of Adrian, and the late Lauren Kline.

Miss Burton is a graduate of Ben Eielson High School, Eielson AFB, Alaska and has attended Okaloosa Walton Junior College of Niceville, Fla.

Airman Kline is a graduate of Michigan Lutheran Seminary in Saginaw. He attended Adrian College for two years and is a member of the Tau Kappa Epsilon Fraterntiy. He is presently a senior airman in the Air Force stationed at Maxwell AFB, Ala. and is also attending Troy STate University in Alabama.

Hosts Bells for Potluck

RIDGEWAY — Mrs. Kathy McDermott hosted the January meeting of the Ridgeway Blinker Belles in her home on E. Monroe Rd., just outside of Ridgeway.

Along with a potluck fare of Southern cooking, the group enjoyed fried chicken as a thank-you to all the Belles and honorary Belles who gave their time and talents during the quilt making project for the Britton Bicentennial celebration.

After the meal the group heard reports from some of its members.

Joan Slick reported on the local Swine Flu program, while Betty DeJonghe discussed "The Lure of Las Vegas."

The group spent the rest of the evening discussing Betty Booker's topic entitled "Woman's Role-Just What Is It?

The meeting was adjourned by President Glenna Stroud.

The March meeting will be at Betty Booker's home on March 24, at 7:30 p.m. The menu will be Chinese.

MRS. CLAIRE E. MAYNARD

Kay Ellen Chapman, Clair Maynard Nuptials

Missionary Baptist Church was the setting for the evening marriage of Kay Ellen Chapman and Clair E. Maynard, Jan. 28.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Chapman, 709 Brook St., and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Maynard, 703 Conklin.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Armstrong were attendants.

The bride is an employee of the Tecumseh Herald and the groom is employed at Ford Motor Co., Saline.

The couple will reside in the Tecumseh area.

Macon Montage

The Clinton-Macon Road from the Macon Township line to the Britton Highway will be constructed. Work is scheduled to begin as soon as weather permits. A final hearing was held at the Lenawee County Court House Monday morning in circuit court with the Hon. Kenneth B. Glaser Jr. presiding.

"Now that you are in the country, Introduce yourself and you family to your neighbors. . .Advise your new friends and neighbors not to hesitate to call upon you in the time of need."

This verse, taken from "Country Roads — A celebration of people and places of rural America" by Hallmark Crown Editions, reminds one of the recent events in Macon.

Last Friday found many neighbors helping others as the big blizzard hit and left its mark. Larry Bush of Pennington Road put the loader on the backhoe digger to good use on the big drifts ranging from three to five feet high that many people had in their driveways, while Harold Ruhl of Clinton Macon Road did what he could do for people on his road. People showed concern for others and helped out wherever they could.

When the three foot drift was finally removed from the drive of Mrs. Kenneth Boyle of Pennington Rd. she promptly decided to spend the rest of the weekend in Tecumseh with Rose Ann Vollmar of Marlboro Ct. Rose Ann is a former Maconite.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Jones and Dr. and Mrs. Don Phelan annually celebrate triple birthdays the end of January. Dean's is the 29th, Mary Ann's the 30th and Josie's the 31st. They planned to have dinner in Toledo but the storm hit. Saturday night found them at the Phelans' in Tecumseh instead for an evening including dinner cooked by Dr. Phelan (the only one not having a birthday).

Martha Larrowe had Monica Mumme as an overnight guest last Thursday night. The Larrowe family left home last Friday morning to take Monica back to Tecumseh and get some groceries and did not expect quite the long trip that followed. During the height of the storm, Boyd reportedly tried to get home down several roads. Finally with the help of a road plow and several others, they got home safe and sound.

Luckily Roger Ross of the Macon Grocery had a rather smooth Friday. He made his usual trip to Jackson for groceries without a hitch. He decided he had better make another trip to town for milk for the store in case roads were impassible the next day. His second trip went as planned. Macon was in good shape for groceries.

Carl and Everyn Hawkins were in Tecumseh Jan. 23 at the home of Larry and Judy Crittenden to celebrate the birthdays of Jay Crittenden and Greg Stotler. This last weekend found them at home on Ford Road as the area they live on was definitely closed with a ½-¾ mile area drifted shut.

Pat Connors built an igloo in the yard last Sunday. As guests for daughter Kris's nineth birthday celebration were arriving, they were given the option of a party in the igloo or the house. Needless to say the party was in the house. Guests included, Grandma Connors, Aunt Mary Connors, neighbors Mrs. Arthur Brown, Mrs. Clare Camburn and Bob, Linda McCleary and children, brother, Pat Connors Jr. and Bob Ondrovick. Supper and then ice cream and cake were served. On Monday Kris entertained seven classmates who came home on the schoolbus with her. A chicken dinner was served and another cake was lighted for her birthday.

A couple of the Macon students, Mike Keller and Matt Jones, reported a few things they found out about our area:

Henry Ford was active in the Macon area. Ford biographer Professor David Lewis of the University of Michigan said that the Boysville site was Henry Ford's command center in the Macon empire. Ford had an elementary and senior high school there. Henry Ford appreciated architecture and many of his buildings around Macon are in the Greek Revival style.

Another historic place in Macon is the Macon Mill. Perry Hayden and Henry Ford had great hopes of making this a fine mill. Later Mr. Eldredge and his sons restored the mill and the property. It is the only mill left in the area which can still show how grain was once ground.

The Macon Historical Society will meet at the home of Harold and Julie Rhora Feb. 5. Co-hosts will be Dave and Linda Stretch. The program will be "Recognizing the Real Thing" (Antiques). Meeting is 8 p.m. New members and guests are always welcome.

You Are What You Eat

by Shirley Weekley

I tried out my new slow cooker this weekend and made a terrific pot of vegetable soup. I plan to use it quite often and would appreciate any new recipes for slow cookers.

My family enjoys pasta and this spaghetti recipe from Sandy Bill was no exception. It was delicious and can be prepared in a crock pot.

ITALIAN SPAGHETTI

Sauce:

1 small onion chopped
2 tsp garlic salt or 2 cloves garlic
¼ cup olive oil
2 cans (8 ounce) tomato sauce
1 can (7 ounce) tomato paste
3 cups water
1 Tbsp. sugar
1 Tbsp. oregano
1 Tbsp. salt
dash pepper

Brown onion and garlic in olive oil, then add to rest of ingredients in large pot and mix well.

Meatballs:

3 slices white bread
1 small onion
4 sprigs parsley
1 lb. ground beef
3 Tbsp. parmesan cheese
1 egg
1 tsp. salt
¼ tsp. pepper

Add enough water to bread to mash. Add rest of ingredients, shape into balls, and brown in ¼ inch oil. Place browned meatballs in sauce and simmer 30 minutes. Serve over hot spaghetti and sprinkle with Parmesan cheese.

Note: Ingredients can be placed in crock pot, covered and cooked over low heat for 4 hours.

HAMBURGER CORN-PONE PIE

1 lb. ground beef
1/3 cup chopped onion
1 tbsp. shortening
2 tsp. chili powder
¾ tsp. salt
1 tsp. Worchestershire sauce
1 cup canned tomatoes
1 cup drained kidney beans
½ package corn muffin mix

Brown meat and onion in melted shortening. Add seasonings and tomatoes. Cover and simmer over low heat for 15 minutes. Add kidney beans and pour into greased casserole.

Prepare corn bread.

Add water and egg to cornbread according to package directions. Top casserole with cornbread batter and bake in hot oven (425 degrees) for 20 minutes. Serves 4.

BRITTON'S PAST

Home Remedies

By Thelma Younglove

BRITTON — For many years the early residents of Southeastern Michigan had to rely on home remedies to relieve pain and illness. Many communities had no doctor and there were no hospitals.

After a doctor had located in an area, many people had difficulties getting to his office. Roads were poor. Traveling was done on foot, by horseback, or with cart, buggy, or wagon. Anyone of the ways were slow.

In those days, doctors willingly made house calls if they could be contacted. At first there were no telephones. When the first phones were installed, only a few homes had the conveniences.

Confronted with so many problems is it any wonder many pioneer families resorted to the use of numerous home remedies? We must admit that some of them were unusual.

One old article recommended eating two or three small raw onions with a little bread spread with fresh butter just before retiring if troubled with sleeplessness.

Some cooks added a teaspoonful of Epsom salts to their buckwheat pancakes to prevent breaking out with a rash or hives. In those days the buckwheat pancakes were not made from a prepared mix as used by many cooks today, but were started the evening before. The buckwheat might even have grown on one's own farm and ground at a local mill.

People who were inclined to have rough, chapped hands often made a hand lotion by combining rose water, witch hazel, and glycerine. Few prepared hand creams or lotions could be purchased. Men, especially corn huskers, often used mutton tallow to heal their sore, cracked, weather beaten hands.

Some mothers insisted on using skunk oil or goose grease to relieve certain ailments. Turpentine and lard were also common remedies.

To relieve soreness or congestion people applied mustard plasters. Onion poultices or flac seed poultices were also used.

Electricity had not become available and electric heating pads were unknown. Salt bags, — made of cotton material, filled with salt then heated in the oven — were used the way electric heating pads are used at present.

To break up a common cold the patient was given hot lemonade to drink and put to bed. Some made the lemonade with salt instead of sugar. It was not a tasty drink.

Various remedies were used to relieve coughs — such as melted butter, or onion syrup, made by thinly sliced raw onions and sprinkled with sugar. Allowed to stand for a short time the onion juice and sugar formed a syrup. A few made corn-cob syrup by boiling clean corn cobs. It too was used to relieve coughs.

A few senior citizens may recall "assafetida." Oh what an offensive substance. Some mothers had the notion that if a small amount was worn in a little bag pinned to a child's undergarments or tied in a corner of a handkerchief it would protect the wearer from catching contagious diseases.

The value of the "assafetida" as a protective is indeed questionable. However, one thing is certain the oder was so objectionable others kept their distance.

Another strange idea was to obtain two or three teeth from a freshly slaughtered veal calf. The teeth were sewn into a small bag made from chamois. The little bag is then fastened onto a tape or piece of ribbon for the baby to wear around its neck. The necklace of teeth was supposed to aid the baby in cutting teeth with ease.

Times change. Use of many of the old home remedies has ceased. Will new ones develop?

Reader Writes

To the Editor:

We wish to express our thanks to all the people and organizations who helped make our Bicentennial celebration a success.

A special thanks goes to all of those who donated funds to feed the wagon train and the C&C Cafe for preparing the food.

We appreciate all of those who gave their time, talents, hospitaaity and facilities. Without you our celebration couldn't have been a success.

Our thanks again.

Farewell Given for FHA Advisor

BRITTON — The FHA Chapter of the Britton-Macon High School held a farewell party for its FHA teacher and advisor, Mrs. Mary Ann Berry, Jan. 21 after school, with 30 girls in attendance.

Mrs. Berry and her family, who lived in Blissfield have moved to Hillsdale. She taught in the Britton-Macon High School for 10 years.

The girls presented Mrs. Berry with a strawflower arrangement for her new home, and a decorated cake, topped with red roses, the FHA flower, which was served for refreshments at the party.

Open House for Schools

The date is February 6. The time is 1 to 4 p.m. The occasion is open house in three areas of the Lenawee Intermediate School District.

In the past, open house has been held at the Lenawee Vocational-Technical Center at the beginning of National Vocational Education Week in February. This year, in addition to open house at the Vo-Tec Center, an open house is also planned at the Lenawee Intermediate School District office at 4107 North Adrian Highway and the Lenawee School Services (Special Education) on Sutton Road.

At the intermediate offices the visitor may see the hub of the Lenawee School District. Here are the data processing facilities, which turn out paychecks, student schedules, personnel information along with other assignments for the district.

The computer now in operation will be replaced at the end of the school year. In this building is the new conference room where Building Trades students had on-the-job experience in constructing the fireplace. Records are kept here and employee insurance is handled.

At the Lenawee School Services on Sutton Road are five school buildings and two barns. Personnel will be available for tours and explanations of each of the buildings. Representatives of the itinerant staff will be available to discuss programs provided by the Intermediate School District to the local schools.

Featured at the open house will be architectural extremes, from a 117-year-old respite care center (the former Sutton rural school) to a new facility for early childhood diagnosis and treatment of developmentally delayed children.

Other facilities added in recent years are the buildings for the severely mentally impaired and classroom space for the trainably retarded.

At the Vo-Tec Center, instructors and students will be in laboratories and shops to explain individual programs. On the Vo-Tec campus are Buildings 1 and 2, in which are the media center, shops for climate control, agriculture power and auto body repair.

The Telecommunications staff will have a three-way television coverage of each open house area.

Drawings at the Vo-Tec Center will be for free items such as a bookcase from the building trades, personalized memo pads from commercial printing, an oil change and lubrication job from auto mechanics, a car wax from auto body repair, and a cake made to the winner's specifications.

Those who desire it may have their blood pressure taken in the health occupations laboratory.

LIBRARY DELIVERS TO HOMEBOUND — Barb Kruger of the Tecumseh Public Library will take reserves and make deliveries of books to any homebound individual in the Tecumseh School District. New service at library began Feb. 1.

Offering Home Delivery

Are you homebound? If so, it needn't keep you from getting books from Tecumseh Public Library. Beginning Feb. 1, the library is offering home delivery of books, magazines, records and other library materials to homebound people in the Tecumseh school district.

Staff member Barbara Kruger will make deliveries every other Monday afternoon. She will also return materials to the library, select books, take reservations for books and relay requests for information to the library.

The service is free.

To receive home delivery call the library at 423-2238. Mrs. Kruger will explain how the service works and st up a time to visit.

Homebound people must live in the Tecumseh school district, expect to be homebound for at least six weeks, and have no other relative or friend whom could easily visit the library for them.

"We added the last requirement," explained library director Deborah Harris, "because we want to perform a service no one else could do and thus reach as many people as possible who really need us."

She added, "people who visit homebound friends or relatives should know that the library will select books for people to take to shut-ins. All they have to do is call us first. We will then have the books ready to check out when the caller arrives. Many people don't realize the library will do this."

The library can also give information about the Blind and Physically Handicapped Library in Lansing.

The Blind and Physically Handicapped Library sends large print books, braille, books on records and tapes and other types of materials directly to blind and handicapped people all over Michigan.

Special record players, pillow phones and remote control devices are available for use with the material. All equipment and reading material is sent free, and the Post Office mails it back to the library free.

People who receive this service must be unable to read conventional printed matter and need not be homebound.

Tecumseh Public Library has applications to request sevice form the Blind and Physically Handicapped Library. Free brochures explain what kinds of materials are available and how the sevice works.

The local library also has a small but growing collection of large print books which Miss Harris said is becoming quite popular.

Visit Adrian

WHAT DO YOU THINK, TECUMSEH AREA FOLK? — The Tecumseh Area Town meeting task force wants to know

2 Protest

To the Editor:

On Jan. 27 and 28, we experienced two of the worst winter days in this century. Yet, the Tecumseh Public Schools were not closed. Why?

The lives of many children riding and walking - as well as the parents and teachers were put in jeopardy.

Children riding on busses were stuck in the snow. Bus drivers were also put in danger from blowing snow and bad roads.

Why was Mr. Cooley so insensitive to the needs of the children, parents, and teachers that he could not even answer the phone?

Every other school district in the county but one was closed down during the height of the blizzard on Jan. 27 and 28.

With "snow days" available, it made no sense to allow schools to remain open. Perhaps Mr. Cooley needs to be more aware of the stupidity of his actions. Maybe the Board of Education, in its "wisdom", should discuss the matter in its next meeting.

Let's hope that in the future, Mr. Cooley has the "guts" to make a correct decision before someone gets killed.

Do you have anything to say, Mr. Cooley?

Charles B. Johnson
Concerned Parent and Taxpayer, Tecumseh

To the Editor:

In regards to the fact that Tecumseh Public Schools were not called off Thursday, January 26th, it was brought to my attention that several buses had to be pulled out of the snow. Tecumseh was one of two schools in the country that had classes.

The reasoning of the authority who is responsible for this detail should surely be questioned. It later was brought to my attention that the assistant superintendent of schools did not want to remain in town an extra day in order to give him a prolonged weekend.

Friday was an inservice day for all teachers and it was not expected that the assistant superintendent be in attendance. However, if school were to be closed Thursday then there would be no inservice on Friday, but regular classes would be held forcing the assistant superintendent to remain in town.

I feel it is a sad day when the lives and safety of our children are endangered because of the willingness of one person to spend one extra day doing something beneficial only to him, caring not for others at all.

Concerned Parent,
Mrs. J. Jones

LCW Elects Incumbent

Mrs. Herman Steuwe was elected for the second time as president of the Lutheran Church Women (LCW) of the Gloria Dei Lutheran Church.

Her co-workers are Mrs. Gisela Gero, vice-president; Mrs. Lucy Geringer, secretary and Mrs. Marilyn Baaske, treasurer.

Installation took place in the church on the first Sunday of January. Meetings are on the first Tuesday of each month at 7:30 p.m. Bible studies are held in the members' homes on the third Wednesday at 9:30 a.m.

Survey Recreational Needs

Adults of the Tecumseh area: What kind of recreational activities do you think the Tecumseh area needs?

This is the basic question that a Tecumseh Area Town Meeting task force is trying to answer as it continues its work to survey the recreational needs in the Tecumseh area.

The first part of the task force's work was a survey of youth which showed majority support for a teen meeting facility and interest by youth to support such a project.

In this recent survey, Mrs. Don Steiner task force chairman said, the interests and needs of people aged 18 and older will be surveyed.

"This will be their chance now to express what they'd like this town to do for them," she said.

Survey will be conducted through questionnaires placed at various locations where people can sit, talk and take time to fill out a questionnaire.

A drop box will be provided right at the polling locations so people do not have to worry about mailing it to anyone.

Questionnaires will be available at such locations as beauty shops, barbershops, employee break areas of the General Motors Fisher Body Tecumseh Plant, and Tecumseh Products Co., bowling allies, etc.

These areas will be marked with a poster like the one pictured to call attention to the survey. People are asked to watch for these locations and take time to help the task force determine the community's needs by answering a questionnaire.

Questionnaires will be available for two weeks from Feb. 3 through 17.

Gloria Dei Communion

Sunday, Feb. 6 Holy Communion will be administered in the Gloria Dei Lutheran Church with the anthem of the Youth Singers, directed by Mrs. Earl Mason director of the choirs. At 2:30 p.m. a worship service will be conducted in the Nursing Home by the pastor.

BEFORE YOU JUMP...

It's easy to jump. Just leave the solid trail behind you and soar into space.

But before you jump—learn how to land! One man can alight gracefully and continue his course. Another will wrap his skis around his head and end up in the hospital.

There are important life-decisions we often describe as "taking the leap." Going to college, choosing a career, getting married—these are just a few. And these "leaps" lead to happiness for some—and tragedy for others.

The Church with its program of worship and religious education makes essential contributions to our life. For what happens after our major "leaps" depends on the character which has been instilled in us, and on the principles by which we live.

BIRTH LIST
JAN. 24

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Nortley, Tipton, a daughter.

Appointed

Gloria Calhoun has received an appointment from Princeton to serve as a table leader for the readers of the National Spanish Advanced Placement Examinations.

The committee is formed by an approximate 80 percent professors and 20 percent high school teachers from all over the United States.

The examinations, which are at a third year college level, are given to outstanding seniors from this country and overseas.

The tests are in the fields of Spanish Literature, Spanish American Literature and Language.

You Told Us

Nicole Elizabeth Priemer, (nee McKee) was recently named to the dean's list at Lake Superior College. She is studying nursing. Her husband, Bruce, also was named to the dean's list. He is studying technical engineering. Mrs. Priemer is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert McKee, 2631 E. Monroe Rd.

Robert M. McKee, 2631 E. Monroe Rd., has returned home from St. Joseph Hospital, Ann Arbor, where he had been a patient for five months following an accident on Shepherd Rd.

Myra Dermyer came home Dec. 16 and will stay until Jan. 2 to spend the holidays on her first leave from Ft. Sam Houston in San Antonio, Tex., where she will be stationed until March.

Arrested

Jerold R. Scriver, 20, of Adrian was arrested by Tecumseh Police Sunday at 2:30 a.m. for possession of hashish.

Police found Scriver in a vehicle at the corner of Pottawatamie and Evans streets. Police found him to be highly intoxicated and transported him to the station under drunk charges.

At the station, police questioned Scriver and found the hash wrapped in tin foil. Scriver was lodged in the Tecumseh facility.

Historic District Meeting Is Set for Saturday

Saturday Feb. 5 is the date for the final neighborhood meetings to discuss the proposed historic district ordinance.

The meetings were arranged by the Tecumseh Historic District Study committee and are scheduled for residents of the proposed historic district.

The district includes those properties from 107 to 710 W. Chicago Blvd. and from 107 S. Union to 408 N. Union. This area is already on the state of Michigan Historic District Register.

All home owners in the district who did not previously attend a meeting designated for their neighborhood are urged to attend one of the two meetings on Saturday.

The Tecumseh Historic District Study Committee was appointed by Tecumseh City Council in 1973 to survey Tecumseh's architecture and recommend an appropriate ordinance for the city to protect its historical architecture.

The ordinance will primarily affect homes built before 1900. However, all homeowners in the 11 block district are invited to attend and give their opinions regardless of the age of their homes.

Times of the two neighborhood meetings are:

Feb. 5, 1-3 p.m. at 710 W. Chicago Blvd., the home of Lee L. Worley, for residents of 601 to 710 W. Chicago Blvd.

Feb. 5, 3-5 p.m. at 215 N. Union St., the home of Elizabeth Wilson for residents of 107 to 215 N. Union St.

SATURDAY 9 am to 6 pm

WE'RE STUCK! WITH BEAUTIFUL (?) FURNITURE, THAT IS. . .

Here's an IMPORTANT MESSAGE for you! Read every word of it, because this will not be published any where else or mentioned on the radio. On Thursday 9-6, Friday 9-9 and again on Saturday 9-6. We will have a SALE that is truly sensational in the genuine savings it offers! Don't take our word for it. . .just be sure to read every word of the partial listing of bargains. The values selected are each sensational in their own right. . .and there are scores more just like them that we didn't have room to list. This is truly an event that you cannot afford to miss. BE HERE FIRST if you possibly can, for best selection.

There is no one to blame but ourselves. The best of us make mistakes! This list contains the buyers boo-boo's since the beginning of the year (Don't ask which year!) Showing them didn't sell 'em. Maybe "giving them away" might. At least it's worth a try! Our buyers loved them enough to buy them once. Could be you're a kindred soul. . .at the right price that is! So read 'em and reap.

Your living room can really benefit from this event! We have a Kroehler sofa and chair in a brown Herculon plaid was $699 now $466. We have another sofa by Kroehler in a green nylon print it, too, was $699 but now is $348. There's a contemporary sofa and loveseat with comfortable high back in a rust nylon velvet. The price tag says $798 - we say $434. We have another traditional sofa in a sharp (we think!) print, was $329, come and take it away for $219.

Since it's just before Valentines Day we have some Sweet Bedroom Suites. Our $899 4 pc. bedroom in warm honey pine with a hutch mirror needs to be loved, our price to make that easier is $597. Because we love you you can have this $479 Walnut 4 pc. bedroom with triple dresser, chest, mirror and headboard for a heartbreaking $322.

While Mike was on the phone someone dropped off a Early American $75 cocktail table without any other matching pieces. He's out to lunch now so we're going to give it away to the first person here for $19. There is a nice 3 pc. living room table group with a hex table, a round table and a square cocktail table. Was $299 but because of lack of popularity is only $197.

If you've gotten this far you deserve a coffee on us. Bring in this ad and it's yours.

Getting your spare room ready to accommodate extra guests? Then you'll go for this green queen Herculon covered tweed sleeper-sofa was $379 now marked down to $199. Or if you only have to sleep 1 extra guest, we have a $89 twin roll-a-way with mattress for $60.

Chairs and recliners we have on sale in great abundance to satisfy every taste and pocketbook. A Burris trio lounger went for $359 it's still going but now only $238. A Norwalk $169 platform rocker with walnut trim is $99. Kroehler made this blue velvet strip chair with a high back for comfort - priced her out at $239, take her out for $128.

Who out there wants a walnut student desk? The top is harmproof so no carving can occur it was $129 but we carved it to $86. Could inspire a math student!

We have a set of spindel bunk beds in honey pine. We thought they were sweet at $139, but Bee cuzzz they didn't sell the first worker with $97 takes them away! Twin beds in either maple or white were $89 - now $44. Can't build a chicken roost for less than that! One twin mattress and box spring med/firm and lonely was $149 but because it needs a home more than we need it the set is yours for $92.

We have a handsome Douglas Dinette 7 pc. with print chairs. I bought it and it never sold at $219 but it will go during this sale, I bet. $146 takes it away. Another Douglas 5 pc. Dinette with butcher block harm proof top. 4 sunny yellow chairs - was $139 now a melting $93.

Lay it on — BIG DEAL Carpet Remnants from $134 to $181 now at a soft $95 to $128.

As we have said before, this listing is only partial We couldn't possibly list everything. So, if you don't see what you want, come in and ask. Chances are you won't be disappointed. And remember, you don't need a lot of cash. Our "instant credit" extended payment plan makes it easy to afford our 30 Hours of Savings.

Mike, Michael, & Heidi will be most happy to see you.

RENT IT! from

George & Carol Parknowitz

The jack plane is an essential tool for proper wood-working. You plane wood in order to make wood flat and straight. The jack plane is easier to use — especially for beginning carpenters — because it is larger than other types. A shorter plane tends to trace a roller-coaster path over the faults in the wood. Be careful how you apply the pressure as you plane. When the plane is at either end of the surface it lies partly on the wood, the rest overhanging. Make sure you press down only on that end of the plane which sits directly on the wood. Otherwise the ends of the wood's surface will curve down in relation to the middle.

If there is a do-it yourself carpenter in your house and he or she is lacking a particular tool for the project, don't run out and buy one, come on down to TECUMSEH RENTAL CENTER, 112 S. Pearl, 423-4470 where we are sure to have that tool that you will need to finish your project. "Why buy when it's cheaper to rent," and it just might be a tool that you won't need to use ever again. We are located right in the heart of Tecumseh and we would be only too happy to have you stop in our store and let us show you around. Open: 9 a.m.-8 p.m., Sun. 9-3.

HANDY TIP:

Use a straight edge to test the flatness of the wood. If the surface has been planed properly the straight edge should not pivot too easily.

Through My Window

by Marda Gene Duncan

The telephone rang and Gertie S., with a smile in her voice, wanted to chat about mourning doves. I knew exactly what she had been watching. I also had to agree that whoever used doves as a sign of peace and tranquility was certainly misguided if he had been thinking about our mourning doves. They may look quiet and non-combative but they do not always live up to their looks. In fact, mourning doves can be quite scrappy and belligerent.

What Gertie S. had been watching is exactly what we have so often chuckled at — mourning doves spending almost as much time chasing each involve one bird actually running toward another and at other times merely a raised wing is sufficient warning.

On rare occasions the near-my window feeder has been the scene of actual combat. When the disagreement is this serious, one dove lunges at the other and yes, the fight can be wing to wing and bill to bill. Feathers sometimes fly. However, the disagreements seldom go this far.

The times when we really applaud the mourning doves for disregarding their peaceful image is when a bluejay comes to the feeder. Now most birds will not even begin to argue with a jay. When they zoom down everybody leaves. And leaves in a hurry. Everybody, that is, except the mourning dove.

Not always does it happen but often we have seen a mourning dove stand its ground, or rather feeding-tray. Instead of beating a hasty retreat the dove stays put and the bluejay can either 'take it or leave it'.

We have pictures of doves and jays eating together and we also have slides of dove raising its wing to the jay. So few birds will challenge the bullying tactics of a bluejay that it is a great treat when a mourning dove does, and does it successfully.

Of course, the other day we saw a dove in a quite different rôle. Instead of being brave it was exactly the opposite, a 'scardey-cat' coward. This winter some of the real tyrants of the near-my-window feeders are the trim, yet bratty tree sparrows.

Such pretty birds, with a soft gray breast unmarked except for a single dark stick-pin, and the henna color on top of the head, it is hard to believe they have such nasty dispositions. They do though. Seldom are they of a mind to share the feeder and seldom are they particular, or even cautious, about whom they invite to leave. Size makes no difference.

Even knowing this, we were never-the-less surprised to see a tree sparrow crouch down, open his bill and challenge a mourning dove. We were even more surprised when the mourning dove fled. How ridiculous.

Later in the day the tables were turned and when the same two combatants faced off the outcome was different. Actually I do not know whether it was the same mourning dove and tree sparrow or whether it was simply a mourning dove and a tree sparrow.

However, when the two birds met on the same feeder both went into their challenge or threat poses. Up went the dove's wing and open snapped the tree sparrow's mouth. This time it was the tree sparrow who left.

In spite of the many times they are scrappy and feisty these lovely doves, with such long graveful necks and small heads, Round chesty bodies and slender pointed tails, can be the epitomy of peace.

What is more calm and tranquil looking than to see two mourning doves sitting close together? These truly are the birds who bill and coo.

I hardly need to say that this has been a hard and cold winter. Our beloved Evans Creek is now completely frozen, as least that part of it which flows through our west window-picture is.

For many weeks, however, there was an open area and it was interesting to watch it gradually shrink. There must be a spring in this particular spot for there were a surprising number of sub-zero days before the ice finally sealed it over.

Before this happened oh how the birds did congregate. A marvelous, and necessary, drinking fountain.

Our winter's flock of mourning doves is large and often the whole gang gathered. To see a dozen doves, bunched shoulder to shoulder, completely ringing the last little open waterhole on the creek, is one of the many things which we will long remember about this winter.

'Bicentennial' Choir Resumes Rehearsals

CLINTON — Clinton Community Choir, formerly known as the Bicentennial Choir, will resume rehearsals, Feb. 9 at 8:30 p.m. at United Church of Christ.

Director Peg Geiger would like all past members of the choir to come as well as anyone else who wishes to join the group.

At this meeting future rehearsals will be planned and activities discussed.

Any singers who are unable to attend the first rehearsal but plan to come later are asked to call Mrs. Geiger, 456-4045.

Organist Is Honored

CLINTON — More than 75 members of the congregation met for a potluck dinner at the United Church of Christ, Sunday.

The occasion was arranged by the Serendipity Class as a baby shower for Carolyn and Larry Dicks.

Mrs. Dicks, church organist and choir director at the church for several years, received a variety of gifts, including a hand embroidered crib quilt, made by Serendipity Class members.

Several church groups, together, presented the honored couple with a rocking chair, and others filled an envelope with cash.

Scouts Honor Peg Rockwell

CLINTON — Mrs. Joseph Rockwell was the recipient of Scouting's highest award, the Lenape District Award of Merit, presented to her at the Lenape Annual Recognition Dinner at Eagles Hall, Adrian, Saturday night.

Award included a plaque, certificate and silver knot of honor.

Peg Rockwell is the first woman to receive the honor in this district. Award is based on scouting work, community involvement and involvement with the total scouting program.

Pet Rockwell has served four years in scouting, on the scout committee for one year and as an assistant for one year.

She has recently been named cubbing chairman in a reorganization program for the Cub Scout Round Table Commission for Lenape.

Her work will concern the administration of 20 Cub Scout Packs in the district.

Wrestlers Lose 1st League Dual Meet

Tecumseh's wrestling squad suffered a dual meet loss at the hands of New Boston Huron Tuesday night 35-15.

The Indians and Huron were unbeaten in the league before the deciding match. The loss dropped Tecumseh's dual meet record to 9-3 overall and in second place in the league.

Tecumseh had four wins against Huron Tuesday. Dan Yoder, 132 pounds, decisioned his opponent 14-1, Dan Tilton, 155, also won on decision 6-0, John Silberhorn, 165 won 13-4 and Kevin Eggleston, 178 triumphed 8-3.

Coach Pat Connors said of the loss, "I thought we wrestled reasonably well. We made a good honest effort. We won the matches we were supposed to win and Huron won the matches they were supposed to win. There were a few in between that could have gone either way and they went their way."

The Skins now post a 7-6 overall record, 2-2 in the LCAA League.

They travel to Morenci this Thursday participating in the LCAA League meet at Hudson this Saturday. Next Tuesday they close out their dual meet season by hosting Vandercook.

Squad Loses 7-1

Tecumseh's club hockey squad fell to B Division leaders Hanover-Horton 7-1 last Sunday.

Tecumseh's only goal was the first in the contest and came in the second period from Randy Mueller. Dave Perry assisted.

The loss dropped the team's record to 2-10-1.

Bart Newman is back with the team having recovered from a hunting accident that occurred last fall

This Sunday the team travels to Lansing to play Everett at 6 p.m.

St. Mary's Defeats Tecumseh

Tecumseh's volleyball squad suffered its first loss this season dropping a 15-12, 15-9 contest to St. Mary's last Wednesday.

Sandy Dunn had seven serving points in the match followed by Patty Brosamer five, Debbie Steadley and Tori Iffland three, Sandy MacGeorge two, and Tammy Downing one.

The junior varsity also lost their match. They won the first game 20-18, but lost the last two 15-8, 15-5.

Lisa Caterina was tops in serving against St. Mary's for the JV's with 11 serving points. Kim Adams had nine.

The varsity is now 4-1 on the season and 1-1 in the Huron League. The junior varsity is 2-3 overall and 1-1 in the league.

The Airport match — scheduled for Wednesday of this week — has been rescheduled for Feb. 17. This Thursday the team travels to Adrian and then to the Kellogg Community College Tournament this Saturday. Next Monday they travel to Ann Arbor Huron. Next Wednesday the Indians host Grosse Ile.

Redskin Cagers Fall to Hudson Tigers, 75-51

7th Graders Victorious

The Skins used two defensive presses and also held their turnovers to a minimum.

Indian Cagers Squeak By Blissfield, 64-62

Tecumseh's varsity cagers came up with two wins defeating Catholic Central 57-41 last Saturday and Blissfield 64-62 on Tuesday night of this week.

With 10 seconds left, Ben Maves came up with two points to tie the game. Bret DesErmia intercepted a Royals pass and attempted to hand it off to Jeff Hans under the Indian basket. The pass was deflected and Maves came up with it putting the ball into the basket to ice the win for Tecumseh.

The Indians connected on 23 of 53 from the floor for 43.3 percent. The Royals succeeded on 22 of 71 for 30.9 percent. Both teams dumped 18 charity shots.

Blissfield beat Tecumseh on the boards outrebounding the Indians 49-35 but suffered 37 turnovers to 26 for the tribe.

Dave Bilkie had six of the teams' 17 steals. Lyndon Hughes led in scoring for the Indians with 17. Hans and Bilkie each had 12.

In the Monroe Catholic Central game, The Indians grabbed a quick lead dumping 10 of 16 for 62 percent in the first quarter.

By the half they led 46-23 adding 10 in the third frame to five for the Falcons.

Overall, Tecumseh shot 39 percent of their attempts from the field sinking 24 of 62. The Falcons made 17 of 47 from the floor for 36 percent. Both teams completed seven foul shots.

Monroe had problems with turnovers losing the ball 35 times to 19 for the Indians.

Jeff Hans led in scoring with 20 followed by Dave Bohannon with 12. Lyndon Hughes had 10 of the team's 37 rebounds.

JV's Post Two Wins

The Indian junior varsity unit garnered two more wins beating Monroe Catholic Central 62-56 last Saturday and Blissfield 47-46 Tuesday night of this week.

In the Monroe game, the Indians trailed 32-30 at the half. The contest was close all the way. The Falcons were in the lead 43-40 at the end of the third quarter.

Tecumseh garnered 22 points in the final frame to 13 for Monroe to take the victory.

John Faulkner made a key play late in the game when he blocked a Falcon shot and rebounded his own shot.

Glen Shough led in scoring with 18 followed by Mark Creswell with 15, Faulkner with 12 and Greg Borton with 10.

The squad made 24 of 38 foul shots.

Coach Carl Novak said, "The defense made the difference. We had the press on for the entire game. John Osworth played a good defensive game."

It was close all the way against the Blissfield Royals Tuesday night. Tecumseh was ahead 34-33 at the end of the third frame.

The Indians now post a 12-2 record overall, 8-2 in the league. They host Airport this Friday traveling to Grosse Ile next Tuesday.

Jr. High Squads Triumph

Running Water To Save Money - Rate Cut 5%

Tecumseh City Council voted Monday night to discount by five percent the total water bill of residential users for the next quarter. City wants to encourage residential users to run water at home to avoid freezing pipes.

Council hopes the discount will induce residents to take action and offset some of their expense.

Only a fine stream is necessary and according to city officials it is a lot less costly to run water than have frozen pipes.

City has already had 60 calls for frozen water pipes — an unprecidented rate. Water pipe leads are supposed to be five feet below ground. In some areas frost has penetrated 52 inches already and continues to penetrate. "It's getting serious," said Cal Zorn, city manager.

Fire Rate, Future Planning Approved

Tecumseh City Council agreed Monday night that Tecumseh Township would not pay more than present $6,000 fee for fire calls to the township during the next year.

Council raised the flat fee last year but this year it decided to keep the rate the same because fire calls reported for six months from June 1 to December 1 showed only seven calls in Tecumseh Township. Calls for 1975-76 totaled 20.

Tecumseh City Council and Tecumseh Township officials also agreed that in future requests for city sewer and water, the city township and parties concerned should have a joint meeting.

"I think we should assure each other," said Mayor Harold Easton, "that we are willing to talk to each other about this thing at any time. That's more important than any hard and fast rules." Easton said decisions would probably continue to be handled on a case by case basis.

School Officials on Drop-In Panel

New programs and changes in the Tecumseh Public Schools will be the topic for the community Drop-In Center on Feb.15 at 9:30 a.m. at the United Methodist Church, Bishop Reed Dr. off Brown Street in Tecumseh.

Interested adults are welcome to attend this public meeting sponsored by a Parent's Committee, the Tecumseh Public Schools and the school social workers, Betty Phillippi and Edna Mae Henkels.

Free babysitting will be provided by the high school National Honor Society.

Some of the possible topics to be presented will be the new addition at the high school, changes in school schedules, closed campus at the junior high, new personnel and the career education survey.

The panel will include School Superintendent Robert Duhan and principals Lois Fleming, Herrick Park and Ridgeway, Cynthia Opelt, Patterson, William P. Clark, Tecumseh Acres, Tom Sura, Sutton and Tipton, David Dick, junior high and Clarence Lacny, high school and assistant high school principals Michael McAran and Robert Riemersma.

An informal talk session with the principals will begin at 10:30 a.m. after a brief coffee break.

Mary Heglin is the program chairman and Jane Holt is arrangements chairman. Fran Foster and Martha Poppink are the hostesses.

This is the final meeting of the Community Drop-In Center, formerly the Parent Drop-In Center which has been providing programs and discussions on vital topics for the community for over five years.

Honoring Vic during Game

An open house in his honor will be in the high school cafeteria immediately after the game. Friends and former athletes are invited to attend.

The testimonial is sponsored by the Indian Fan Club and coaching staff. Vic Lawson was involved with Tecumseh Basketball from 1953 until this school year and during his years as varsity coach, the Indians had some of their greatest teams.

Meet Tuesday

The Tecumseh Area Town Meeting Action Committee will meet at 7 p.m. Tuesday, Feb. 15 at the Tecumseh Public Library to formalize the follow-up committee.

Any interested person in following up the suggestions of the Town Meeting of October 1976 is welcome to attend this organizational meeting.

Bank Closes for Holiday

All offices of the United Savings Bank will be closed Saturday, Feb. 12, in observance of Lincoln's birthday.

First Federal is not affected since it is normally closed on Saturday.

The post office will be open as usual, but will be closed on Feb. 21 in observance of Washington's birthday.

Estimate B&E Loss at $1,700

Police investigated 13 complaints this week, including two breaking and enterings and an assault and battery on a Tecumseh officer.

In the B & E at Whelans early Thursday, a number of suspects apparently pushed in a back window to unlock the back door. They then went through the entire building, taking over $1,700 in tools and other items. Police do have three suspects in the case.

Thieves broke a window to gain entry and took $959 worth of tools from Arrow Auto Parts, 3421 Russell Rd. in an overnight break-in Jan. 30. The theft was discovered and reported to the sheriff's deputies Jan. 31 by the owner of the business, Frank J. Myers of Tecumseh.

In the assault and battery on a policeman Monday, officer Richard Royal received a call about a family dispute at the Alverez residence. Officer Royal found brothers Robert Gonzalez, 28, and Antonio Alverez, 24, fighting.

Royal stepped between the two when he was struck on the back of the head. He then stopped a flying ash tray with his hand.

Gonzalez was then arrested on assault charges. Both his mother and police asked Gonzalez to leave repeatedly, but he would not. After he was finally in the patrol car, Gonzalez reportedly kept kicking at the door to get out.

In one of two broken window cases this week, Pat's Craft Studio window was broken with chunks of ice Saturday night. The front D & C store window was also broken. Police found beer and pop bottles against the D & C and Hanna buildings. There were no apparent entries.

A resume of other complaints includes:

Feb. 3 — Michael W. Murphy, 25, of Onsted was arrested for possession of marijuana early Thursday morning. Police found the Murphy auto hazardously parked on Adrian St., near the Wolf building. Attempts to arouse Murphy were not very sucessful, but police were able to transport him to the station. The alledged marijuana was found on the subject as police were taking inventory of his possessions.

Thomas Calzada, 17, of 907 Murray, was arrested for trespassing at the high school here after he was repeatedly told to leave the building. Calzada was expelled from the school at the time.

Feb. 4 — Thomas Counts, 615 W. Cummins, reported the theft of a battery, alternator, and antenna. Counts' auto reportedly broke down over a week ago at 905 W. Chicago. The owner found the articles gone when he went to recover the car.

Feb.5 — Robert J. Bennett, 32, of Detroit was arrested for driving with a suspended license when police observed him traveling the wrong way on Evans St.

Darryl Staup, 600 Blanchard, reported broken glass at his residence. He found a rock thrown through one storm window and a BB type shot through the storm and kitchen window.

Feb. 7 — Jan Roe, 719 Seneca, reported the larceny of a CB and drill kit from her auto while parked in the garage. Estimated loss has been set at $390.

Gregory Downard, of 108 S. Democrat, reported malicious destruction to his auto after he found someone put sugar in his gas tank while the auto rested in his drive during the night.

9 Accidents, 5 Are Cited

Tecumseh police investigated nine accidents this week as driving conditions began to improve. One incident did send a passenger to Herrick.

Wednesday, Shirley M. Hilton, 34, of 103 Burt stopped in the 100 block of S. Evans to unload her passengers when David L. Smith, 18, of 202 E. Pottawatamie, struck the rear of her auto.

Betty L. Smith, of Holloway Rd., was thrown to the ground as she was stepping out of the auto. She received bruises and was treated at Herrick. Two other passengers in the auto bumped their heads.

Smith reportedly left the scene after asking if anyone was hurt, and then returned with his father. Smith was cited for failing to have his vehicle under control and for driving with a suspended license.

A resume of other reports includes:

Feb. 2 — William G. Klager, 43, of Saline stopped for a sign on Adrian at Chicago when an auto driven by Louise E. Barnard, 31, 602 Stacy, struck him in the rear.

Barton A. Gillin, 27, of 1307 Southwestern, told police he was stopped in traffic on Chicago to make a left onto Democrat when a second auto struck him in the rear. Michael D. Kniseley, 20, of 106 S. Maumee, was cited for violating the speed law. He skidded 63 feet before striking the Gillin auto.

Feb. 3 — Raymond Chisolm, 46, of Ann Arbor, skidded to a stop on W. Chicago, near Evans St., when he struck a parked auto belonging to James L. Yoder, of Tecumseh.

Timothy G. Smith, 19, of 602 Island, was cited for careless driving. Smith reportedly spun his tires from the Center-Herrick intersection and drove up on the lawn at 400 Center. He then got back onto the road and drove back on a second lawn at 409 Herrick Park before getting on the road again.

George G. Wood, of 510 Occidental, slid into a mail box on Shady Lane after he attempted to enter a private drive there.

Feb. 4 — Albert J. Seitz, 53, of 504 Murray, pulled into the store lot at the corner of Occidental and Russell as Douglas W. Noirot, of 6967 Green Hwy. was backing. The two bumped.

Feb. 5 — Chester D. Tripp, 17, of 400 Cairns, was cited for failing to have his vehicle under control after he made a left off of Evans onto E. Pottawatamie and skidded into the rear of a parked auto belonging to Ernest Lamkin, of 310 Marlboro.

Feb. 6 — Donald D. Tietsema II, 19, of Tipton was cited for leaving the scene of the accident and for failing to have his vehicle under control. Tietsema reportedly struck two parked autos at the 800 block of S. Occidental Parked cars belonged to Vickie Ely of 511 N. Evans and Marta Garcia of 518 Pawnee Hgts. Tietsema was later arrested by Lenawee Deputies after being picked up on drunk charges.

Jaycees Plan TV Coverage

Chairman Dan Bush reported that live television coverage is planned of the May 22 event at Meyers Airport. Other attractions will include an arts and crafts show, special planes, films, plane rides and parachuters, a pancake breakfast and chicken barbecue.

Door prizes and fun for the whole family will be offered.

Mike Bush was chosen Jaycee of the month.

The Tecumseh Department of Parks and Recreation has approved the Jaycees' purchase of a swing set and slides for Satterthwaite Park and the tot parks.

Set Hearing for Area's Sewer Plan

A public hearing on the proposed Tecumseh Area Wastewater Collection and Treatment Project will be held March 2 at 7:30 at the Community Center.

Purpose of the hearing, sponsored by the Lenawee County Drain Commissioner, Donald E. Mitchell, is to receive comments and views from interested parties on the project and environmental impact of the proposed alternatives.

Total costs for Tecumseh is approximately $3,023,100. These would include improvements to the local wastewater plant, such as a grit chamber, new 24-inch line across Globe Mill Pond, settling tank, primary tank, aeration tank and phosphate removal equipment.

Present sewer line across the pond is said to be leaking.

Tecumseh Township's project cost has been estimated at $2,374,800; Village of Britton and nearby built up areas in Ridgeway Township for waste stabilization lagoons, $2,011,800; and a collection system in Raisin Township with treatment at Tecumseh, Adrian or a local facility, $6,984,000.

Government has authorized allocations that would cover approximately 80 percent of eligible costs. Local governments, Tecumseh and the townships, would be responsible for the balance.

Cal Zorn, city manager, says Tecumseh would receive about $2.4 million since all of its project costs have been considered eligible for government funds.

Unlike the townships, which would probably have to raise their share by increasing millage, the city could make up the difference through revenue or general obligation bonds, Zorn explains.

Macon Township was included in the study, conducted by two different engineering firms, but no action was taken since it was decided that the need did not justify the cost, Mr. Mitchell reported.

Copies of the plan are available at city hall, offices of the township supervisors, Village of Britton office, and the office of the Drain Commissioner.

Non-Resident Cemetery Lot Fee Opposed

Tecumseh City Council was advised Monday night by city manager Cal Zorn that "one of our funeral directors is dissatisfied with our recent changes in the charges for cemetery grave sites."

The manager's report continued: "With this dissatisfaction, we have been refused payment of non-resident fees and asked to place the adjacent grave site in the funeral directors wife's name, later to be transferred to the person desiring to use it for burial, and eliminating the non-resident charge."

The director in question was not named by the manager. Zorn said he was asked not to reveal the name by the city attorney.

The funeral director did not appear at Monday's council meeting.

At the Jan. 17 meeting the manager's report stated: "Gil Purse would like to discuss our cemetery rate charges. He would like us to remove the non-resident fee, and, or a clarification of resident and non-resident."

Purse did not appear at that meeting and action was postponed.

Council changed grave lot prices to $150 for residents and $250 for non-residents a few months ago. A resident was defined as a person living within the city limits.

Purse told The Tecumseh Herald his only question was "Can a resident buy a family plot and bury a non-resident in that lot?"

He said he did not ask the question in the manager's Feb. 7 report.

Asked if there were a misunderstanding of his question, Purse said: "I could never get an answer (to my question) so there can't be any misunderstanding." He said he did not refuse payment of non-resident fees.

Roger Proctor, of Proctor Funeral Home, said they were cooperating with the city and are not involved in the present discussion relative to resident and non-resident fees for cemetery lots.

Players' Cast Picked for 'Ruth'

Plan now for an evening of laughter when the Tecumseh Players presents its spring production, scheduled for Feb. 25, 26, and March 3, 4 and 5 at the Community Center.

"Dear Ruth" is a lighthearted comedy written by Norman Krasna. It takes place during World War II and deals with a wealthy New York couple and their two daughters, the younger of whom has written several letters to servicemen, enclosing her older sister's photo and signing her sister's name.

Hysterical complications develop when one of the boys arrives at the home of his 'pen pal' just a week before she is scheduled to marry a prominent banker.

Directing the Players for the first time is Richard Pahl of Swanton, Ohio. He is a graduate of Siena Heights College with a bachelor of arts in theatre. Pahl has combined a cast of some first time performers with familiar regulars.

In the title role of "Ruth" is Marcia Osterhout, who was "Adelaide" in the fall show "Calamity Jane". Her younger sister "Miriam" is played by Susan Mills, a Tecumseh High junior. This is her first major role, though she has appeared many times on stage.

Parents of the girls are played by two well-known Tecumsehites – Fred Taylor as easy-going "Judge Wilkins", and Lori Egli as his wife, "Edith". Lori was last seen in "Ten Little Indians", while Fred is remembered as "Mr. Interlocutor" of the Minstrel Show.

Another all-around favorite, and veteran of many productions, Dr. Carlton Cook is the solid, respectable "older man" to whom Ruth is engaged.

Appearing in his first role with the Players is Danny Bohannon of Tecumseh, who plays the part of the young lieutenant "Bill Seawright", who comes to claim Ruth's affections.

Two more newcomers to the stage are Ricki Speller, as the lieutenant's sister, and Jo Ann Dalgard, as the Wilkins' maid. Completing the cast are Gary Rader, remembered as "Doc Pierce", this time appearing as an army sergeant. And in the role of the sailor is Kim Swift, the unforgettable "Francis Fryer" of "Calamity Jane."

Reservations are now being taken at 423-5255 for all performances. Advertisers, patrons, and season ticket holders are especially urged to call as soon as possible to insure seats at the performance of their choice.

Due to limited capacity, prior reservations are absolutely essential.

As an alternate number only, reservations may also be obtained at 423-2504.

Tecumseh's wrestlers came home in better shape than one of the fans Saturday night. Sharon Connors received a blow to the left eye from an exuberant Tecumseh booster. The coach's wife of the Carlson team must have thought Tecumseh takes losses hard whenshe saw the tears streaming down Sharon's face. And the doctor couldn't resist asking Sharon who won. But sports that they are Sharon and the Tecumseh fan are still friends.

A friend in need is a friend indeed. Betty and Lonal Bishop of 216 N. VanBuren stopped to help some motorists heading home from the Lansing area. Not until the stranded travelers got into the Bishops' van did they recognize the Tom Jacobys of 703 Ternes Rd. The Jacobys were on the way home after a visit with son, Kent at Michigan State University. The Bishops were returning from visiting relatives in St. John's "Tecumseh is a pretty nice place," said Mrs. Jacoby, "Small town people stop to help each other."

Music Makers Meet

The Tecumseh Music Makers, a member of the Michigan Federation of Music Clubs, met Sunday in the Missionary Baptist Church.

Piano solos were presented by Lynn Boyd, playing "Caribbean Blue" by Lynn Freeman Olson; Jeannie McLeod, playing "Toccatina" by Kabalevsky; and Cheryl Peck, playing "Two Part Invention, No. 15," by J.S. Bach and "Prelude To A Fairy Tale" by Denes Agay.

Refreshments were served by Alison Phillips and Marty Perkins.

Next meeting will be held on March 6 at the Missionary Baptist Church.

Father-Daughter Banquet Plans

Plans were made for the father-daughter banquet at the Feb. 2 meeting of the Tecumseh United Methodist Women. The banquet will be Feb. 16 at 6:30 p.m. Mrs. Erwin Buss is ticket chairman.

Mrs. Don Rodehaver presided at the meeting Tuesday. In a call for prayer and self-denial, Mrs. Robert Miller challenged the women to pray for special missions at home and abroad during February. A special denial offering will be taken at the March meeting.

Program for the evening was "There is a little Eve in every woman." Mrs. William Goodrich and other members of the Charlotte sub-group conducted the celebration of woman. The women discussed the advantages of being created women. Smaller discussion groups talked about motherhood, ourselves and our bodies, the role of wife, the role of women and sex education.

Next meeting entitled "Tax Resistance in the Christian" will be March 2.

Warns Linen Needs Air

Any anonymous caller gave this tip to The Herald regarding energy conservation: Keep air curculating wherever clothing, and linens are stored.

The caller said she and her family decided that they could sleep without heat in the upstairs bedrooms to help conserve energy. When a daughter took a blanket from a closet in an unused room, she found quilts had "sweat" and the things in the closet were covered with mildew.

Caller suggested readers "check things before they're absolutely ruined."

Friendship Club To Meet Friday

The Friendship Club, sponsored by the Ann Arbor Recreation Department, will meet at Pattengill School, 2100 Crestland Dr., Ann Arbor on Friday, Feb. 11 at 7:30 p.m.

Single people over 39 are invited.

Talking It Out
LESTER D. PROCTOR
We perform at least 85 services for a funeral!
We handle a myriad of details for each funeral to meet the special wishes and needs of the family. As funeral directors, we often help out for several months after the funeral to make sure all details are completed.
It is important for funeral directors to consult at length with the family on literally dozens of details. Here are just a few of them:
FUNERAL: setting its time and who is to officiate; choice of casket and clothing, music, Scriptures, etc.
CEMETERY: purchase of grave lot or of family plot; opening and closing of grave; getting permits.
NOTICES: arranging death certificates, obituaries, notifying fraternal (or other) groups, distant relatives.
FUNERAL DAY: organizing service details; helping conduct service; providing family cars and organizing procession.
CLAIMS: helping family file for Social Security, military, union or insurance benefits.
Any of the 85 service details can cause grief when not handled right. We have to give Every funeral 110% of our time and attention to perform a service which comforts and fulfills the family's needs.

4-H Day at Mall Is February 12

The many 4-H Clubs of Lenawee County have put together a day of fun and learning for the public's enjoyment.

4-H Day starts early with the different clubs setting up their booths from 9 a.m. until noon. Soon after, a 4-H dog club will give a demonstration on training, and at 12:30 p.m. the 4-H clowns will make themselves up to "clown around" throughout the day.

At 1 p.m. talent comes to the Mall witht he 4-H'ers presenting a talent show for all, followed by the expanded nutrition program in the spotlight at 1:30 and 3 p.m., presenting puppet shows on nutrition.

After judging of the booths at 1:30 p.m. a minifloat parade and judging is planned for 2:30 p.m. A style show with 4-H'ers modeling purchased garments as well as garments they've made will be at 3:30 p.m., followed by the Adrian High School Balladiers performing at 4:30 p.m.

Club booths will be released at 5 p.m., but that does not end the day. From 6-9 p.m. the 4-H'ers invite one and all to come in and square dance with them.

New this year is the 4-H Drop-In Center. Located behind Lenawee Camera's shop, the Drop-In Center will be set up all day showing slides about 4-H and answering any questions.

BOOKMARK

Medical Topics at the Library

Health is a subject of vital concern to everyone. The following books on medical topics can be checked out free at Tecumseh Public Library.

One of the most suspenseful stories published this fall was non-fiction — Jody, by Jerry Hulse. The author is a former investigative reporter whose wife was stricken with a blockage near the brain which only emergency surgery could relieve.

In order to perform surgery, the doctors needed a medical history of her parents, but Jody had been adopted and had absolutely no knowledge of her real parents. With only eight days to act, Jerry Hulse set out to track down the vital information. Written very movingly, this beats anything seen on television.

An exciting part of parenthood is watching a child's speech develop. Is Your Child's Speech Normal? by Jon Eisenson, is not only a guide to spotting speech problems, but an introduction to speech development and how to help children express their thoughts more adequately.

Would you like to be a more informed, responsible patient and know your responsibilities and obligations in a doctor-patient relationship? Winfred Van Atta, co-author of You Can Predict and Prevent Your Heart Attack, and A. Ward Gardner, M. D., author of over a dozen medical books, have written a new book called the Good Housekeeping Dictionary of Symptoms. Subtitled "An Encyclopedic Guide to Medical Complaint, Symptoms, and Terms," this book lists hundreds of physical signs and their possible causes in layman's terms. Not to be used as a "Home Doctor" for self-analysis, sections are included on how to choose a doctor, and precisely what to expect in different kinds of examinations.

Male Trouble, by Gilbert Cant, is a concise guide to prostate disorders and treatment. The author, 21 years the medical editor of Time, details the symptoms for early detection of common enlargement as well as cancer of the prostate. Wonder drugs, surgery, and the future of research are also discussed. The author urges men to seek medical attention at the first signs of disorder while emphasizing that research has improved the chances of recovery.

The Patient's Guide to Surgery (How to Make the Best of Your Operation) by Lawrence Galton, is surgery needed, postoperative care. Part II discusses choosing a surgeon, checking into different kinds of hospitals, and the fees involved in operations. Background about tools and equipment is included to inform, prepare, and lessen the anxiety of the patient. The author also talks about preparing yourself or your child psychologically for an operation.

The cover of The Contact Lens Book says "Must reading....for everyone who does wear or might ever wear contact lenses." Written by Robert J. Morrison, whose patients include almost all of the royal families of Europe and Asia and several U. S. government officials, this book answers questions frequently asked by contact lens wearers. Dr. Morrison is well qualified to write on this subject; he was assigned the patent for soft contact lenses. A glossary and manual of wear and care of both hard and soft lenses concludes the book.

Do you know how to avoid the flu or how to ease your suffering when you have it? Part I of What to do about the Flu—answers these questions plus gives steps to prevent the flu from developing into pneumonia. Part II gives the history of mankinds fight against the flu from 1137 to the present controversial Swine Flu. The appendices of Part III list anti flu and survival tips and an "Anti-Flu Diet". Dr. Pascal J. Imperato, head of N.Y. cities Swine Flu Program wrote this book after much experience in treating infectious diseases.

MR. and MRS. JAMES CREGER

June Drummonds, James Creger Wed

June Drummonds and James A. Creger were married Dec. 8 by the Rev. Seal Janeway at the Missionary Baptist Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Cole, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Creger, all of Tecumseh.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride wore a floor length gown of white satin and lace, an elbow length veil, and carried a Christmas bouquet of red and white carnations with pine greenery.

The couple resides in Tecumseh.

Jazz Band In Festival

Tecumseh High School jazz band directed by George Bach will participate in the first Jazz Weekend for Adrian College on Feb. 11, 12 and 13.

Tecumseh High School band will perform at 8 p.m. Friday at Dawson Auditorium. There is no admission charge.

Guest soloist and clinician is Fred Bunch, who is considered one of the best in his field and has played with many different jazz bands.

Other ensembles participating this weekend are from East Lansing Community College, Henry Ford Community College and Hesperia High School.

The weekend is intended to be an educational experience for the students not a competition.

$252 Million Kept in Trust

Chairman Thomas A. Murphy announced today that $252.6 million is being paid or kept in trust for 89,900 U.S. salaried employes participating in the 1973 Class of the General Motors savings-stock purchase program that matured Dec. 31, 1976. Of these employees, 67,800 elected to receive distribution immediately.

The overall return to the employe is the equivalent of $2.18 for every dollar saved by participating employes during 1973, Murphy said.

A total of 75 Tecumseh area employes participated in the GM savings-stock purchase program. These employes received $191,066 as a result of their investing $87,645 in 1973.

There are two investment options under the Program. Participants in the Class of 1973 who elected to have one-half of their savings invested in U.S. Series E Bonds realized a return of $2.14 for each dollar of savings, while those who elected to have one-half of their savings invested in diversified government securities realized a return of $2.23.

Letters to the Editor

The Editor

Further thoughts to the busing controversy of Jan. 27th.

It is this writer's opinion that an investigation should be conducted by the Board of Education into this incident as there is more to this than just the closing or not closing of the school system on a given day.

The decision was a stupid one, but who among us has not made a stupid decision once or twice during their life time.

The matter before us is the character of the man that holds this responsible position.

If the statements on the front page of the Herald are true, then Mr. Cooley should be congratulated. His keenness of mind and his energy put forth are far more than what would be normally expected of a school official.

However, if the statements made by Mrs. J. Jones are true, then Mr. Cooley's resignation should be demanded. Credence must be given to her statments due to the assumption that she is the wife of a member of the Board of Education and privy to information that others are not.

Harry Vischer Jr.
9340 Newburg Court

(Editor's Note: Gene Cooley, assistant superintendent, made the decision to hold classes on Thursday, Jan. 27, after he and bus supervisor made a personal 4 a.m. inspection of the roads. Right or wrong, he made the decision and says he did not feel road conditions at that time threatened the safety of bus students. As to being absent from his office on Friday, Jan. 28, he made arrangements well in advance of that day, with Supt. Robert Duhan. A statement that cancellation of classes on Jan. 27 would force the schools to hold classes on Jan. 28 is false. Friday, Jan. 28, was a scheduled inservice, or records day, for teachers. The Herald should have pointed out some fallacies in last week's two letters, referred to here by Mr. Vischer. Also, one letter was from Mrs. A. Jones, not Mrs. J. Jones as printed.)

To the Editor:

The two letters published in the 2 February 1977 issue of The Herald are controversial from my viewpoint.

Neither letter published reflected the writer's address. Neither writer is identified in the telephone book for this area; the Tecumseh School Administration office stated that neither of the writers can be identified from information available to them.

The Tecumseh Herald personnel advised that a clarification of writer's name signature ("Mrs. J. Jones" to "Mrs. A. Jones") would be made in the next Herald issue. This should stop rumors that my wife (or myself) authored that letter.

To avoid future embarressment, it is strongly recommended that complete identity of author of each Letter To The Editor published be completely identified.

Personally, I believe that Mr. Cooley is outstanding in his performance as Assistant Superintendent of our Tecumseh School District Administration and I resent the insinuations contained in these two letters.

I am interested to know complete identity of the authors of these two letters.

Letters without complete author identification serve no useful purpose and can easily result in more serious and legal consequences.

Very truly yours,
Dean W. Jones

Report Gas Leaks

The extremely cold weather has put the gas distribution system of Consumers Power under an unusual strain because of the unprecedented depth of frost, said K.L. Chichester, Adrian district manager of the south central region of Consumers Power.

"The gas distribution system is subjected to the same stress as the water systems and is suffering almost as much," Chichester added.

Consumers Power asks residents report to Consumers Power Co. any odor of gas or any unusual gaseous smell that they might detect in or around their homes.

"We have emergency crews ready 24 hours a day seven days a week who will respond to such calls," Chichester said.

Telephone is listed under Consumers Power Co.

Chichester added, "Gas may travel under frozen ground before coming to the surface, we ask that everyone report the odor of gas whether or not they have gas service in their own home."

The extremely cold weather has also put an extra burden on furnaces and increased the likelihood of carbon monoxide leaks."

Chichester explained that carbon monoxide is a by product of the incomplete combustion of natural gas. "Its presence is difficult to detect because it is invisible, odorless and tasteless," he said.

The symptoms of the presence of carbon monoxide are moisture on windows, smarting of the eyes, dizziness, weakness, nausea, headaches and unconsciousness, Chichester explained.

Chichester asked that residents who suspect the presence of carbon monoxide in their homes contact their heating dealer or Consumers Power Co. "There is no charge by Consumers Power Co. for emergency calls," he added.

As a matter of practice, homeowners should have their space heating equipment inspected for safe operation on an annual basis, he suggested.

Cancer Society Group Meets

The American Cancer Society sponsored group called "Living with Cancer" will meet Feb. 14 at 7:30 p.m. at the United Methodist Church in Adrian.

Meeting is open to general public. Discussion concerns increasing awareness of attitude toward loss.

Lynn Sergbush of Clinton is the facilitator.

Breast Feeding To Be Discussed

The Tecumseh area LaLeche League will be held on Feb. 9 at 8 p.m.

This subject will be "The Art of Breastfeeding - overcoming difficulties."

The League's lending library of books and pamphlets on childbearing and childrearing will also be available.

For further information, readers may call 423-7752 or 456-4903.

Siena President Named To Head Detroit Institute

Dr. Hugh L. Thompson, president of Siena Heights College, since 1971 has been named president of the Detroit Institute of Technology, effective July, 1977.

During his tenure as president of Siena Heights, the enrollment at the college changed dramatically. The number of student increased from less than 500 to over 1000 in 1977. Originally a girls' school, Siena how has an enrollment of 470 men and 592 women.

For The Record

A typographical error was made in a letter to the editor in the Feb. 3 edition. The signer was "Mrs. A. Jones" not "Mrs. J. Jones." The Herald regrets the error and any personal inconvenience.

Meeting Is Rescheduled

Members and friends of the Women's Auxiliary of Goodwill LARC will meet Feb. 14 at 1:30 p.m. in the Beecher St. Plant for the annual Edger Helm Tea which was cancelled in January due to weather.

Chris Moran, director, will speak on the service rendered by the Community Action Center of Lenawee County.

Receives Masters

Cheryl Lou Beasley, 202 Iroquis received her master of arts degree in reading from Eastern Michigan University at the 28th winter commencement in December.

Her husband, Doug, and father, William Stout, Clinton attended the graduation exercises.

The degree teaches educators about the reading process, problems and activities to teach reading.

Cheryl is a third grade teacher at Herrick Park School for Tecumseh Public Schools. She has a daughter, Suzanne, 6, and son, Craig, 1½.

Siena Explores 'Death, Dying' in Program

Everyone experiences losses in one's life: a home, a job, a friendship, a romance, the life of a loved one.

Recent studies show that the grieving process is similar in all of these situations and that people can learn ways to constructively cope with grief before they experience a serious loss.

"Death and Dying — A Life Process" will be offered by the Siena Heights College continuing education program on Wednesdays, Feb. 16 through March 9, from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. in Weber Center, adjacent to the Siena campus.

For further information, or for course registration, contact the Siena Heights College continuing education office at 263-0731, ext. 287 or 238.

Seminar Member

A group of 36 traveled by a chartered bus to Universal Cooperatives at Alliance, Ohio. They toured the lube oil laboratories and were lectured on "What It Takes To Make A Quart of Modern Motor Oil."

The seminar was sponsored by Farmers Petroleum Cooperative, Inc., a major supplier of petroleum supplies to the farm market in Michigan and an affiliate of Michigan Farm Bureau.

WATCHING WINTER AND WINTER WATCHING

As has been said so often, this is an exciting season. There is always something to see. With apologies to all who have "borne the brunt of winter," who have suffered hardships due to the cold and snow - - - well, I speak as an inside person and again must admit that I have enjoyed watching the winter and the winter watching. And no, they are not the same.

The height of watching winter occurred the last Friday in January. An unbelievable day for everyone. Mom kept watching the temperature readings drop, the poor old thermometer almost went berserk.

This was also the day of the great winds. They howled and shrieked. However, the impression was not how the winds were torturing the trees but what they were doing to the snow. Usually we are all fascinated by the wild gyrations of the wind lashed branches and, during this season when the trees were leafless and bare, their frantic 'dances' are fully seen and appreciated. Two Fridays ago we hardly noticed the trees — the wind was so busy with the snow that we had time to watch little else.

The steady blowing built mountains and sculptured drifts. Gusty winds stirred up snow-devils which reminded us of a drive through the Northern New Mexico desert. There the swirling wind blew up whirlpools of sand.

But often, on the day which all of us will remember as one of the worst ever, our window-pictures were nothing but white. The winds seemed to blow "straight out" and as they pick up the snow we could see nothing except a white curtain. This, without a doubt, was a most frightening, also a most exciting day of watching winter. Winter at its wildest.

Needless to say, for me it is the birds and their cold weather actions that afford most of the good winter watching. Today, for example, four mourning doves are literally sun-bathing on the near-my-window feeder. The sun is brilliant and, as it hits the birds, I know how nice and warm it feels. In fact, Mom just had to pull the shades on the west window because the sun peeking through the northern panes was fiery hot on my ear.

Finally, the chickadees have finished fending for themselves and seem more than happy to accept our handouts. They come trouping into the feeders with spirits high, not even the worst days are too bad for them.

And as always we marvel at their soft looking feathers, their black caps, light gray tummies and the pretty gray and white pattern on their backs and wings. They have shiny black eyes and surprisingly little sharp bills. Always, when a chickadee lands on the near-my-window feeder, I think of Eddie and how she used to exclaim that oh, how she would like to cuddle one in her hands.

I keep watching the sunbathing mourning doves and, as much as they seem to enjoy 'soaking up the sunshine' none has repeated yesterday's caper. Then too the sun was bright and, even though the temperature was way below zero, there was still warmth in it.

I watched the dove nibble a quick lunch and was then surprised when she crouched down, pulled her head back into her shoulders, loosened her feathers and just seemed to settle into a comfortable position. The next thing I knew her head was nodding and her eye-lids drooping.

Finally she simply turned her head, half-buried her bill in shoulder or wing feathers and took a nap. The bright and warm sunshine made me a little sleepy too.

But back to the storm of the year. Not only did my eyes have a work-out, my ears did too. They listened to winter in the screaming of the wind but they also heard spring in a bird's song.

One of the joys of our feeders has been the faithful little white-throated sparrows. Actually, they are among the largest sparrows but even this does not make them very large. However, their sparrowish markings are dressed-up with a distinctively stripped head, white throat and, a bright yellow dot between the eye and bill.

Their song is a loud clear whistle which speaks to me of forests and lakes and early spring thanks to superb nature films of Canada which always seem to open with a wilderness scene and background music of this particular song.

In the midst of such furious winter watching and such intense watching of winter this reminder of spring was indeed most appreciated.

Valentine Treat at the Library

The Tecumseh Public Library has a Valentine treat for those who love adventure and Clark Gable. Mutiny on the Bounty is this month's Family Flick feature.

Mutiny on the Bounty, a British warship, sails from London to the south seas under the command of Captain Bligh (Charles Laughton), a perfect symbol of vicious naval discipline, accompanied by Christian (Clark Gable), executive officer, steeped in the tradition of Britain's sea power.

The crew, ex-convicts and men from the slums, mutiny and set Bligh and a small group of faithful followers adrift in a small boat to make their epic ocean crossing of thousands of miles.

Upon arriving in England, Bligh immediately sets out in another boat to scour the seas in search of the Bounty.

Christian, in a haven of Pitcairn's Island, burns the Bounty so there will never be discovery of the survivors of the mutiny. This black and white film won the Best Picture Academy Award in 1935. It will be featured this Feb. 12, from 2 p.m. to approximately 4:30 p.m.

Lillian Meining Opens Meeting

Associate matron, Lillian Meining, opened the February meeting of Tecumseh Chapter 51 O.E.S. with a poem of "Gift of Love." Fourteen members were present.

The charter was draped for Maude Cummins, a member since 1913. She received her life membership in 1948. She died at the Masonic Home in Alma.

Mary Lou Moore, secretary of the Lenawee-Monroe County Association and Carolyn Baker, mother advisor of the Adrian Assembly of Rainbow for Girls 44, was introduced and welcomed.

Refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. Dean Moore.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

Notice is hereby given that the Lenawee County Drain Commissioner will hold a public hearing on the proposed Tecumseh Area Wastewater Collection and Treatment Project for the purpose of receiving comments and views of interested persons. The hearing will be held at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, March 2, 1977 at the Tecumseh Community Center, East Chicago Blvd. (E M-50) Tecumseh, Michigan.

This hearing is for the purpose of receiving comments on the Tecumseh Area Wastewater Collection and Treatment Project Facilities Plan C262724 and the environmental impact of proposed alternatives including that of no action. The following are alternatives addressed in the Facilities Plan which considers the City of Tecumseh, the Village of Britton and the Townships of Tecumseh, Macon, Ridgeway and Raisin.

1. Improvements to the City of Tecumseh's wastewater plant with ultimate effluent discharge to either the River Raisin or a land application area. Approximate total project cost - $3,023,100.
2. Wastewater collection system in the built-up areas of Tecumseh Township, tributary to the City of Tecumseh's plant. Approximate total project cost - $2,374,800.
3. No action in the Township of Macon.
4. Wastewater collection system for the Village of Britton and the nearby built up areas in Ridgeway Township with treatment in waste stabilization lagoons. Approximate total project cost - $2,011,800.
5. Wastewater collection system in the built-up acres of Raisin Township with treatment either at Tecumseh, Adrian or a local facility. Approximate total project cost $6,984,000.

Local costs involved with each alternative will be discussed at this hearing.

Copies of the proposed plan will be available at least thirty days prior to the hearing itself for public inspection at the following offices:

1. Lenawee County Drain Commissioner's Offices.
2. City of Tecumseh, City Hall.
3. Tecumseh Township Supervisor's Office
4. Macon Township Supervisor's Office.
5. Ridgeway Township Supervisor's Office.
6. Raisin Township Supervisor's Office.
7. Village of Britton Offices.

Written comments sent to Donald E. Mitchell, Lenawee County Drain Commissioner, County Building Annex, Front Street, Adrian, Michigan 49221, will be entered into the public hearing records through Wednesday, March 9, 1977.

Donald E. Mitchell
Lenawee County Drain Commissioner

New GT Rates Expected

Although new rates for General Telephone customers went into effect Jan.26, they will not be reflected in customer bills for about two weeks.

The company has at least two weeks to implement the new, generally lower rate schedules recently authorized by the Michigan Public Service Commission.

All rates are retroactive to Jan. 26, however, and if the new rates are not reflected in the next bill for customers, they will be reflected in the following month's bill.

Although both residential and business rates are generally lower, local coin telephone rates were increased from 10 cents to 20 cents, effective following required equipment modifications.

Customers who use coin telephones for long distance calls to points within 20 miles, may also have noticed a rate increase recently, although unrelated to the MPSC order issued last week.

Rates for long distance calls up to 20 miles made from coin telephones were increased from 10 cents to 20 cents on Jan. 10.

Autnorization was given for the increase by the MPSC in May, 1976, pending available facilities, and give final approval on Jan. 10.

Garden Club Joins Campaign

The Tecumseh Garden Club has joined in partnership with The American Land Trust, a new nationwide land preservation effort headed by a citizen's committee of distinguished conservation, business and civic leaders. The announcement was made by Mrs. Maurice McIntosh, president of the Tecumseh Garden Club.

Established in early 1976, The American Land Trust seeks to preserve $200 million worth of significant natural lands, at least one prime area in each of the 50 states during its two-year campaign.

Donations of land and funds to preserve qualifying lands are being sought from concerned private individuals, clubs and corporations. Nathaniel R. Reed, assistant secretary of the U.S. Department of the Interior, is the trust's honorary chairman.

To carry out its program, the Trust has enlisted the assistance of the Nature Conservancy and the National Council of State Garden Clubs, of which the Tecumseh Garden Club is a member.

Since its founding, the American Land Trust has been involved in preservation projects from Maine to Washington. Twelve ecologically outstanding areas have been donated thus far, and 32 separate fund-raising efforts are under way across the country.

Donors of $10 or more to the Trust become honorary trustees and receive an individual certificate. They also receive a free one-year membership in The Nature Conservancy, plus "The Nature Conservancy News" quarterly.

Contributions are tax deductible.

Participates in Exercise

Navy Yeoman Seaman Mark R. Huff, whose wife, Helen, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Williams of 305 W. Shawnee, recently participated in Exercise "Readex 1-77" in the South China and Philippine Seas.

He is serving as a crewmember aboard the guided missile destroyer USS Hoel, homeported in San Diego.

Vice Admiral Robert B. Baldwin, the commander of the U.S. Seventh Fleet, exercised overall control of the maneuvers from his flagship the guided missile cruiser USS Oklahoma City.

"Readex 1-77", which involved 22 ships and nearly 200 aircraft, was designed to test and enhance the antisubmarine and antiair warfare preparedness of participating Seventh Fleet units.

A 1973 graduate of Tecumseh Senior High School, Huff joined the Navy in August 1975.

County Development Office

Lenawee County community leaders announced Thursday the establishment of an economic development office for Lenawee County.

Jim Hadden, Lenawee County commission chairman, reviewed the progress of the Lenawee County Economic Development Committee formed nearly two years ago by former county chairman, Bill Mackey. An overall economic development plan for the county was proposed by Region II planning and approved by the county commission.

The Lenawee County board of commissioners approved funding for the establishment of an economic development office to coordinate and assist local Lenawee County communities in their efforts to promote economic growth and development.

Office would be staffed in the Adrian Area Chamber of Commerce. Ron Reeves, the chamber's general manager, would be the economic development office's executive director and work on county-wide economic development under the direction of the county's overall economic development planning committee.

Reeves has completed a basic industrial development course at the University of Arizona and has worked with several county communities in the past on industrial development and is also the coordinator of the Lenawee County Rail Users Task Force in its ongoing effort to retain county-wide rail service.

Harold Baily, president of the Adrian Area Chamber of Commerce announced the organizational name change the "Lenawee County Chamber of Commerce and Economic Development Office. The new name better describes the functions of the office operation and the area served.

Sue Rupp was appointed assistant to the general manager. Rupp is a December 1976 Adrian College graduate in business administration and served a college internship with the chamber during Fall 1976. Her duties include coordinating all non-economic development chamber activities such as business seminars, educational and legislative programs, retail promotions, etc.

BRITTON'S PAST

Scarce Items

By Thelma Younglove

BRITTON — Some items that were in daily use during the late 1800's and early 1900's have almost, if not completely disappeared from stores. A few people would be pleased if they could obtain some of those things. Kerosene is one of the things that seems to be unobtainable in this area.

At one time, kerosene (called coal oil by some) was used in practically every home for lamps and lanterns. A few families used kerosene for medicinal purposes. Some used kerosene for cooking and heating. Many used it to aid in starting a fire in the kitchen cook stove or heaters.

On farms a can about two quart size was kept about half-full of kerosene. Corn cobs were stood on end in the can. When starting a fire, crumpled paper was placed in the fire box then a kerosene soaked corn cob was put on top, and fine kindling added. Less kerosene was used with this method and many deemed it a much safer method than pouring kerosene into the stove. (Pouring kerosene directly from a can could be quite dangerous.)

During the 1900's, a two or three burner kerosene stove was used for cooking. Some had an oven that was set over the burner. Oil stoves were an advantage over a hot wood or coal burning range. They kept homes from being overly heated during hot weather. Pre-heating was unnecessary and they didn't retain heat long after being turned off.

Some families had portable kerosene heaters. They were quite economical to operate and provided sufficient warmth to keep a room comfortable when it wasn't necessary to heat the entire house. Those stoves were appreciated when the electric current was off.

Kerosene was sold at many grocery stores, at gas stations, and by oil dealers. Home users normally bought kerosene in one, two, or three gallon cans. A few users bought kerosene in large quantities then filled their smaller can with a pouring spout. The smaller can was much easier to handle when filling lamps, lanterns, or stoves.

Kerosene stoves had some disadvantages. Wicks had to be kept trimmed properly to be most efficient and prevent smoke. For safety reasons, the stoves should not be left unattended. Sometimes the flames crept up resulting in smoke and a greasy black sooty film and a disagreeable odor.

Kerosene has never ceased to be useful in aiding to eradicate head lice. During a recent outbreak of head lice, parents were advised to check the heads of children for evidence of the pests. If any were found, they were advised to use kerosene and a special type of comb with fine teeth to help get rid of the unwanted guests.

Obtaining kerosene in this part of the state maybe quite a problem. Dealers do not seem to have it. However, according to a map pictured in a late issue of a newspaper, shortages exist only in the northern parts of North Dakota, Minnesota, Wisconsin, and the upper portion of Michigan.

Kerosene is no longer needed for lamps and lanterns. The use of it for medicinal purposes is questionable. There are a few portable (Perfection) kerosene heaters in the area. Some owners would welcome a chance to get a few gallons of kerosene to use in those stoves if an emergency arises.

Menu

OBSERVES 95th BIRTHDAY — Grace Underwood was honored Feb. 7 on her 95th birthday anniversary at the Shelhart Nursing Home in Tecumseh, where she has been living since December. Friends and relatives observed the special day with a traditional birthday cake. Mrs. Underwood has lived in Britton since 1915, moving from Bowling Green, Ohio. She has five children, several grandchildren and great-grandchildren. She gets around with the aid of a walker, since breaking her hip in 1961 and she is in good spirits.

Macon Montage

By Sharon Connors

Valentine's Day is a special day to a Macon couple, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hall. They will celebrate their 60th wedding anniversary that day. The Halls were married in 1917 at Mrs. Hall's family homestead on Hack Rd. The Rev. Rex from Tecumseh performed the ceremony and by the way got stuck in a snow bank on his way out to Macon. When the happy couple left on their wedding trip the next morning they travelled by horse and buggy into Tecumseh to catch the train to Ohio. The Halls remember the soap stone at their feet (heated in the oven to keep their feet warm) and a horse hide robe over them as the temperature that day was 14 below!

Temperatures of 70-80 degrees, beautiful flowers, breathtaking greenery were enjoyed by the Macon couples making a recent trip to Hawaii. When George and Luetta Osborn, John and Marilyn Hewlett, Harold and Vernita Kopka and Don and Eleanor Mueller planned the two week trip last summer, little did they know what an ideal time they had picked. They island hopped to Kauai, Ahu, Maui, and Hawaii. They toured each island by bus. Fortunately we saved them some of our good winter with below freezing temperatures last weekend. We didn't want them to feel slighted.

The Dean Jones' residence was the scene Sunday of the 70th birthday celebration for Josie's father, Joseph Fojtik of Dundee. Those attending were, the Lu Weber family of Monroe, Kathy Fotjik and Kenneth Blysma from Ann Arbor and of course Josie's mom. The Rudy Fojtiks of Holland were unable to attend.

Melinda Bortel, daughter of Ken and Sandra Bortel of Ridge Rd., will return this weekend from Florida. Melinda went with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hall of Tecumseh. Grandma Hall recovered nicely from a broken hip and needed some extra help so Melinda went along. They went to St. Petersburg and also enjoyed a trip to Disney World.

A triple birthday celebration was held at the Al Yurmanovics last weekend. Two daughters, Diane Doletzky and Doreen, and a grandson, Gabe Raymond, were the honored guests.

Sunday afternoon caller at the home of Clarence and Margaret Hall were Mr. and Mrs. Oakley Shough.

Mike Conrad was eight years old on Feb. 3. Saturday found classmates, neighbors and brothers, 19 in all, at the Conrad's for a birthday party. Games were played prizes won, and cake and ice cream served.

Kent Rhora will spend two days at Michigan State University this week at a course in sheep sheering. The course was offered through county extension service.

Jim Edwards returned recently from a buying trip to New York. Miserable weather seems to be common this winter as he reports a cold and very windy trip.

Macon Historical Society will meet March 5 at 8 p.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herb Morden. Woodcraftsman Bob Miller will discuss his hand made toys.

Two Britton Teachers Hired

Nancy Hurlbut of Adrian has been hired as new FHA advisor and home economics teacher. A graduate from Michigan State University with a bachelor of science in home economics in March 1976, she fills the vacancy created when Mrs. Mary Ann Berry resigned that position to move to Hillsdale with her family, after teaching in the Britton school system for ten years.

She spent a month in South America since her graduation and also worked in California this past summer with a Christian group. Presently she is working with the Middle School Youth group at the First Presbyterian Church in Adrian.

Richard King also of Adrian and a graduate of Eastern Michigan University in 1976, with a BS in Industrial Education replaces Mark Ruhlig who recently resigned as FFA advisor and agricultural teacher.

King was married last summer and spent a month traveling in Canada, Florida and Hawaii. His wife, Carol, teaches second grade in Onsted.

King feels he will enjoy the opportunity of teaching at Britton and feels certain the experiences he'll have with students and faculty will be rewarding.

Circles Meet

BRITTON — Mary Martha Circle of the Congregational Christian Church met Feb. 1 at the home of Mrs. Opal Benedict with nine members present for the potluck luncheon.

Circle president Marian Ash opened the meeting and gave a reading "Good Morning God."

Members were reminded to have their money for the supperless supper by March 1. Money to be sent to or left with Mrs. Helen Osterhout on or before that date.

Mrs. Phyllis Patterson gave devotions by reading "When I Needed Watching", by Mike Douglas.

Nut cups were made for a nursing home for Valentine's Day.

Mrs. Hazel Bush was program chairman.

The Golden Rule Circle of the Congregational Christian Church met in the home of Mrs. Rose Rhora of Tecumseh Tuesday evening.

Donations for the Supperless Supper were received and the group signed valentines for two of their shut-in members, Mrs. LaRue Hoagland and Mrs. Grace Underwood.

Mrs. Ronald Frayer read Scripture from the Book of Acts, correlating the story. The group has decided to follow this program for the coming year.

Seniors Plan Annual Drive for Subscribers

BRITTON — Britton-Macon High School seniors will begin their annual subscription drive for The Tecumseh Herald beginning Feb. 14 through Feb. 28, to help fund their senior trip this spring.

Celebrates Anniversary

BRITTON — Mr. and Mrs. Truman Sisson of 6634 Ridge Hwy. will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary on Feb. 11. The couple married on Feb. 11, 1927 in Wauseon, Ohio. The Sissons lived all their life in the Britton-Macon area.

Mr. Sisson retired from the Ford Motor Co. after 22 years. The Sissons have to daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Dale (Nancy) Valine of Ann Arbor and Mr. and Mrs. Walter (Janet) Furgason. The Sissons have four grandchildren.

The couple will be the guest of honor at dinner with their families. Friends may visit the Sissons at home during the weekend. Couple requests gifts be omitted.

Sharon Schroeder Joins EMU Society

BRITTON — Sharon Schroeder, a sophomore at Eastern Michigan University, has been invited to join the Stoic Society there. Sharon, a major in business education and accounting, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Schroeder, Britton.

The Stoic Society is an honorary organization which has been on the EMU campus since 1909. The Society is modeled after the teachings of Zeno, the Greek philosopher who was the founder of Stoic philosophy in 300 B.C. Zeno taught that a true Stoic was strong, calm and unmoved by good or bad fortune.

A true Stoic would do all that was within his power to shape events according to his plans and then accept whatever happened. He believes that a divine intelligence guides and governs his life and directs it toward and ultimate goal.

In order to be invited to join the Stoic Society, a student must have at least a 3.5 grade point average, show interest and helpfulness in general school affairs, have moral responsibility and demonstrate initiative.

Plan Activities To Celebrate

BRITTON — To celebrate Future Homemakers of America Week, Feb. 7 to 11, members of the Britton-Macon High School FHA Chapter have planned activities. The local FHA Chapter will honor school employees and help the elementary students with valentine projects. Friday the FHA will sponsor a talent show for the school.

The Future Homemakers of America is a national organization of over half a million young men and women. State membership is 4,000. Founded in 1945, FHA is sponsored by the U.S. Office of Education and American Home Economics Associations. Members learn personal growth, family life, vocational preparation and community involvement through home economics.

Britton is well represented at all levels of the FHA. Becky Rowe is chapter president; JoAnne Schroeder is region historian; Mary Schroeder is state president.

The Britton chapter has done many worthwhile projects this year such as working with Sutton School children weekly, sponsoring a powderpuff football game, fund raising for the March of Dimes and dinner for the sports banquet.

Kermit Pickell, Acting President

BRITTON — Village Council met Monday evening and elected Kermit Pickell Jr. as acting president by council members.

In other action the council elected Phyllis Below to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of councilman Bert Wade.

Britton Briefs

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Bower, Todd, Andrea and Scott entertained Sunday dinner guest. The occasion marked the seventh birthday of Scott. Guests were Scott's great-grandmother, Mrs.Claud Crutchfield of Adrian, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Crutchfield, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Crutchfield, and Kelley and Mr. and Mrs. George Cline. Because of the bad weather his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George Bower could not attend.

Scott also celebrated on Friday, Jan 21, when three little boys came home from school with him. Mr. and Mrs. Allen Bower, Todd and Andrea accompanied the boys to Toledo, Ohio to the Southwyck 8 to see the movie "The Shaggy D.A." Afterwards they ate supper at McDonald's. Upon returning the boys, Scott's cousin, Troy Gibbs, Brian Joseph and Billy Alyward, stayed overnight.

Allen Bower Hosts Party

BRITTON — Mr. and Mrs. Allen Bower had a Valentine Party Saturday evening in their home.

On their arrival, the guests picked a Valentine off a tree and the Valentine either read "Be My Valentine" or "I Love You". This designated two teams and they had to find hidden candy kisses.

When finished everyone received a Valentine lolly pop for his efforts. Next a Valentine was pinned on each persons back with the name of a famous person. They had to ask questions until they found what celebrity couple they were.

The remainder of the evening was spent playing a card game called UNO.

Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Howard Haas, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Keith Crutchfield, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Seagert, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Handley and Mr. and Mrs. Gary Lovett, all couples from Grace United Methodist Church.

Mrs. Bower served a lunch including a heart cake and red gelatin. The group will meet again in April.

Inducted into Olivett 'Fame Hall'

CLINTON — Warren David Elliott, Olivet College wrestling star who was killed in an auto accident in 1974, will be inducted posthumously in the Olivet Athletic Hall of Fame Feb. 12.

A copy of the citation will be presented to Elliott's guardians, Mr. and Mrs. James Roberts of Clinton, in a ceremony starting at 1 p.m. in MacKay Gym.

Olivet is hosting a meet starting at 11 a.m. involving Wheaton College, Western Michigan, Malone College and Northern Kentucky.

Elliott graduated from Clinton High School, and after graduating from Olivet in 1974, went back to the school as a teacher and wrestling coach in September 1974. He was killed in an auto accident in November 1974.

Elliott was a member for four years of the Olivet varsity wrestling team which won MIAA league championships in 1972, 1973, and 1974. His career record was 73 wins, 11 losses and one tie, with 34 victories by pins. He was MIAA champion for his weight three times and runner-up once, and was selected for the all-MIAA team three times.

He was captain of the Olivet team his last three years and most valuable wrestler on the squad three times.

Elliott's coach was Jare Klein, who came to Olivet in 1968 and has led the Olivet Comets to five straight MIAA championships. His team this year is undefeated and has a string of 47 wins extending over the last two years. Olivet currently is 18th nationally in NCAA Division 3.

Fund Started for Fire Victims

CLINTON — A fund has been established for Mrs. Nerissa McCarty and family, whose home at 5529 Clinton Macon Rd. was destroyed by fire Friday morning.

Donations may be made at the State Savings Bank of Clinton for the family.

Anyone wishing to donate clothing or bedding may take articles to the home of Mrs. David Allen, 303 Sunset Dr. or call 456-4748 for information about the family's needs.

Clinton firemen were called to the residence at 9:52 a.m. in sub-freezing temperatures.

Clinton Fire Chief Harlon Ruhl estimated the damage at more than $18,000.

Besides Clinton's pumper, two tankers and a van, taken to the scene, Tecumseh's Fire Department sent three pieces of equipment, with one on standby at the Clinton Fire Station in case of another fire.

Mrs. McCarthy and family, are staying with relatives.

UM Women Participate

CLINTON — Members of United Methodist Women participated in an "Exercise on Values" conducted by Lynn Sengbush at their meeting Monday.

The quiz proved enlightening for those participating as they found it hard to use symbols for feelings. Members indicated that if they just had six months to live their lives probably wouldn't change too much, but they would let others know how they felt about them, especially their families.

Mrs. Paul Hawkins presented the devotions reading the 92nd psalm, Song for the Sabbath, from the King James and Living Bible versions.

Plans were made for the UMW to host a public coffee hour, April 27 at 9:30 a.m. at the home of Mrs. Michael Marsh.

Dorcas Circle will meet Feb. 16 at 1 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Marsh; Faith Circle will meet Feb. 17 at 7 p.m., place to be announced; and the executive board will meet Feb. 17 with Mrs. Roger Waltz.

Mrs. Stanley Gibbard hosted the meeting at her home.

Next regular meeting will be held March 7 at the home of Mrs. Carl Terry.

Sewer Rates Will Go Up

CLINTON — Village Council had some good news and some bad news for village residents as a result of decisions made at Monday's meeting.

Residents will receive an increase in sewer rates, of 10 cents per 1,000 gal. water usage, effective June 1.

Senior citizens, over 65, with incomes of less than $5,000 were recently granted a 20 percent reduction in electrical rates, if they apply for it.

Now water and sewer rates will also be reduced by 20 percent for senior citizens under the same qualifications.

Council set a date of Feb. 28 at 7 p.m. for a special meeting to review senior citizens' requests for reduced utility rates. Also meeting will concern allocation of grant money for the village park.

Since no one appeared for the scheduled public hearing on allocation of revenue sharing funds, and the only communication concerned an outside of village project, council voted to use revenue sharing funds for the sewer project.

Three Named to Review Board

CLINTON — Clinton Township Library Board learned Tuesday night that all but one of the townships in the service area have made verbal committments to pay for the use of the library by their residents.

Harry Comstock has presented the plan to all of the surrounding township boards.

Residents of townships which do not agree to pay the charges, will be personally charged a fee of $5 for a Clinton Township Library card after April 1.

Since the library severed its connection with the Lenawee County Library System, and has since received directly its own state aid and penal fines monies, Clinton Township property owners have had their taxes for library operation reduced by one-half mill.

The library is now serviced by the Huron Valley Library System, Ann Arbor.

Two Victories Scored by Squad

The defeated Huson 15-7, 15-13 and Britton 13-15, 15-8 and 15-7.

Cathy Gibson won high-serving-point honors in the Hudson game with nine. Marcia Camfield had eight.

Against Britton, Karen Busch had 11 serving points while Camfield and Ruth King had seven each.

The junior varsity was victorious in three games against Britton. They won with scores of 17-15, 10-15 and 15-12.

Kay Beal, Lori Pike and Diane Weirich all had eight serving points.

On Monday the Skins defeated Onsted 15-15, 16-14, Ruth King led in serving points for Clinton with 15 points.

Clinton now posts a 7-2 overall record, 5-1 in the LCAA.

Larry Blaisdell Opens New Station

CLINTON — Larry Blaisdell has leased the Gulf station on E. Michigan Ave. just east of the Clinton fire station.

The new business will be known as Blaisdell's Gulf and will feature 24-hour wrecker service with two tow trucks available.

Blaisdell has lived in Clinton area all his life and has operated a grain hauling and trucking business for eight years.

He and his wife and two children reside on Tice Rd., between Clinton and Manchester.

Service station will be open from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m., six days a week.

Staff includes Mark Jedele, Wendall Corwin, Jim Milligan, Chris Douglas and Jeff Pask.

3 Teachers Plan Trips for Students

CLINTON — Wednesday, Feb. 16, Henry Shade, vocal music director, will take the Middle School Choir to a Mozart Opera at the Michigan Opera Theatre in Detroit from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Friday, Feb. 18, Pamela McGahey, Elementary Reading teacher, and Greg Carpenter, Special Needs teacher, will take their students to see "Charlotte's Web" at Fox Village Theatre in Ann Arbor from 8:45 a.m. to 12:15 p.m.

Three Named to Review Board

CLINTON — Clinton Township Board named Gary Service, Perry Cook and Benson Van DeMark to the board of review for two year terms at the meeting Monday night.

Board also voted to bond the township constable for $10,000.

Report of the Riverside Cemetery Board meeting was given by Robert Winder and the cemetery budget was approved.

Township Assessor Eugene Harbaugh advised the board of new state requirement that all property owners whose assessment is being changed this year must receive such notice by mail.

Board approved an additional expenditure for the expense of this mailing.

Log Rolls Over Boy, Hospitalized

CLINTON — Mike Ritter, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Ritter, 117 W. Franklin St., received internal injuries, head and leg wounds, Thursday afternoon, when a tree log rolled over him at Tri-County Logging Division St. property in Clinton.

The boy is a patient at Herrick Hospital, still in serious condition.

Mike and a companion Eddie Kime, 11, were playing on the piled up logs when he slipped off, falling face down on the ground. As Eddie leaped off the log, it rolled over the Ritter boy, gouging a deep hole in one leg.

Vandals Smash Student Auto

CLINTON — William M. Willis, 229 Sunset Dr., a student at Clinton High School is the owner of an automobile which was vandalized Saturday while parked at the school parking lot.

Front and rear windows were smashed out of the 1966 model vehicle, apparently with a baseball bat or similar object.

Willis had parked the vehicle there at 9 a.m. while at an all-day wrestling match.

Clinton State Police investigated the incident.

You Are What You Eat
by Shirley Weekley

A nutritious breakfast is an important part of the day and here are some new recipes to serve your family.

These baked scrambled eggs from Jan Peshke are light, fluffy and a great idea when serving a group.

BAKED SCRAMBLED EGGS

¼ cup melted butter
12 eggs, beaten slightly
1½ tsp. salt
1¼ cup scalded milk

Mix all ingredients and pour into greased 9 inch square pan. Bake at 350 degrees for 15 minutes, stir carefully, then bake for an additional 10 minutes. Serves 6. Recipe can be easily doubled and baked in 9x12 inch pan for larger crowds.

GRANOLA

6 cups quick oats
1 cup wheat germ
½ cup chopped nuts
1 cup coconut
1 tsp. salt
½ cup honey
1 3 cup hot water
1 tsp. vanilla

Mix the first five ingredients in large bowl. Mix the last ingredients together and pour over the dry mixture. Mix well. Spread on two cookie sheets and bake 25 minutes at 300 degrees, stirring twice. Add 1 cup raisins, if desired, and store in covered container.

For a special Valentine breakfast treat, bake your favorite pancake batter in heart shapes. Serve with pancake syrup or crushed strawberries.

PANCAKE SYRUP

1 cup brown sugar
1 cup white sugar
1 cup water

Boil together in pan for 8-10 minutes or until it starts to thicken. Serve warm over pancakes. Store leftover syrup in refrigerator and it will keep for several weeks.

Second Annual Farm, Home Day

CLINTON — Second Annual Farm and Home Day, sponsored by Cooperative Extension Service and the Agricultural Council of Clinton High School, will be held at the school Saturday, Feb.26.

A full day of informative seminars are scheduled of interest to men and women, from 9 a.m. to 4:45 p.m., with registration at 8 a.m.

There are 21 morning classes in two sessions and 34 classes in the two afternoon sessions. Some of the more popular subjects are repeated at successive times to accomodate more persons.

Lunch is available at the school, or those attending may bring their own or eat elsewhere.

A catered ham and roast beef dinner will be served at 6:30 p.m.

Evening program will begin at 7:45 p.m. and will feature Dr. Konig of MSU, who will speak on Energy Conservation. Entertainment will be, "History of the American Farmer" provided by Allis-Chalmers of Milwaukee, Wisc.

Those conducting the seminars include many Extension Department personnel from surrounding counties; many from the staff of Michigan State University, and others represent various fields of interest to the rural families.

Among the subjects to be offered in the seminars are: estate planning, futures marketing, farm machinery maintenance, Michigan tax systems, a variety of crop practices, family budgeting house plants, swine breeding stock selection, disease control, flower gardening, motorcycle care, microwave cooking and decorating on a shoestring.

For a complete list of the seminar subjects and information about registration fees, write John Jansen, agriculture instructor Clinton High School, Clinton, Mi. 49236 or contact the Cooperative Extension Service, Adrian, Michigan.

Energy Conservation

by Kathy Brown

When utility bills start climbing toward three digits, its time to wise up America. Whether you believe an energy crisis is real or contrived, the cost you pay for utilities should shock you enough to want to do something about energy consumption.

People who realize energy conservation makes cents can take some simple steps to help save dollars and energy without drastically changing lifestyle.

We at The Herald do not claim to be energy saving experts. We suggest you familiarize yourself and your family with everyday energy saving measures. The library is one place to start for information. Meanwhile, here are some practical ideas staff members use to save energy.

If readers have any energy saving ideas, the Herald will be glad to pass them along.

Dial the thermostat down as far as possible to a temperature at which you can live comfortably. Put on a sweater or slippers first instead of turning up the heat. Dial down a few more degrees at night and use an extra blanket. Dial down whenever you leave the house. Close registers and doors of unused rooms.

When operating a dishwasher, save electricity by opening the door and letting the hot dishes air dry. Moisture adds to humidity making the house more comfortable.

Shut off unnecessary lights and appliances. Use flourescent lighting where ever possible and use a lower watt bulb where a reading or a work light is not needed.

Plan your meals to use less energy. Casseroles and other meals in one dish eliminate using several burners. Crock pots use less energy, too. Not everyone can afford a microwave oven, but manufacturers claim they offer up to 79 percent energy savings, depending on the amount of cooking done.

Try to cut use of big energy using appliances like the toaster, grill or waffle iron to mention a few. Eliminate heating of water for hot beverages by keeping boiling water handy in an insulated bottle.

Water heaters use a lot of energy. Consider buying an insulation kit. Limit time in the shower or tub. Wash and dry full loads of clothing and dishes. Thick bath towels require a longer drying time. Consider line drying when damp.

Windows are a big energy eater. Keep drapes and shades closed when ever possible to prevent heat loss. Heavier drapes serve as insulators. Storm doors and windows save energy.

Other insulating materials include ceiling tile, thicker carpet pads which also add to carpet life, and wall panelings. And don't forget home insulation, 3½ inches is recommended for walls and at least 6½ inches for the ceiling.

Last but not least a comment on temperatures at shopping malls. Why must they be 75 degrees or higher when every one else must cut back? Because people have no place to hang coats, they must wear them in the malls and higher temperatures make customers more uncomfortable.

What can the shopper do about it? Protest to the merchant and the mall manager. Write them a letter and one to the editor supporting energy conservation.

Is Seeing Believing?

Ever talk, really talk, to someone who's blind? Someone who depends upon their fingertips to get the message, and knows that it's late afternoon only when the warm sun kisses their cheeks?

You may find that they "see" a lot more than we do!

In a dark world, people come to the truth by the sound of voices, the feel of things, the touch of others. Much of life is a sham. Hairstyles don't matter, nor the kind of car someone drives, or the cost of their clothes, or the lavishness of their home. It is the person who counts.

A blind person knows faith, too, because he has needed it desperately, because he's had to grope for it, because it's become very tangible, very precious, when finally he has found it.

We could take lessons.

Cagers Sneak By Devils

Tecumseh's cage squad notched two more Huron league victories knocking off Airport 75-51 Friday and squeaking by Grosse Ile 44-41 Tuesday night of this week.

The two victories give the Indians an unblemished 11-0 league record good for undisputed first place in the league. New Boston Huron is close behind posting a 10-1 league tally.

The Indians are rated 17th in the state according to the latest Associated Press poll. Huron is rated 13th.

The Grosse Ile contest — played away — was close all the way. Tecumseh trailed 20-17 at the half pulling ahead 28-27 at the end of the third frame.

With two minutes left, the Indians found themselves down by five. Dave Bohannon and Lyndon Hughes each hit a bucket to bring Tecumseh within one.

Bret DesErmia stole the ball and layed it up to jump the Indians to a one-point lead. Hughes and Ben Maves each hit a free throw and DesErmia connected on two free throws to give Tecumseh the winning margin.

Tecumseh connected on 18 of 65 from the field for 28 percent while the Red Devils hit on 16 of 40 for 40 percent. Free throws were about even with the Indians making eight of 16 and Grosse Ile nine of 14.

Grosse Ile outrebound Tecumseh 45-32. Hughes had 11 rebounds. The Red Devils turned over the ball 22 times to 14 for Tecumseh. Dave Bilkie came up with an impressive 11 steals for Tecumseh, four in the last two minutes of the contest.

Bohannon was tops in scoring with 15 followed by DesErmia with 10.

The Indians host Carlson this Friday with special activities honoring Vic Lawson.

In the Airport contest, the Indians manhandled the Jets in the first frame scoring 16 points and holding their opponents to just six.

By the half, the score was 30-21.

Ben Maves led Tecumseh in scoring with 14 followed by Lyndon Hughes and Dave Bilkie with 10 each. Hughes had eight rebounds and Bilkie five steals.

JV'S Fall to G.I.

Tecumseh junior varsity cage squad defeated Airport 50-41 but fell to Grosse Ile Tuesday night of this week 51-44.

In the Airport game, the Indians trailed 24-20 at the half tying the game at the end of the third frame 30-30.

The Indians came up with 20 in the final frame to 11 for the Jets to take the victory.

Bruce Phenicie led the Indians in scoring with 16 followed by John Faulkner with 13 and Mark Creswell, 11.

Coach Carl Novak commented, "Bruce Phenicie did a good job driving the basket. Tom Maves came off the bench and did a good job in the fourth quarter. It was a good defensive battle."

Against Grosse Ile Tuesday night, the Indians trailed 27-20 at the half and were 38-32 after the third frame. Tecumseh almost caught up in the fourth frame but the Red Devils pulled away.

Mark Creswell and Bruce Phenicie each had 12 points in the contest.

Novak said, "They put a zone defense on us and we couldn't break inside of it. We put our own press on them in the first half but they broke it badly. We did not play well."

The Indians now post a 13-3 overall record, 8-3 in the league.

TECUMSEH GYMNASTICS — Tecumseh's gymnastics squad currently posts a 3-3 season record. Volleyballers Beat Ann Arbor Huron

Against A.A. Huron Monday night, Tecumseh won by scores of 15-10, 15-9. Tammy Downing was tops in serving with 12 points. Debbie Steadly, Sand Dunn, Tori Iffland, Sheila Bilmeyer all had four serving points while Patty Brosamer had two.

Downing served her first six points in a row.

On Saturday, the Indians participated in the Kellog Community College Invitational at Battle Creek. Tecumseh lost just four of 16 matches played during the day.

Tecumseh took third place out of 44 teams. Ferndale was in second place. Grand Blanc and Ferndale are both Class A teams.

Sandy MacGeorge was chosen to the all-toournament team and received a trophy. Just 12 players were chosen for the honor. Sandy Dunn was nominated for the honor squad.

The junior varsity also defeated A.A. Huron 15-4, 15-12. Lisa Caterina turned in a strong performance scoring 16 serving points. Sandy Humphries and Connie Retan each had four while Kim Adams and Kelly Kruger had three each.

The team now posts a 5-1 overall record, 1-1 in the league.

The girls host Grosse Ile this Wednesday and travel to Carlson Wednesday, Feb. 16.

Skins Are Victorious

Clinton's varsity basketball squad picked up a 59-46 win over Grass Lake Friday but fell to Dundee 73 46 on Tuesday night of this week.

In the Grass Lake contest, the Redskins came out strong in the first frame picking up 19 points and holding their opponents to eight.

By the half, Clinton had a commanding 33-14 lead. They added 16 and 10 respectively in the last two quarters to 18 and 14 for Grass Lake.

The Skins shot 49 percent from the floor to 31 percent for the opposition. Clinton outrebounded Grass Lake 30-27. Dave Tallman had 11 rebounds.

Roger LaSovage and Tim Sharpe each had 15 points while Bill Zimmerman dumped 14 for the Redskins.

Against Dundee Tuesday night, the score was tied 27-27 at the half but the Skins fell behind after a 19-9 third frame effort by Dundee.

Clinton connected on 14 of 57 from the floor for 25 percent. Dundee made 26 of 54 for 48 percent. Dundee dumped 21 of 32 foul shots and the Skins 18 of 34 foul shots.

STRIKE NEARS TWO MONTHS — Little progress and no meetings are scheduled between members of Local 7237 and the Company, Dr. John Burke, director of manufacturing at Stauffer on Sutton Rd., reports. Last meeting was Jan. 31 in the strike that began Dec. 21. Striking members above are Dave McIntire, Union president, Ken Peters, Robert Boyd, vice president, Ron Whipple and Dale Bowman. Union member Jeff Creech says the strike is over better insurance, better wages, apprenticeship for maintenance personnel and for getting people fired for striking back to work. Stauffer and the Union were in court today with the company seeking an injunction to keep strikers off company property and to limit the number of pickets.

AP Story Compares Tecumseh

Our City of Tecumseh hit a number of daily newspapers Sunday, Feb. 6, when an Associated Press article compared the chilly life of Clyde, Ohio, with that of our community.

Two life styles were drawn, the folks of Clyde facing a shortage of natural gas and Tecumsehites comfortable and warm without any shortages.

Steven Hurst, AP writer, was in Tecumseh on Feb. 2, gathering information for his article that appeared in the Mansfield (Ohio) News Journal, Columbus (Ohio) Dispatch, Detroit News, Jackson Citizen-Patriot and undoubtedly other large dailies that subscribe to the wire service.

At the time, Clyde, a community slightly smaller than Tecumseh, was typical of many Ohio towns; schools closed, factories closed or working short hours, and thermometers set at 65 degrees.

While many businesses and homes here set thermometers at 65, our schools stayed open and no business shut down for lack of natural gas.

$41,800 Grant Is Approved

Tecumseh's application for a $41,800 government grant for four tennis courts and facelift to Satterthwaite Park was approved recently.

Total cost of the project is an estimated $83,600 and will be financed on a 50-50 basis with the grant and city funds.

Four lighted tennis courts will be located next to the Community Center. Facelift to the park will include a shelter and expanded picnic facilities.

Response Slow for Ideas

Response to the Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation's request for suggestions and comments for a community project have been "less than enthusiastic," Robert Robinson, Foundation president, reports.

Foundation officials, blessed with $35,000 over and above its budget obligations, are seeking suggestions and ideas from community residents and organizations. So far, no group or club has responded.

Robinson says six letters have been received from individuals and all are "good and constructive."

March 1, scheduled date for Foundation directors to review the letters, is the deadline for residents to forward their suggestions and comments.

Letters should be sent to the Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation, P.O. Box 142, Tecumseh, Mich.

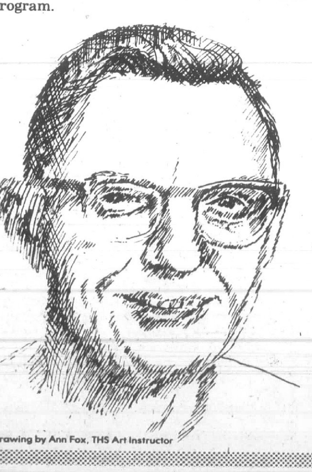
Nostalgic Ceremony Honors Vic Lawson

Former players and friends paid tribute to Vic Lawson Friday night, honoring the former coach, who for the first time in nearly 25 years, is no longer associated with the Tecumseh basketball program.



Drawing by Ann Fox, THS Art Instructor

A lot of nostalgia was evident and memories of some great moments were reviewed during a halftime ceremony of the Tecumseh-Carlson game, and afterwards at an informal reception in the high school cafeteria.

Lawson was not only a successful basketball coach but also a highly respected individual, a fact clearly shown by those who traveled here for "Vic Lawson Night."

Many former players, some accompanied by their wives, were here: John Elliott, Ft. Wayne, Ind.; Gary Hanna and Bob Binns, Ann Arbor; Larry Yoakum, London, Ohio; Marvin Yoakum, Milan; Jerry Hebb, Van Wert, Ohio.

The Rev. Kurth Koeplin, former pastor here at Grace Lutheran Church and an admirer of Lawson, was here from Milwaukee, Wisc. Terri (Pickens) Wells, former teacher, came from Monroe.

Vic started coaching at Jonesville and six players from his team of 1949-50-51 were here: Floyd Bordners, Gordon Baker, Ned Clevidence, Jack Godfry, LeRoy Wolcat and Joe Russo.

Letters of tribute arrived from New York, California, Conneticut, Arizona and Florida. There were at least two representatives from every team that Vic coached.

During the 15 years that he was head coach, his teams captured three Southeastern Conference championships, three Huron League titles, four district championships and once won the regional title.

When the county held the Adrian-Blissfield-Hudson-Tecumseh holiday tournaments, Lawson's teams dominated the series, winning it in 1964-65-66. Overall, his teams won 163 and lost 108.

Former head basketball coach Ron Spagnoli emceed the halftime ceremony when resolutions were read from Tecumseh City Council by Mayor Harold Easton; Huron League, by Don Brazee, Tecumseh athletic director; and the Board of Education, by Supt. Robert Duhan.

Present and past coaches gave him a watch, inscribed with "Well Done, Vic" Fellow Coaches 1977.

Betty Hyatt, former THS cheerleader and mother of current cheerleader Carrie Hyatt, led a cheer in the style of days gone by.

All of Vic's former varsity players were contacted the past few months, thanks to Tom Aiuto, Gerry Greene, Greg Allen, Jim Curth (present head coach and varsity player in 1959-60) Keith Schmidt and Mrs. Dee O'Brien.

Pictures of teams and games of yesterday were displayed, and a varsity club book of minutes for 1953-54-55 was presented. Jon Weakley of California sent the minutes, some pages of which were read by John Elliott.

Another book with pictures, clippings, and letters from former players unable to attend was presented.

Another highlight of the evening was a tribute to Vic from Frank Gilhooley, Channel 13 sports announcer, on the 11 p.m. news. Vic's picture was on the screen and Gilhooley reported the evening's festivities along with a review of Lawson's years as basketball coach here.

The program was put on video-tape for Vic. Arrangements for the TV review were made by Bill Benham, Sylvania, former THS player.

Vic Lawson Night almost never happened, at least not in Tecumseh.

In the spring of 1952, Supt. James McDowell went to Greenville to interview Vic for the varsity coaching position. When McDowell and other school officials arrived, Vic said that he didn't have time to talk with them.

The family dog had just been killed by a car, his wife, Louise, was gone at the time, and Vic simply wanted to be with his youngsters and to console them.

Tecumseh officials left, Vic thought his chances for the Tecumseh position had been ruined; however, they returned and offered him the job.

CHOOSING YOUR CEMETARY LOT

We plan our futures with such care. Yet our futures must include a final resting place -- and that frequently receives little or no planning. Sparing the bereaved this emotional detail and the anxieties with which it is associated, this is a wise thing you can do ahead of time.

Presented here, then, are several questions often asked about the early selection of a cemetery lot. You might well ask them of yourself:

A. Which cemetery and location of plot?
B. How many spaces and what's the cost?
C. If we move away from here, will the cemetery buy the lots back?
D. Can I sell my lots to someone else?
E. Is the cemetery properly funded for Perpetual Care?

Some of these questions can't be answered without some action on your part. You should investigate and discuss them with representatives of cemeteries under consideration.

If you have specific questions, feel free to call on us. We'll try to help you find the answers.

Hand - Wellman Nuptials

Mr. and Mrs. William Wellman (nee Luann Hand) are at home at Strawberry Hills Apartment, Gulfside St., Ypsilanti.

The couple was married Dec. 23 at the Packard Road Baptist Church in Ann Arbor. The Rev. Thomas Bloxam officiated at the ceremony.

Mrs. Wellman is the daughter of Mrs. O. W. Lacy of Rt. 2, Clayton and the late Cecil (Red) Hand. Mr. Wellman is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fox of Holt.

Theodore Tiede, Mrs. Wellman's brother-in-law, was soloist; Larry Lacy, her step-brother, gave her in marriage.

For the wedding, Mrs. Wellman wore a white gown of polyester with fitted bodice and flair skirt which she made herself. Her chapel veil was secured with a pillbox cap. She wore a jade heart necklace. She carried three white roses over a Bible given to her by her grandmother.

Cake and punch were served by Mary Stewart in the church basement.

The couple honeymooned in Florida for two weeks.

Mrs. Wellman is a 1971 graduate of Tecumseh High School and a 1976 graduate of the University of Michigan with a degree in sociology. She is employed as a research assistant for graduate school at the university.

Mr. Wellman is a 1969 graduate of Holt High School, a 1973 graduate of social sciences from Michigan State University and a 1976 graduate of the University of Michigan with a degree in industrial operations engineering. He is employed by the bureau of hospital administration at the university in Ann Arbor.

Arrested

Robert O. German, 20, was arrested for open intoxicants after police found him driving east, erratically on M-50.

Police stopped Terry L. Clymer, 21, for a traffic violation when they ran a file on him and found he was wanted on a bench arrest for child support. Lenawee Sheriffs picked Clymer up.

Feb. 15 — Eric Meyer, 1019 River Acres, was arrested by police in connection with a malicious destruction incident Jan. 26. Meyer was at the sight when Lawrence Dermeyer found his auto vent window pryed open after parking behind Wrong Way Pub. Meyer's prints matched those taken from the window.

Dennis L. Schultz, 124½ W. Chicago, was arrested on a valid warrant from Adrian police department. He was wanted on a bench warrant when police found him in Wrong Way Pub.

Completes Course

Dave Fontaine, of 608 Spring, supply supervisor for General Telephone at Tecumseh, recently completed a special management course on effective communications held at the company's education center in Norton Shores, near Muskegon.

Auxiliary Meets

General membership meeting of the Tecumseh Jaycee Auxiliary is Feb.22 at 7:30 p.m. at the United Savings Bank West Chicago at Occidental Road branch.

Young women ages 18-35 are invited to learn more about the auxiliary and its community service projects. The May 22 "Dawn Patrol" is an upcoming project. This past week, the auxiliary donated dolls and toys to the Herrick Hospital Children's ward.

"Making Today Count" will be the special program presented by Kathy Crawford of the Novi Jaycee Auxiliary. She will emphasize hopeful things that people can do for cancer patients. Mrs. Crawford's traveling companion is Stance Henee, lifetime member and past president of the Michigan Jaycee Auxiliary.

The Tecumseh Jaycee Auxiliary will sponsor a babysitting clinic for high school students on March 14-18. Program will include demonstrations on life saving, care and playtime activities. Each successful participant in the clinic will receive a certificate. More details will be released prior to the clinic.

The engagement of Karen Denise Sayler to Charles Ray Rainey is announced by her mother, Mrs. Verglenda Sayler, 18504 M-52. The bride-elect is a senior at Chelsea High School and is employed at Weber's Inn, Ann Arbor. Mr. Rainey is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rainey of Britton. He is a graduate of Britton-Macon High School and is employed by Raycon Corp., Ann Arbor. A September wedding is planned.

Auxiliary Plans Elephant Sale

American Legion Auxiliary President Niomi Williams of the Tecumseh Underwood-Orr Unit No. 34 has accumulated 268 hours as a volunteer hospital worker at the Veterans Hospital in Ann Arbor.

Proceeds from the sale will be used for construction materials to rebuild facilities in the earthquake damaged areas. The earthquake killed 23,000 people on Feb. 4, 1976. Mary Rufner is foreign relations chairman and is in charge of the local program.

Members are asked to bring items for the white elephant sale at the Feb. 21 meeting at 8 p.m.

Agnes Natterstad reported at the January meeting that 4,600 canceled stamps, 916 cigarette coupons, 1,348 bonus points and 1,420 trading stamps were sent to the children and youth department chairman, Mary Courager, Grosse Pointe Woods. All members are requested to save these items.

"Money from the sale of stamps helps the Navajo School and Orphanage in Arizona. Coupons and trading stamps are used to buy items for our State Children's Homes." said Mrs. Natterstad.

Reservations have been made for four girls as representatives for Girls State. Local sponsors are the Business and Professional Woman's Club and Tecumseh Products Co.

Membership chairman Mary Mattoon reported 118 dues collected, 26 more are needed to fill the quota. Members may send dues to the chairman or any officer.

Vo-Tecs Get 'On the Job'

OJT (On-The-Job) Training is soon to start for many students attending the Lenawee Vocational-Technical Center. OJT is designed to introduce students to learning situations in business and industry.

Students spend up to 30 hours in these non-paid activities. While on these OJT sites, students observe and practice some of the skills learned earlier at the Vo-Tec Center.

Buses will take students to the OJT sites in the Adrian area through the cooperation of the 12 school districts.

The Vo-Tec programs participating in OJT are: Distributive Education, Health Occupations, Business Office, Data Processing, Commercial Services, Child Care, Food Service and Horticulture. Any business or industry having questions may call the Vo-Tec Center.

China Captures Hope of Spring

Anticipating spring? Maybe one look at Mrs. Peter Poluka's china painting will help you to remember what June roses and spring birds look like.

An assortment of her freehand work can be seen in the display window of Sluyter's, downtown Tecumseh.

Mrs. Poluka has been painting china for about five years. She has taken private lessons from Dorothy Purkey in Tecumseh. All the china pieces are imported German china. Most of Mrs. Poluka's work is done with floral designs or birds. She prefers pastel colors and trims her work with either platinum or gold.

Tidbit trays, china plates, candy dishes, cups and saucers, dinner plates and serving platters are some of the work she does.

A novel souvenir for a baby's birth are the china baby shoes she paints. She decorates the shoe with pink roses for a girl and blue forget-me-nots for a boy and signs the birth date and baby's name.

Mrs. Poluka prefers china painting because it is dainty. Each piece is fired three times as firing sets the colors. Each successive layer of paint is applied darker than the first until the desired effect is achieved.

"It is something I always wanted to do. I had a hard time finding someone here to teach me. I always wanted to paint. In school I enjoyed art classes and remember doing a charcoal of my mother. That's where it really started." Mrs. Poluka said about her interest in painting.

Originally from Delware, Mr. and Mrs. Poluka moved to Tecumseh just three months ago when her husband's work with Hoover Ball brought them to Michigan. A son, Peter, 19, lives at home and a daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard (Donna) Langmeyer reside in Deerfield.

You Are What You Eat

To celebrate George Washington's birthday, cherry pie is the traditional dessert served in February. Here are some suggestions for celebrating Washington's birthday with new cherry desserts.

This dump cake is prepared easily, no stirring, mixing or measuring. Just dump the ingredients in the pan and bake. Delicious!

DUMP CAKE

1 can 20 ounce crushed pineapple
1 can no. 5 cherry pie filling
1 box yellow cake mix
1 stick butter
½ cup chopped nuts (optional)

Grease 13x9 inch cake pan. Dump cherry pie filling over pan. Dump pineapple over cherries. Pour dry cake mix evenly over fruit. Drizzle melted butter over all. Sprinkle nuts on top. Bake in 350 degree oven for one hour. Cut in squares and serve plain or with ice cream.

This cheesecake is another super simple dessert (my favorite kind) and is delicious. The cherry topping can be substituted with pie filling of your choice.

CHERRY CHEESECAKE

1 package cream cheese (8 ounce)
1 package lemon instant pudding
2 cups milk
1 can cherry pie filling 21 ounce

Beat cream cheese until soft. Blend in ½ cup milk until smooth. add 1½ cup milk and pudding mix and beat at lowest speed of mixer until well blended, about one minute. Pour at once into 9 inch crumb crust and chill until firm, at least 2 hours. Top with pie filling.

I haven't tried this recipe yet but it comes highly recommended from Dorothy Butchart of Adrian.

CHOCOLATE CHERRY BARS

1 box fudge cake mix
1 - 21 ounce cherry pie filling
1 teaspoon almond extract
2 beaten eggs

Combine dry cake mix with rest of ingredients and stir well. Pour into greased and floured 9x13 inch pan and bake in a 350 degree oven for 25-30 minutes. Top with whipped cream.

Help! My own supply of favorite recipes is dwindling fast. Call 423-4848 to share recipes, offer suggestions, or make requests for this column. Hope to hear from you soon.

ABOUT BROWN-CREEPERS

Not always are a bird and his name a perfect match. For example: I have never heard of a cute upside-down nuthatch spending too much time hatching nuts, and, although he does have a cocky little top-knot, the tufted titmouse is not the least bit mousey. However, for the brown-creeper a more apt 'handle' could not be found. The little bird is indeed brown and his favorite pastime is creeping up the trunks of trees.

To be more specific, the brown-creeper is 5¾ inches long, his head, back and wings are dark brown with indistinct grayish markings and his front is either dirty white or pale gray, depending upon which book is read.

The bird has a long, sleder de-curved bill and his tail feathers have bristley or stiff tips. This is a basic description and it certainly does not make the bird sound interesting.

I will admit that the brown-creeper does not have the flamboyant color of the cardinal, the noisy brashness of the bluejay nor the light-hearted and carefree spirit of the chickadee. He does not have the bubbling song of the wren nor the weaving expertise of the oriole. He simply goes about his business in a quiet and efficient manner, asking no favors and doing no harm.

His business, of course, involves trees. Creepers and trees are a marvelous example of 'you scratch my back and I'll scratch yours.' Each benefits the other, except for a bit of free-loading at suet-feeders in the crevices and cranies of the bark on the tree-trunks he patrols.

His bill may lack the strength of a woodpecker's but it is ideal for probing--he does not have to chip away or chisel into the wood of the tree. He 'cleans' with a sensitive touch and no strength is needed.

This bird has the large strong feet of a tree-climber and his stiff tail acts as a prop to hold him in position. Unlike the nuthatch, who runs up and down, and, who in fact almost seems more at home in an upside-down position, the brown creeper is seldom if ever seen coming down the tree trunk. His favorite mode of operation is a slow and careful spiralling or circling up a tree until he reaches a height where the rough bark starts becoming smooth, then flying down to the base of another tree, he starts back up again.

When a bluejay screams a cat warning or the frightening silhouette of a hawk soars overhead, the creeper has almost perfect protection right at hand. He merely has to freeze his position, and there is instant disappearing. So perfectly does he blend into the bark of the tree that he only becomes visible again when he moves. More than once we have looked and not realized a bird was there until part of the bark started creeping.

In family rearing season the creeper usually selects a dead or dying tree that has long shreds or large pieces of loose bark. He and his mate, who incidentally wears the same costume that he does, carefully build their nest of rootlets and weed stems in back of the loose bark. The five to eight eggs are light cream in color with lavender speckles.

But nesting season is far away and right now our creeper watching is centered on the suet-holders. Mom disputes the books, she watches one of the little guys creep down the elm tree. But which ever way they travel, these are quiet little birds, always nice to have around.

Saving Dollars with Windbreaks

Windbreaks can save home heating dollars by reducing wind speeds around the house. A windbreak will also trap snow and keep driveways from drifting full.

A well placed windbreak is planted at right angles to the worst wind direction and at least 50 feet from driveways.

Conifer trees and shrubs are the most effective plants for reducing wind speeds and trapping snow.

Spruce trees are the best suited because they are more dense and hold their lower limbs longer, but they are slower growing than the pines.

Combinations of shrubs and conifers in multiple rows are the most effective windbreaks. These multiple windbreaks also offer good wildlife food and cover plus will attract songbirds to the home.

Single rows are used where space is limited, but two or more rows make a much better windbreak.

Plant trees or shrubs that are best suited to the soil.

Seedlings take five to 10 years to become established.

For information about tree planting contact the Soil Conservation Service in the Faulhabor Building, Adrian or call 265-5887.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

Notice is hereby given that the Lenawee County Drain Commissioner will hold a public hearing on the proposed Tecumseh Area Wastewater Collection and Treatment Project for the purpose of receiving comments and views of interested persons. The hearing will be held at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, March 2, 1977 at the Tecumseh Community Center, East Chicago Blvd. (E M-50) Tecumseh, Michigan.

This hearing is for the purpose of receiving comments on the Tecumseh Area Wastewater Collection and Treatment Project Facilities Plan C262724 and the environmental impact of proposed alternatives including that of no action. The following are alternatives addressed in the Facilities Plan which considers the City of Tecumseh, the Village of Britton and the Townships of Tecumseh, Macon, Ridgeway and Raisin.

1. Improvements to the City of Tecumseh's wastewater plant with ultimate effluent discharge to either the River Raisin or a land application area. Approximate total project cost - $3,023,100.
2. Wastewater collection system in the built-up areas of Tecumseh Township, tributary to the City of Tecumseh's plant. Approximate total project cost - $2,374,800.
3. No action in the Township of Macon.
4. Wastewater collection system for the Village of Britton and the nearby built up areas in Ridgeway Township with treatment in waste stabilization lagoons. Approximate total project cost - $2,011,800.
5. Wastewater collection system in the built-up acres of Raisin Township with treatment either at Tecumseh, Adrian or a local facility. Approximate total project cost $6,984,000.

Local costs involved with each alternative will be discussed at this hearing.

Copies of the proposed plan will be available at least thirty days prior to the hearing itself for public inspection at the following offices:

1. Lenawee County Drain Commissioner's Offices.
2. City of Tecumseh, City Hall.
3. Tecumseh Township Supervisor's Office
4. Macon Township Supervisor's Office.
5. Ridgeway Township Supervisor's Office.
6. Raisin Township Supervisor's Office.
7. Village of Britton Offices.

Written comments sent to Donald E. Mitchell, Lenawee County Drain Commissioner, County Building Annex, Front Street, Adrian, Michigan 49221, will be entered into the public hearing records through Wednesday, March 9, 1977.

WINNING BABY — Clinton Area Jaycee Auxiliary Baby Contest winner Genny Denise Knight, was awarded a $25 U.S. Savings bond and a certificate. Genny is 7½ months old and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Knight Jr., 12645 Wallace Rd., Manchester. Second place winner was Cindy Furgason, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Furgason, Matthews Hwy.; and third was Christopher Rangler, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Rangler, Allen Trailer Ct. Presentation was made Saturday by Linda King, chairman of the contest committee, Sharon McGill and Lois Gibson.

'The Opera' Is Subject

CLINTON — "The Opera" was the subject of an informative talk by the Rev. Allan Gray of Tecumseh Methodist Church, to members of Clinton Woman's Club Feb. 9.

He traced the history of opera in three of its forms—grand, usually tragic—opera comique, and opera bouffe, of Offenbach and the ancestor of the Savoy Gilbert and Sullivan operas.

From its beginnings in Italy in 1594 to the present, Gray touched on several of the well-known composers, Mozart, Rossini, Verdi, Beethoven, Mendlesohn and Wagner.

Other guests attending included Mrs. Allan Gray and Mrs. Ivar Iverson.

At the meeting conducted by Mrs. Richard Broniman, members voted Mrs. Gertrude Dannells an honorary membership.

Mrs. Anna Mae Waterman reported on the Feb. 2 district meeting at the Adrian Church of Christ.

Cherry cheese cake was served at a table set with the St. Valentine motif and centered with a bouquet of red carnations and white mums.

Mrs. Robert Winder poured beverages. Social committee was Mrs. Roy Bower, Mrs. Joseph Rockwell and Mrs. Vernon Fry.

Plan Spring Projects

CLINTON — Spring projects were considered at the meeting of the Women's Fellowship in the United Church of Christ, Thursday.

A soup luncheon was served to 18 members by Mrs. Floyd O'Dell's committee.

The Fellowship will host the World Day of Prayer Service, March 4, with the other local churches participating.

Father-Son Banquet committees were named by the president, Mrs. Wes Maki. Meal is to be arranged by the Serendipitys; dining room by Priscillas; and clean-up by Mary Marthas.

Committees for the Mother-Daughter banquet are: menu, Mary-Marthas; dining room, Serendipitys; program, Priscillas. Meal is cooked and served by the Men's Fellowship. Date for this event will be held April 16.

Projects planned as organ fund benefits include a public soup and sandwich luncheon, March 18 from 11-11:30 p.m. Chairmen are Mrs. Clayton Strolle and Mrs. Joseph Rockwell.

A public salad luncheon, featuring fashions, shown continuously, will be scheduled for May 13 from 11 to 1:30 p.m.

The women spent the afternoon making cancer pads for Saline Evangelical Nursing Home.

Next meeting is March 24 at 8 p.m., when a speaker from the Spaulding for Children adoption agency will be the speaker.

Senior Citizens To Be Treated

CLINTON — Shamrock Senior Citizens will be treated to a Disney film and a Key West travel film when they meet Feb. 17.

Activities begin at 10 a.m. when registered nurses Lucille Cody and Leah Cook take blood pressures, for the monthly checkups.

Soup and sandwich lunch will be served by Wanda Norcross and Elizabeth Makie.

All area seniors are invited to attend these weekly programs.

Charlie's B'day

Charlie Cook wasn't allowed to forget his birthday, Feb. 6, when wife, Leah hosted a dinner party at their Marion St. home, with 16 persons attending. Then, on the 8th, Charlie's bowling buddies entertained him at a birthday luncheon at Race Track Inn.

Peer Program Outlined

CLINTON — School Board members were given an outline of the Peer Listeners Program, which was approved for implementation for an indefinite period of time.

Objectives, services, training, program development and evaluation to be implemented at the high school level, was presented by Ozzie Hasley, high school guidance counselor; James Jones, Crisis Walk-In Center representative and Greg Carpenter, high school special needs teacher.

Board decided to name one board member as an ex-officio member to the advisory committee.

Peer Listeners program will begin in mid-April.

Three architectural sketches of a building project at the elementary school were inspected by the board. Board voted to initiate a survey as to elementary needs and to retain T.R. Jahr and Associates, Inc. for this building project.

Richard Peterson, Village Council member answered questions concerning the completion of Franklin St. through to Sunset Dr. Board was mainly concerned with problems of traffic control, student-safety and bus loading.

A proposal for an athletic hall of fame in Clinton was rejected by the board.

School Code of 1976 changes the date for filing nominating petitions in school districts. Petitions must be filed by Monday, April 11 for the June 13 election.

Superintendent Richard Wegner reported that, concerning emergency school closings, delays due to fog will mean that school will begin at the usual time for all town students and buses will travel one hour late, according to the weather conditions at the time.

The new track at the high school has been finished and track equipment is being ordered.

Superintendent Wegner and wife, and two board members and their wives will attend the AASA Convention.

Annual Visit by Archdeacon

CLINTON — Archdeacon the Venerable William S. Logan will make his annual visit to St. John's Episcopal Church Feb. 20.

Holy Communion service will be at 10 a.m.

A family potluck dinner will be served after the dinner.

The bishop's committee was organized at a recent meeting and elected David Hough as chairman. Mrs. George H. Lancaster Sr. was elected secretary and Mrs. Roy Richard, treasurer.

Other members of the bishop's committee are Edward Townsend, Vernon Fry and Daniel Goodman.

Holy Communion services will be held on Ash Wednesday, Feb. 23 at 10 a.m. and at 7:30 p.m.

Plan Photo Concerto

CLINTON — Clinton Elementary Parent Teacher Organization will present a special program Feb. 28 at 7 p.m. at the Middle School.

Robert Wells will present a photo concerto entitled "Bless This House," using three slide projectors and stereo-phonic music.

The program examines America and her people from coast to coast. The program offers an inspiring look at our country and will add a new dimension to the appreciation of it.

Simultaneously, movies for children will be provided in the Middle School Learning Resource Center.

A short business meeting will precede the program.

$500 Gift for Furnishings

CLINTON — St. Dominic's Altar Society presented a gift of $500 to the Rev. Fr. James Lee in January for the purchase of furnishings of the new confessional room

Since then, tables, chairs and draperies have been purchased with the gift, Mrs. Bruce Kruger reported. Carpeting has also been installed, a gift from an anonymous donor.

The Altar Society will host the meeting of the National Council of Catholic Women of Lenawee at a meeting March 16. Following 9 a.m. Mass at St. Dominic's Church, the women will go to the Community Center for coffee and a meeting recessing at 1 p.m.

At the May meeting a tea is planned to honor the 25-year members of the Society. Plans for this are being made by Mrs. Krueger, Mrs. Mark Bauer, Mrs. Alfred Cowhy and Mrs. Edward Kehoe.

While Fr. Lee has been on vacation until Feb. 17, the former pastor, the Rev. Fr. Leon Kennedy has been serving the parish. The Society expressed appreciation for his services.

Mrs. Kehoe requested donations of men's ties, shirts, overcoats, as well as women's clothing, for use at the Ypsilanti State Hospital. Also jewelry suitable for bingo prizes is needed.

These items may be left at the home of Mrs. Edward Blom or may be brought to the next meeting.

Mrs. Dan Reilly read an article, from February Readers Digest, "Did You Hug Your Child Today?"

A potluck supper will be featured at the March 14 meeting at 6:30 p.m. at the Community Center.

Lucky lady prize was won by Mrs. Joseph Caterina.

BRITTON'S PAST

Interesting Dates

by Thelma Younglove

BRITTON — Dates are hard to remember, sometimes of little value and often meaningless. Dates that are connected with our own community maybe of historical value to some.

The first land to be purchased in Ridgeway Township by a white man was bought in 1826. At that time the nearest government land office was in Monroe.

By 1831 there were a few permanent white settlers in the township. The first land in what is now Britton was purchased the same year.

Hannah Exelby, daughter of George and Mary Exelby, born November 1832 was the first white child born in Ridgeway Township. She became the wife of Simon Linn. Hannah Exelby Linn died Dec. 1906.

In 1832 the first direct road was opened. Originally it was an old Indian Trail beginning at LaPlaisance Bay near Monroe and extending to the Old Chicago Trail near Cambridge Junction.

November 1842, a Dutch Reformed Church was organized and built on land just east of the Ridgeway School. It was the first church to be built in Ridgeway Township and remained active until 1863.

In 1845, the first Methodist Episcopal Church (28' X 42') was built just east of the Ridgeway Dutch Reformed Church. The congregation outgrew the little church. By the fall of 1867, the large brick Methodist Episcopal church on the Ridge Road just south of M-50 was completed and ready for use.

Feb. 28, 1849 the Christian Church was founded in the Block School on the northeast corner of Hoagland Road and M-50. Within a year a frame meeting house was erected on the north side of M-50 about ½ mile east of Britton and dedicated Jan. 27, 1850. The congregation outgrew the first church and Jan. 3, 1880 voted to build a brick church on the same site. The brick church was completed in November and dedicated Nov. 10, 1880.

In 1881-1882 agitation began among the members of the church to move the church into the village. A lot was purchased. Bricks were removed from the church and it was moved across the road and west through the fields by horses to its present location at the east end of town. Bricks were put back on and the church redecorated. The first worship services in the new location were held Sept. 2, 1893.

According to register of Michigan Post Offices, Balch, Lenawee County was established Aug. 13, 1881. The name was changed to Britton April 13, 1888 in honor of John Britton, the first Postmaster.

Britton was incorporated by the Board of Supervisors Oct. 23, 1896.

In 1879, the right of way for construction of a railroad was obtained. The first train went through Britton August 15, 1881.

In 1883, the Michigan and Ohio R. R. built a railroad east from Tecumseh to Britton.

Sunday, May 19, 1895, the elevator was moved from Ridgeway to Britton over the railroad on two flat cars because of better shipping facilities on the Wabash.

Passenger service on the D.T. and I. west to Tecumseh was discontinued Nov. 2, 1931. The railroad was torn up in 1934.

In July 1897, the "Britton Citizen" (local newspaper) tallied the trains through Britton and counted 51 trains in 24 hours.

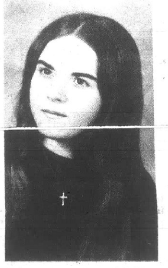
Double track was built by the Wabash from Detroit to Britton in 1912 and in 1927 was extended west from Britton.

A tile mill known as "The Britton Tile and Brick Plant" located north of the Wabash tracks on Hoagland Road was built in 1894.

The Britton Hotel is one of the town's oldest landmarks. It was built about 1881 by John Exelby, and was called the "Forest Hotel" because of the number of trees surrounding it.

Britton's 1894 Fourth of July celebration was long remembered as the year "Coxey's Industrial Army" marched into Britton from the west. The presence of the men caused some citizens some anxious moments.

To Be Continued in another issue.)



The engagement of Robin Furgason and David Vehmeier is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Milford Furgason of Britton. Mr. Vehmeier is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Vehmeier of Sand Creek, and is employed at Morenci Rubber. Miss Furgason will graduate with the class of '77 at Britton-Macon High School. Wedding date is set for May 21, 1977.

Barnard Service

BRITTON — Commissioning Service for Mr. and Mrs. Norman Barnard, missionaries to Hong Kong will be held at Britton Bethel Baptist Church Sunday evening at the 7 p.m. worship service.

Louise Barnard is the daughter of Mrs. Walter Stutesman, 113 S. Maumee, Tecumseh and Norman is the son of the Rev. Lowell Barnard of Greenfield, Ind.

The couple met while attending Cedarville College in Cedarville, Ohio. They were married following graduation June 3, 1967.

They spent two years in the service. Norman attended Grace Theological Seminary in Winona Lake, Ind, where he graduated in May 1975.

During August of 1974 they attended mission candidate classes in Clarks Summit, Pa., and were appointed as missionaries to Hong Kong under the Association of Baptist for World Evangelist (ABWE).

The Barnards have been on deputation raising support for the past two years for their trip to Hong Kong which will be in early April.

They have three children, Shanda, 2 months; Shannon 3, and Heather six.

A refreshment hour will follow the special services.

Repair Pipes, Heating Units

BRITTON — Superintendent William Saxton reported to he Britton-Macon school board Feb. 10 that the heating units and pipes have been repaired and classes are now back to normal. Hot water heating pipes froze in the 1963 addition of the school during the weekend of Jan. 29-30.

Richard J. Happley, architect, talked to the board about this inspection of the tunnel that connects the boiler room to the multi-purpose room. He showed snapshots that he had taken of certain areas in the tunnel that show evidence of water seepage. Steps are being taken to correct this problem.

John DeLine, high school principal, reported that the school counselor would be at the next board meeting to discuss the results of the Michigan Assessment tests.

The board established a pay rate for the kindergarten bus runs. They were changed the first of the year to cut down on the amount of time that the children had to spend on the bus.

The first and second grade students will attend the presentation, "All About Us," at the Croswell Theatre, Adrian, Feb. 21.

New PO Hours

BRITTON — Postmaster George Hawkins announced that due to a change in mail transportation routes, schedules will be altered at the Britton Post Office. The morning mail will now arrive later than it had been previously, therefore, nearly all schedules in the office must be revised.

The rural routes will run at least one half hour later and the box section mail will not be sorted until approximately 9 a.m. New hours for opening and services will also be in effect.

The hours are as follows:

Lobby box section: Monday through Friday — 7:30 a.m. until 5 p.m.; Saturdays, 7:30 a.m. until noon.

Service section: Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. until 12, then 1 until 5 p.m.; Saturdays, 8 a.m. until 12.

Please note this change: Closed between noon and 1 p.m. daily.

Show Family Film

RIDGEWAY — "Time To Run," a film that is a mixture of problems and solutions, will be shown at the Ridgeway Church of the Nazarene, 6886 Ridge Highway on Feb. 20 at 7 p.m.

Filmed on location in Southern California, "Time To Run" stars Ed Nelson, Randall Carver, Barbara Sigel, Joan Winmill and Gordon Rigsby. Nelson plays Warren Cole, a hard driving success-oriented industrial and scientific engineer who, because of over-involvement with his work, has failed to communicate with his wife, Fran, played by Joan Winmill, or their son, Jeff, played by screen newcomer Randall Carver.

Approached from a religious perspective, "Time To Run" is also a story of friction between Jeff and his girlfriend, Michelle, played by Barbara Sigel. Michelle has discovered a spiritual dimension in her life, and this aspect is very confusing to Jeff, who has little time for "a God who would allow war, hatred, and suffering on earth."

But his life is shattered by an avalanche of personal problems, and he finds himself at a Jesus people gathering with Michelle, where he glimpses the possibility of a new life-style based on love and understanding.

On Dean's List

BRITTON — Craig Wagenschutz, 1976 graduate of Britton Macon High School, has been named to the Adrian College Dean's List for the 1976-77 fall semester. To achieve this recognition, student must maintain a 3.5 or better grade point average on the basis of at least 12 credit hours.

At Adrian, Wagenschutz is a freshman majoring in accounting. He is recipient of a current college Presidential Award ackowledging outstanding academic and extracurricular accomplishments.

While a Britton Macon student, Wagenschutz was an honor society student participating in football, basketball, baseball, track and the junior and senior class plays. He also was very active in Future Farmers of America, serving as president of the school chapter, treasurer of the regional division and with the school forum taking second place in state parliamentary procedure ocmpetition.

Wagenschutz is a member of the Grace Lutheran Church in Tecumseh, and involved in league softball there. He also has been affiliated with a Britton 4-H club.

Announce Spring Events

BRITTON — Dates of important spring events were announced at the Feb. 10 meeting of the United Methodist Women of Grace United Methodist Church in the home of Mrs. Howard Haas Jr., with 21 ladies and one guest present.

March 26 is the father-son banquet; April 1 and 2 is the Spiritual Growth Retreat at Adrian College; April 23 is the mother-daughter banquet and April 28 is the dinner for the Lenawee Historical Society, to be prepared and seved by the ladies.

Forty-two sick and shut-in calls were reported.

Mrs. Mirl Henry, president, opened the meeting with "Good Evening," "I Am Happy," and "Praise the Lord." Everyone joined in and repeated each statement after her. This was followed by silent prayer.

Mrs. Ed Kanous led the program "People in Missions." She told that missions are not all overseas or in other countries, but right at home too.

Mrs. Kanous also read from Luke 4:18-19. Other readers during the program were Mrs. Allen Bower, Mrs. Richard Seagert and Mrs. Richard Linn.

Following the closing prayer refreshments were served from a lace covered table decorated with a valentine centerpiece.

Assisting were co-hostesses, Mrs. Julian Strong and Mrs. Nelwin Bishop.

Gymnasts Place 2nd in Meet

The Indians finished with 71.2 points behind Hillsdale with 86.9 points. Ionia took third with 58.2 points.

Cindy Egli was second in vaulting with a 5.25 score, second in the balance beam with a 5.7 mark and third in floor exercises with a 6.95 tally.

Joanie Rapin was second in the uneven bars with a 5.5 score while Grace Gould was third in valuting at 4.8.

By event: vaulting—2. Egli, 3. Gould, 5. Steiner, 4.05; bars—2. Rapin, 6. Egbert, 2.85, 7. Phelan 2.8; beam—2. Egli, 4. Isom, 5.3, 6 Schneirla, 3.65; floor exercises—3. Egli, 6. Schneirla, 5.05, 7. Hamilton, 5.0; tumbling—4. Hamilton, 5.15, tie for 6th Egli, Egbert, 4.7.

Coach Mary Woods said of the meet, "The kids performed better than they have been doing. Form-wise, we have improved. Its just a matter of getting our difficulty."

The Indians post a 4-4 season record. The squad travels to Northwest this Wednesday closing out their season by hosting Reading next Monday.

End with 4-4 Tie

Tecumseh's club hockey squad ended regular season play with a 4-4 tie against B Division leaders Hanover-Horton Sunday.

The tie left Tecumseh with a 2-10-2 overall record.

Dave Perry was the first to score in the second period for Tecumseh assisted by Ron Oman.

In the third period, Jerry McFadden, scored twice, once assisted by Kevin Brehmer and once unassisted. Perry also scored another goal assisted by McFadden.

Tecumseh plays their first of at least two playoff games next Sunday at 7:30 p.m. against Adrian.

CHS JV's Undefeated

The Clinton junior varsity cage squad made it 16 in a row recently with an impressive win over Dundee 67-43 on Tuesday of last week.

The Skins are now 16-0 overall and 7-0 in the league.

Clinton took a commanding 25-0 lead before Dundee could get on the board. The Skins led 27-6 at the end of the first frame and 43-23 at the half.

Jeff Porterfield led the pack with 21 markers followed by Mike Karapas and Mark Deitling each with 11.

Deitling led the team in rebounds with six. Karapas and Carlton each had five assists.

Redskins Triumph

Clinton's varsity volleyball squad defeated Hudson 15-7, 15-13 and Britton 13-15, 15-8, 15-7 recently.

On Monday of this week, the Redskins defeated Addison 13-15, 15-7 and 17-15.

Sue Richter was tops in serving with 12 points followed by Ruth King with eight.

Clinton now posts a 5-1 record in the LCAA, 8-3 overall.

Local Runner Finishes 3rd

Tecumseh cross-country runner Janel Mumme took a third at the Sauk Valley Invitational Cross Country Tournament held Sunday in Brooklyn.

Mumme ran the 4.2 mile course in 34:59.

THS Volleyballers Post 6-1 Record

Tecumseh's volleyball squad handed Grosse Ile a defeat last Wednesday 11-15, 15-3, 15-8.,

The Indians are now 6-1 overall, 2-1 in the Huron League.

Sandy Dunn led the squad in serving points with 11. Sandy MacGeorge had ten points and seven spikes.

The junior varsity also won their match 16-14, 15-11.

The Indians travel to Carlson this Wednesday and to Jefferson next Monday.

CHS Grapplers Place 11th

Clinton's wrestlers finished last out of 11 teams, in Class C district competition Saturday. The meet was held at Napoleon.

The Redskins tallied 14½ points. Dundee won it with 65 points.

Clinton's Chris Wojtowicz qualified for regional competition at 105 pounds. The regionals will be at Stockbridge this Saturday.

Redskins Fall to Addison

Clinton's Redskins fell to Addison 69-56 on Tuesday of this week.

The Skins had a 16-10 lead at the end of the first frame, but their opponents led by one point at the half, 30-29.

Clinton trailed by just three 42-39 at the end of the third stanza but Addison pulled ahead in the final quarter scoring 27 points to 17 for Clinton.

The Redskins hit on 22 of 56 from the field for 38 percent while Addison completed 24 of 59 for 40 percent. The Panthers made 21 of 25 charity shots while Clinton succeeded on 12 of 16.

Tim Sharpe led in scoring with 23 markers followed by Mike Risner with 14 and Bill Zimmerman with 10.

Clinton closes out its regular season by traveling to Onsted this Friday and hosting Sand Creek next Tuesday. They post a 0-9 record in the league, 3-15 overall.

Score by Quarters

Addison	10	20	12	27—69

Scoring for Clinton: Zimmerman 4 2 10, Risner 5 4 14, Sharpe 9 5 23, Pike 0 1 1, Tallman 3 0 6, Brown 1 0 2. Totals 22 12 56.

THS Cagers on Top, 98-56

The contest featured special ceremonies at the half and after honoring Tecumseh basketball legend Vic Lawson.

Lawson was given resolutions from Tecumseh Common Council and the school board as well as gifts from the Huron League, athletic staff and Tecumseh Varsity Club.

The Indians were immediately on the offensive in the first frame hitting nine of 19 for 49 percent. They added two points on foul shots. And that was their lowest scoring quarter of the game.

The orange and black were even tougher in the second frame hitting on 12 of 23 for 52 percent. At the half, Carlson found themselves hopelessly behind 51-28.

Tecumseh held their opponents to just nine points in the third stanza to 24 for themselves and coasted on to victory.

For the game, Tecumseh made 34 of 74 shots from the floor for 46 percent and 30 of 44 foul shots. Carlson dumped 20 of 71 shots for 21 percent and 16 of 34 charity shots.

The Indians also controlled the boards 44-34 with Lyndon Hughes leading the way. He pulled down 10 rebounds. Gary Allen and John Ely each had seven.

Carlson suffered 36 turnovers to 16 for the Indians. Dave Bilkie had six of the team's 14 steals. Bilkie was second in scoring with 12 points to Jeff Hans' 16. Doug Bohannon had 13 and Richard Cangley 12.

Tecumseh remains undefeated in league play with a 12-0 record. Overall, they are 14-3.

Indians Take 2nd in District Tourney

New Boston Huron won it with 84½ points. Saline was third at 56. Southgate and Southgate Schafer tied for fourth with 48 points.

Seven wrestlers qualified for the regional at Riverview this Saturday. Those Indians making the cut included, Jack Bagby, 105 pounds; Ben Williams, 112; Dan Yoder, 132; Dan Tilton, 155; John Silberhorn, 165; Kevin Eggleston, 178 and heavyweight Eric Butzky.

Tories Defeated

Britton's cage squad was overpowered by the Sand Creek Aggies Friday night 84-65.

Sand Creek came out strongly in the first frame racking up 24 points to 13 for the Tories. Britton pulled up to within seven, 38-31 at the half.

The Aggies came alive in the third frame picking up 25 points while holding Britton to ten. The Tories outscored their opponents 24-21 in the final frame but it wasn't enough.

Britton outrebounded the Aggies 52-43 with Lon Wagenschutz and Greg Fanslau leading the way with 12 each.

Britton completed 28 percent of their shots to 36 percent for Sand Creek. The Aggies picked up 30 of 47 foul shots to 18 of 35 for Britton.

Wagenschutz led the Tory scoring with 15 points followed by Fanslau with 14. Terry Benedict had 11.

Britton is now 1-8 in the Tri-County League, 2-12 overall. Deerfield leads the pack with an 8-1 tally.

Indian JV's Are 14-3

Tecumseh's junior varsity cagers pushed their record to 14-3 overall and 9-3 in the Huron League with a victory over Gibralter Carlson Friday night.

The final tally was 68-50.

The Indians jumped off to a quick start scoring 21 points in the first frame to 13 for Carlson. By the half they led 34-29 adding 19 points to eight for the opposition in the third frame.

Bruce Phenicie had 17 points for the Indians followed by John Faulkner with 16, Mark Creswell with 15 and Jeff Osworth, 10.

Skate to Victory

The Tecumseh Recreation Department's two hockey teams each skated to victories in their respective leagues Saturday.

In the first game, the Tomahawk Squirts outshot People's Savings 3-2 in a very close game. Goals for the Tomahawks were made by Steve Eardley, two and Andy Keller, one. Assists went to Danny Lynch and Dave Schoenberger, each with one.

The Squirts, from Tecumseh, are still fighting for second place exclusively with only four games left. The Squirts record is 7-6-1.

In the second game, the league leaders, the Tomahawks Bantams, skated to their 11th victory outshooting Keegan Steel 6-4. Tim Eardley led the Tomahawks in scoring, receiving his fifth hat trick of the season, putting four goals in the nets. Mark VanBuren and Martin Henry each had one goal.

Assists went to Wendell West, two, Fred Sanberg, Mark VanBuren, Marke Earle, and Dave James all with one.

Tomahawk Bantams record is 11-1-2.

Adoption Abroad Gives Couple Joy

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kempf probably have more interest in India than the average Tecumseh resident. Since Sept. 1976 the couple has corresponded with an Indian mission that educates and cares for their foster child, Narayana Yaramasetti.

(Each "a" is pronounced as the "a" in father, "e" as in net and "i" as in magazine.)

The Kempfs have found the experience a rewarding opportunity to learn something interesting while doing something good. They feel "adopting Narayana is the best thing we've done," said Mrs. Kempf.

Narayana, 7, is cared for by the Assembly of God Church School in Titagarah, 15 miles north of Calcutta in Northern India. He has one sister and three brothers. The family could not support all its children and appealed to the mission which found a sponsor in the Kempfs through World Vision of Canada. For an annual fee, the mission provides Narayana with an education, clothing and clean surroundings that his family could not provide. The Kempfs feel their donation is "so little to be doing so much."

(Mrs. Kempf suggested other Americans interested in adoption may contact World Vision International in Pasadena, Calif. to receive a tax credit for their contributions.)

The Kempfs felt it was important that the mission group have a Christian background. Mrs. Kempf said she never doubted the honesty of the group. "I'm very skeptical about donations and big drives. I would be the biggest skeptic I say. But their sincerity shows all the time. They've been perfectly candid."

Although Narayana is too young to correspond with the Kempfs himself, the missionaries write that Narayana is a bright youngster and treasures the picture of his "aunty and uncle" and the picture cards the Kempfs send him.

"It makes me so happy when she tells me he carries the cards. Mrs. Kempf explained that she tries to send picture cards of animals or scenes that "definitely symbolic of our country."

"(Adoption opens up avenues of thought. It gives you something to do and think about," said Mrs. Kempf. Referring to India's present politics she said, "You've got to think about how it is going to affect the people." The couple is keenly aware of India's need to know and use technology.

At first the Kempfs were shy of telling others about their adopted child abroad, but they decided to share their experience because it has brought them joy.

"We have become a part of his life and he has become a part of ours."

Coincidentally the Kemps' son, Master Sgt. and Mrs. Theodore Kempf, at a North Dakota AFB contribute to hunger relief through World Vision International. The Theodore Kempfs have four children. The Charles Kempfs have nine grandchildren and four great-grandchildren all together.

Holloway Happenings

By Helen Smoll

HOLLOWAY — This is the first in the series of articles of the Raisin Presbyterian Church of Holloway, which has been a unifying institution in keeping Holloway together as a community.

The first white settlers in the area between Tecumseh and Blissfield were two bachelors, Robert Boyd and Jack Fulton. They built a log cabin in 1830.

Because of the great difficulty that settlers like these had in going to church in Tecumseh and Blissfield, it was recognized that Holloway needed a church of its own. Most of the pioneer families had altars and worshiped in their log cabins. However, March 5, 1835, a group of Holloway settlers met in the home of Obadiah Rogers to form a congregation. The Rev. J. G. Knouse met with them and the First Congregational Society was established composed of seven men and 10 women as charter members.

Mother Nature reminded us last week to keep our "Chin up, spring will be coming!" when she gave us a few days of spring-like weather. Seeing John Gibson take some practice swings across from the Macon Golf Course (the course still buried), wash a few windows, and dress lighter might have been what we needed to help us through the rest of winter. Furnaces enjoyed a little rest also.

The Al Meyers Airport was sight of departure for several Macon residents leaving from there this past week. Mrs. Paul (Lois) Hover was picked up last Friday by her brother who flew her to Butler, Pa. Lois's dad, Lewis Smith had a stroke. While she is gone Paul's mom, Mrs. Helen Hover, from Findlay, Ohio is filling in on the home front.

Don Davis was transferred to Indiana University Hospital by Bennett Air Ambulance last Wednesday. Polishing Characters

Under the direction of Richard Pahl cast members of "Dear Ruth" are polishing off their characters in preparation for opening next week. Written by Norman Krasna, this World War II situation comedy depicts the maze of hilarious complications arising from the case of mistaken identity.

Marcia Osterhout is the sophisticated, "Ruth," subject of the chaos. Sue Mills plays the younger sister, "Miriam," whose romantic letters are the cause of the confusion.

One recipient of those letters is the unsuspecting "Lt. Bill Seawright," played by Danny Bohannon in his first appearance with the Players.

Stage veteran, Dr. Carlton Cook, is the unfortunate banker "Albert Kummer," to whom Ruth is engaged.

Parents of the girls are Fred Taylor, who is "Judge Wilkins," and Lori Egli as his wife "Edith." This role has a special meaning for Lori. It was back in college, while doing this same part, that she met her husband Richard who played the role of "Judge Wilkins." Others in the cast are Ricki Speller, Gary Rader, Jo Ann Dalgard, and Kim Swift.

Swift is also technical director for this production. He and the stage crew are busy creating a credible 1940's setting, while Kathi Johnstone and Sandy Swift have the task of providing costumes in the proper styles of that era. Hairstyles and vintage background music will add authenticity to the show.

Performances will be Feb. 25, 26, and March, 3, 4, 5, with an 8 p.m. curtain each night. A special rate for senior citizens will be in effect for one performance only, the night of March 3. At this show, persons 65 years and older will be admitted for one third the regular admission change.

Seats for all performances must be reserved in advance. Admission is payable at the door. For reservations, phone 423-5255. As an alternate number only, call 423-2504.

Once again, patrons and advertisers are reminded to make reservations early

To Speak

Patricia Buffett, a former missionary to Mozambique, Africa, will speak at the 11 a.m. service of the Church of the Nazarene, 808 West Chicago Blvd., Feb. 20.

Missionary personnel in Mozambique were forced to leave the country, so Miss Buffett has been re-assigned to India. She will soon leave for her new assignment.

The pastor, the Rev. Herbert Nation, invites the public to attend this special service.

Carnival Saturday

Tecumseh High School is holding its Winter Carnival this Saturday from 2 p.m. until 8 p.m.

The Carnival will offer several new features this year including two full-length movies, "The Phantom of the Opera" and the Pink Panther starring in "Pinto Pink." The movies will be shown all day.

There will be games of skill, raffles, a spook house and lots of food as well.

The Kiwanis and Boy Scouts will also have booths at the carnival.

The event will be held at the high school gym and there is a nominal admission.

TATMO Is Official

The Tecumseh Area Town Meeting Organization was officially established at the Feb. 15 citizens meeting at Tecumseh Public Library. The organization is one outcome of the Town Meeting '76 held last October.

A proposed set of by-laws were unanimously approved by the 33 persons present.

The official name of the group is the Tecumseh Area Town Meeting Organization (TATMO). It is a non-profit grass roots citizen's organization for improvement in local community actions and policies. Membership is open to any resident or organization in the Tecumseh area interested in improvement of the community.

Membership dues are $5 per year. Each membership is entitled to one vote.

TATMO will be guided by a steering committee with seven members elected at large, each will hold a two-year term. It will conduct normal business except selection of the goals for the group at large. All regular meetings are open to the general public.

The seven members elected to serve as the first steering committee are Bill Frownfelder, Roger Proctor, Doug Bird, Clarence Lacny, Donna Roe, Barbara Kruger and Jim Harris.

An organizational meeting of the steering committee was held Feb. 23 at the library.

Marjorie Steiner, chairman of the community activity center committee made a progress report on the group's accomplishments to examine the feasibility of the project, as desired by the Town Meeting '76 participants.

The survey showed a total of 745 students, grades seven through 12 interested in the concept of a teen center and 421 of those students would be willing to work for one.

The task force recommended a community activity center contain an area exclusive for teens, a teen oriented program with a teen director and board composed of a cross section of area teens, an area for teens to meet for recreational activity and an area for teens to meet for movies or stage productions.

A special meeting was held Feb. 23 at the library to hear specific proposals and a call of action concerning a place for teens.

Deborah Harris reported on the progress of the media coverage committee. The residents at the meeting approved the plan for a community survey, a public relations manual, editorials on community affairs and more-in-depth reporting by the area media.

Tom Rudd, representing the Contemporary Artists Association, spoke about public acceptance of fine arts in the area. The group discussed community support for an arts council. A committee was appointed to study the question; Deborah Harris, Rod Turner, Nancy Phelan and Jim Harris were selected.

Bill Frownfelder and Roger Proctor were requested to explain the TATMO's purpose to the Tecumseh School Board, the Tecumseh City Council and the Planning Commission.

NEW OFFICERS — Recently elected officers of the Tecumseh Chamber of Commerce are Roger Proctor, vice chairman; Dick Eggleston, chairman, and Merlyn Downing, treasurer. New officers have planned a special meeting for all members on March 8.

C of C To Meet March 8

The 1977 Tecumseh Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors will have a special meeting March 8 at 7 p.m. at the United Savings Bank to plan a budget and organize community projects for the year. The board welcomes all people interested in supporting the Chamber of Commerce.

This meeting will be in place of the regular March meeting. The board meetings are regularly held on the first Thursday of each month at 8 a.m. at Don's Contented Sole.

Appoint Chamber Official Chairman of Michigan Week

Roger Proctor was appointed Michigan Week Chairman by the Tecumseh City Council Monday night. Proctor is vice chairman of the newly reorganized Tecumseh Chamber of Commerce.

"The Chamber of Commerce seems to be gaining momentum under new leadership," said Mayor Harold Easton. He indicated the chamber plans to work in cooperation with this year's chairman to organize Tecumseh's Michigan Week celebration.

Michigan Week is May 15-21. Already scheduled for the week is the Promenade the Past 1977 historic building tour in downtown Tecumseh on May 21 and 22 and the Tecumseh Jaycees Dawn Patrol at Al Meyers Airport on May 22.

LOVE IS PATIENT (?) — The Wilkin's home, 1940's is the setting for the situation comedy "Dear Ruth" presented by the Tecumseh Players Feb. 25, 26 and March 3, 4 and 5 at 8 p.m. at the Glass Room. Albert Kummer played by Dr. Carlton Cook, has his patience tried by rival Lt. Bill Seawright, Danny Bohannon. Ruth, Marcia Ousterhout is the subject of the chaos created by her medling sister.

City Checks Golf Course Sale Offer

The city of Tecumseh will investigate the offer of the Raisin Valley Golf Course to sell the property to the city.

Councilman Aden Mead cautioned Council Monday, saying he felt the prject was "beyond the bounds of our function (as a city)".

Another member raised the question of recreation funds that may be available to purchase or maintain the property as a municipal golf course.

Council member Mary Bowers said, "I think we have to be careful. There are things we haven't been able to give our town--like an auditorium--but I think we should find out about this."

High School Open House Is Tonight

Annual Tecumseh High School open house will be held Thursday evening, Feb. 24, for parents of the students.

Principal Clarence Lacny will start the program with a brief orientation in the gym. Program will also include introductions of new staff members and Vo-Tec personnel.

Thursday night's open house also gives parents a second opportunity to inspect the new addition at the high school. Parents will be able to tour all facilities and talk with their son's or daughter's teachers, who will be in their classrooms for visitations.

Refreshments will be served in the cafeteria at the conclusion of the activities.

Withdrawal of $2,000 Was Illegal

Tecumseh police received a warrant this week for Francesco M. Terrasi, 26, of Tecumseh, for uttering and publishing.

Terrasi reportedly entered the N. Evans branch bank just after opening Wednesday. He identified himself as the son of the owner of Redman Construction, Tipton.

Terrasi had the company's bank books in his possession when he withdrew $2,000 from the account.

A resume of other complaints is:

Feb. 18 — Keith W. Niehart, of Clinton, reported malicious destruction to his auto windshield when he parked behind Wrong Way Pub.

Feb. 20 — Robert Sterling, 5000 Milwaukee, reported that someone destroyed his mailbox during the night with a pipe.

Russell J. Brady, 22, of Tecumseh was charged with being under the influence of drugs after officers found him in the 300 block of S. Union. Brady was reportedly trying to get in a friend's home, but the owner of the house did not know Brady.

Feb. 21 — Kellious A. Williams, 22, of Tecumseh was arrested for drunk and disorderly after police received a call to go to the rear of the Chilean House. Williams was knocking on a number of doors there. He did not know where he was.

Feb. 22 — Ormond K. Eldredge, 83, of 11200 Mills Macon Hwy., was arrested for driving under the influence of liquor. Eldredge was weaving in his Chicago Blvd. lane, using his brakes unnecessarily, when police stopped him for the arrest.

Merle Eaton, 1200 Willow, reported a panel on his auto had apparently been kicked in while the auto was parked in his drive during the night.

Laura Kauffman, 310 W. Logan, and Mark Garcia, 1204 W. Pottawatamie, were both victims of dog bites. Kauffman was bitten in the finger, while Garcia received a bite on the back. Dog owners were advised to confine their dogs for 10 days.

Public Hearing on Sewer Plan Next Wednesday

Interested residents in Tecumseh, Britton and Ridgeway Township, Tecumseh and Raisin Township will have an opportunity next Wednesday night to express their views and opinions relative to the Tecumseh Area Wastewater Collection and Treatment Project.

A public hearing for views and comments is being sponsored here by Donald Mitchell, Drain Commissioner, at 7:30 at the Tecumseh Community Center.

Engineering representatives are expected at the hearing to discuss the project and answer questions.

The project, scheduled to be subsidized by Federal and state funds along with local financing, is in the planning stages.

Projected costs for the different government divisions are:

Britton, Ridgeway Township - $2,011,800
Raisin Township - $6,984,000
Tecumseh Township - $2,374,800
City of Tecumseh - $3,023,100

Seek Aid for 'Courts'

The city of Tecumseh has contacted the Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation Board to request their assistance with the city's project for four new lighted tennis courts, and improvements to the picnic facilities at the Tecumseh Community Center.

Cal Zorn, city manager, told council Monday night that he was informed by phone by the office of the Hon. David Stockman-R. Fourth District, that the city will be offered 50 percent matching funds for the tennis court project. Total project cost is $83,600. Local share would be $41,800.

Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation has reported a reserve of $35,000 and has asked the community for new project ideas. The board will review those suggestions at its March 2 meeting.

OK 'Tele' Hook-Up at Sutton

Telecommunications, a system that literally means sharing information at a distance, is coming to Sutton Elementary School.

Presently the system is being used for tutoring pupils and to provide subjects not readily available. Future plans include sending films and video-tapes from Vo-Tec. Ultimately, computer assistance education is possible.

Robert Duhan, school superintendent, announced to the school board Monday evening that the school is taking advantage of the system for the price of an antenna, approximately $300.

The system is presently hooked up between Adrian College, Vo-Tec, Adrian Training School, Siena Heights College, and most recently to Sand Creek schools and Lenawee Institute.

Since the system has been hooked up to the Institute, connecting Sutton would be a minimal expense.

With the system, the school can take advantage of present broadcasting. Perhaps, even more importantly, it can monitor the progress of the system and programs presently involved to see if telecommunications would benefit all Tecumseh schools.

The equipment immediately necessary will be purchased out of the budget, as the money has already been assigned. The playback, monitor, and recorder allow two way visual and audio communication.

Auxiliary Gives $24,000

The Herrick Memorial Hospital Auxiliary recently presented hospital administrator William Groover with a check for $24,000. The money will be spent for furniture in the 20 newly remodeled hospital rooms.

Since Jan. 1976 area residents through memorial contributions and the hospital auxiliary have given the hospital $59,000 for equipment and improvements for the hospital. The auxiliary also bought the televisions for patient use.

"Herrick Memorial Hospital Auxiliary would like to thank all those in the community who have contributed so generously with their time and monies," said Mrs. Kenneth Crause, Hospital Auxiliary president. "Many communities and cities larger than ours have much less cooperation," she remarked.

Funds for the hospital are raised through memorial contributions and through auxiliary sponsored events such as the Holiday Ball, the spring salad luncheon and services such as the gift shop and television rentals.

Save Now! Subscription Rates Go Up March 1st

Folks wanting to save $1 on their subscription rates to The Herald have until next Tuesday, March 1.

Effective that date, subscription rates will be increased by one dollar for all subscribers, including senior citizens and military personnel.

Newsstand price will be raised from 20¢ to 25¢ per copy, starting with the March 3rd issue.

Past, postal rate increases along with tremendous increases in the cost of newsprint have necessitated newer rates, a cost increase that The Herald has postponed for a number of months.

US-12 Accident Claims Tecumseh Resident

Services were Monday at the Purse Funeral Home for John Shirk, 52, 1000 River Acres Dr. who was killed Friday when his car was struck head on by another car on US-12, seven-tenths of a mile west of Neblo Road in Washtenaw County.

Shirk was prounounced dead on arrival at Saline Community Hospital after the accident occurred at 5:40 p.m. Friday. State Police troopers from the Clinton post handled the report.

Another man, John Butler of Milan died about 6 p.m. Sunday after being injured in the same auto accident. Butler was taken to the University of Michigan Hospital Burns Center for treatment of the 70 percent burns over his body.

James Oscar Butler, 54, who was riding in the same car with his brother was in serious condition at Saline Community Hospital.

Reportedly Shirk was westbound on US-12 when The eastbound Butler car suddenly lost control, went off then back on the road and over the centerline, striking Shirk's car head on. The Butler car burst into flames.

A passing motorist, Bernard Yager, 37, from Manitou Beach stopped and succeeded in pulling Henry Butler from the burning vehicle.

John Butler was believed to have been the driver of the eastbound car. The accident is still being investigated.

Shirk was born April 20, 1924 in Duquesne, Pa., the son of George and Helen (Frampton) Shirk.

On Feb. 7, 1947, he married Doris Jane Morgan in Duquesne. She survives.

He was preceded in death by his father and one sister.

The Rev. Edmond Watkins officiated services at Purse Funeral Home and burial was in Oak Hill Cemetery, Owosso.

Former Tecumsehite Killed in Utah

Services were Feb. 16 at the Peterson Funeral Chapel in Brigham City, Utah for former Tecumsehite Vance L. Hollars, 22, of Brigham City. He died at 6:45 a.m. Feb. 13 in a local Utah hospital, four hours after involvement in a traffic accident at Perry, Utah, two miles south of Brigham City.

Another former Tecumsehite, Kevin Limes, 23, also of Brigham City, was a passenger in the Hollars jeep and was reported in satisfactory condition Feb. 16 at McKay Dee Hospital, Ogden He was expected to be released over the weekend.

According to the Utah Highway Patrol report, the vehicle driven by Hollars missed a turn in the highway and rolled over throwing the victim. He was then struck by a northbound vehicle.

The accident occured at 2:30 a.m. when the men were enroute to Brigham City, 20 miles north of Ogden.

Survivors are one sister, Mrs. Gwen Nelson of Martinsville, West Va. a stepfather, Don Wilber and stepbrother Kirk, both of Brigham City, Utah.

Limes' brother, Richard Limes of Tecumseh, returned Feb. 17 from Utah and reported his brother was recovering from head injuries and an injured right hand. Kevin Limes and Hollars were carpenters working together. They lived with Hollars' step father, according to Richard Limes.

Anti-Drug Citizens To Meet

Citizens United Against Drugs will hold its third meeting next Wednesday night, March 2, in Room 5 at the Vo-Tec Center.

Meeting, scheduled to start at 7:30, is open to the public and will feature remarks by a state narcotics agent from Lansing.

CUAD has met twice before, but by invitation only for Adrian and Tecumseh residents.

Purpose of the organization, according to John Finley, spokesman for CUAD, is to make Lenawee County folks aware of the drug problem here, where the drugs are coming and being sold here, and to solicit help and necessary legislation from elected officials in eliminating drug traffic.

Finley also says the group has discussed picketing places where pornographic magazines are being sold.

Deadline Is April 11

Treasurer Todd Herrick announced to the school board Monday that April 11th is the last day to file petitions for the one seat opening up on the board.

Election is June 13th with only Herrick's four-year seat being contested. The renewal of the school's millage will also be on the ballot, but that amount has not been determined yet.

Herrick also announced that beginning June 1st, all candidates for school board office must complete a number of steps that Gov. Milliken signed into law effective, December 30, 1976.

Present school board members not running for reelection are considered candidates and must also complete the requirements.

Although all details have not been worked out, basically those seeking school board office must have a campaign committee, treasurer, separate bank account, and must keep track of income disbursements. Paperwork involved must be kept on file.

Herrick explained that the paperwork and process was not as difficult as it sounded,

Talking It Out

LESTER D. PROCTOR

HAVE YOU THOUGHT ABOUT A TRUST?

Your bank's Trust Officer may be the best source of information about whether or not you should be setting up a trust — but here are a few thoughts to start with.

Is the size of your estate large enough to warrant the care, advice and management of a professional? It may be, if you own shares in a business, have investments in a securities portfolio, or have income-producing real estate.

Does your wife have experience with financial affairs? If not, creating a trust and selecting a professional at a bank or trust company to manage your estate's finances might be a wise move.

Does your will (and your wife's will) convey your wishes for the care and education of your children (or grandchildren, too, for that matter)? Selecting and naming a guardian and arranging a trust NOW may be the best way to avoid grim legal entanglements later on.

When the future financial security and comfort of your family is concerned, you'll want to attend to them promptly and while you've of good mind and body. We can help you pre-plan your funeral, but for financial counsel we suggest a local bank trust officer.

MR. and MRS. DANIEL SCULLY

Linda K. DuShane, Daniel Scully Wed

The Raisin Valley Friends Church was the setting for the candlelight wedding ceremony of Linda Kay DuShane and Daniel Lars Scully on Feb. 5 at 7 p.m.

The Rev. Lawrence officiated at the double ring ceremony for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larry DuShane of 4711 N. Adrian Rd. and the son of Dr. and Mrs. Daniel Scully of Adrian.

Chris Speller was organist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of organza with a high neckline, long puffed sleeves cuffed with lace and accented by pearls, and a fitted bodice appliqued with Venitian lace and pearls. A headpiece of lace secured her tiered, floor length veil of illusion, edged with matching lace.

She carried a nosegay of white roses and flocked baby's breath.

Cheryl Cochron and Deborah Pennington, also of Adrian, wore gowns in the same style in a lighter blue.

Casey McAdam of Adrian was the best man. The groomsmen were John Haught and Gary Oliver, also of Adrian.

The reception was held in the church basement following the ceremony.

Mrs. Scully is a 1974 graduate of Adrian High School and is employed at Woolworth. Mr. Scully was graduated in 1976 from Adrian College and is employed by Lanes Drug in Toledo, Ohio where the couple will make its home.

Dr. and Mrs. Scully hosted the rehearsal dinner at the Hathaway House.

League To Meet

"Baby's Arrival" will be the topic for the March 9, 8 p.m. meeting of the Tecumseh area LaLeche League.

The league, which concerns itself with "total mothering," offers an extensive lending library as well as personal counseling to all interested area mothers.

For further information, readers may call 423-7752 or 456-4903.

Bound for El Salvador

This year Michael C. Keller will live and learn with the family of Hector Castro in San Salvador, El Salvador Central America. Michael leaves in July to spend the school year in El Salvador.

Hector was an exchange student in Tecumseh and stayed with the Worth McClures of 1009 Shady Lane. He and Michael, 17, became acquainted, played tennis together and corresponded over the summer.

Michael, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Keller Jr. of 110 W. Brown St. has been accepted as an exchange student in the Youth for Understanding (YFU) program. Over 6,000 students a year experience living, learning and maturing in another country through YFU.

Michael will graduate from Tecumseh High School this June. He has an "A" average. He has studied Spanish four years in high school and speakes it fluently. His host mother, Mrs. Castro, is an English teacher in San Salvador and Hector also speaks English.

MICHAEL KELLER

Youth for Understanding is a non-profit international student exchange organization which has exchanged more than 55,000 students worldwide. Students aged 14 through 18 can participate in the program and live with a local family in one of 23 countries in Europe, Latin America, the Far East or Africa for a summer or year.

Scholarship monies and other financial aid are available to qualified students who wish to live and study abroad, according to YFU.

Students or parents interested in information on this overseas living adventure with YFU should contact Mrs. Fred Shumacker, 456-7674, 504 Tecumseh Road, Clinton, 49236.

10-Year-Old Hit by Vehicle

A young pedestrian, 10 year old Robert Bagby, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Bagby, 1201 Murray, was struck Monday of last week. He was not seriously injured.

The Bagby boy reportedly darted out in front of a car at the intersection of Orchard and Shady Lanes while playing. Dorothy L. Davis, 65, of 107 Brown St. could not avoid the accident. Bagby was taken to Herrick, treated, and released.

A resume of other accidents includes:

Feb. 16 - Julia M. Fielder, 50, of Adrian backed from a parking space at the Post Office and struck an entering auto driven by Stephen A. Quigley, 25, of 219 Cummins.

Feb. 18 - Elizabeth Hammel, of 108 N. Union, backed from a parking space at Trickey's and struck a parked auto

Gregg A. Wonderly, 17, of 710 S. Union, reported that a deer ran into the side of his auto on M-50, near Billmyer Hwy.

Feb. 22 - John W. Pratt, 605 Stacy, slid on the ice in a bank parking lot and struck a second auto. Parked car belonged to Dale W. Stoner, 739 N. Union.

Betty R. Strand, 51, of 1205 Murray, backed from a private drive and hit a parked auto resting along the west side of N. Wyandotte.

owned by Nancy Hodson, 5262 Noland.

Nellie E. Barrett, 71, of Britton pulled from the Clark Station and struck a westbound auto on W. Chicago. Westbound auto was driven by Helen M. Johnston, 53, of Manchester. Barrett was cited for failure to yield.

Carl J. Leonard, 19, of 413 W. Chicago, was cited for failing to have his auto under control after he passed an auto driven by Eric Kennedy, of Northwood, Ohio, on W. Chicago. Leonard reportedly hit the Kennedy auto's front fender, struck a tree and sign, and then traveled 70 feet back into the roadway.

Feb. 19 — Frances M. Spreeman, 57, of 9631 Murphy, backed into a parking space at Ken-Ray and bumped a parked auto belonging to Betty Turberville of Brighton.

Policeman's Dance Is March 5th

Dance is scheduled to begin at 9 p.m. and will run until 1:30 a.m. Weekenders will provide music.

The monies raised from the ball are earmarked for community projects such as their little league baseball team and for relief to fire victims.

Dinner Plans Are Finalized

Plans for the Past Commander-Past Presidents' Dinner were finalized at the February meeting of the Auxliary of the Hall-Slater VFW Post 4187. The dinner will be March 5 at the Post Home on North Evans Street. Cocktails are at 6:30 p.m. and dinner is at 7 p.m.

Committees were appointed for the dinner and program. Readers may contact Mrs. Walter Mueller, 423-2345 or Mrs. Adelene MacKenzie, 423-2408 by March 1 for reservations.

At the March 5 dinner, the Voice of Democracy winners from the area high schools will be presented awards; post and auxiliary members will receive membership pins and bars; and a perpetual charter will be presented by a state representative to life members of the post.

Auxiliary reports were made by Mrs. Mueller, Adelene MacKenzie and Mrs. Ronald Hall regarding the Dist. 6 meeting at Newport.

District convention is May 15 at Carleton.

Hospitalized auxiliary members were remembered during the month and a contribution was made to one member whose home was recently destroyed by fire.

A reminder was made to unpaid members that the auxiliary cannot be 100 percent in the state without 1977 dues. These may be remitted to Mrs. B.E. McWilliams 412 W. Logan St.

Tour At Hidden Lake

March 24, the Urban Planning and Landscape Architecture Program goes "on location" to Hidden Lake Gardens for a tour of the facilities and a talk on low maintenance landscapes by Ohio area horticulture-landscape agent Fred Buscher.

Tour participants may take a bus from the MSU campus or meet the rest of the party at the gardens, but all must have reserved tickets. Reserved ticket applications are available from all county Cooperative Extension Service offices. Drive-up visitors pay only for lunch.

In addition to the main speaker, the program at Hidden Lake Gardens will include a film on landscape architecture, a talk by Hidden Lake Gardens staff naturalist Jack Wikle and a tour of the gardens, if the weather permits.

Officers Elected

Ruth Kuder of Clinton was elected the new president of the Monday Club at the Feb. 14 meeting.

Other officers are Cecile Smith, first vice president; Geraldine French, second vice president; Mrs. Charles Waterman, recording secretary; Shirley Dibble, corresponding secretary; Naomi Sallows, treasurer.

Mrs. Melvin Ruettinger and Mrs. James Tonneberger were elected to the executive board.

Cecile Smith reviewed the book "The Small Miracle" by Paul Gallico. The story was portrayed on television by the Hallmark Hall of Fame. It is the tale about a young Italian boy, Pepito, who attempts a pilgrimage to the tomb of St. Francis of Assisi. Pepito believes the interceding powers of the patron saint of animals will make his pet donkey, Violeta, well again. Fr. Domico accompanies the lad and shares his adventures. Pepito's perseverance paid off and Violeta was cured because of the boy's faith.

Mrs. Smith closed with the prayer of St. Francis.

Helen Sisson was chairman; other hostesses were Ethel Hammack, Mrs. Otto Meier, Mary Nichols, Naomi Sallows and Edna Wilcox. Valentine cake was served.

You Are What You Eat

by Shirley Weekley

I received a nice variety of recipes this past week and am looking forward to trying them and passing them on to you. Please keep the calls coming with new suggestions and recipes.

This week I have two main dish recipes. This first recipe from Jean Dellecese is a German meatroll recipe that is delicious.

GERMAN ROULADENS

6 slices very thin sirloin tip steak
6 slices bacon
1 small onion diced
6 small sweet pickles, diced mustard
2 beef boullion cubes

Fry bacon in pan until crisp. Drain and crumble in small bowl. Add diced onion and sweet pickles. (Well drained sweet pickles relish can be used in place of sweet pickles.)

Lay uncooked steak out and spread one side with mustard. Spread bacon mixture over mustard and roll up and fasten with toothpicks. Brown the meat rolls in a small amount of bacon grease on all sides, then drain grease from pan.

Add enough water to pan to cover steaks and add two beef boullion cubes for extra flavor. Simmer for 45 minutes. Remove rolls and thicken broth for gravy.

Note: Ask the butcher, to slice the steak thin for you. It should be about eight inches long and 3½ inches wide and very thin.

For a super simple main dish recipe try this delicious salmon loaf from Maralynn Lambert.

SALMON LOAF

1 can (1 lb.) salmon
1 can cream of mushroom soup
1 egg
3 cups (about) — broken potato chips

Mix all ingredients in bowl. Placed in greased loaf pan and bake 35-45 minutes. Serves 6.

This past weekend I tried this new carrot cake from Sue Halstead of Britton and it was very good.

HAWAIIAN PINEAPPLE CARROT CAKE

1 can (20 ounce) crushed pineapple
¾ cup salad oil
1-1 3 cup sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
3 eggs
2½ cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon soda
2 cups grated carrots
1 cup coconut
1 teaspoon cinnamon
¾ teaspoon ginger
½ teaspoon nutmeg

Drain pineapple well. Reserve ¼ cup fruit for icing. Beat oil, sugar and vanilla well. Beat in eggs one at a time. Resift flour with salt, baking soda, and spices. Stir into creamed mixture alternately with carrots, coconut and pineapple.

Bake in greased and floured tube or bundt pan 45-50 minutes at 350 degrees. When baked, drizzle with lemon frosting.

LEMON FROSTING

2 tablespoons soft butter
1½ cup sifted powdered sugar
1 teaspoon grated lemon peel
¼ cup well drained crushed pineapple

Cream together well and drizzle over cake.

Goes on Record

Underwood-Orr Post No. 34 of the Tecumseh American Legion went on record last week, passing a resolution critical of the United States Post Office and its services.

The resolution, sent to congressmen and state officials, favors repealing a statute providing for a fine or imprisonment of any person or corporation which seeks to compete with the United States Postal Service in the delivery of mail.

Plan World Day of Prayer

"Love in Action" is the theme for the World Day of Prayer March 4 in Tecumseh at the First United Presbyterian Church.

This is the first year the observance will include a Bible study from 10:30 a.m. until noon. Registration for this segment of the service will be at 10 a.m. at the Presbyterian Church.

Attendants are encouraged to bring a sack lunch and stay for the worship service that begins at 1 p.m. Coffee and babysitting will be provided. Registration for the afternoon segment of the program is at 12:30 p.m. at the church.

All church members in the Tecumseh area are invited to attend the morning or afternoon program or both.

Representatives from the following churches have prepared this year's program: DeeJay Rinehart of the host Presbyterian Church; Mrs. A.M. Burkhard, First Baptist Church; Cecile Smith, St. Peter's Episcopal Church; Mrs. Laszlo Gero, Gloria Dei Lutheran Church; Betty Dillon, United Methodist Church; Frances Spreeman, St. Elizabeth's Catholic; Naomi Sallows, Tecumseh Evangelical Friends Church and Lucille Bugbee, Macon United Methodist Church.

This is the 90th year of the World Day of Prayer. The worship service was prepared by the women in the German Democratic Republican and reflects their hope that women will strive together to find ways, familiar and new, to carry out the theme, "Love in Action," to bring the Good News to the poor, to bring sight to the blind, to seek release for captives and to provide food for the hungry.

4-H Day A Success

Tecumseh area 4-H groups were rated highly for their participation in 4-H Day at the Adrian Mall on Feb. 12. 4-H members, leaders and families in Lenawee County joined together at the mall for the annual 4-H day.

Several thousand shoppers turned spectators and viewed 24 booths set-up throughout the Mall by 4-H clubs and groups. Besides project exhibits, many booths had action exhibits, were members demonstrated and taught skills.

All booths were evaluated and among those clubs given highest ratings were North Franklin Hustlers, Britton-Macon, Roundtop and Raisin Slickers.

Included in 4-H Day was a mini-float parade and Britton-Macon received first place.

Visitors and 4-H families were also treated to dog shows, a talent show, a style show, clowning demonstrations, a demonstration on how to demonstrate, slide tapes on the Cooperative Extension Service, and a square dance which ended the day.

4-H Youth Programs are open to all youth between ages of 9 and 19.

Any youth, or adults interested in providing leadership, are encouraged to contact the Cooperative Extension Service, 199 N. Broad St. in Adrian or call 263-8831, ext. 249.

To The Editor

To the Editor:

A few days ago my son was on his way to a high school basketball game. He stopped outside a moment to talk to a friend before entering the gym.

Officer Gerry Greene followed him in, stopped him, and said very loudly in front of everyone, "If I ever catch you drinking or smoking outside, we'll have to take a trip to the office."

It appears Officer Greene thinks all young people do nothing but drink, smoke and generally cause trouble. I know the police do not have an easy job but to stop and threaten an innocent kid shows a lack of understanding and judgement on the part of Officer Greene.

If my son breaks the rules, "give it to him." If he doesn't, "hands off."

To the Editor:

As the new owners of the Weller House, previously owned by Rita Blake, we feel it would be most appropriate to introduce ourselves.

Now, just buying a house and being new to a community is, as a rule, an obscure business. Unless, you discover that the house you fell in love with (and bought) is either haunted or famous. Fortunately it is the latter, for us.

To many fame by association is still fame by any degree, but it would be foolish of us to be considered anything else than owners of a beautiful, historic home.

We moved into a beautiful home, lovingly restored by many people in this community, and viewed by the public with a discerning eye for the historic and decorative.

There are those who know this home more intimately than we do, but none love it more. Our greatest thanks to those who worked tirelessly to refurbish it and Rita Blake, who chose us to continue a tradition of ownership by those who are inspired to live a full and joyous life.

On behalf of my husband, John, myself, Karyn, our children, Karrie, Scott, Jim and Jeff: "Hello Tecumseh, we will enjoy getting to know you."

Mileage Is Deductable

The Internal Revenue Service has recently made it clear that groups involved in a meals-on-wheels program or similar arrangement for home delivery of food to the elderly and handicapped are charitable organizations for tax purposes.

Thus, a volunteer worker can deduct driving expenses on his Federal income tax form. The deduction is limited to either seven cents a mile or actual out-of-pocket expenses for gas and oil, plus parking fees and tolls. Contributions to the groups can also be deducted.

Nominations Being Accepted

Nominations, are being accepted for the fourth national "Conservation Teacher-of-the-Year" awards program according to Melvin Thompson Chairman of the Lenawee Soil Conservation District.

The competition is open to all teachers working at the kindergarten through high school level who have developed an outstanding program of environmental education.

The Nation Conservation Teacher of the Year will receive $1500 in cash and an expense paid trip to Anaheim, Calif. for the annual Conservation Districts.

Cosponsored by NACD and the Allis Chalmers Corporation, the purpose of the awards program is to encourage the development of creating learning experiences in conservation for young people.

Interested teachers can obtain additional information and nomination forms from the Lenawee Soil Conservation District office in the Faulhaber Building or call 265-5887.

Awards Highlight Banquet

The presentation of awards was the highlight of the annual Blue and Gold Banquet for Cub Scout Pack 207 on Feb. 10 at St. Elizabeth Center.

Cubmaster Boyd Larrowe presented awards to Philip Marvin, silver arrow; Billy Schuler and Kevin Adams, bobcat; David Arnold, wolf and gold arrow. Webelos receiving activity badges were: Robert Temple, scholar, outdoorsman, citizen; Gregg Schiller, athlete sportsman.

The Tecumseh Players entertained the group with a skit "Kindergarten Kewtees." Those participating were Gerry and Kathi Johnstone, Sandy Swift, vner Meikle, Marsha Ousterhout, Vickie Speller and Sue Mills.

Guests for the evening were John Demming and his wife from Boy Scout Troop 272, Sister Beth Hemminger from St. Elizabeth's Church, the sponsor of Pack 207 and Dr. Charles Carroll who share his experiences of Scouting.

Each den's table was decorated around the theme "World of Tomorrow" and a potluck dinner was served. Chairmen for the dinner were Mrs. Carol Watson and Mrs. Ellen Marvin. McDonalds from Adrian furnished the beverage.

The Webelo Den was in charge of the opening ceremony. Flag bearers were David Larrow and David Compton. Color guards were Gregg Schiller and Robert Temple. Sam Compton led in prayer.

The meeting closed with group singing.

High heating bill?
Cold weather is just one reason.

As a customer service representative, it is part of my job to answer questions about energy bills. And lately there have been a lot of calls about why bills are so much higher.

One reason is obvious. Weather – over 25 percent colder than normal. Customers are using many more units of gas, so even if fuel costs hadn't gone up, bills would still be higher.

But fuel costs have gone up. The natural gas we buy from pipeline companies costs a lot more than it used to. And these increases are also reflected in your bill.

Because your bills have increased greatly, I think it is important that you understand why they have gone up so much. I'll try to help you if you call me, but the weather and fuel cost increases are beyond our control. Probably the best advice I can give is to take all possible steps to conserve – to save both your dollars and valuable energy.

Don't forget – the bills you receive this month reflect those record breaking cold days of the last month.

Silo Survey

Ron Ryan of Adrian is doing a survey of "Michigan Silos" and would appreciate a report of any in the area to him at 263-2362. A "Michigan Silo" was poured a concrete silo that is about 40 to 50 feet tall. At the top is a poured concrete roof with a boxed opening for entry of silage and cupola on top for ventilation. They were numerous in the area.

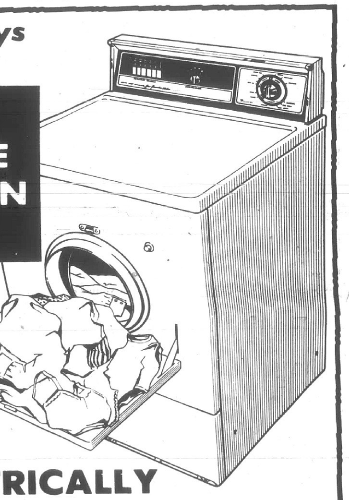
The washer that pays for itself!

WHITE-WESTINGHOUSE NEW GENERATION WASHER



Save 11¢ to 19¢ on every load of clothes you wash. Save water! Save bleach! Save detergent! White-Westinghouse tested New Generation Washers against 4 leading top-loading washers, using 14 lb. loads and large water level settings. Utility rates and laundry aid costs for the tests were those in effect in Dayton in June, 1976. Your local rates and laundry aid costs may differ — but the percentage of savings remains the same. If local costs are higher, you'll save even more!

groups, which were organized by Jean Merz and the late Janet Vaillancourt, bring in approximately $2,000 per year. Many of the players do not belong to the auxiliary but enjoy meeting new and old neighbors in the games.

In addition to these programs, auxiliary members works on a completely volunteer basis on the afternoon and evening desk, visitors check, the gift shop, the candy cart, the book cart and the escort service. In this capacity the volunteers help transport patients to physical therapy, deliver mail to patients and fill in where ever necessary.

Volunteers also make puppets for the pediatrics ward and do a great deal of work in arts, crafts and social activities for the patients in the Herrick Nursing Home.

"We are always open for new members — men or women." said Mrs. Crause. The auxiliary now has three couples who have joined the auxiliary and reportedly doing a wonderful job.

Interested readers may contact Eunice Bowen, 805 River Acres Dr., Tecumseh, or call 423-5611, if they wish to join the auxiliary.

Reports Given at Woman's Meeting

BRITTON — A number of reports were made at the Feb. 15 meeting of the Britton Woman's Club at the home of Estella Strong with Melva Kanous, assistant hostess.

Gladys Prill reported on the Lenawee County Federation Woman's Club meeting held Feb. 2 at the West Adrian United Church of Christ. Forty-three women were present to hear Dorothy Cunningham, woman's editor of the Daily Telegram. Next meeting is April 6 at the Clinton United Methodist Church.

Geraldine Keran reported on the things taken to the needy family at Christmas.

Annual reports are due at the next meeting March 15 at the Country House Restaurant at 1 p.m. Lillian Rogers and Verna Swick may be contacted for transportation. Members are asked to share slides of Michigan.

A nominating committee was appointed — Dora Schober, Geraldine Keran and Vivian Brown.

Frances Eberhardt showed slides of Canada, New York, Washington D.C. and interesting pictures of local people taken in previous years.

Mae Willis gave the devotions from I John 4:7-21. She read an article "Loving and Kind" in memory of a departed member. A copy of the article was sent to the family and one will be retained by the club.

Refreshments were served from a decorated table centered with roses. Cheese and assorted crackers, cake, mints, nuts, coffee and tea were served by Estella Strong, Louise Scott, Verna Swick, Dora Schober, Effie Gibson and Esther Seagert.

Plan Satisfies All Concerned

Residents of the area and those driving on the Clinton-Macon Road have undoubtly noticed the yellow blocks of wood which have been nailed to some of the trees. These are the trees scheduled for removal as called for in the road plan approved by all parties concerned.

Several weeks ago a final hearing was held and work is expected to begin early in the spring. Many people may find a brief history of the road controversy of interest. In June 1973, work on the road from the Macon Township line to the Britton Hwy. was halted by the first of three separate injunctions. Several months before this the hard surface of the road had been torn up.

The first injunction was concerned mainly with preserving the beauty of the area along the road and preserving as many of the trees as possible. Two years later in Feb. 1975 things appeared to be settled and a projected date in 1976 for final surfacing was discussed. However a second injunction was filed by another group of interested people, this one mainly concerned with the exact location of road, and later a third injunction involved a group of people mainly the grade of the road.

Finally a plan agreeable to the residents on the road and the county road commission was agreed upon and the final injunction was lifted. A statement made by a spokesman for a group back in 1973 finally became a reality, "We feel sure that when the facts are set out and reasonable discussion takes place, a solution will be worked out to the benefit of all concerned."

This has happened and all are looking forward to a good road through a beautiful, historic part of Lenawee County.

Recognized for 55 Years

BRITTON — Mrs. Carrie Murphy was recognized for her 55 years of membership in the Dorcas Class of the Congregational Christian Church Feb. 17 at the regular monthly meeting. Mrs. Murphy was present and showed a membership card given to her Feb. 16, 1922.

The 12 members met at the home of Thelma Younglove for a potluck dinner served by Mrs. Cora Frayer and Mrs. Theo Willis.

Early in the afternoon Mrs. Willis opened the business meeting by reading a poem "Hearts Gift" by Helen Steiner Rice. Mrs. Effie Gibson was program chairman. The Rev. David Hawk entertained the group by playing his guitar and singing Psalm 48:1,2. The group then joined in singing Matthew 6:33 and Psalm 103. Mrs. Gibson then presented a program of poems from Helen Steiner Rice's book "Someone Cares."

Officers for the coming year will be elected at the March meeting; Mrs. Marion Auten will present devotions and program; and Mrs. Gibons and Miss Younglove will be in charge of refreshments.

MACON — More signs of spring. Baby goats born last week at the John Swanstons and the top of Camburn's birdbath finally showed through as the big drift that covered it slowly melted.

Kevin Bush celebrated his first birthday Feb. 15. Mom and Dad, Larry and Mary Ann Bush entertained grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Bob Bush and Mr. and Mrs. Don Hyland. Also present for the cake and ice cream were Ray and Laura Donko and David and Linda Stretch and families.

Bernard and Pearl Tucker picked up grandsons Marc and David at Grandma and Grandpa Kishs' in Ridgeway on Sunday and took them home to Grosse Pointe Woods. They spent the day with son and his wife Norm and Betty.

Mr. and Mrs. Sumeth Simakulthorn of Bangkok, Thailand were Sunday afternoon guests of the Dean Joneses. The afternoon was spent sightseeing at the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor and other surrounding areas of interest to the Simakulthorn's. The afternoon concluded with dinner at the Joneses.

Clara Davis returned home last Friday but Don had to stay a while longer in Indiana University Hospital. If he continues to improve as he has been, he will probably be returning to Macon later this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Vern Oswald of Tecumseh visited Don and Karen Oswald Sunday evening for the birthday celebration for their granddaughter, Suzanne. She was 13-years-old Feb. 22. Karen spent last Thursday afternoon in Westland with Mrs. Polly Howell.

The cover of a magazine called "Creative Crafts," which can be bought on the newsstand, will have a picture of a miniature Victorian bedroom done by Judee Williamson. An article will be carried inside and the issue will be out either in April or May. Rene McCracken of St. Clair Shores has been in Macon since January at the Williamsons. She is training to be Judee's assistant.

The John Keller home on Ford Road was the scene for ice skating last Sunday afternoon. Cathy's two sisters and their families, Bob and Therese Peltier of Detroit and Jim and Marilyn Wirtz of Woodhaven skated and stayed for Sunday dinner.

Mrs. Paul Hover returned from Pennsylvania last Wednesday and reported her dad has improved. She got home in time to celebrate daughter Vicki's birthday at a family gathering on Thursday evening. Susie Palmer was an overnight guest of Vicki's on Saturday and made the trip to Findlay, Ohio with them Sunday when they took Paul's mom, Mrs. Helen Hover, to her home.

Mrs. Clare Camburn and Bob enjoyed a Sunday afternoon visit at the Carl Conrad home in Waterville, Ohio.

BRITTONS PAST

Important Dates

by Thelma Younglove

BRITTON — Britton had newspapers. In 1887 "The Britton Eagle", in 1896 "The Britton Citizen", in 1915 "The Britton Messenger", and in 1931 "The Britton Observer".

The Britton School was located on the corner of M-50 and South Main from 1843 to 1902 when land for the location of the present school was acquired.

In 1892 a Dutch Reformed Church was started in Britton (now Boy Scout building), January 1908 the Britton Dutch Reformed Church became the Britton Methodist Protestant Church. In 1940 it merged with the Methodist Episcopal. The Britton and Ridgeway Churches merged July 11, 1965.

Sept. 27, 1970 ground was broken for the Grace Methodist Church located between Britton and Ridgeway. The new church was dedicated in April 1972.

A Free Methodist Church on the corner of Palmer Road and Centennial Road was organized in 1872 and remained active until 1912.

The Prairie Free Methodist Church was organized in 1892. It was located on the southwest corner of Buckholtz Highway and Sutton Road.

In 1928 a Pentecostal Church was built on Osborne St. In September 1939 the Pentecostal Tabernacle was sold and incorporated under the name of Beth-el Independent Tabernacle. In 1950 the congregation voted to change the name of Bethel Baptist Church. In 1965 a new church was built on Main Street.

The DeSpelder Church located on the southeast corner of Milwaukee Road and Shaw Highway was disbanded in the 1920's. The building was sold, dismantled, and the building materials taken to Holt.

About 1917 portions of the turnpike were graveled. There were few motorized vehicles on the roads during the winter months until after 1920.

In 1921-22 the turnpike was paved and made into a state highway. By 1950 the pavement was breaking up beyond repair. Additional right-of-way was purchased by the state. The first pavement was torn up and the road was repaved. Many shade trees along the highway were removed at that time.

In 1892 "The Exchange Bank" was organized to serve the community.

1910 Britton had two banks - "The Bank of Britton" and "The Peoples Bank."

About 1896 wall telephones were installed in some homes in the area. In 1951 the dial system was installed. The Britton Telephone Co. disbanded and became part of the General Telephone Co. in 1956.

The electric line was extended from Tecumseh to Britton and street lights were turned on for the first time Jan. 28, 1914.

Water was turned on Nov. 1, 1952 in Britton's water system. The water tower and tank were erected in 1954.

Britton's library, one of the eight branch libraries in Lenawee County, has been in existence since 1945.

Not all dates of community events are listed, but the ones mentioned indicate that the people in the area have been active since the first purchase of land in the township was made by a white man approximately 150 years ago. Will the future be as eventful as the past?

28 Members Represent BHS

BRITTON — The Britton-Macon High School Band had 28 members represent it at the District Solo and Ensemble competition at Jackson Northwest High School on Feb. 12.

At the competition, groups performed for the judges who then rated their performance from a one to a five; one being the best.

One group received a "1" rating which qualified it to compete at the state solo and ensemble program March 26. The group is a saxophone quartet consisting of Nancy Lorenz, alto saxophone, Chris Kimerer, alto saxophone, Julie DeJonghe, baritone saxophone and Joann Squires, tenor saxophone.

Those who received a "2" rating are: brass quartet, composed of Bob Spence, Mark Gilmore, Jeff Bearinger and Jon Hintz; quintet of Dawn Bush, bassoon, Phil Loesch, french horn, Janine Squires, flute, Karlene Lutz, oboe, and Allision Judkins, clarinet; duet of Mary Oswald, clarinet and Debbie Bush, clarinet; duet of John Hintz, cornet and Dorothy Bush, cornet; trio of Laurie Hall, bass clarinet, Debbie Bush, clarinet and Dawn Bush, bassoon; duet of Sandy Judkins, clarinet knd Connie Rowe, clarinet; trio of Debbie Bush, Allison Judkins, and Mary Oswald, all clarinet.

Solos that received a II rating were given by Sandy Judkins, clarinet; John Arft, piano; Lori Hall, bass clarinet and Joann Squires, tenor saxophone.

Jan. 21 the All-County Band try-outs were held and those that qualified from Britton were Dorothy Bush, cornet and Lori Hall, bass clarinet.

F-S Banquet Held by Church

BRITTON — Mark-Ko the Magnificant, (Mark Kerstein, a sophomore in high school) entertained the fathers and sons at Emmanuel Lutheran Church Feb. 12 with his magic tricks.

Bud Pape was master of ceremonies at the swiss steak dinner served by the ladies of the church.

Toast to the fathers was given by Mark Miller, and Otto Miller in turn toasted the sons. Martin Miller toasted the grandfathers.

Recognition and awards presented by Bud Pape went to Eugene Hirth, oldest father; Michael Miller youngest father with son present; Jim Conrad, nearest 12th birthday. The Kirsteen family came the farthest.

Door prizes were won by teenaged and older guests.

Door prize for the younger boys were log cabin banks used as part of the table decorations.

Invocation and benediction was given by the Rev. Thomas Trapp of the church. Group singing was led by Bill Lutz and Mark Gilmore.

Patients Pleased by Colorful Stoles

BRITTON — Patients in nursing homes were pleased with the brightly colored stoles made for them by members of the Congregational Christian Church's Sunshine Circle, the sunshine committee reported. Vivian Brown and Donna Zeemer gave the committee reports.

Fourteen members met at the home of Circle president Nancy Wilson for a cooperative lunch, served by the hostess and assisted by her mother, Mrs. Brown.

For devotions Frances Eberhardt read Bible references from I Cor. and an article "Weigh A Better Way to Lose."

Remainder of the afternoon was spent making valentine favors for trays of shut-ins.

A committee composed of Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Wilson and Rosemary Auten will be responsible for the program for the March meeting of the Woman's Fellowship. Lillian Rodgers will be in charge of refreshments.

Holloway Happenings

By Helen Smoll

HOLLOWAY — This is the second installment of the History of the Raisin Presbyterian Church of Holloway.

The 17 Charter members and their families had regular meetings in a log building which was formerly a school house. Sometimes the congregation would meet in the homes of the members. Ministers from Tecumseh came and conducted religious services. The next 20 years showed a gradual increase in members added to the church roll.

The Rev. William Wilcott was the first pastor of the Holloway Church. He didn't have much income, so he worked other jobs to provide for his family. He was a strong man physically, so he was well suited to share the hardships and privations of the early settlers.

Members answered the roll call with payment of dues.

The quilt top was discussed and blocks were distributed to be used.

WHO WANTS RESPONSIBILITY?

Fall Festival Floundering

By KATHY BROWN

CLINTON — If Clinton business leaders and residents do not support the Clinton Chamber of Commerce at its next board meeting, the Clinton Chamber of Commerce will be officially disbanded, decided six stalwarts of the Clinton CC at a recent meeting.

The six — David VanTyle, Waldo Ehnis, Tom Young, Court Nighswander, Kathy Thomas and Joe O'Donnell — were the only members to show up out of 40 members invited by letter to discuss the future of the Clinton Fall Festival at the Smith Kimball Community Center on Feb. 21.

The six have agreed to officially disband the Chamber at the next meeting on March 7 because of the poor attendance seeming and lack of interest.

The future of the Clinton Fall Festival was throughly discussed at the Feb. 21 meeting and it was felt by the six present that the loss of the Clinton Fall Festival for lack of interest by the community would be a great loss for Clinton.

Joe O'Donnell thought a community fall festival committee could be possible with a person from each club, church and organization, each with a voice, to make up the new committee and carry on the Clinton Fall Festival tradition.

"It's not impossible, but maybe another organization will come forward and take over," suggested O'Donnell one of the original members of the board. "I personally feel that our village council should be more public relations minded than they are and would like to see them get involved.

"I can assure you," O'Donnell continued, "that who ever does come forward to help, the Chamber of Commerce will work with, and support."

Making a plea to the general public O'Donnell said, "You can help save the Chamber and the Fall Festival. You do not have to be a merchant to be a member of the Chamber of Commerce, just a concerned citizen of Clinton."

O'Donnell urged that interested readers contact any of the above members before they officially vote at the March 7 meeting to disband the Chamber.

"Tell them you'll join the Chamber and assure Clinton of a bigger and better fall festival. Their future depends on you," O'Donnell stressed.

Explaining the Chamber interest in Clinton O'Donnell went on to say, "The Chamber is not perfect, we know that. So few did so much. We honestly tried to do something for Clinton — to make everyone proud, to be better known than Manchester's Chicken Broil, to get people to come to Clinton.

"And we did do that, and we had something going for us, and its just a shame."

O'Donnell listed other accomplishments of the Clinton Chamber of Commerce. "This Chamber sponsored and held three successful Fall Festivals. They were responsible for getting Dr. T.S. Park, M.D. to come to Clinton after the death of Dr. George Wilson; got the National Bicentennial Wagon Train rerouted through Clinton; were a large factor in getting the Michigan State Police Post to remain in Clinton. The Clinton Belle became so well known as a symbol of the village and it was adopted by the Chamber. They sponsored Mayor Exchange Day and Michigan Week. Memorial Park was refurbished; the Chamber supported the merchants retail division that held the Clinton Sidewalk Days and last of all, the honoring and roasting of Clinton's Fire Chief Harlon Ruhl."

Kathy Thomas, who has been with the Fall Festival the past three years said, "Contrary to what people think, the Chamber is not making money on Fall Festival. To date, we are $100 in the red on our last Fall Festival. Our financial records and books are open for inspection to the general public.

"People just don't understand the cost and work involved in putting on a Fall Festival," Thomas continued, "So few do so much, we owe much to the people outside the Chamber that joined with us in the past to promote the Fall Festival. If we could just get more like them, we'd have it made.

Fall Festival Bills Still Outstanding

By KATHY BROWN

CLINTON — Clinton's Chamber of Commerce felt "another major symptom" of the Fall Festival is that "the churches and organizations have not paid their percentages of their profits made during the Fall Festival to the Chamber.

"The Methodist Church has not paid their share for two years. The Clinton JC's have not paid their share for two years. The United Church of Christ has not paid for this year," said the Clinton Chamber of Commerce.

Organizations and churches that participated in the 1976 fall festival with a booth or fund raising activity had the choice of paying a $25 entrance fee or 10 percent of the net profits, whichever is greater. Each group signed a contract to the effect.

Churches were not asked to reveal profits but pay the chamber on the basis of contract.

The Tecumseh Herald contacted the parties named for comment.

"Confusion is my comment," said the Rev. Roy Wagner of the United Church of Christ. "There has been some kind of mix-up in our own church," regarding who was to pay the bill. "I thought we had it cleared up by now." It was a "matter of $40," Wagner told.

"If we owed them $25, I wish they would have checked with us before they start spreading it up and down in the newspaper," said Mrs. Don VanGaasbeck, wife of the Clinton Methodist Church treasurer.

She found one check stub for $25 dated June 3, 1975 for Clinton Fall Festival Committee booth fee, and one for $200 April 20, 1976 to the Fall Fesitval Clinton Chamber of Commerce, and was checking on 1976.

The Jaycees treasurer Gary Ingram said "We sponsor the pig roast and didn't make over $300. It all goes back into the community. We couldn't see why we had to give $30 to the Chamber when that was going back into the community (through Jaycee community service projects)."

He said he was sure he had a cancelled check for the initial $25 booth fee, the difference in question would then be $5 for 1976. He was checking into what happened in 1975.

But other sources recall the Jaycees' rented tent was torn by vandals and put the Jaycees in the red for 1975.

Another sore spot with the Jaycees, recalled Sharon McGill, wife of the Jaycee's president, was the outside vendors were not asked to pay a percentage of profits as the local groups.

Welcome Club Holds Meeting

The Welcome Wagon Club held its general meeting at Merkel Home Furnishings Feb. 17.

Following the meeting, Bob Merkel gave a brief history of the business and the location site of the store in Tecumseh.

Merkel, Leola Brennan, staff designer from the Chelsea store and Jack Morgan, manager of the Tecumseh store, then answered questions on decorating and gave information on the latest colors and designs of furniture and accessories.

After the ladies had a chance to browse through the store, refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Daniel Henige and Mrs. John Rounds.

Next Welcome Wagon meeting is March 17. The program will be "Historical Homes of Tecumseh and Lenawee County" with the guest speaker, Dr. Charles N. Lindquist.

Twenty-three couples from the Welcome Wagon Club participated in a progressive dinner, Feb. 19.

The dinner was coordinated by Mrs. LeRoy Felan and Anthony Ferraro with cocktails and hors d'oeuvres.

The group then divided and progressed to the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Jeffrey Kuhman and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shroup for the salad course.

The main course, consisting of wine, Beef Burgandy and a vegetable, was served at the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Clark and Mr. and Mrs. Roger Proctor.

All of the couples then gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Winzeler for dessert.

The evening provided such a wide variety of foods and there is a tentative plan to assemble a collection of the recipes for the Welcome Wagon Club members.

The Tecumseh Recreation Department will hold another session of the Ladies' Dance Exercise Class. Sessions will begin the fourth week of March. More information about the class will be announced soon.

Registration can be made at the Tecumseh Recreation Department, located in the Community Center.

Lenten Services Are Scheduled

The first of the Sunday evening Lenten services start this Sunday at the Britton Grace United Methodist Church at 7 p.m. and will then rotate at the other area churches on other Sundays.

Feb. 27 at the Britton church a choir festival will include choirs from Tecumseh, Clinton, Macon and Britton.

March 6 the Rev. Allan Gray of the Tecumseh United Methodist Church will preach at the Macon Church.

March 13 the Rev. John Roach of Britton Grace United Methodist will deliver the sermon at the Clinton Church.

The Tecumseh Church will host the March 20 service and the Rev. James Rupert of the Clinton Methodist Church is scheduled to deliver the sermon.

The last Lenten service in this series will be held at the Britton Church with the Rev. Albert Raloff of the Macon Church as preacher.

Nursery will be provided at all services. The offerings from the services will go towards the World hungry. The Public is invited.

On Dean's List

Margaret A. Robideau, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Robideau, 812 Red Mill, was recently named to the Hillsdale College fall semester dean's list.

A total of 259 students were named to the fall semester academic dean's list at Hillsdale (Mich.) College. The dean's list honors those individuals who have earned a B or better average during the semester. Of those recognized, 72 sutdents received "All A" averages.

Hillsdale College is an independent coeducational liberal arts college for 1,000 students.

'Ice Age Cometh'

"The Ice Age Cometh" is the topic in the current Siena Heights College Drama-in-Education traveling theatre troupe program.

Under the leadership of Sr. Trudy McSorley, the four-member troupe will visit 19 elementary schools in Lenawee County by March 17.

Third, fourth, and fifth grade students will participate in "Ice Age — Can We or Can't We?" Beginning with an announcement that the Ice Age has arrived, children will begin to cope with the problems of transportation, shelter, energy, and human relationships.

Each sponsoring classroom will be given a packet of materials for use by the classroom teachers after the drama is concluded. Teachers are also asked to evaluate the effectiveness of the program.

Troupe will appear at Ridgeway Elementary School on March 17.

Pearson Promoted

Airman Pearson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clark R. Pearson of 115 W. Kilbuck, is a ground radio repair specialist with a unit of the Aerospace Defense Command.

The airman is a 1973 graduate of Tecumseh High School. His wife, Sharon, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Al Schaefer of Wickliffe, Ohio.

APPRECIATION

AWARDS PRESENTED — Boy Scout officials from Lenawee Institute were honored at Tecumseh's Kiwanis Club meeting Tuesday morning. Above, Harold W. Tesch, scout master of Troop 102 at Lenawee Institute holds a plaque honoring him for his eight years service. Jim Lyall, standing center, asst. scout master received a certificate of appreciation from Kiwanis and the Lenape District for his work. Presenting the certificate is Dale O'Hara district scout executive. Looking on are scouts Eddie Votzke, center, and Jay Dee Creger standing between Lyall and O'Hara.

Scout Program Founding

Sixty-seven years of Boy Scouting in America was the program for the Feb. 15 meeting of Tecumseh Kiwanis at Harry's Cafe.

Program chairman Edwin Walters profiled the scout program founded 67 years ago.

Adult leaders of Kiwanis sponsored Troop 102 at Lenawee Institute were recognized for past and continuing leadership. On behalf of Tecumseh Kiwanis a certificate of appreciation was presented to assistant scout master Jim Lyall and a plaque was presented to Harold Tesch, Scout master for the past eight years.

Lenawee Institute student guests and scouts, Eddie Votzke of Addison and Jay D. Creger of Adrian, gave the youth viewpoint of activities in the scout program. Scout master Tesch highlighted the primary events of scouting.

One of the special guests, Dale O'Hara, district scout executive of the Lenape District (including Lenawee County) formally presented the troop's charter to the Rev. Allan Gray Tecumseh Kiwanis president.

Troop 102 committee chairman Russell Scott presented adult registration cards to troop committee members Bill Feight Jr., Dave Fontaine, Tony Catros and Edwin Walters and adult leaders Tesch and Lyall.

'Reading Day at the Mall'

The Lenawee Reading Council is planning "A Reading Day at the Mall" to expose children of all ages to the joys of reading. Event is Feb. 26 at the Adrian Mall from 1-4 p.m.

Various participants will be located throughout the mall dressed as different storybook characters. Reading stations, clowns and displays will also be present.

Finishing furniture yourself adds personal warmth to your home decor. No matter what stain you choose, the surface of the wood must be carefully prepared. If the timber is one of the softwoods, first use a sharp steel smoothing plane to 'dress' the surface. Then go over the wood with fine sandpaper, rubbing in the direction of the plane. If the furniture is made of a hardwood, the plane will leave marks and rough spots on the grain. You can easily eliminate these by using a wood scraper before the fine sanding. The standard cabinet maker's scraper is a flat piece of steel, 5" x 3" x 1/16". Push the scraper in the direction of the grain in order to remove a fine shaving. There are special types of scrapers which have different detachable blades and a handle — you may find these types easier to use.

For the interior decorator in your household who was just finished painting some unfinished furniture and has decided now to do some wallpapering we have all the necessary tools to do it with right here at the TECUMSEH RENTAL CENTER, 112 S. Pearl, 423-4470. We carry most everything from air compressors to ice cream makers and if there is an emergency for some type of rental object we have 24 hour emergency phone service. When you rent from us you won't have to find new storage space for your article, just return it when you are through with it. Open: 9-8, Sun. 9-3.

HANDY TIP:
Before you apply finishing coats of varnish or lacquer, be sure oil and water stains have had a day to dry thoroughly.

Grace Lutheran Lenten Services

This Wednesday, Feb. 23 at 7:30 p.m. Grace Lutheran Church ushered in the season of Lent with the first of its six mid-week Lenten services.

It has been the custom in the Lutheran Church to observe the last days of the life of Jesus Christ in this manner — from his prayers in the Garden of Gethsemane to his crucifixion on Calvary. This is the time of the year to reflect on the meaning of the Christian message, Pastor Kenneth Strack explained. This thought will be carried out in Pastor Strack's messages under the theme, "Behold the Lamb of God."

During each of these Lenten services the offerings will be designated toward the cause of missions and for various charities. In addition, during the 40-day Lenten period each member of the congregation has a self-denial folder, and these gifts will be used for various charitable purposes.

The pattern of Lent as Christians know it today emerged toward the close of the fourth century from a practical purpose — a final preparation period for Christian converts before their baptism on the Eve of Easter. Gradually, the period of intense examination and prayer was expanded from 40 hours (the time Christ was believed to have been in the tomb) to six weeks, 40 days excluding the Sundays.

Grace Lutheran cordially invites anyone to attend its services during this Lenten season.

District Questioned

Monday night, the school board questioned the Tecumseh school district's status in the present historic ordinance.

Owen Merrill, a member of the Historic District Study Committee, was on hand to answer questions.

According to the ordinance, the Board of Education building and the old West Branch school are within the district.

Board members questioned the inclusion of the old school. Presently, it is used only as storage and is in bad shape. In the future, the board felt upkeep of the building would no longer be economical, and they would have to tear it down.

Under the historic ordinance, repair work to either building must first be approved by the committee, as they receive all building permits involving historic district buildings before they are granted. Tearing a historic building down, the board felt, could meet very stiff opposition.

The school board agreed with the basic philsophy of the committee, to keep the historic architecture of Tecumseh intact.

20¢ Calls

General Telephone has begun converting its coin telephones to accept 20 cents for local calls in the Tecumseh exchange.

The increase from 10 cents to 20 cents is the first increase in local coin phone rates in 23 years.

Since coin telephone calls went up to a dime in 1954, costs associated with them have increased dramatically.

The wages of coin collectors rose 250 percent and the wages of installer repairpersons rose 300 percent. In addition, the coin telephone instruments increased 84 percent and booth costs increased 100 percent over the same period.

General Telephone anticipates all 63 coin phones in the exchange will be converted within two weeks and conversion statewide should be completed by fall.

Tecumseh Honor Roll

Honor rolls of students for the second grading period of the 1976-77 school year have been released by David Dick, junior high principal, and Clarence Lacny, high school principal.

Students must achieve an average of B or three point, or better, to be listed on the honor roll.

Those pupils in grades seven through 12 achieving the necessary point average are:

Plans Made for Concert

The Tecumseh Music Club discussed plans for the April concert by father and son Mischa and Matthew Mischakoff, at the February meeting at the home of Mrs. Harold Smith.

February is Parade of American Music month and Mrs. Donald Bush gave the program on early American Church Music from the 1600's to the present. She also had the 15 members and guest, Pam Swift, participate in singing a number of songs.

Mrs. James Danforth was co-hostess and Mrs. Richard Broniman, president, presided at the business meeting.

City Interested In County Plan

Tecumseh City Council expressed interest Tuesday night in the county efforts to formulate an Economic Development Corporation (EDC) at the county level.

Councilman Jay Tressler, a member of the Lenawee County Planning Commission, explained the function and advantages of the EDC to Council.

Michigan Public Act 338 of 1974, known as the Economic Development Corporation Act enables any municipality to form an EDC. An EDC for Lenawee County would be responsible to the Lenawee County Board of Commissioners. The commissioners would select the nine member EDC to represent a cross section of county municipalities.

Primary benefit of the EDC to the county is its ability to issue revenue bonds and apply directly for grant monies to help industry locate in the county.

Any industry that decided to locate in Tecumseh could make use of the EDC financing ablility, thus Tecumseh would benefit with increased tax base and more jobs. If the industry decided to locate in the Tecumseh area, the city would still benefit through availability of more jobs.

The bonds are tax free and one to one and a half percent below corporate bond interest. Neither the county board of commissioners nor the municipalities in the industrial project area are responsible for debts.

Any municipality may lend, grant, transfer, or contribute funds to the EDC. Upon disolving the EDC, all surplus earnings and holdings inure to the county board of commissioners.

EDC can also inform industry about potential industry land parcels in the county. Decision where to locate however, is solely with industry. EDC cannot operate a project, other than as a lessor.

EDC offers Lenawee County an opportunity to acquire industry which will draw employees from the county at large.

Through public hearings held by the county board of commissioners at stages of project development, citizens of project areas have input. Citizens also have input through a special Project District Citizens Council that advises the Lenawee County Board of Commissioners.

The county board of commissioners may also exercise the power of eminent domain to further a project in the public's interest.

At the present time, Ron Reeves, of the Adrian Area Chamber of Commerce, has been hired by the Lenawee County Board of Commissioners to be economic development director for Lenawee County on 80 percent of his time. For one year only, $27,000 has been set aside to expant the office and activities for county economic development.

Council members questioned whether efforts by a county EDC would be duplicated by the new community development director the city plans to hire this year.

Tressler explained that the efforts of the EDC are for the county at large and primary benefit is its financing ability whereas the Tecumseh community development director would make "an ongoing, day to day effort for Tecumseh," not only in the areas of industrial development "but social and cultural development as well."

Furthermore, the Tecumseh man could do the salesmanship for Tecumseh that the EDC by its nature does not do, Tressler pointed out.

Councilman Aden Mead said "I really think this is good but if a multi-million dollar industry wanted to locate in Lenawee County, there would be an awful lot of competition for that tax base."

"You never completely get around parochialism," Tressler offered. "The best way to convince people that this thing can work is through publicity and successful example."

Loan Approved

Tecumseh school board approved a loan to the Sharps and Flats Monday night to complete the purchase of 55 choir robes for the high school.

The Sharps and Flats, a group similar to the Band Boosters, supports vocal groups. The group raised a little more than the one-third down payment or $799 for the robes.

Board's backing, of $1335 would cover the balance due, 60 days after delivery. Total cost of the project is $2,134.

The unit cost of the robes is just under $39, with 55 robes needed immediately for present choir members.

Jimmy Rice, THS band director, told the board that present robes are 20 years old and are badly in need of replacements.

The ordered robes are yellow polyester with orange satin stole and cuffs. The bright uniform meets all school specifications, while tieing in school colors and durability.

Group Explained

Roger Proctor, representing the 60 members of the Town Meeting organization, made a brief appearance at Monday night's school board meeting to explain that the group was available to assist with community projects that were worthwhile.

As long as any project's goal was to better the community, Proctor said, they were willing to help.

Proctor also presented the board with a copy of the organization's by-laws.

Accidents Investigated by Clinton State Police

Eric Francis Robison, 32, of 6989 Smith Road, Tecumseh, reported to Clinton State Police that an unidentified driver hit his car on US-12 West of Tipton Road Sunday.

The police report stated that an unknown vehicle passed Robison, who was eastbound, and pulled back into the driving lane hitting the Robison vehicle on the left front side.

There were no injuries reported.

Last Friday, according to Clinton State Police, a sheriff's deputies car collided with a vehicle driven by Margaret Louise Garrett, 32, of 12600 Monagan Hwy., in Tipton.

Lee R. Marsh, 37, of 510 Center Dr., in Tecumseh was driving the sheriff's car.

According to the police report, Marsh was southbound on Monagan and Garrett was northbound. They slid into each other at the crest of a hill just south of US-12.

Due to piled snow, there was only one traffic lane open when the two vehicles collided. The hill and snow obstructed the vision of both drivers.

Damage was slight, according to police, and there were no injuries reported.

Film Is Featured

The film, "Step Over the Edge" will be shown at the Tecumseh Evangelical Friends Chruch, March 6 at 7:30 p.m. This is a Kenneth Anderson film, especially for young people but all will benefit by seeing it, reported the church.

Up against nature, Christian young people face the stark reality of who they are and catch exciting glimpses of what they might become. Proud, self-satisfied Trevor unleases his ego at Ernie and C.J., but Kerry boldly faces up to him, thereby making him face up to himself.

Drawn from actual experiences in the lives of Christian young people, the thrill-packed motion picture uses the trackless wilderness as a setting for both exciting and meaningful human and spiritual drama.

Journal Planned

Richard N. Lewis is the new president of the Tecumseh Area Historical Society. Cecil Eby is vice-president; Stanley Legenc, secretary and Michele Worley, treasurer.

New directors of the historical society are Cecil Eby and Stanley Legenc. Other directors are Lynn Cook, James Beardsley and Gordon Comfort.

Next meeting is March 22 at the Tecumseh Public Library. Board of directors is considering increasing the number of meetings from four a year to seven.

The historical society will be a cosponsor for Promenade the Past 1977. Four residences will have an open house. Two historic buildings renovated for businesses and the remodeled Presbyterian Church will also be on the tour. Dates are May 21 and 22 to coincide with the Tecumseh Jaycees Dawn Patrol at the Al Meyers Airport on May 22.

Cecil Eby is looking into the feasibility of starting a journal for the local society which would include feature stories and a history of the origins of the society.

A historic marker for the Musgrove Evans House, East Logan, will be erected sometime this year, probably in the fall.

The Historic District Study Committee with the assistance of the historical society members, has just about completed work on the historic district and ordinance for Tecumseh.

Block meetings were held in homes of the neighbors and apparently the ordinance has been received with a lot of enthusiasm by the neighbors in the 11 block district on Chicago Blvd. from Pearl St. to Sunset Blvd. and on Union St. from Pottawatamie to Evans Creek.

BOOK MARK

News from the Tecumseh Library.

Have you ever wished you could explore contemporary issues in more depth? Tecumseh Public Library has many books to supplement television, newspaper, and magazine stories. The following are a few new books on subjects which have made headlines.

Are we heading into a second ice age? Lowell Ponte, author of THE COOLING, says yes. He reports that the earth's climate has been cooling for the last three decades and blames the cooling trend for the widespread crop failures which have caused famines in several parts of the world in recent years. Ponte goes beyond the conflict between man and nature to consider such social issues as whether government should try to modify weather and how such an effort would be coordinated from country to country.

One of the most controversial issues in the mental health field today is when a mental patient must submit to involuntary commitment. INSANITY INSIDE OUT is the story of Kenneth Donaldson's one-man struggle to be released from a Florida state mental hospital after involuntary commitment. Throughout his 15-year stay, Donaldson insisted he was sane. In 1975, the U.S. Supreme Court agreed that his rights had been violated and substantially redefined the rights of mental patients.

David Wise, author of THE POLITICS OF LYING and co-author of THE INVISIBLE GOVERNMENT, the book that brought about the investigation of the CIA, has written another book about government against the people. THE AMERICAN POLICE STATE reveals the extent of the government intelligence agencies' misuse of information and privacy. Wise tells how the CIA, FBI, IRS, NSA & other agencies have engaged in illegal wire-taps, break-ins, and bugging from the Roosevelt to the Ford administrations. The author suggests how to control these agencies before they control us.

What happens when one day a man suddenly finds himself unemployed, unable to find a job, and being a parent to his mother? Pat Watters believed in the American myth of hard work resulting in reward and happiness until that happened to him. A house, a car, his wife, his kids, the dogs, and a little money-that's all this 48-year-old journalist had left. THE ANGRY MIDDLE-AGED MAN-THE CRISIS OF AMERICA'S LAST MINORITY shows what the author found as he searched to bring new meaning to his life.

Four to five hundred thousand European Jews survived the German Occupation of 1939-45. Ninety-two thousand immigrated to the U.S. before 1951. The lives of 108 of these survivors since their liberation form the basis of Dorothy Rabinowitz's NEW LIVES. Recurrent themes of the horrors of the death camps changing later lives paint a vivid, compassionate picture of the survivors.

Hal Lindsey, author of the bestselling LATE GREAT PLANET EARTH, has written a new book called THE TERMINAL GENERATION. Lindsey again warns that we are living in the Biblical last days and interprets many contemporary developments in the light of Hebrew and New Testament prophesy. However, he offers hope for the Terminal Generation by suggesting that those who follow Jesus will survive to see the Kingdom of God established. He condemns as false prophets offshoots of the new consciousness such as TM, EST, and the writings of Carlos Casteneda. Quite simply, this is a book you will either like or dislike.

What are the ethical questions raised by the Karen Quinlan case? KAREN ANN QUINLAN: DYING IN THE AGE OF ETERNAL LIFE, by B.D. Cohen, attempts to discuss them. In doing so, he also reveals the long agony of the Quinlan family.

The engagement of Paula J. Owen to Joseph Paul Butala is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin F. Owen of 9439 Tecumseh-Macon Road. The bride-elect is a graduate of Sterling Heights High School and is employed by the University of Michigan Hospital as an executive secretary. Her fiance is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Butala of Sterling Heights, is a graduate of Cousino High School in Warren and will graduate in May as a geological engineer from the University of Michigan. A June 11 wedding is planned at the United Methodist Church in Tecumseh.

Banquet Held

Cub Scout Pack 73 held its annual Blue and Gold banquet Feb. 14 at the United Products Workers Union Hall.

The Rev. and Mrs. Edmond Watkins, Mr. and Mrs. John Deming and Mr. and Mrs. James Dehring were guests.

The Rev. Watkins offered the prayer.

After the potluck supper, John Deming introduced committee members and presented certificates to the following den leaders:

Den 1, Carla Lorenzen; Den 2, Diane O'Brien; Den 3, Mary May; Den 4, Arlene Coleman; Den 5, Barbara Vredeveld; Den 6, David Scher; Den 7, Marilee Birdwell and Webelos, Melvin Smith.

James Dehring presented year pins to Rodney Casarez, one year; Scott Sullivan, three years and Bob Noveskey, one year.

Other awards presented were: Bobcat award to Ronald Montbriand; Arrow points to Jeffrey White, R. Randolph, Robert Coleman, John Birdwell, Rodney Casareza and Joe Barenslager.

Wolf awards to Jerry Knack, Joe Bartenslager, Jeffrey White, Richard Randolph.

Bear awards to Scott McCarley, John Vredeveld, John Birdwell and Grant Bauman.

Boys inducted into the Webelos were Jeffrey White and Steve Rhodes.

Webelo activity badges were presented to Scott Sullivan, naturalist; James Pulley, citizenship; James Slick, naturalist and outdoorsman.

Arrow of light went to James Pulley, James Slick and Scott Sullivan.

Three boys progressed into the Boy Scouts: James Pulley, Scott Sullivan and Rick Aranda.

School Board Accepts Resignation

Tecumseh school board accepted the resignation of Jeannette Gillis Monday night.

The junior high home economics and English teacher will be retiring at the end of this school year.

Ceremony Is Planned

The Saturday CCD classes of St. Elizabeth Catholic Church planned a baptism celebration Feb. 19 for Karen Ann Zettel, newborn daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Zettel of 6650 Green Hwy.

Karen Ann received the sacrament of Baptism with Fr. Vincent Howard officiating. Edwin Ostrander and Rose Ann Zettel were godparents.

Attending the service were Karen Ann's parents, her sister, Julie and brothers, Bob, Tom, Mike and Gregg and all the Saturday CCD (Confraternity of Christian Doctrine) students.

Pat Patten, director and Sharon Svestka, organist, joined with the Youth Choir to provide special music.

A reception was held in the parish hall.

Planning the unique ceremony was an object lesson for the students to help them understand that Baptism is a sacrement that welcomes one into the family of God, and that all members of the family have a responsibility for one another.

COACH CONNORS WILL ACCOMPANY EGGLESTON, YODER

Wrestlers Head for State Meet

Tecumseh wrestlers Kevin Eggleston and Dan Yoder will be participating in the state wrestling meet this Saturday.

The pair qualified for the meet at Saturday's Class B regional at Riverview.

Eggleston won the 178-pound championship by defeating Madison Height's Dave Degaine 9-0 in overtime. Yoder won over Saline's Brad Estes 10-3 in the consolation finals to take a third overall in the 132-pound weight class.

As a team, the Indians finished ninth in the regional with 34½ points. New Boston Huron won it with 90 points.

The state meet will be held at East Kentwood.

THS Girls Are 4-1

Tecumseh's volleyball squad notched two more victories over Gibralter Carlson last Wednesday and Airport Thursday.

The wins upped the Indians record to 4-1 in the Huron League and 8-1 overall.

The orange and black defeated Carlson 15-7, 15-13 with Debbie Steadley the top server with 11 points. Sandy Dunn came up with eight serving points.

The squad had a tougher time of it against Airport Thursday winning the first game 15-7 but dropping the second 15-10. They came back in the third game to win 15-17.

Tammy Downing scored nine serves in a row in the first game and eight in a row in the second. Overall, she came up with 20 serving points.

The Indian junior varsity lost their match against Carlson 15-0, 13-15, 12-15 but beat the Jets by scores of 12-15, 15-12, 15-3.

The team travels to Jefferson this Wednesday and to Jackson County Western next Monday. Next Tuesday, March 1, they host Bedford.

Tories Win 2

Britton's Tories picked off two Tri-County wins Friday and Saturday but fell to Dundee on Tuesday to finish regular season play.

Britton defeated Whitmore Lake last Friday 72-63 and went on to triumph over Summerfield 50-47 Saturday.

But even with that momentum, the Tories couldn't persuade Dundee to make it three wins in a row. Britton trailed 35-19 at the half against Dundee. Dundee maintained that margin leading 56-40 at the end of the third frame.

The Tories connected on 22 of 65 from the field for 33.8 percent while Dundee hit 28 of 66 for 42.4 percent. Britton made eight of 15 foul shots while their opponents dumped 19 of 35 from the line.

Lon Wagenschutz led in scoring with 16 followed by Randy Smith with 14.

In the highly emotional Whitmore Lake game, the Tories trailed 34-31 at the half but surpassed their opponents in the third frame scoring 20 points to 11 for the Trojans.

Whitmore Lake pulled up in the final stanza but Britton hung on for the victory.

Wagenschutz topped both teams in scoring with 24 markers followed by Greg Fanslau with 15 and Randy Smith with 11.

The Summerfield contest was another close one for the Tories. Britton took an early 10-7 lead after the first frame but Summerfield pared the margin to 22-20 at the half.

The Tories added 13 points and held their opponents to nine in the third quarter. Several free throw shots by Wagenschutz in the final stanza made the difference for Britton.

Team Triumphs

Tecumseh's club hockey squad defeated Adrian 3-1 to open post season tournament play last Sunday.

Tecumseh picked up all their goals in the final period. Jerry McFadden scored first unassisted as did Dave Perry. Bob Simpson chipped one in assisted by Brent Dillon.

Next Sunday, Tecumseh takes on A Division Jackson with game time set for 4:30 p.m.

Knock Off Bears, League Finale Is Friday

The Indian basketball squad easily knocked off the Jefferson Bears 84-39 last Friday to gain at least a share of the Huron League title.

A win against New Boston Huron, at Huron, this Friday would give the Indians the undisputed title. Huron's only loss came at the hands of the Indians 69-67 earlier in the season. Overall they are 17-1.

Huron is rated tenth In the state according to the AP poll.

Tecumseh coach Jim Curth warns local fans to arrive for the game this Friday between 6-6:30 to assure themselves a seat. A packed house is expected for what should be a thrilling climax to regular season play.

The Indians meet Jackson Lumen Christi to open district play next Monday at 7:30 p.m. at Lumen Christi.

Last Saturday, Tecumseh came up short against Adrian 59-56.

But against the Bears, Friday, the Indians jumped off to a quick 17-9 lead after the first quarter. By the half, Tecumseh was in complete control leading 37-13.

Tecumseh had its biggest quarter of the season scoring 34 points against Jefferson in the fourth stanza.

The orange and black tagged 32 of 72 from the floor for 44 percent and 20 free throws. Jefferson came up with only 12 of 50 for 24 percent and 13 free throws.

Ben Maves was tops in scoring with 16 followed by Mark Creswell with 10. It was Creswell's first game at the varsity level.

Mention should be made of Dave Bilkie's eight steals for the game. Those plus six more during the Adrian game boosted his total number of steals for the season to 94.

The Adrian game was close all the way. Tecumseh led in the contest 35-32 at the half. But the Maples pulled up to tie it at the end of the third frame, 42-all. Adrian scored 17 points in the final frame to 14 for the Indians to take the win.

The Maples connected on 47 percent of their shots from the field to Tecumseh's 44 percent. The Indians had 16 of 26 free throws while Adrian made 11 of 18.

Tecumseh enters its final regular season game posting a 13-0 league record, 15-4 overall.

Lyndon Hughes led in scoring against Adrian with 19 points. John Ely, moved up from the junior varsity, scored 11.

District Tourney Drawings Held

Drawings were held Monday for district basketball competition for Tecumseh, Clinton and Britton.

Tecumseh drew Jackson Lumen Christi for their first game to be held next Monday at 7:30 p.m. Currently, Jackson Lumen Christi is rated 13th in the state posting a 15-3 record.

On Wednesday, the winner of the Tecumseh-Lumen Christi game will play Hillsdale again at 7:30 p.m.

Jackson County Western, rated 15th in the state, will play Albion at 7:30 Tuesday night. The winner there will meet Jackson Northwest on Thursday.

The finals will be held Saturday at 7:30 p.m.

All games will be at Jackson Lumen Christi.

Clinton's Redskins are hosting their district tourney. They drew Hudson for their first game to be held Monday at 7 p.m. The winner of that game will meet Addison Thursday March 3 at 7 p.m.

In the other bracket, both Onsted and Blissfield drew byes. They will meet each other on Tuesday at 7 p.m. Finals are slated for Saturday at 7 p.m.

Ann Arbor Greenhills and Deerfield open play at Grass Lake Monday. The winner there will face Britton's Tories on Wednesday at 7:30 p.m.

In the other bracket, Ann Arbor St. Thomas meets Grass Lake Tuesday. The winner will play Faithway Baptist Thursday.

Finals in Britton's district tourney will be Saturday, March 5, at 7:30 p.m. All games will be at Grass Lake.

End Season With Victory

Tecumseh's gymnastics squad completed its season by losing to Jackson Northwest last Wednesday but defeating Reading on Monday of this week.

Northwest overpowered the Indians 90.6-69.9. Cindy Egli took a first in floor exercises with a 6.55 score. Joanie Rapin won the uneven bars competition with a 6.8 tally.

By event: floor exerciese — 1. Egli, 5. Gould, 5.35, 8. Schneirla 5.0; bars—1. Rapin, 6. Phelan, 2.8, 7. Egbert, 2.5; vaulting—4. Egli, 5.9, 8. Rapin, 4.85, 9. Gould, 4.75; beam—5. Egli, 3.9, 6. Isom, 3.5, 7. Gould, 3.3; tumbling—4. Egli, 5.55, 6. Schneirla, 5.15, 9. Gould, 4.0.

Tecumseh bounced back from that defeat to whip Reading 73.6-54.1. The Indians swept three of the five events. Egli, Schneirla and Egbert took first, second and third respectively in tumbling. Isom, Rapin and Egli did the same in the balance beam. Rapin, Egbert and Steiner combined to take the uneven bars competition. Egli also took a first in floor exercises.

By event: tumbling—1. Egli, 6.15, Schneirla, 5.45, 3. Egbert, 4.65; beam—1. Isom, 4.45, 2. Rapin, 4.05, 3. Egli, 3.3; bars—1. Rapin, 6.05, 2. Egbert, 4.0, 3. Steiner, 3.55; vaulting—1. tie Gould and a Reading gymnast 5.1, 2. Egli, 5.0, 5. tie Hamilton and Reading girl 4.85; floor exercises—1. Egli, 6.2, 2. Schneirla, 5.75, 4. Gould, 5.1.

The Indians finished with a 5-5 final season record.

JV's Post 15-4 Record

Tecumseh's junior varsity basketball squad defeated Jefferson 60-47 last Friday but fell to Adrian Saturday night 63-35.

Against Jefferson, the Indians held a weak 42-38 lead at the end of the third quarter. They blew the game open in the final stanza scoring 18 points and holding Jefferson to nine.

The orange and black found themselves in trouble against the Maples Saturday night. Adrian came out tough scoring 24 points in the first quarter to 10 for the Indians. By the half, Tecumseh trailed 39-18.

Jr. High Cagers Are 4-10

This past week the Clinton ninth grade boys basketball team played its final two games of the season against Grass Lake and Onsted.

Clinton beat Grass Lake on Monday 60-51. High scoring was shared by Tom Foreman and Barry Yocum each with 16 points while Steve Porterfield had 12 points and Ray Phelps came off the bench to score 10 very important points and take six rebounds.

Clinton beat Onsted 49-41. The game was close until Clinton won the upper hand late in the fourth quarter.

Barry Yocum was high scorer with 14. Kevin Cymes and Tom Foreman pulled down 20 rebounds each.

Clinton finished the season with a 4-10 record. The team was coached by Russ Picklik.

Bantams Clinch Title

The Tecumseh Recreation Department's Bantam hockey team, with three games left in the season, clinched the Sylvania League title last weekend defeating Hickory Farms 4-3.

The win gave the Tomahawks a 12-1-2 record.

Goals were made by Mark VanBuren, two, Tim Eardley, and Martin Henry with one each. Assists went to Tim Eardley, Fred Sandberg, Matt Krochmalny, Martin Henry, Dave James and Mark VanBuren all with one.

This makes the fifth championship in as many years won by the Tecumseh Recreation team coached by Ward Eardley.

In the second game, the Tomahawk Squirts kept alive their hopes of holding onto second place in the league playing to a 1-1 tie with Rems.

Steve Eardley put the lone goal into the net for the Tomahawks.

The Squirts also have three contests left. They will participate in a March tournament in Findlay.

The Squirts are coached by Ward Eardley and sponsored by Raynor Snyder Realty.

Redskins Beat Onsted

Clinton's cagers closed out their regular season with their first LCAA League win over Onsted 51-48 last Friday. On Tuesday of this week, the Skins dropped a close one to Sand Creek 61-57.

The Onsted contest was close all the way. The Redskins trailed by one point 25-24 at the half. Onsted was in the lead 40-35 at the end of the third frame.

Clinton scored 16 points in the final stanza, including several crucial charity shots, to eight for Onsted to take the win.

Mike Risner led both teams in scoring with 16 followed by Wally Pike with ten. Risner led the defense with five seals. The Skins suffered just seven turnovers, a season low for them.

Against the Sand Creek Aggies, the lead see-sawed back and forth. The Aggies held a 45-42 edge at the end of the third frame and hung on for the narrow win.

Tim Sharpe led in scoring for the Skins with 17 followed by Mike Risner with 13 and Bil Zimmerman with 10.

Clinton ended their regular season with a 1-9 LCAA record, 4-16 overall.

CHS Girls Split Pair

Clinton's varsity volleyball squad defeated Grass Lake last Thursday 15-12,15-13.

Karen Busch was tops in serving with 11 points followed by Sue Richter with seven.

The junior varsity lost to Grass Lake 7-15,15-11,4-15. Top scorer for the Redskins was Kelly Martin with nine points.

Clinton lost to Morenci on Monday of this week 3-13,14-16. Marcia Canfield led the Redskins with eight serving points.

Clinton is 9-4 overall,4-2 in the LCAA League.

CHS JV's Undefeated

Clinton's junior varsity squad capped off a very successful season with a 44-38 win over Onsted Friday and a 58-42 victory over Sand Creek on Tuesday of this week.

The j.v. Skins ended the season undefeated posting an impressive 20-0 overall record,10-0 in the LCAA League.

With the win over Onsted, the Redskins captured the league crown.

Onsted was able to tie the game up midway through the final frame. The Skins went to a man-to-man defense causing Onsted to turn over the ball. Clinton also forced Onsted into several foul situations. The Skins dumped six of 11 charity shots to preserve the win.

Mike Karapas was tops in scoring for the Skins with 19. Mark Dettling led the team in rebounds with 10 while Dave Porter had nine.

Against Sand Creek Tuesday, the Skins had little trouble. Terry Carlton topped the scoring for Clinton with 15 followed by Jeff Porterfield with 11 and Mike Karapas, 12.

Two on EMU Team

Two Tecumseh area men have helped Eastern Michigan University's varsity rifle team shoot its way to victory this season, and now the team ranks number one in the Southern Michigan Northern Ohio Rifle League.

Aaron Cobb, son of Clifford E. Cobb of Clinton, earned a top score of 1,101 against Michigan State University in a November match. He has competed in seven matches.

Mark Noe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald W. Noe of 803 N. Union, scored a season high of 471 against Michigan Tech in a January match. He has competed in four matches this season.

The EMU shooters have competed in seven matches since October, accumulating a team average of 1,696.5. The University of Toledo ranks second with 1,634; Michigan State University third, with 1,609.

Coached by Sgt. Maj. Spencer Gilliard, Eastern's rifle team is composed of seven men and two women, all of whom are ROTC cadets.

In a typical competitve shooting event, each competitor gets 60 shots in three different positions — prone (lying on one's stomach), kneeling and standing. In the matches, which are usually timed, marksmen have 64 minutes to shoot 40 of the 60 rounds which will be counted as their score.

Each team member generally elects any one of the positions in which he or she chooses to shoot in any sequence dictated by personal preference. The target, positioned 50 feet from the shooter, has a bulls-eye the diameter of a pin head.

Arrest Youth on 3 Charges

Mark D. Lundahl, 19, of Onsted and Gary J. Ronders, 20, of Brooklyn were arrested by police this week - Lundahl on three counts and Ronders on a traffic warrant out of Ann Arbor.

Police reportedly observed the Lundahl auto eastbound on W. Chicago with only one head light at 2 a.m. Friday. They stopped the car and found unsealed and sealed beer on the floor. They also found a box of alleged marijuana on the dash and an uncased shotgun in the pickup.

Lundahl was arrested for possession, open intoxicants, and for transporting an uncased shotgun. Ronders was a passenger in the vehicle, but was arrested only on the traffic warrant.

Whelan Implement, on Logan, was the site of another B&E this week as police found the building broken into sometime before 6:40 a.m. Monday morning.

An unknown number of vandals broke a door window on the east side of the building to gain entry. They ransacked all areas of the building. Police do have three suspects.

Glen Richmond, of 513 W. Brown reported malicious destruction to the front window of his garage Thursday. Police found a small rock in the garage.

Meyers Airport reported a pushed-in metal window at the west side of their hanger paint shop Saturday. Apparently, there was no entry.

Also on Saturday, Barb Carothers told police she parked her car on S. Evans, in the alley between the Eagles and Legion, when someone broke her car aerial and pulled her spark plug wires.

Man Admits to Charges

Francesco M. Terrasi, 26, of Tecumseh pled guilty to uttering and publishing this week in connection with an incident early last Wednesday.

Terrasi waved examination in District Court and entered the plea in Circuit Court.

Terrasi reportedly entered the N. Evans branch bank Wednesday, identifying himself as the son of the owner of Redman Construction in Tipton. He withdrew $2,000 from the company's account.

ICE POSTED — Recreation director Ward Eardley has posted the Tecumseh Park ice skating area with the above warning for skaters. This sign, at the entrance to the park, alerts skaters to the possibility of thin ice that may have developed during last week's warm weather. Eardley says the sign will come down in the next couple of days if cold weather continues.

Continue TM Survey

A survey of the recreation needs of the Tecumseh area adults will be continued by the Town Meeting Task Force, Mrs. Don Steiner task force chairman announced.

Polling places include the library, financial institutions and some of the doctors' offices.

If any Tecumseh area group would like to participate and have a task force member conduct the survey at the group's next meeting, the group may call Mrs. Steiner, 423-7916.

A teen center, lighted outdoor tennis courts and indoor courts, an indoor pool, an auditorium, courts for racketball and a cinema are a few of the specific suggestions that adults have listed in the survey.

The task force hopes that more people will participate in the survey and voice their opinion as to what they would like to have. Mrs. Steiner said the number of replies is important if the survey is to have any impact for local planning. The task force wants to survey at least 2,000 adults.

City Collects $1.4 Million

February's winter tax collections at city hall amounted to $1,421,523.63. Vera Gardner, city clerk, reports.

The amount is approximately 93 percent of the total taxes for the county and schools.

Hospital Is Accredited

Herrick Memorial Hospital has been accredited by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals (JCAH) according to W.R. Groover, Administrator.

This accreditation, which covers two years, is the result of an onsite survey made by field representatives of the Joint Commission's Hospital Accreditation Program (HAP).

Accreditation indicates that this facility has chosen to operate according to standards set by JCAH and that the facility has, in the main, met these standards.

Enforce No Turn

Tecumseh police are now enforcing the no right turn on a red light when turning from Evans onto Chicago.

Police cited pedestrian safety as the main factor in not allowing the turn.

Fund Grants $22,800 for Improvements

Directors of the Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation approved four grants Tuesday night with expenditures for community projects and needs totaling $22,800.

Robert Robinson, Foundation president, says the grants will either pay in full or assist in the acquisition of equipment or facilities.

Tuesday night's action provided:

$3,000 for construction of permanent bleachers at the lighted softball diamond just off N. Evans St.

$2,500 towards the purchase of a new public address sytem at Tecumseh High School Gym.

$12,000 to the city for assistance in building new tennis courts and other improvements at Satterthwaite Park, adjacent to the Community Center.

$5,300 to Tecumseh Public Library for preserving Tecumseh historical collection.

Mr. Robinson says other expenditures probably will be approved at a March 29 meeting of the directors. He says needs of senior citizens, teenagers and groups, such as the Tecumseh Players, will be considered.

During the past month the Foundation solicited suggestions from residents for possible projects that could be undertaken and developed for the community. A total of 17 different suggestions were received, with ideas ranging from an auditorium to an ice skating facility.

Foundation's Gift To Preserve City's Historical Data

In a letter to the Foundation, Deborah Harris, library director, says recent budget cuts have prevented the library from properly processing and storing the Tecumseh historical collection.

Monies in the amount of $5,300 for developing the collection have been approved by the Foundation.

The library's proposal includes:

(1) Formation of a separate photograph collection, consisting of about 500 pictures - houses, businesses, farm life, individuals and other subjects - in acid-free folders in a filing cabinet.

(2) Revamping, through archival practices, the existing Tecumseh Vertical File of pamphlets, newspaper clippings, rare books and other fragile material. Rubber bands, paper clips, tape and other similar materials would be discarded, and present file folders would be replaced with acid-free folders.

(3) Organizing by indexing and storing in a notebook a collection of 400 slides. Slide collection is the work of the late Joe Rice and documents Tecumseh's growth from about 1951 to 1965.

(4) Acquisition of a blueprint cabinet to house a collection of 64 blueprints given to the library by the architectural firm of Marr and Marr. Collection is of drawings for buildings financed by the Herrick Foundation.

(5) Microfilming 76 back volumes of The Tecumseh Herald, from 1899 to 1975. Paper in these volumes is said to be decaying rapidly.

Breakdown of the cost is $699 for supplies and equipment; labor, $1,430, and $3,154 for microfilming old volumes of The Herald.

Mrs. Harris says the historical collection in the Clara Waldron Room forms the backbone of Tecumseh's historical record. She says it is heavily used by the public and deserves to be properly stored and kept in good physical condition as long as possible.

The schools collect .7 mill for operating the library from tax payers in the school district. This millage raises about $60,000. Other major sources of revenue are state aid, about $3,600, and penal fines, approximately $16,000.

Chamber Wants State Office Retained Here

One of the main items on the agenda at next Wednesday's Chamber of Commerce meeting will deal with retaining a Secretary of State branch office in Tecumseh.

Richard Eggleston, Chamber president, says Dr. David Blanden will give a report on the city's chances to the directors.

At the present, the Secretary of State office is operated here by Ernest Oliver. As of July 1, 1977, all branch offices will be managed by Civil Service personnel.

Mr. Oliver says he definitely will not be the new manager and under the Civil Service program.

Plans call for an office in Adrian and in the Tecumseh area, whether it be here or perhaps Clinton. Throughout the state, many offices will be closed.

Since the new office will also handle driver licenses along with license plates, minimum office space requirement is 1,500 square feet. Attempts are being made here now to locate a building or office that will meet this requirement.

Chamber's agenda will also include reports from Merlyn Downing on the 1977 budget, 1977 projects from Don Dobrosky, and Chamber by-laws by Roger Proctor.

60-45 Defeat Sidelines THS

By Frank Weir

Tecumseh's hopes to advance in post-season cage tournament play were dashed with a 60-45 loss to Lumen Christi Monday night.

Although the Indians also lost to New Boston Huron Friday night, 73-61, they tied with Huron for a share of the Huron League title.

Tecumseh finished with a 15-6 overall record, 13-1 in the League.

Lumen Christi jumped off to a quick lead Monday night scoring 14 points in the first frame to eight for the Indians. By the half, the Indians trailed 26-21.

Both teams scored 15 points each in the third stanza. With three minutes to go, the Indians were up 45-44, but Lumen Christi took off to score the last 16 points.

The Indians tagged 17 of 43 from the floor for 39 percent while Christi completed 23 of 55 for 42 percent. Both teams did well from the line, Tecumseh bumping in 11 of 14 and Christi, 14 of 18.

The Indians came up with 25 rebounds to 24 for Christi. Lyndon Hughes had nine while Jeff Hans came up with five. Dave Bilkie earned three steals, and along with three in the Huron game had a season total of 100 steals.

Dave Bohannon suffered a severally sprained ankle in the Huron game and was unable to play Monday night.

The orange and black suffered 16 turnovers to eight for Christi.

Coach Jim Curth said of the final contest, "We played fair, but I think we're capable of playing better. Bret DesErmia suffered a dislocated finger but played anyway and did a real good job. I'm really proud of these kids. They were inexperienced at the start of the season but ended up winning a share of the title. They did more than was expected of them. And next year, if they work hard again, we should have another good season. We now have a lot of experience for next year."

DesErmia led the team in scoring against Christi with 13 points. Jeff Hans had 10.

Against Huron Friday, the Indians led after the first frame 14-11. But at the half,

LOSS ENDS SEASON — Tecumseh Indians closed the season Monday night, bowing in tourney play to Lumen Christi at Jackson, 60-45, in a game that was much closer than the score indicates. Bret DesErmia, 6'2" junior forward, drives for the bucket here, scoring two of his 13 points, high for the Indians. Coach Jim Curth's club, not too highly thought of before the season started, posted a fine 15-6 record, including a 13-1 mark good for a tie with New Boston Huron for a share of the league's crown.

Tecumseh's story was reported on television as well as on the APwire services. Mrs. Lillian Perso reported that her daughter, Mrs. William Garrett (nee Sharon Fielder) of Oxnard, Calif., saw on local television an interview with a Tecumseh man on Chicago Blvd. about Tecumseh's energy situation. Mrs. Garrett didn't remember the man's name. So far Tecumseh's "TV personality" has remained anonymous.

Sponsor Two in Design School

The Little Garden Club of Tecumseh is sponsoring two Tecumseh High School students, interested in landscape architecture and related fields, to attend the Landscape Design School III, Series 5 which will be held at the Kalamazoo Center and Inn, March 16 and 17.

Jeff Dehring, senior is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Dehring, 92507 Tonneberger.

Jim Vischer, sophomore is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Vischer Jr., 9340 Newburg Ct.

The school is open to business and professional people involved in land use as well as garden club members and persons serving on community, state or federal boards concerning land use.

The Civic Landscape Committee of the Little Garden Club is Michelle Worley, Florence Gilbert and Lynn Cook.

This third in a series of four landscape design courses is presented in cooperation with the national council of state Garden Clubs and the cooperation of the Landscape Architecture Department from the School of Natural Resources, the University of Michigan and the Landscape Architecture Department and Extension Service from Michigan State.

Topics will include the development of park design and the future of small parks and playground; the effect of the master plan and zoning on residential, commercial, business recreational and thoughfare land; the value of our natural resources and efforts of people and groups to promote good conservation measures; the evaluation of landscape design, a logical process; and easy maintenance designs and the use of outdoor accessories.

Youth Baseball Coaches Needed

The Tecumseh Recreation Department is looking for volunteer coaches for the summer youth baseball program.

Anyone 18-years-old and older that is interested is requested to call the Recreation Department at 423-5602, or drop by the Community Center.

Talking It Out

ROGER PROCTOR

Benefits of Mourning Customs

Attending a wake, making a condolence call, offering help to the bereaved -- all are two-way acts of care-giving.

These mourning practices directly benefit the bereaved family and one's self. In her book, "Death, the Final Stage of Growth," Dr. Elisabeth Kubler-Ross advises that the purpose of mourning should be to allow for a full outpouring of grief. Mourning becomes the opportunity for the family to re-group after the loss of a member, especially to be able to continue living, loving, working and enjoying one another.

By getting this outpouring of grief early, we help to prevent pent-up feelings of guilt and regret from blossoming later with psychologically unhealthy repercussions. "Getting it out of your system" as soon as possible is appropriate therapy in most instances, experts agree.

You Are What You Eat

by Shirley Weekley

By the first of March, I think almost everyone (except the avid snowmobilers) has had enough cold weather and snow and are suffering a case of the winter blues. Here are some new recipes to perk up your day.

This delicious coffee cake from Barb Myers will brighten any day. This recipe makes two large coffee cakes.

COFFEE CAKE

DOUGH:
1 cup milk
1 cup lukewarm water
2 packages yeast
½ cup sugar
½ cup margarine
½ teaspoon salt
1 egg beaten
6½ cups flour

FILLING:
2 cups raisins
1 cup walnuts
2 cups brown sugar
1 cup butter
2 tablespoons white sugar

Heat one cup of milk in pan but do not scald. Add yeast to the warm water and set aside. In large bowl cream together ½ cup sugar, ½ cup margarine, and salt. To creamed mixture add hot milk and beaten egg. Add the dissolved yeast.

Stir in flour, one cup at a time, kneading the last flour in as in bread. Place dough in greased bowl to rise until doubled in bulk. Punch down and divide in half. Roll each half in rectangle 14x8 inches.

Mix all ingredients of filling in small bowl. Divide in half and spread half on each rectangle. Roll up like a jelly roll and place on a greased cookie sheet. Form into a circle and seal. Let rise another two hours. Make several slashes on top of coffee cakes to allow steam to escape while baking.

Bake in 375 degree oven for 25 minutes. Delicious!

Rose Mininger from Adrian sent this excellent cookie recipe that the children can help you make on a day "when there is nothing to do."

It makes a good, crunchy, oatmeal cookie and children love to make it. Bake up a batch whenever you want to get rid of your aggressions.

AGGRESSION COOKIES

3 cups brown sugar
3 cups margarine
6 cups oatmeal
1 tablespoon baking soda
3 cups flour

Put all ingredients in a huge bowl. Knead ingredients together with your hands as you would knead clay until mixed well.

Form into small balls and place on an ungreased cookie sheet. Butter bottom of small glass, dip glass in sugar and mash balls flat. Butter glass only once or twice but sugar for each ball. Bake in 350 degree oven for 10-12 minutes.

Red Cross Is Concern, Action

The Red Cross is an emblem recognized by the people as a symbol of concern and action. The Lenawee County Chapter of the American Red Cross was chartered in 1918 to perform various humanitarian services.

It furnished the opportunity for residents to give of themselves through voluntary action to help others and make the community a better place to live.

This is why the Red Cross is called the Good Neighbor. From pioneer days to the present, it has been part of the American ethic to lend a helping hand to those nearby.

Today, wherever this help is missing there is a real sense of loss.

The Lenawee County Chapter of the Red Cross as a voluntary agency offers continuation of this ethic and function. That the residents of Lenawee County have seen fit to sustain their Red Cross through voluntary contribution to time, talent and money for nearly 60 years is the ultimate endorsement.

March is Red Cross month. Readers are invited to join.

WORLD DAY OF PRAYER COMMITTEE — "Love in Action" is the theme for the World Day of Prayer March 4 in Tecumseh at the First United Presbyterian Church. Public is invited. Offer Publicity Guide

The Tecumseh Herald has prepared a publicity guide especially for club reporters in the Tecumseh area.

"Your Guide to Publicity in the Tecumseh Herald" is available now at the Herald office, 110 E. Logan St. and at the Tecumseh Public Library. Or call the Herald at 423-2174 and receive one in the mail.

The guide was written by Kathy Brown, Herald editor and reporter, as a follow-up to the request of citizens at Town Meeting October 1976.

The guide emphasizes that groups plan all publicity ahead and contact the Herald as early as possible.

When reporting meetings, club reporters should state the substance of the speaker's talk in a few brief sentences. This is more interesting to the general public than just giving the topic and focusing on social details.

The guide also states the Herald's policies on advertising and suggests writing rules.

Remember, a Tecumseh Herald reporter is only a phone call away to help you plan publicity and take your news.

Chief Speaks, Cubs Awarded

Tecumseh Chief of Police Merlin Mowery talked about drugs and police protection at the February Blue and Gold banquet of Cub Scout Pack 32 of Birdsall. Family members and 10 guests were present at the Conservation Club.

Awards were presented after the meal to:

Webelos den 1 - Brian Phepps, citizen, naturalist and traveler and his one year pin. Todd Sheldon, naturalist, sportsman, and traveler pins. Bill Gove, artist and athlete pins. Kevin Robinson, artist, athlete and outdoorsman pins. Jerry Trull, forester and outdoorsman pins. Steve Vargo, artist pin, and Bryan Schultz, one silver arrow.

Leaders are Russ Holden and Kent Sheldon, helpers were Tom Moore Sr., Steve Schultz and Harold Robinson.

Cubs, den 3 - Mark Carr, two silver wolf arrows; Joe Schmidt, two silver wolf arrows, and Tom Hartman, bear badge. Leader is Sharon Robinson, helper is Roene Gove.

All the boys received their membership cards, presidential awards and a camper's knife for selling Tom Wat kits at Christmas time.

Decorations for the banquet were furnished by Betty Holdridge, Roene Gove and Sharon Robinson and Cubmaster Harold Robinson.

Has Training In Caribbean

Navy Storekeeper Seaman Daniel D. Fitch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Fitch Sr. of 107 Cairns, has completed five weeks of refresher training in the Caribbean Sea.

He is a crewmember aboard the amphibious assault ship USS Inchon, homeported in Norfolk, Va.

The training consisted of graded exercises and battle problems designed to improve all aspects of his ship's combat readiness. The Inchon operated from the U.S. Naval Base at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, for the training.

His ship is designed to carry a Marine batallion landing team including its light vehicles, weapons and supplies and a squadron of helicopters to transport the assault forces ashore.

A 1974 graduate of Tecumseh High School, he joined the Navy in Dec. 1974.

REVIVAL SERVICES — The Rev. and Mrs. Edward Miller will be the Evangelists at a revival service at the Tecumseh Lower Light Church on Kilbuck and Maumee 7:30 nightly March 3-13. The Rev. Leonard Sankey will be speaker at a special missionary meeting March 17 at 7:30 p.m. Public is welcome.

Concert Season Campagin Starts

The Lenawee Community Concert Association has opened it's 1977-78 season membership campaign.

Information may be obtained by phoning 263-6298 or by visiting headquarters between 11 and 5 Monday through Thursday or until 9 p.m. on Friday. Saturday hours are 10-12.

An exciting new feature for the coming season will enable Lenawee subscribers to also attend Community Concerts in Jackson, Michigan and Napoleon and Bryan, Ohio at no additional charge.

Artists already selected for the Adrian-based series include the New York Pro Arte Orchestra, The John Biggs Consort, Richard Morris, organist, with Martin Berinbaum on trumpet.

A fourth concert will be selected at the close of the campaign.

New members wil also be invited to attend this season's performance of the Yugoslavian Folk Ballet free of charge March 23 at Siena Heights College. No individual adult tickets will be available to non-subscribers.

Concerts already booked for Jackson include the Four Freshmen, Czechoslovakian Ballet, and the Dubrovnik Festival Orchestra.

Concerts in Napoleon will be the Glenn Miller Orchestra and Rostal and Schaefer, duo-pianists from England. Bryan will feature One Third Ninth. a string trio, and Fred Waring and the Young Pennsylvanians.

All of these concerts will be available at no increase over last year's subscription prices. A full schedule of dates and concerts will be mailed to subscribers in the fall.

Plan More Activities

A new month brings more new activities for senior citizens at the Tecumseh Community Center. New emphasis in the Lenawee Council on Aging program is regular activities and information.

Each Monday afternoon someone from the community will speak on topics of interest to senior citizens. Bingo will follow the half-hour talk and discussion period. (Bingo switches from Fridays to Mondays.)

March 7 Merlyn Downing, executive vice-president of the United Savings Bank, will discuss "Seniors and Banking." He will explain the advantages of checking accounts and tell how senior citizens may have pension or social security checks sent directly to the bank for deposit.

March 14 Tecumseh Police Chief Merlin Mowery will discuss "Concerns of Senior Citizens." He will explain how to reach the police department for emergencies, how to cope with problems of living alone and peddlers.

March 21 Bill Holmes, pharmacist, will discuss costs and labeling of prescriptions.

Each fourth Monday of the month, health screening will be conducted by a county health nurse. She will also speak on health topics and be available to answer questions.

On alternate Tuesdays, senior citizens may visit with residents of Herrick Nursing Home.

Crafts will be offered at 10:30 a.m. Wednesdays.

Regular exercise sessions for "The Young at Heart" will be given on Thursdays at 11 a.m.

On Fridays, twice a month at 11 a.m. the Cooperative Extension will present a nutrition speaker. Over the year, she will teach senior citizens things they need to know about nutrition and offer suggestions for coping with meals for one, special diets and food costs.

Square dancing instructions will be offered on the afternoons of the first, third and fourth Fridays of the month. This is a 10-week program. No previous experience is necessary. Bonnie Mattis is the instructor.

A film entertainment will be scheduled once a month at the center.

Meals will continue to be offered at noon at the Tecumseh Community Center. Persons interested in homebound meals may call 423-2107, ext. 25 for information.

Transportation is "really going" at the Tecumseh center, reported nutrition site director Christine Fliss.

For rides to the community center for activities, senior citizens should call the day before. For financial and doctor appointments in Tecumseh or Adrian, senior citizens should call at least two days before so pick-ups can be scheduled.

Transportation is also available for out-of-county financial or doctor appointments if senior citizens call three days ahead. Senior citizens are encouraged to make appointments between 11 a.m. - 1 p.m. to make scheduling easier. For transportation on weekdays call the dispatcher after 8 a.m. at 423-2107, ext. 25.

Volunteers are always needed for friendly visiting with senior citizens and delivering meals, or to take senior citizens grocery shopping. To volunteer call 423-2107, ext. 25.

Anyone 65 or the widow or widower of anyone 65 may still be eligible for the Homestead Tax Rebate. Renters as well as homeowners may qualify. "It is worth the call to see if you qualify." said Fliss. She encouraged senior citizens to call her and inquire.

During the month of March she encouraged all senior citizens to contact the Community Center to find out about programs being offered.

Son Born

Mr. and Mrs. Gregg Sattler of Deerfield are the parents of a son, Andrew Dean, born Feb. 17 at Bixby Hospital. The baby weighed 6 lbs. and 7 oz.

Mr. and Mrs. H.D. Camfield of Tecumseh and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Sattler of Blissfield are the grandparents.

Oppose Lower PPB Levels

The president of the Michigan Farm Bureau, Elton Smith said at a recent press conference in Saline that the state's largest farm organization does not favor lowering the tolerance level of PBB in Michigan meat.

Smith stated that there is no evidence that lowering levels from the current .30 to .02 parts per million, as Governor William G. Milliken suggested, will make meat any safer for the consumer.

Smith citied lack of accurate tests for lower levels as one reason.

PBB or polybrominated biphenyl entered the Michigan food chain in 1973 when the chemical was accidentially mixed in feed for the Farm Bureau Services Inc. Many herds believed contaminated were destroyed.

There is no PBB in the feed supply today and animals living on farms in 1973 are gone now, except for some dairy cattle, said Smith.

However, the PBB chemical can be found elsewhere in the environment, Smith pointed out.

The Farm Bureau also supports legislation that would prohibit the manufacture of animal feed in some plants where chemicals are manufactured.

Seventy percent of the budget of the Michigan Department of Agriculture is now spent on food inspection, Smith told. He said, "It depends how much the people of Michigan are willing to pay to be sure" chemicals are not in the food supply.

Smith said the MDA handled the PBB situation well, there has been good cooperation and he felt the Farm Bureau did all it could to warn consumers.

Smith termed the PBB controversy as "political" and said it was blown "out of proportion."

Highlighting other aspects of the agricultural industry, Smith said agriculture continues to be the state's second largest industry and is more stable each year.

He said the farm bureau supports "solid, practical land use program with controls at local level and guidelines at the state level."

Regarding Public Act 116, county farm bureau presidents from Washtenaw, Monroe, Livingston and Jackson Counties felt there were not enough benefits. They said it prevents older farmers from selling their land for too long.

Lenawee County Farm Bureau president Herbert Long said Lenawee farmers are interested and he intended to sign on his farm.

Known as the Open Space Preservation Act, P.A. 116 allows farmers to enter into an agreement with the state to not develop the farmland. In return the farmer is entitled to certain property benefits. It attempts to preserve farmlands for future generations of farmers.

Senior Citizen Lunch Menu

March 7-11

Meals open to all seniors 60 years of age and older. A balanced hot meal served each weekday at Tecumseh Center, 703 E. Chicago Blvd. Tecumseh at noon.

MONDAY — Pepper steaks, cabbage wedges, diced beets, corn muffin, apricots

TUESDAY — Turkey with dressing, savory peas, tossed salad, plums

WEDNESDAY — Beef stroganoff with noodles, jellied cranberry fruit salad, green beans, sliced pears

THURSDAY — Braised pork chop, sweet salad, broccoli spears, rolls, cherry cobbler

FRIDAY — Meat ball with spaghetti, tossed salad, cauliflower, banana pudding

Dancers Graduate

The Shawnee Squares, Western Style Square Dance Club, graduated 10 couples and four singles on Feb. 27 at the Community Center in Tecumseh.

Randy Stephenson, the instructor from Toledo, Ohio gave diplomas to the following:

George and Donna Allen, Tom and Janice Blumhardt, Dick and Lou Chatters, Dan and Mary Lee DePew, Ken and Veronica Ottinger, Milton and Doris Johnston, Melvin and Pam Pardee, Gil and Elaine Porterfield, Paul and Mary Quick, Hal and Carol Tuckerman, Dan DePew, Stephanie DePew, Bob Pardee and Barbara Wilt.

The refreshment table was centered with a decorated cake and candles to match the graduates hats.

Improvments Planned

Future improvements to a 17-mile section of US-12 in Lenawee County will be discussed informally at a public meeting in Irish Hills March 22.

Department of State Highways and Transportation representatives will be present from 4-8 p.m. in the St. Joseph Hall, at the corner of US-12 and Egan Highway, to obtain views of area residents onfuture improvements to US-12 from US-127 east to M-52.

4-H Parents Plan Clean Up

The Lenawee County 4-H Project Parents elected new officers and set a date for the project building clean-up at the annual meeting Feb. 24 in the Adrian Methodist Church.

Project building clean-up is April 16 at 9 a.m. David Irwin is president. Other officers are Jan Rhind, vice-president; Brenda Rebottaro, treasurer; Shirley Sheldon, secretary; Betty Ball historian.

Plans and the budget for 1977 were discussed.

$5000 for Historical Society

The Lenawee County Commissioners have allocated $5,000 to the County Historical Society for use in 1977. The board of the Historical Society is considering using the money for the museum. Bookshelves and storage bins are needed.

There are several areas that readers may assist the society and the museum and individuals working on Lenawee County's History.

The museum needs guides. Volunteers may contact Dr. Charles Lindquist at 265-6071.

The farm museum is in need of a windmill. Officials have noticed that a windmill once stood on the premises. The city of Adrian's Park Division said it could probably dismantle and move the windmill to the farm museum if someone was willing to donate one. Aside from historical value, a windmill would also help to identify the site when giving directions.

Mrs. Veda Jaqua is compiling a scrapbook for Raisin-Ridgeway Townships. A current scrapbook for 14 other townships in the county is needed. Any volunteers may contact Doris Trowbridge at the museum, 265-6071.

The museum would like to start a collection of the different company bricks from around the county. Around the 1880's and 1890's every little town and village had a brick yard. This was a place usually located near the red clay needed to make drainage tile, slates for roofs and bricks for homes and businesses. Company put initials or name on bricks and shipped these with the plain bricks. Over the years, as old buildings and chimneys and homes were torn down, the bricks have been saved. Someone at the museum may be able to identify certain bricks. Contact the museum.

Mrs. Gail Kellum is developing an important research tool about photographers and the years they were doing business in Lenawee County. If readers can identify the exact vintage of photographs in their possession, with a Lenawee Photographer's name or place, it would help Mrs. Kellum, Wellwood Road, Tipton, 431-2659.

Garden Classes

With spring approaching, thoughts turn to growing vegetables and flowers in gardens. At the Vo-Tec Center a program is planned for interested persons to learn to grow and can vegetables from their own garden.

Classes are offered by the Consumer Education Program with Larry Forth as coordinator. Classes begin March 16 from 7 to 9 p.m. and will continue each Wednesday.

Those eligible are members of low income families, the disadvantaged and senior citizens. Registration at the Vo-Tec Center is under way now. Those interested may come to the Center to register or call 263-2108.

Retiree's Weekend

The Lenawee Council On Aging announces a businessman's weekend, a combined trip for the pre-retiree over 50 years of age and the retired senior citizens.

The three-day trip is to the Derby Festival in Louisville, Ky. on April 29-30, and May 1. In addition to enjoying races at Churchill Downs, the group will participate in many other festival activities including the dinner-theater and balloon race.

For more information about the businessman's weekend at the Derby Festival, contact the Lenawee Council On Aging office at 327 Erie Street, Adrian.

Early Britton

Furnishings Discontinued
by Thelma Younglove

Britton — Many senior citizens may recall a number of useful items that were in almost daily use for many years. At the time they were considered indispensable. Many of these articles can no longer be found, except as collector's items.
found in most homes. Members of the family used steelyards to weight dairy butter, lard, meat, fish, and other farm products. Although not so convenient as our modern household scales, steelyards served a purpose.

The use of "china nest eggs" was discontinued years ago. Farmers believed that the presence of a china egg (artifical egg) in a hen's nest would be an incentive for hens to lay their eggs in a nest provided for them instead of in some inaccessible place, such as under the barn.

Now that hens are confined and not allowed to roam as they please, there is no problem of locating hidden nests.

How long has it been since wooden packing boxes were in common use? At one time wooden packing boxes of various dimensions were used just as much as cardboard boxes are used at present.

Little did people realize their value. Many boys gained considerable knowledge of carpentry with the boxes. They learned how to take the boxes apart without splitting the boards. The boards were saved for the construction of rabbit pens, bird houses and feeders, chicken coops, feed boxes, and a variety of other uses. (Those boards today would cost quite a bit).

In taking the boxes apart, the nails were saved. Bent ones were straightened and the used nails were used over again. In using those wooden boxes, the boys gained valuable experience in measuring, planning, and handling such tools as saws, hammers, and squares.

What become of grandmother's potato ricer? How many housewives used one during the past year? The younger generation might not recognize one if they saw one.

Soap stones were other common items. They provided comfort during cold weather. Buggies and sleighs were unheated, so a soap stone helped make traveling in winter more pleasant. The soap stone was heated on the kitchen range, wrapped, in newspapers, and put on the floor of the buggy or sleigh to help keep feet warm.

Many homes were not well conntructed, drafty, and not insulated. Finding ice on the wash basin or water pail on a cold winter morning was not uncommon. While washing dishes some housewives stood on a heated soap stone to keep their feet from getting too cold.

Many bedrooms were not warm. Often a heated soap stone or flat iron was placed between the sheets before retiring.

Modern science has done much to make a housewife's work easier. For many years, lace curtains were used at the windows in living rooms and parlors. When the lace curtains were washed they had to be put on stretchers, a frame adjusted to the proper size of the curtains being washed. The frames had sharp brads spaced about one inch apart to hold the curtains in place.

The laundress had to work carefully and rapidly when putting those delicate lace curtains on the stretchers and often got sore fingers. What an improvement curtains requiring no stretching and little or no ironing are.

How many remember grandmother's wall to wall rag carpets? Endless hours had been spent cutting the carpet rags, sewing them, and winding the carpet rags into balls.

When there were sufficient balls of carpet rags they were woven on a loom into stripes of carpet of the desired length. The finished strips were then sewn together by hand. Strip after strip was added until the carpet was large enough to cover the entire floor.

Before laying the carpet, the room was cleared of all furnishings, the floor thoroughly scrubbed, allowed to dry, and covered with newspapers. The carpet was then spread over the floor and tacked along the wall on all four sides. How proud grandmother was of that carpet, and rightfully so. She had worked hard to make it.

BEA Play Is March 11

BRITTON — On March 11 and 12 at 7:30 p.m. the play "Lock, Stock, and Lipstick" will be presented in the Britton-Macon gymnasium by members of the Britton Education Association (BEA).

The plot of this comedy revolves around missing funds for the school yearbook. Elizabeth Cheever is cast as the principal, Al Lenz and Sandra Shannon play the parts of incorrigible students, and Jack Evans is the head custodian who knows all, but tells little except to one of his subordinates portrayed by Gerry Gorton.

Mark Lewis takes the part of a harried counselor, and Nancy Evans is a strict teacher.

Others completing the cast are JoAnn Armentrout, Jan Snyder, Peggy Jo Raeburn, and Larry Jacobsen, who is also the director.

The BEA supports a fund for the scholarship which is awarded to a graduating senior each year.

Evenings & Weekends

Music Week Is March 6-12

BRITTON — March 6-12 is National Music Week. To comemorate this event, the Britton-Macon Music Department has many activities planned.

March 8, Robert Calkins will hold a clinic for the bands.

A poster contest is being held for grades 1-6 with the theme "Salute to Music."

Prizes will be awarded as follows: two prizes for grades one through three; two prizes four through six; and one grand prize.

The winning posters will be displayed in the trophy case at the high school. Judging will take place March 8.

March 9, there will be an assembly in which the Britton-Macon chorus will peform. Some elementary groups will also be performing.

For the final event the High School Band will oppose the faculty in a game of basketball on March 10.

The events taking place are open to the public. The Music Department encourages everyone to take advantage of these opportunities.

Macon Montage

By Sharon Connors

MACON — Monday night, Feb. 21 the Ford Road became a busy road as Maconites streamed to Ridgeway for the school's vocal music program. Parents, grandparents, etc. of K-sixth grade students were treated to a patriotic program. Mrs. Brenda Schedeler, music teacher at Ridgeway directed the program and Jeannette Mannino, fifth grade teacher, was the accompanist.

A banner "Welcome Home Dad" was strung across the garage doors at the Don Davis home this weekend. Don arrived home from Indiana University Hospital Saturday feeling and looking quite well. Daughter and husband, Linda and Jerry Stern and Clara made the trip to pick him up. Sunday was spent with most of the family. A cake was baked and decorated by some of the grandchildren and read "We Missed You." A return visit for Don's check-up is scheduled for next week.

Bob and Myra Bush and Ralph and Madelyn Schafer were in Lansing last Wednesday. The two couples attended a Farm Bureau Legislative Meeting.

Phyllis Thomas came home from Herrick Hospital Feb. 24. She had been a patient for two weeks and is happy to be home. A guest in the Thomas home this weekend was Tamara Farr from Grass Lake.

John Banks Jr. of Chicago has been working in Hong Kong and will return this week. He is expected to be in Macon to visit mom and dad, John and Lucille Banks and other family members.

Bill and Linda Phillips celebrated their 11th wedding anniversary Feb. 26. Jim and Joyce Conrad joined in the celebration with dinner and dancing.

Pat and Sharon Connors spent Friday and Saturday in Grand Rapids at the Michigan High School wrestling state finals. Two Tecumseh wrestlers were in competition. Kris and Tim Connors enjoyed the weekend at Grandma Connors' in Macon while mom and dad were gone.

The Macon Women's Club will meet March 10 at the home of Mrs. Mills Swick. The group will entertain officers of the Lenawee County federation at a 12:30 p.m. luncheon. Mrs. John Banks will show slides of the Holy Land for the program. Anyone interested in seeing the slide presentation is asked to call Mrs. Harold Ross, 423-7227.

Mr. and Mrs. Herb Morden will open their Clinton-Macon Rd. home to the Macon Historical Society March 5 at 8 p.m. New members are encouraged to come. Spring activity will include resuming work on the restoration of the old school and construction of new Macon village signs.

Holloway Happenings

By Helen Smoll

HOLLOWAY — The Rev. William Wilcott was the first Pastor at the Raisin Presbyterian Church of Holloway. Other pastors who served in the early days included the Rev. Jones in 1854 and the Rev. Blinn of Tecumseh in 1857.

Sometime prior to 1850 the first building in the Holloway area was constructed for worship. It was located on Rogers Highway a mile north of Holloway Road, the present site of the old cemetery.

The congregation outgrew the building, on Sept. 10, 1860 a committee composed of three were appointed to investigate the cost of the situation. Nothing was decided upon until 1864 then minor repairs were made. However, in 1867 a parsonage was secured by the congregation. The Rev. Skillman was the first Pastor to live in it.

The Women's Association met at the home of Mrs. William German, Mrs. Glen Mumaw was co-hostess. A dessert luncheon was served.

Mrs. Elwyn Green presided at the business meeting. The sewing quota was discussed and programs were planned for the coming year.

The January meeting was dispensed with because of inclement weather, Mrs. Wilson Sawyer gave the least coin service for January and February.

Mrs. Agnes Judson had charge of the program and read some poems written by Helen Steiner Rice; "A New Years Prayer," "Happiness is Living," "An Ordinary Church Member," she also read from read from Norma Zimmers's book.

The afternoon was spent wrapping bandages, the next meeting will be a family potluck at the church at 6:30 p.m.

The Friendly Neighbors Farm Bureau of Holloway-Palmyra were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Engel for a carry-in supper.

Mrs. Louis Machan presided at the meeting with all saluting the flag, roll call and reports were given by Mrs. Engel, others who gave reports were Lawrence, Smoll and Allen Baker.

Mr. Smoll gave the minute-man report on "Action on the Michigan Single Business Tax." Farm Bureau is represented on the Single Business Tax Task Force. Farm Bureau presented an eight page testimony at the Lansing hearing as this is not condoned by Farm Bureau.

Mr. Baker spoke about the value of wheat in a loaf of bread in 1976 which was 29 cents worth. There are 2,676,259 families who are members of Farm Bureau. The average age of the American farmer is 50 years old.

The discussion was led by Mrs. Hester Wooster. Some thought was given to the spreading of crime in the urban and rural areas, the place of C.B. alarms and lights as they relate to control thieves.

Mr. Engel provided music for the fellowship hour.

Members of the Raisin Presbyterian Church had a Lenten study Feb. 23. It will be held through Easter, held at the church. The Palmyra Presbyterian congregation is invited to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Johnston had dinner guests Friday night for the sixth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Johnston, Mr. and Mrs. Steven Johnston and daughter, Angela were present.

BRITTON DINNER

Camp Fire Leaders Finalize Banquet Plans

BRITTON — Camp Fire Leaders Association met recently to finalize plans for the annual Father-Daughter Banquet March 19 during Camp Fire Week, March 12-19.

Swiss steak dinner will be served and entertainment will be provided by all Camp Fire groups.

Other activities during the week include "Go To Church Sunday" on March 19, with all girls in uniform attending the church of their choice. Those in uniform will receive a patch.

A window display of crafts will be featured at the Britton Variety Store throughout the week to show what the girls have been doing so far this year.

Due to discontent among leaders and parents regarding rising prices for next year's fete, the association will send a survey to parents concerning the annual event.

Parents will be asked if they want to have the banquet (for which there will be a charge) or have a potluck. With the results, leaders can plan an event that everyone wants.

In other business an Easter Egg Hunt is planned for April 9 at 1 p.m., for children in the Britton school district. There will be three age groups: preschool, kindergarten through third and fourth through sixth.

A Bike-a-thon for Cystic Fibrosis was tentatively set for May 7.

Voice OF THE HERALD

Will Clinton Stand United

Clinton's reputation for solidarity is at stake. It will be determined by the outcome of the Chamber of Commerce meeting Monday, March 7 at 7:30 p.m. at the Clintonian Inn.

In three short years Clinton with its Fall Festival has become the envy of Lenawee County. Indeed, the Fall Festival is one of the most exciting festivals in Southeastern Michigan. More than once individuals at the Tecumseh Area Town Meeting talked longingly about Clinton's spirit of cooperation.

Now however, the future of the Fall Festival - and the Fall FUN enjoyed by the people across Southeastern Michigan - is threatened by an apparent lack of communication among Clinton's organizations.

Yet whether Clinton deals with this conflict creatively and succeeds in binding its wounds depends on the pride and cooperation of the people of Clinton and not just a few.

Recent events in Clinton have gained it some unwanted publicity. The outcome of the March 7 meeting will perhaps say more about the village's spirit of cooperation than any publicity.

The Chamber in Clinton has accomplished a great deal for a small village, but it is apparent that the Fall Festival requires a separate committee to maintained the broad-based support that the festival needs from the community.

While the village looks for a new chairman, it would be a good idea to select a chairman-elect for 1978 to work right along side the 1977 chairman to assure continuity for the next year. And workers are just as vital as strategists.

Hopefully everyone can learn from the mistakes of the past and be stronger for them. Other communities can take a lesson, too. As one Clintonite put it, when a project ceases to be fun for its volunteers, it ceases to attract broad-based support from the community and dies.

Clinton's friends wait in hope that there will be a Fall Festival in 1977. Can Clinton expect anything less of itself?

Auxiliary Scholarship

CLINTON — The Clinton Jaycee Auxiliary is again giving away a scholarship to a Clinton High School senior this year.

Any high school senior may obtain an application from the high school counseling office.

The purpose of this scholarship is to give recognition to the senior student who has shown a genuine interest in extra-curricular activities such as the Jaycees and Jaycees Auxiliary.

The applicant does not have to attend a trade school or college after graduation. However, scholastic achievement will be one of the deciding factors in the final selection.

The sum of the Involvement Award will be $200, earned by the auxiliary on several community projects.

Deadline for the application is April 18. Submit it to the Clinton Area Jaycee Auxiliary, Box 182, Clinton, Mich. 49236.

Any further questions can be directed to Judy Bauer, chairman, 456-7377.

Ex-Chairman Says 'Bring Back Fun'

To the Editor:

This is an open letter to the people of Clinton and surrounding area. As chairman of Fall Festival 1976, and a former member of the Clinton Chamber of Commerce, I feel it necessary to make a statement.

An apology should be forthcoming from the Chamber of Commerce to the Methodist church as well as to any other organization mentioned in last week's article on the Clinton Fall Festival. There were some erroneous statements made and their authenticity was not checked before they were made.

Where would we have been last year without the cooperation of the Village offices? Anything that I, as chairman, requested of them, was eagerly done, up to and including putting up our PA system, signs, wiring, traffic control, and even cleaning up our mess after the Festival.

The Chamber of Commerce, which was re-activated a few years ago has done some great things for Clinton. In my opinion the most impressive was the Fall Festival which was the brainchild of Jean McGee.

It would be a shame for this wonderful event to be discontinued because of the internal problems of the Chamber of Commerce.

The Fall Festival must be separated from the Chamber and made a separate function. My personal feeling is that the Fall Festival should be chaired by a different organization, or combination of, each year.

In Clinton we have quite a few of these groups including our churches, Clinton Athletic Department, VFW, Scouts, Rotary, etc. I would be willing to assist any of these organizations in preparing the 1977 Fall Festival. Leaders of these groups should contact the Chamber at their meeting on March 7.

We continually hear the tired cliche, so few did so much. This is far from the truth in my experience with the Fall Festival. As last year's chairman and having had the opportunity to work with well over 100 people directly and many whom I never met, it is easy to see that the statement in the paper should have read so many did so much. . .I think the main ingredient was fun.

It seems to me that when a person is doing a job on a voluntary basis, and it ceases to be fun for them, they soon lose interest.

Could this possibly be the reason for the businessmen and citizens not participating in the Chamber of Commerce?

I do not intend to take issue with any one person or organization (even though I could), but I feel that I would not personally like to see the Fall Festival fade into history.

I am sure that those who attended last year's Fall Festival and most of those who worked at it, had fun!!! Let's all put our heads together as a community, and our petty squabbles behind us and have fun again this year at the 1977 Clinton Fall Festival.

Cage Squad Beats Tigers in Finale

Clinton's eighth grade cage squad finished its season on Monday of last week with a win over the Hudson Tigers.

The team finished with a 2-7 record. Coach Wes Maki commented, "In the league there are several good teams and we've struggled to stay with them. I feel happy that several players have improved and haven't lost their desire to play basketball."

The team consists of, Scott Adams, Rick Armstrong, Mark Arquette, Blake Clark, Bobby Cote, Brian Dettling, Keith Hartung.

A hot glue gun can join materials together in one minute without the use of clamps. Whether you are working with wood, metal, ceramic, leather or plastic, the gun's bond will be permanent. This useful tool is easy to operate. Just load the gun with a dry stick of glue, and connect the gun's cord to an electrical outlet. After three minutes or so the glue will be sufficiently heated. Touch the gun's tip to the desired point on the material, and slowly press the trigger until you have applied enough glue. Then attach the second material and squeeze the two pieces together for one minute.

For the do-it yourselfer carpenter in the household we rent mostly all types of tools to get the job done professionally. Even if you don't need to rent anything right now, we at TECUMSEH RENTAL CENTER, 112 S. Pearl, 423-4470 would welcome the opportunity just to show you what we do have when the need arises. Our location is in the heart of Tecumseh and there is always free parking right next door in the parking lot. Please come in and let us show you around. Open: Mon.-Sat. 9-8, Sun. 9-3. Emergency service 24 hrs.

HANDY HINT: You can use hot glue for caulking by inserting a dry caulking stick in place of the dry glue stick.

READER WRITES

'Lovely Lady' Will Be Leaving

To the Editor:

Within the next week or so, a lovely lady will be leaving our community and heading south to live. Betty Flanders happens to be the lady. (She and her husband, Bill have owned Flanders music store in downtown Tecumseh).

Since coming to Tecumseh, Betty has given a great deal of herself and she has brightened many hours through her radio broadcasts as well as going to nursing homes, the VA hospital or even helping put on a program to help a family in need.

She has been a friend and an inspiration to many who knew her.

She gave of her talent freely, willingly and gladly. She will be missed by those who knew her as well as those she touched in the various aspects of her life.

We will miss you Betty and God go with you.

Sincerely,
Janet Champanois

Tecumseh Bookmark

Tecumseh Public Library has a fascinating assortment of new biographies and historical books for your winter reading pleasure. They may be checked out free by any resident of the Tecumseh school district.

A new book about Henry Ford which is well worth reading is The Public Image of Henry Ford by David L. Lewis, professor of business history at the Unviersity of Michigan. Dr. Lewis shows how Ford's distinctive personality and values not only shaped his company, but left a strong impression on the American people. He emerges as a folk hero of sorts. He was innovative-the automobile and its moving assembly line-yet traditional, in his rugged individualism and devotion to old-fashioned values. At the same time, he was narrow-an anti-Semitic whose views continue to shape his company's relations with Israel and the Middle East.

In his autobiography As I See It, J. Paul Getty describes how he became probably the wealthiest man in the world. He seemed to know everyone, Churchill, Onassis, Nixon, Clara Bow—his good friend David at Oxford was a future king of England. He writes frankly about his five wives and his liaisons with other famous women. Getty looks on his supposed "stinginess" with amusement while relating the problems encountered by the super-rich. He honestly portrays his life, including his role in his grandson's kidnapping. His aim was comprehensive statement of how he viewed himself and his work and the world as it changes around him. The result was an intimate look into the life of a super-rich man—J. Paul Getty.

The Names is Scott Momaday'sfirst book since his Pulitizer Prizewinning House Made of Dawn. Written with great respect for his Kiowa heritage, The Names is an autobiography of the author's early years when he left the reservation to go to military school. His ancestors' lives, as gleaned from the Kiowa oral tradition, are an important part of the book. Many family photographs as well as Indian legends accent the narrative.

Taking up where Nigger left off, Up from Nigger relates Dick Gregory's life from 1963 to the present. Readers will find Gregory at night clubs and civil rights rallies, in high-class neighborhoods and ghettoes. His wit and spirit carry him through hazardous adventures—driving through a blizzard while chased by armed rednecks, delivering the first of 20,000 Christmas turkeys in Mississippi to a white man, playing hide-and-seek with the CIA. This autobiography is Gregory's bicentennial book, focusing on and important decade in black history.

She was an English fashion model who was assigned to drive an unknown, two-star general around in 1942. Later, she became his staff aide, staying at his side during every crisis of World War II. Kay Summersby Morgan was the woman General Dwight D. Eisenhower loved. Past Forgetting is the true story of their secret love affair. The author, with only six months to live, decided to write this book, so the truth would be known. A year later, when the book was completed, she died. Written from memory, her old blue leather diary and her heart, Past Forgetting is a powerful love story.

Gladys Taber fans will enjoy Harvest of Yesterdays, a chronicle of the author's life before settling a Stillmeadow, her seventeenth century Connecticut farmhouse. Readers will be intrigued by the variety of places Mrs. Taber has lived-from Mexico and the Southwest to Appleton, Wisconsin, to New York.

Underfoot: An Everyday Guide to Exploring the American Past, by Daivd Weitzman, tells how anyone can find, interpret, and record historical clues. Easy-to-follow directions explain making gravestone rubbings, dating bottles, using a tape recorder for oral history projects and talking family histories, and locating old newspapers and books. Restoring pictures and recording historical buildings are also discussed. Several illustrations, and personal recollections of various people make Underfoot interesting reading even for people who aren't interested in exploring their past.

'DEAR RUTH' REVIEWED

Light, Entertaining, Professional Touch

By KENT DOWNING

As the program states, "Dear Ruth" is put together with "a professional touch." It's light, witty, and entertaining enough to certainly merit turning the television off for an evening.

The play actually has a simple plot. Miriam, played by Susan Mills, writes a number of letters to Lt. William Seawright (Dan Bohannon) to poetically help him through the war. The Lieutenant falls in love with the letter writer.

Miriam, however, choses not to reveal her own young age in the letters. Instead, she signs her sister's name (Ruth, played by Marcia Ousterhout) and sends her sister's picture.

The constant, but mild humor present throughout the play then often becomes ridiculously funny as the Lieutenant returns to see Ruth, and she's already engaged to Albert Kummer, played by Dr. Carlton Cook.

Only a few lines that are meant to be comical in the play have lost their "touch of class," and that perhaps, is only the fault of time. The play takes place during WWII, while the memories of the younger audience members are limited to the 50's, 60's, and 70's.

The leads are handled very well by Dan Bohannon and Marcia Ousterhout (the Lieutenant and Ruth). Ousterhout's performance is unusually convincing, primarily through the use of a wide variety of facial expressions and shifting human emotions she seems to change as easily as most bat an eye. Bohannon has not polished his character as well as some of the rest, but does turn in a fine performance as the impulsive Lieutenant Seawright - and this is only his first acting role.

Lori Egli and Fred Taylor (parents of Miriam and Ruth) team up to support the base of the play. She's a traditional mother with a numberof funny lines that are straightforward for her. He steals much of the show with more one-liners than the audience can handle. Together, the two turn in exceptionally fine performances.

Susan Mills (Miriam) is a witty child, whose political science class has turned her into an activist and protestor. More importantly to the play, she constantly helps the boys overseas weather the war. Her performance is convincing enough to make any parent want to smack her a couple times as she continually attempts to widen the "generation gap."

Dr. Carlton Cook (Albert), the veteran of veterans on the stage, turns in an exceptionally great performance. The fiance of Ruth is at first understanding, and then very jealous. And when he's jealous, he's hilarious. Any doubts the audience has of Dr. Cook's ability to portray a young, bank executive suitor are put to rest by the veteran soon after he arrives on the set.

Jo Ann Dalgard (Dora) plays a somewhat minor, but constant role in the play. She's a straightforward, occasionally comical, and obedient maid - a role essential to the play.

Ricki Speller (Martha Seawright), Gary Rader (Sgt. Chuck Vincent), and Kim Swift (Harold Klobbermeyer) round out the cast with minor roles. Swift's appearance in the play is by far the shortest, but as a professional play would demand, his is no small part. In fact, Swift's one, one-liner is probably the single most hilarious line of the play.

Congratulations too, to director Richard Pahl, technical director Kim Swift, Kathi Johnstone, Sandy Swift, and all the rest for creating a credible 1940's setting, the costumes, music and the authenticity of the stage.

Conclusion? Do yourself a favor and turn off the TV. Make reservations for a light, entertaining play - "Dear Ruth."

Performances continue March 3, 4, and 5, with an 8 p.m. curtain time.

CONTINUING STORIES

Often a story does not end after I have written an article about it. Sometimes there is continuing action and perhaps today would be a good time to pass on a few of these 'loose ends'.

The brown creeper of several weeks ago is an example. These little five and a half inch characters are such fun to watch as they inch their way up and around a tree trunk that it took me some time to start checking the bird books.

Eventually I began to wonder about life style and that, of course, led me to wonder about their voice. These are definetely not noisy birds but they must have some vocal talents.

The "Audubon Bird Guide" almost outdoes itself with descriptive words. The creepers' call is "a faint single, short, kinglet-like lisp" and when talking about the trill the book uses such words as rolling, highpitched, thin and long.

But just see what they do with the song. They say it is a jumble of notes "long-and-short, somewhat musical, but high". They also call it thin and end the discussion by saying it is almost a hiss. Perhaps instead of trying to listen for the brown creepers' talk and singing, I will just continue to enjoy watching them on the tree trunks.

The purple finches continue to delight. They dearly love the thistle seeds and are equally eager to freeload on the sunflower seeds piled on the near-my-window feeders.

However, we have been more than slightly confused and puzzled at the make-up of our finch flock. It consists of from four to seven females but only one male. And he is a most infrequent visitor. It certainly must be a well trained harem to require so little supervision.

Was this usual behavior or were our ladies sadly lacking in sex appeal? Again it was the "Audubon Bird Guide" which provided the answer. It explained that after the purple finch families break up, the birds gather in flocks with the females and young much more numerous than the males.

Another intriguing possibility is that perhaps some of our brown purple finches are young males. It apparently takes quite a while for the adult male to acquire his delicious purple color.

Now for Tyler. He is the big handsome golden retriever who lives next door and oh, what a joy! In some ways he reminds me of a kid. With all of the snow Tecumseh has had I hardly need to say that the yards were full of snow drifts of varying heights. How we laughed watching Tyler – after a little jaunt to check out the neighborhood, he heads home and you can just believe that he is usually careful to pick a route which takes him wallowing through the deepest drifts.

I cannot begin to count the times we have watched the kids zigzagging to expertly splash through each and every mud puddle.

In fact, I must confess to doing the same thing – I remember how frightfully important it was to measure the depths of each mud puddle and, of course, one of the best ways of checking was to see how big a splash could be made. In other words, what mud puddles are to kids, snow drifts are to Tyler.

He is a well behaved dog, usually quick to heed his masters' commands. When out for a run and the call to 'come home' comes, he has three different speeds. Sometimes he prances up his driveway with head held high and a more dignified, proud dog would be hard to find.

Other times he wants to make his people feel good. He gallops at top speed, stretches flat out with his beautiful feathered tail trailing behind.

His actions say that he is just so glad to be called home and can hardly wait to see Karen and Mike. But when he is not quite ready to stop playing, he has an entirely different attitude.

He is too well mannnered to disobey but he walks to the house, a slow painful walk as if each step required almost too much effort. He also takes the longest way to the door. And they say that dogs can't talk!

Thanks Everyone at Tecumseh Products

I'd like to take this opportunity to thank the entire gang at Tecumseh Products Company for the many wonderful years and to point out to those who might not already know - what a great bunch they really are - THE WORLD'S GREATEST!

The sale of my interest in the PK&A Foundry at Milan, Michigan leaves me with just one regret - a 28 year business relationship comes to an end.

The help given me by Mr. Lincoln Spencer and the rest of the officials of the Marion Division in addition to that given me by the officials at Tecumseh, Michigan, was beyond what anyone would ever expect and made my business as a supplier to Tecumseh Products Company much more of a pleasure than a job.

Thanks, everyone! I'll never forget it!

Skins Falter in Districts, 70-57

Clinton's Redskins were ousted from further district competition losing to Hudson 70-57 Monday night.

The Skins held a tight 14-12 lead over the Tigers after the first frame but fell back 29-22 after a cold second frame. Clinton scored just eight points in that stanza to 17 for Hudson.

Hudson outscored Clinton 41-35 in the second half to preserve the margin of victory.

The Skins connected on 23 of 61 for 38 percent. Hudson made 34 of 72 for 47.2 percent. The Redskins dumped 11 of 23 from the line while Hudson tagged two of seven.

Hudson outrebounded Clinton 33-28. Dave Tallman pulled down 14 rebounds to lead both teams.

Bill Zimmerman was tops in scoring for the Skins with 18 points followed by Tim Sharpe with 13 and Tallman with 12.

The Redskins finished the season with 4-17 record.

Score by Quarters

CLINTON	14	8	19	16—57
Hudson	12	17	22	19—70

Scoring for Clinton: Zimmerman 7 4 18, Risner 2 1 5, Sharpe 6 1 13, Brown 4 1 9, Tallman 4 4 12. Totals: 23 11 57.

CHS JV's Boast Super Season

The Clinton junior varsity ended a fine season recently winning 20 straight games without a loss.

They captured the LCAA junior varsity title with a 10-0 record and were Deerfield J.V. Tournament champions.

Over the last two years this group of athletes have a record of 33-1, 25 straight wins, two league titles and one tournament championship. They never lost at home. The Skins also have never been beaten by a fellow LCAA league team.

The Redskins consisted of Mike Karapas, Jeff Porterfield, Terry Carlton, Dave Porter, Mark Dettling, Doug Mowery, Phil Baldwin, Ed Foreman, Jerry Cline, Frank Briese, and Jeff Simison. Manager was Todd Rockwell.

The team averaged 55 points a game while holding their opponents to 39 points. The Skins top score of the season was a 71-point mark while they held one opponent to 23 markers.

Clinton had a 43 percent season average in shooting from the floor, 55 percent from the line.

Mike Karapas averaged 13 points per game to lead all Clinton JV scorers. Dave Porter had 165 rebounds.

All Clinton winter athletes will be honored at a banquet March 2.

Indians Fall to Christi, Huron

they had fallen behind 22-21. A dismal third quarter, in which the Indians were held to six points while Huron scored 25, put Tecumseh farther behind. A 34-point Indian effort in the final stanza still wasn't enough to overcome the deficit.

The Indians connected on 25 of 94 for 27 percent while the Chiefs made 18 of 49 for 36 percent. Tecumseh had 11 of 19 foul shots to their credit. Huron succeeded on 37 of 50.

Tecumseh soundly outrebounded Huron 42-27 with Hans leading the way grabbing 16. Hans also had 11 assists.

Chiefs Drop Junior Varsity

Tecumseh's junior varsity basketball squad closed out its season with a loss to New Boston Huron Friday night.

Final tally stood at 56-49.

The Indians trailed by just one point at the end of the first frame 10-9 but by the half they faced a 29-22 deficit. Huron picked up 19 points to the Indians' 13 in the second frame to pull ahead.

Each squad scored 27 points each in the second half to maintain the victory margin for Huron.

Mark Creswell led both teams in scoring with 25 markers followed by John Faulkner with nine. Randy Pichan had 24 for the Chiefs.

Coach Carl Novak commented on the final game, "Mark Creswell rebounded excellently on the defensive boards and led the team all around. He played almost all of the second half with four fouls and still didn't foul out. Huron was hot from the outside. They've come a long ways since we last played them."

"I've had a good year with the kids. They're a good bunch to coach," he said of the Indians.

Tecumseh's junior varsity finished the season with a 15-5 record, 10-4 in the league.

Hockey Club Just Short of Upset

Tecumseh's club hockey squad put it altogether Sunday and almost upset A Division Jackson High School in play-off action. Tecumseh lost 2-1 in overtime.

Due to a shortage of teams, B Division squads must face A Division entrants in play-off action. Tecumseh is a B Division team.

Tecumseh fought off Jackson until the end of the second period when Jackson scored a goal. Kevin Brehmer tied it up for Tecumseh in the third period with an assist by Ron Oman.

With 1:34 left in a five-minute overtime period, Jackson scored to take the victory.

In accordance with league rules, a team can win in overtime if it either scores first or has a greater number of shots-on-goal after the extra period. Tecumseh was leading in shots-on-goal at the time of the Jackson score.

The loss ended Tecumseh's post-season competition after opening the play-offs with a win over Adrian a week ago Sunday.

Dance Class Coming

The Tecumseh Recreation Department will sponsor a second session of the Ladies' Dance Exercise Class beginning on March 21. Two class sessions will be held.

One session will be held on Monday and Wednesday evenings at Patterson Elementary School from 7-8 p.m.

The other session will be held on Tuesday and Thursday mornings at the Community Center from 9:30-10:30 a.m. The sessions will run for eight weeks.

Two introductory workshops will be held on Saturday, March 19, at Tecumseh Acres Elementary School from 10-11 a.m. and from 1-2 p.m.

Instructor Judy McAran will be giving the background and basic concepts of the class. Ladies in attendance will be able to participate in the actual dance exercises.

You need not enroll in the regular class to attend the workshop.

Pre-registration at the Community Center is required. For further information, contact the Recreation Department at 423-5602.

Tories Crushed By Madison, 78-48

Britton's cage squad closed out its regular season with a 78-48 loss to Madison Friday night.

The Tories face Deerfield Wednesday night for their first district competition. Finals will be Saturday at Grass Lake at 7:30 p.m.

Britton took an early lead against the Trojans Friday scoring 18 points to Madison's 13 in the first quarter. But the Trojans turned things around quickly in the second frame scoring 26 markers while holding the Tories to just six points.

Madison led 39-24 at the half.

The Trojans took a 17-11 edge in the third stanza and were 22-13 in the final frame.

Britton tagged 16 of 67 from the field for 23.9 percent while the Trojans connected on 26 of 74 for 35.1 percent. From the line, Britton made 16 of 34 while Madison hit on 26 of 39.

The Trojans picked up a 49-44 rebounding edge and suffered 15 turnovers to Britton's 21.

High scorer for Britton was Lon Wagenschutz with 16 followed by Phil Loesch with nine.

Score By Quarters

BRITTON	16	6	11	13—48
Madison	13	26	17	22—78

Scoring for Britton: Loesch 2 5 9; Marks 0 2 2; Smith 1 1 3; Wagenschutz 7 2 16; Fanslau 2 1 5; Lutz 2 3 7; Benedict 2 2 6. Totals: 16 16 48.

Bantams Win, 10-6

Although the Tomahawk Bantams have the division championship cinched, they still are playing as though they were in the middle of the season.

With only two games left, the Tecumseh Recreation Department Bantams defeated Sylvania Savings 10-6. All Tecumseh players scored.

Wendell West had his first hat trick with three goals, as did Mark VanBuren with four goals. This is Mark's third hat trick for the season.

Tim Eardley had two goals and two assists; Martin Henry had one goal. Assists went to West two, VanBuren one, Eardley two, Henry one, Mike Tavell one, Dave James, two, and Jack Crist two.

The second game found the Tomahawk Squirts being bumped out of second place as they were defeated by Toledo Savings 6-2.

Andy Keller and Dave Schoenberger put the Tomahawk goals in the nets, with assists from Steve Eardley and Dan Lynch.

This moves the Squirts out of contention; but with two games left, they are still trying to remain in third place.

Volleyball Drawings Held for Regionals

Drawings were recently held for regional volleyball action.

The Tecumseh squad drew Saline in a pre-regional contest slated for March 9 at Saline at 7 p.m. The Indians must win there to advance to regional play.

The regional tourney will be held at Tecumseh on Saturday, March 12. A win against Saline will allow the Indians to play against the winner of the pre-regional Dexter-Chelsea game on March 12 at 11 a.m.

Eighteen teams will enter pre-regional play while only eight teams will advance to the regionals.

Indian Volleyballers Spike 3

Tecumseh's volleyball squad licked three opponents including Jefferson last Wednesday, Jackson County Western Monday and Bedford on Tuesday of this week.

Against Jefferson last Wednesday at Jefferson, the Indians won by scores of 15-8, 15-1. Sandy Dunn scored 10 serving points while Tammy Downing had five.

Tecumseh played Jackson County Western on Monday of this week winning 15-8, 15-10. Downing had 12 while Dunn and Patty Brosamer each had six serving points. Debbie Steadley had six spikes.

The junior varsity won over Jefferson 15-5, 9-15, 15-4 but fell to Western 15-8, 15-10. Chris MacDonald had a season high of 21 serving points against Jefferson while Gloria Fosbender came up with six against Jefferson. Fosbender was moved to the junior varsity from varsity due to a high number of injuries suffered by the JV unit.

The Indians met a much improved Bedford team on Tuesday of this week losing the first game 11-15 but coming back to take the next two games 15-6, 13-11.

Tammy Downing had 11 against Bedford followed by Tori Iffland 10, Sandy Dunn seven, Katie Heglin six and Debbie Steadley four. Steadley, Dunn and Brosamer all had five good spikes according to coach Sue Allen. Allen also said Patty Brosamer played her best defensive floor game all year.

The junior varsity also won 15-2, 13-15and 15-13. Janet Harper had 12 and Fosbender 11.

The varsity now posts an 11-1 overall record, 5-1 in the league. The junior varsity is 7-5 overall, 4-2 in the league.

The squad hosts New Boston Huron on Wednesday night of this week, traveling to Adrian next Monday. On Wednesday, March 9, the girls travel to Saline for a pre-regional game.

DAVE BILKIE tries a different type of shot against Lumen Christi. Bilkie scored two points that night but had three steals. That effort, added to three steals against Huron Friday gave Bilkie a season total of 100 steals. Tecumseh lost to Christi, 60-45. (PHOTO BY JIM LINCOLN)

Wrestlers Eliminated

Eaton Rapids won the Class B state wrestling tourney, defeating Zeeland 72½-72 Saturday.

Tecumseh's two wrestlers, Kevin Eggleston and Dan Yoder were eliminated. Each posted a 2-2 mark for the state tourney.

CHS Volleyballers Score 3 Victories

Clinton's varsity volleyball squad defeated Onsted last Thursday 15-3, 15-1. Cathy Gibson had eight serving points and JoAnn Grossman had seven points.

In a make-up game, the Redskins beat Sand Creek twice on Saturday. In the first match, Karen Busch had eight points during Clinton's 15-1, 15-1 victory over the Aggies.

In the second match, the Skins won 15-1, 15-5. Busch had 12 points.

On Monday of this week, the girls beat Manchester by scores of 10-15, 15-10 and 15-9. Cathy Gibson had 12 points while Sue Richter had nine.

The junior varsity lost to Onsted 15-12, 15-5. Captain Lori Pike was tops in serving points with nine.

The JV's beat Sand Creek Saturday 15-9, 6-15, 15-5. High scorers for Clinton were Diana Weirich with 15 serving points and Fran Corwin with eight.

The JV's lost to Manchester on Monday by scores of 12-15, 15-11, 15-11.

The Clinton varsity now posts a 15-4 overall record, 7-2 in the LCAA.

3 Chosen All-League

Three varsity basketball players from Tecumseh were selected to the All-Huron League basketball team recently.

Jeff Hans, a 6'2'' junior forward was selected to the first team.

Dave Bohannon, 5'11'' senior guard was named to the second team.

Dave Bilkie, 5'11'' senior guard received honorable mention.

Arrest Man Armed with Rifle; Threatens To Shoot Officers

A gun toting Tecumseh resident was arrested Saturday night after he reportedly threatened to shoot Frank Becker, Britton police chief, who was here in town along with J.D. Clark, another Britton officer, to assist the Tecumseh Police Department.

Arrested and charged with felonious assault is Harold E. Williams, 36, of 206 W. Kilbuck St. After his arrest, he posted $150 bond in District Court and was then arraigned and bound over to Circuit Court Tuesday.

Police here were alerted to trouble about 8:34 Saturday night at 105 S. Division St. Becker and Clark arrived at the scene moments later to find Williams reportedly drunk and armed with a gun.

State police and deputy sheriff officers were called to back up police already at the scene. Once, Williams emerged from the white frame house, swore at Becker and threatened to shoot him. He was holding no hostages.

About an hour after the trouble started, Williams came out of the house again, placed the gun on an outside picnic table and surrendered.

Police then discovered the rifle was not loaded. They later confiscated two shot guns inside the dwelling.

Sandra Harris, occupant of the house and said to be Williams' girlffriend, had fled the home just before police arrived. She and the officers attempted to talk Williams into giving up before he finally surrendered.

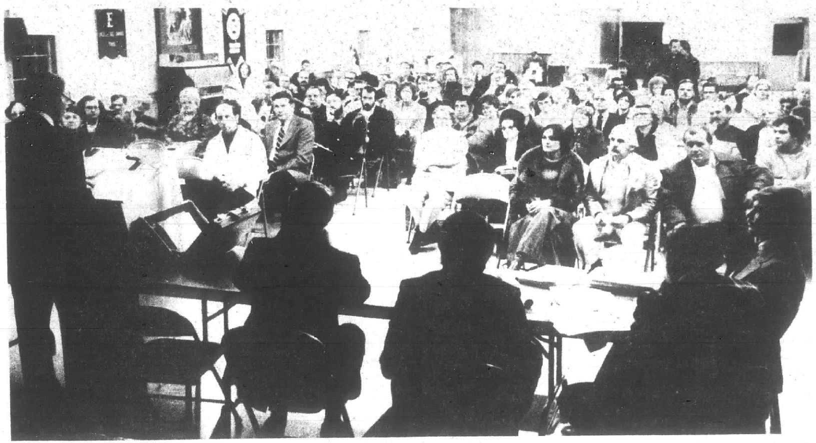
During the hour that he kept police at a distance, Williams inflicted some damages inside the house, Merlin Mowery, Tecumseh police chief, reports. Spectators were barred from the immediate area until after Williams was apprehended.

Britton police happened to be here as a backup unit for Tecumseh police who were having their annual ball at the Union Hall.

Fails To Appear

Police chief Merlin Mowery reports that Williams did not show for his court date Tuesday, nor did he receive an explanation from the courts for Williams' absence.

If he skipped, according to Mowery, a bench warrant undoubtedly will be issued for his arrest and his bond forfeited.



TOWNSHIPS TAKE "NO" ACTION ON SEWER—Over 100 residents from surrounding townships let it be known last Wednesday at a public hearing that they opposed a sanitary sewer program for Tecumseh Township, Raisin Township and Britton-Ridgeway areas. This week officials responded by opposing the sewer plan. Monday night Raisin Township officials decided to consider a sewer project when the problem requires one. Tecumseh Township officials concurred with the engineers report that the cost was prohibitive and unanimously voted Tuesday night not to proceed with sewer construction. Tecumseh City Council at an earlier meeting indicated it would go ahead because the city will receive 80 percent federal and state funding. (PHOTO BY KENT DOWNING)

HOLED UP HERE — Harold Williams, after reportedly threatening to shoot police officers, holed up here in this house at 105 S. Division St. for approximately one hour before surrendering. Plans Condominiums

Action by the Planning Commission Tuesday night may well pave the way here for an eight-acre development of condominiums just off N. Pearl St.

Charles Cook, 512 N. Pearl, discussed his plans with the commission Tuesday evening and explained some of his proposals via letter to the members. The commission's recommendation that the site he rezoned from RA-1 to RM-1 will now go to Council for approval.

The area, east and south of his residence, is bordered by Evans Creek, Bidwell St. on the south and N. Pearl to the west. Directly to the east and across the creek are the Marlboro Apartments.

A portion of the property, a peninsula formed by the creek, is tentatively planned to be a park with foot bridges leading from the condominiums to the park.

Projected streets into the development, expected to get underway sometime this summer, will be off Bidwell and N. Pearl.

Mrs. Cook says they have received numerous inquiries from residents about the development since her husband first approached Planning Commission at an earlier meeting.

Tentative Factors Hike Valuations

All governmental units in Lenawee County have received tentative factors for bringing up assessments on real property to state equalized valuations - or 50 percent of value.

City of Tecumseh's tentative factor is 5.15 percent; Cambridge Township, 24.22 percent; Clinton Township, 2.94 percent; Franklin Township, 29.3 percent; Macon Township, 16.28 percent; Raisin Township, 8.65 percent; and Tecumseh Township, 13.12 percent. Franklin's factor is exceeded only by Hudson Township is 39 percent.

Last year, Tecumseh's final factor was 4.5 percent, Robert Handem, city assessor, reports.

Determination of final factors will be made later in the spring and after heard of review meetings. Tecumseh's board of review hearings will begin Monday, March 28, at city hall.

Lady Knocked Down, Robbed Near Home

Mrs. Emil Korican, 56, of 6260 Britton Hwy., Britton, was knocked down, bruised and robbed early Tuesday morning when she went to get her car on her way to work.

Korican reportedly left the house at 5:30 a.m. and walked to her barn to get the car when some young teenagers knocked her down, resulting in bruises to her arm and body. The teenagers stole her purse, containing eight dollars.

The young men then jumped in a car that was hidden behind the barn. Korican could not identify the teenagers or their car, due to the darkness.

Korican was home alone at the time. She contacted Britton chief Frank Becker, who in turn contacted the Lenawee County's Sheriff. The Sheriff's Department investigated the incident.

A resume of Tecumseh police reports includes:

March 3 — Police investigated a report of broken hedges at 110 S. Maumee. A green Chevy had struck the hedge there and fled.

March 4 — Ishuman A. Davis, of Manitou Beach, was arrested for driving under the influence of liquor after police stopped him on Adrian St. Davis was reportedly driving excessively fast, passing in a no passing zone, and driving left of center when police stopped him.

March 6 — Police discovered a garage window broken in the rear of Dr. Blanden's office, in the 100 block of W. Chicago. There was no apparent entry.

March 7 — Gerald F. Fromm, of Adrian, was arrested for driving under the influence of liquor when police stopped him at Chicago and Maumee. Police first spotted Fromm eastbound on M-50 with no headlight or taillights. Fromm had a large number of beer cans in the car.

Roger Proctor, of 313 W. Pottawatamie, reported the larceny of wrought iron chairs from the front porch of the funeral home during the night. Estimated loss has been set at $325.

Critical of Tennis Court Site

Monday night City Council member James H. Palmer said he received some criticism from residents over the city's selection of Satterthwaite Park for the new, lighted, tennis courts.

According to Palmer, some citizens felt the general public should have had more input into the selection of the site. Heavy traffic on M-50 was a prime concern to parents of children who might use the courts at night.

City Manager Cal Zorn told Council that the choice of location was basically made by himself, Ward Eardley, parks and recreation director and a Region II planner.

Zorn said the Satterthwaite Park location was considered to have the most room.

The Satterthwaite Park best fit the city's overall recreation program, another factor considered by the federal grantors.

Kiwanis Park, the high school area, the Pit and the city courts behind the public library were rejected for lack of room.

In addition the high school area was disqualified because the city must own or lease property to qualify for the project funds. The Pit swimming facility posed a potential security problem.

Other Council members defended the selection of Satterthwaite Park. They said it provided a tennis facility in the east side of town as well as the ones now serving the west end and central part. Council member Mary Bowers pointed out that children from the north end of town must cross M-50 now to use the Pit facility.

Tecumseh has received the project agreement from the Department of Natural Resources for $83,600 construction of four lighted tennis courts at Satterthwaite Park. It will receive $41,800 or half of the project money from federal grants.

The United Fund has committed $12,000 and the Tecumseh Rotary and Kiwanis have offered the sum of $646 toward the local share.

City must raise $29,154.

McDonald's Locating Here

Rumors that a McDonald's restaurant is coming to Tecumseh have circulated here for a number of weeks. Apparently, the rumors have some basis.

Although the company has not confirmed the rumors nor has it released any information, McDonald's is said to be ready to locate at the former Partridge Implement site on W. Chicago Blvd., just east of the United Savings Bank branch office there.

Infomation obtained states the present building will be torn down for a new building, with construction to start within the next few weeks.

Jaycee Auxiliary Sponsoring Clinic

Tecumseh Jaycee Auxiliary is sponsoring a babysitting clinic for teens each day March 14-18 from 2:30-3:30 p.m. at the Junior High School.

There is no charge for the clinic but students should attend each day, as there will be a test on Friday.

Topics with guest speakers include fire emergency with a visit from a fireman on Monday; infant care with Donna Marion on Tuesday; Emergency care and cardiopulmonary resuscitation with Dick Payne on Wednesday; toys and games on Thursday and quiz on the Friday.

For further information teens may call Janet Adams, 423-3235.

WARMER WEATHER — Warm weather coupled with rain last Thursday turned N. Van Buren St. here into a "canal" and sent Evans Creek overflowing its banks. For the folks in Florida, only patches of snow remain and predicted temperatures for Wednesday afternoon were near 70 degrees. (PHOTO BY FRANK WEIR)

Cost Raised

Tecumseh Township officials decided Tuesday night to raise the cost of building permits in the township to compare with other townships in the area.

Cost will be $10 for the first $5,000 of construction and $1.50 for each $1,000 of construction thereafter with a minimum cost of $15 per building permit.

Reason for the raise is to "Make building permits self-supporting," said township treasurer Helen Sharpe.

NO
TURN

SIGN ON N. EVANS AT BOULEVARD

Register Complaints

Tecumseh City Council has received complaints about the location of the "no turn on red" sign on North Evans St. at W. Chicago Blvd.

"People complain they can't see it," said Council member Mary Bowers.

Police Chief Merlin Mowery and City Manager Cal Zorn said that the sign complies with the uniform traffic signs for size and location, as in other cities.

"It can't be hung over the road. The wind blew them too much and the highway department took them down," explained Zorn.

Mower explained the sign was posted for fear of pedestrians being hit.

Bank Meeting Next Tuesday

Annual meeting of the shareholders of the United Savings Bank of Tecumseh will be held next Tuesday afternoon at the Tecumseh Country Club.

The meeting, open to all shareholders is scheduled to start at 3:30.

Afterwards, the directors will hold their annual organizational meeting.

READER WRITES

Supports Hospital

To the Editor:

I have heard a lot about people complaining about the food and treatment when they have been patients at different hospitals. I have been to different hospitals as a patient. You people in Tecumseh should be mighty proud of your hospital.

I received wonderful care from all members of the different departments plus nurses and Dr. Cook after my surgery.

I received the best of care a person could ask for. If I needed aything all I had to do was ask. The food was very good and the amount you received was the amount you marked, small medium or large servings.

People of Tecumseh, keep on supporting your hospital instead of running it down.

Sincerely,

Harold N. Smith

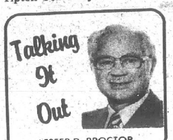
Complaints Are Heard

People in the southwest section of town have complained to Council member Len DeMoss that garbage collection was not made four times this winter.

Residents said they have had to pick up garbage bags torn apart by animals because collection was not made on schedule.

DeMoss suggested a meeting with the Weaver representative at the next Council meeting.



LESTER D. PROCTOR

What should the deceased wear?

Clothing helps to express the unique characteristics of an individual. Even in death, clothing can convey the special personality of the deceased. In the planning of funeral details, the matter of clothing for the deceased should not be overlooked.

Has there been a request in the past from the deceased concerning his or her own feelings? Sometimes a uniform of office or volunteer leadership has been requested, because of the significance to the deceased. Medals and jewelry may be considered to complete the uniform or dress.

Is clothing worn by the deceased during lifetime appropriate? By all means. A suit or dress which was a favorite of the deceased -- or the survivor -- may be the prime consideration.

Band Earns II Rating

Tecumseh's eighth grade band attended a festival last Saturday earning an overall score of two. The best score possible is a one.

The band played three pieces of music in front of four professional judges. The band received one perfect score and three two's to earn the overall two rating.

The festival was held at Michigan Center High School and it was the first time the band had competed as Class A band due to an increase in members. Last year the band performed as a Class B.

There are 85 students in the junior high band.

Accidents Investigated

Tecumseh police investigated five accidents this week, citing three of the drivers.

Last Tuesday, Randal E. Sayler, 18, of 4615 Green Hwy., was eastbound on Patterson and turned left onto Ottawa. Sayler reportedly cut the corner too close, striking an auto stopped on Ottawa for the sign. Edwin R. Gove, 54, of 8971 Matthews, was driving the second auto. Sayler was cited for improper turn.

March 2, Kevin R. Clum, 18, of VanWert, Ohio was cited for failing to yield while making a left turn. He turned from Chicago onto S. Union, and struck an auto driven by Harold Rainwasser, 53, of Toledo, Ohio. Rainwasser was eastbound on Chicago.

March 3 — Wilbur Zinn, 62, of Adrian was cited for improper lane usage after he pulled into the right lane from his inside lane on eastbound Chicago. He struck an auto driven by Vicki W. Hager, 21, of Adrian.

This Sunday, Michael G. Garcia, 23, of 111 S. Division, backed his auto on N. Union, near Nokomis St., and struck a parked car belonging to Journey L. Stoner, 739 N.

Students Now Selecting Courses

Tecumseh High School and eighth grade students are now selecting the courses that they wish to take next year.

This process of course selection by the student and parents is most important in preparing a student for his or her career goals while in high school.

The guidance counselors and group guidance instructors are giving information and assistance to the students so that wise course selections will be made.

The parents play an important role in helping the student select courses.

If further information is needed, the parents are asked to call the student's guidance counselor at either Tecumseh High School or the Junior High.

The parents are reminded to sign the course request form and have the student return it to the guidance counselor.

Piano Solos Highlight Sunday

At the Sunday meeting of the Tecumseh Makers, the following program was presented:

Piano solos were "Caribbean Blue" by Freeman played by Karen Garvin; "Nadia's Theme" by de Vorzon and Botkin, Jr. played by Chyrl Peck; "Candy Man" by Newley played by Ann Noveskey.

Alison Phillips played the first and third movements of "Mozart's Concerto" for clarinet.

Comparison recordings were then heard of Scott Joplin's "The Entertainer" as played by a popular pianist and that of the famous violinist, Itzhak Perlman accompanied by pianist Andre Previn.

Refreshments were served by Chryl Peck and Lynn Boyd. Next meeting will be held on April 3.

Press Conference Held on PBB

Four Michigan farmers-all under the age of 30–called a press conference in Lansing March 3 to express their concerns for the future of Michigan agriculture in view of recent PBB-related legislative proposals.

Gary Nye, Hillsdale County diry farmer; Don Gregory, Leelanau County fruit producer; Bob Rottier, Newaygo County dairyman, and Jerry Heck, Monroe County spoke to members of the news media at the Hilton Inn.

The Nye, Rottier and Heck farms had all been affected by PBB, received settlements for the livestock destroyed, and are back in business.

Accompanying Gregory was his wife, Ann, and their 3-month-old breast-fed daughter. With Rottier was his wife, Nancy, seven months pregnant. They also have a 13-month-old son, described as "healthy and active" by his parents despite the fact that the mother had consumed quantities of milk with high PBB levels during her pregnancy.

Rottier said that "We've had no personal health problems in our family and we can't foresee any in the future." When tested a year ago, Rottier had levels of .039 parts per million in his system and his wife had .1 ppm.

Heck expressed concern that proposed labeling of all Michigan produced meat, dairy products and eggs would destroy markets for the state's farmers. "We are concerned that consumers are becoming emotional and are not calm enough to think clearly and review the facts. We produce very high quality products and we do not want our markets taken away from us. Farming is our future. If we lose our markets, we will not be able to farm and therefore, we will have no future," he said.

The young farmers, gave strong support to the Porter Bill (H.B. 4115) which would require the Michigan Department of Agriculture to test animals suspected of being contaminated by PBB. Animals with PBB levels over .3 ppm would be destroyed, buried and the owner indemnified at fair market value by the state.

Animals with PBB levels between .02 ppm and .3 ppm would be destroyed, upon request of the owner, buried and indemnities paid.

The young farmers felt this would help restore consumer confidence in Michigan agricultural products. Nye said lowering the current tolerance level of .3 ppm set by the Food and Drug Administration with a 100 percent safety factor, would put many "back in business" farming operations, such as his own, under quarantine again.

He explained that the Michigan Department of Agriculture periodically checks his operation and there has been no evidence of PBB in the milk produced on the Nye farm.

This was a "first" for the young farmers who, Heck explained, "have never been approached by members of the press to give us an opportunity to tell our story."

Malone College Choral to Appear

The Malone College Choral, a 50 voice choir from Canton, Ohio, will appear in concert at the Tecumseh Evangelical Friends Church, March 13, at 7:30 p.m.

Donald R. Murray, associate professor of music and chairman of the division of fine arts at Malone, is director of the Choral and the Malone College Community Chorus.

The concert includes music from various periods based on Scripture and sacred writings such as "O Lord of Hosts, Jesus, the Christ;" "Sing, O My Soul, the Father's Praises;" "I Will Receive the Bread;" "Deep River;" "Jesus Walked This Lonesome Valley," "Ride the Chariot;" and selections from Mendelssohn's "Elijah;".

The second half of the program is John F. Wilson's folk cantata, entitled "He's Alive!"

Members of the Malone Choral are chosen by audition. They include Michigan students at the college.

Malone is a Christian liberal arts college of 896 students.

You Are What You Eat

by Shirley Weekley

With Lent well under way and Easter right around the corner, this week I have two Lenten specials for you, meatless main meals.

This first recipe is a seafood lovers delight, shrimp and anchovies in a rich tomato sauce, served over spaghetti and topped with cheese. Great!

SHRIMP MARINARA

1 can (4½ ounces) shrimp
1 cup chopped onion
one third cup olive oil
1 cup chopped celery
2 garlic cloves, chopped
2 cans (16 ounces each) tomatoes
2 teaspoon sugar
1 teaspoon sweet basil
1 teaspoon oregano
1 bay leaf
1 can (2 ounces) anchovy fillets, chopped
Grated Romano or Parmesan cheese

Drain shrimp, reserving liquid. Add water to liquid to make 1 cup. In a saucepan make 1 cup. In saucepan saute onion in oil 5 minutes; add celery and garlic and tomatoes (solid pieces chopped) seasonings, and shrimp water.

Simmer uncovered 35 minutes or until sauce is thick. Add shrimp and anchovies and heat. Serve over spaghetti generously sprinkled with cheese. Makes 4 servings.

This pecan loaf comes recommended by Veronica Baumea. I have not yet tried this, but I intend to soon, as it sounds good.

PECAN LOAF

2 tablespoons oil
1 tablespoon onion
1 cup chopped celery
1½ cups milk
1 teaspoon salt
½ cup chopped pecans
1 cup whole wheat bread crumbs
¼ cup chopped parsley
2 eggs

Heat the oil in a skillet. Add the onion and celery and steam for a few minutes. Add the milk and salt. Add the pecans, soft bread crumbs, parsley, and beaten eggs.

Bake in an oiled loaf pan in a moderate oven (350 degrees) until set, about one hour. Makes 4-6 servings.

THINK SPRING

We are not far enough into March to prohibit talking about the last weekend in February, are we? Especially when that weekend was a stormy one. Auntn was here from Florida and it just seemed that the 'powers that be' decided to give her a taste of all the cold weather type things she has missed by hiding out in Florida the last few winters.

Actually the excitement started with a pre-weekend warm spell and rain. The snow disappeared and the creek rose. With the ground still frozen, the melt drained into the creek and this, coupled with the rain, soon had our little Evans Creek overflowing its banks.

As the water rose it quickly became not a little Evans Creek. Every ice breakup is different and this first one of '77 was no exception.

It was fast, much faster than we had expected. We held our breath and crossed our fingers that it would not happen at night – after all, it seems a shame to have such an exciting thing happen when no one is watching it.

In the morning there were sighs of relief but then, shortly after breakfast there were a few big cakes and, whoosh, the ice was gone from our section of the creek. There were big ice jams but they were further down stream.

As of this dictating the creek is still high and it is frozen over again – perhaps there will be another bit of excitement.

Getting to the weekend storm. All day Saturday people kept telling us that there were storm warnings out and the prediction was for four to six inches of snow. None of us could believe it.

Even when some of the white stuff began drifting down it hardly seemed possible that we were in for a lambasting. To quickly sum up a long storm, there were large flakes of snow, small flakes, and all sizes in between.

We also had rain, freezing rain, and sleet. In other words, in one storm all of winter's offerings were capitalized for Auntn. And somehow, Mom and I got the impression that she did not fully appreciate it.

The following few mornings were sheer enchantment. Every bush and shrub, every branch, limb and twig was coated with ice and when the sun shone it was a magical world.

Even the snow was icy and thus the front yard glistened with multicolored jewels. But it was still winter and still cold.

Pretty though it was, we all agreed that enough was enough and we are anxious for spring.

Even the birds are anxious for spring. And if actions can hurry things along, they are doing their best. Even as Saturday's storm was brewing, the air was full of bird talk.

We cracked the window open just to hear the high pitched twittering of the goldfinches and the lovely melody of the white-throated sparrows.

Sunday morning it was my pleasure to watch Papa cardinal high in the mulberry tree, and yes, by listening carefully I could hear, even with the windows latched tight, his clear pure whistle.

I had almost forgotten how he tilts his head slightly, inflates his throat and chest, and opens his bill when he serenades.

Other springtime encouragements have come my way via the telephone. The General and his Lady watched a huge hoard of red-winged blackbirds land in the tops of some of their tallest trees.

West of town a flock of geese was sighted and yes, they were headed north. The brown headed cowbirds are back and so are the grackles.

Come summer these last two characters will be no cause for joy but right now they bespeak of things to come. Things like spring.

Care for Handicapped

A group has been working for the past few months to organize a class to train persons interested in respite care and-or babysitting services for handicapped persons in Lenawee County.

Course will be held for six weeks, March 15 to April 26. The course will cover such items as first aid, poison control, emotional problems involved by the parents, handicapped person and the care giver and many other topics.

A local doctor will discuss the different types of handicapped persons and medication. Specific training skills will be covered by an occupational therapist and physical therapist from Lenawee Institute.

Applications are available by contacting either Sandy Keener, 263-1220 or Judie Doan, 263-2527.

A list will be kept of all those completing the course, so that parents of the handicapped may call for the name of a care giver.

Thanks Everyone at Tecumseh Products

I'd like to take this opportunity to thank the entire gang at Tecumseh Products Company for the many wonderful years and to point out to those who might not already know - what a great bunch they really are - THE WORLD'S GREATEST!

The sale of my interest in the PK&A Foundry at Milan, Michigan leaves me with just one regret - a 28 year business relationship comes to an end.

The help given me by such men as the late Mr. Ray Herrick, Ken Herrick, Paul Breitenwisher, Virgil Tucker, Ed Hunt, Preston Caswell and all of the other officials of the organization, was beyond what anyone would ever expect and made my business as a supplier to Tecumseh Products Company much more of a pleasure than a job.

Thanks, everyone! I'll never forget it!

Alone

When we are young we have many carefree hours. We do not fully appreciate it at that time . . . but looking back we realize that today's generation has even more time on its hands. Beautiful time, yes! But we must help them fill it with a sense of responsibility and leadership.

Of course, our schools and communities offer every opportunity for healthy growth of minds and bodies.

But what about their spiritual development? Youth rightfully looks to us, who are no longer young, for guidance.

No, we cannot let them look for God alone. We must show them the way to Sunday School and the Church . . . where they can find Him. Then the years to come will be filled with spiritual strength and faith to live according to His will.

Award Carol Henning

Carol Henning received the God and Community Award on March 6, Girl Scout Sundaa, during the morning worship service at the First United Presbyterian Church in Tecumseh.

Carol, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Henning, 909 River Acres Dr., has pursued the coveted God and Community Award since Oct. 1974. The program aims at helping the Scout fulfill the first part of the Scout Promise, "On mv honor, I will try to do my duty to God and my country..."

Scouting attempts to help youth to be "clean in thought, word and deed" by emphasizing a worthy religious life-style, with an understanding of "why".

The God and Community Award is designed to help the Scout develop spiritual growth. The program is a course in the fundamentals of Christianity and activities designed to prepare the girl for Christian living in the church and community.

The award pin is the symbol of achievements in faith and works.

Carol worked with her pastor Edmond Watkins and completed the tree stages of the program. Each stage contains studies and services in Christian faith, witness, outreach, citizenship and fellowship.

Some of Carol's studies involved the memoriazation of Scripture passages with a thorough understanding of the meaning of each passage and an application of it. She completed studies of Christian and Presbyterian history, mission and institutions of learning. In addition, she studied the relationship of the United Presbyterian Church with various organizations and explained it in terms of purpose and function.

Carol went beyond duty in service projects, said Pastor Watkins. She never quit and project, she just added new ones. Carol maintained pew rack materials, collated copied material, delivered worship service tapes to shut-ins, sang in St. Andrew's Choir, and performed other helpful services in the church.

Golf Badge Is Newest in Scouting

Golf, one of the oldest of games, is the subject of the newest merit badge of the Boy Scouts of America.

This raises to 19 the number of sports-oriented merit badges its 1.5 million 11-17 year-old Scouts are eligible to earn.

There are, currently, 120 subjects covered in the merit badge field, the traditional backbone of Scouting's advancement program a trail which leads from Tenderfoot to Eagle.

Golfing traces its history back nearly 900 years to Scotland, where it was apparently developed from a Roman game called "panganica."

The first golf course in the United States was established in Yonkers, N.Y. in 1888. Proponents say more people play the game today than any other outdoor sport, including over 10 million in the United States.

Charter Draped at Chapter 51

The March meeting of Tecumseh Chapter No. 51 was opened with a poem "My Prayer", read by worthy matron Lucinda Hand. Sixteen members were present.

Worth Patron Stanley Miller draped the Charter in memory of Harry Duncan.

Michigan Senator To Speak

Michigan's senior U.S. Senator, Robert P. Griffin is the featured speaker of the annual Lenawee County Republican Lincoln Day Dinner. The dinner will be held 7 p.m. March 18, at Ritchie Hall, Adrian College.

Other local office holders in attendence will include the Hon. David Stockman, Fourth District; State Senator Hal Ziegler, 19th District; State Representative Jack Mowat Jr, 40th District; and Peter Fletcher of the State Highway Commission.

A reception for Sen. Griffin will be held from 5:30-6:45 p.m. preceding the dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Germond of Adrian. Tickets for both affairs may be obtained by contacting either Richard Lackie, 265-1511 or Gary Lovett, 263-8181.

Only 32 years of age when first elected to Congress, Bob Griffin was completing his 10th year in the U.S. House of Representatives when he was appointed in May 1966 to fill a Senate vacancy left by the death of Sen. Patrick V. McNamara.

Six months later Bob Griffin won his first full six-year term as a U.S. Senator by defeating former Gov. G. Mennen Williams by the largest plurality given a Republican senatorial candidiate in 20 years.

The Senate elected him Minority Whip in 1969—a rare honor for a first term Senator. He was unanimously reelected to that position in 1971, 1973 and 1975.

Senator Griffin's legislative career has several well known and significant accomplishments. As a first term Congressman, he co-authored the National Student Loan Program which has aided millions of college students with low interest loans. Later he co-authored the famous Landrum-Griffin Act frequently referred to as the "bill of rights for the working man."

Sen. Griffin

In 1965, he successfully led a "Young Turk" movement that elevated then-Congressman Gerald R. Ford of Michigan to the position of House Minority Leader.

In 1971, he sparked a drive which ended in repeal of the seven per cent excise tax levied on automobiles. During his present term Mr. Griffin was instrumental in the passage of a major pension reform bill.

Born in Detroit on Nov. 6, 1923, Bob Griffin attended public schools in Garden City and Dearborn, graduating from Dearborn's Fordson High School in 1941.

After his service in World War II, Griffin returned to Central Michigan University where he earned both bachelor of arts and bachelor of science degrees together with a teaching certificate. Later he received his law degree from the University of Michigan Law School and practiced law in Traverse City until his election to Congress.

He is married to the former Marjorie Jean (Marge) Anderson of Ludington.

They have four children: Paul, an attorney; Rick, a law school senior; Jim, a college student; and Jill, a high school senior.

Plant Announces 75 Workers with Perfect Attendence

William J. Polk, plant manager, Fisher Body Tecumseh Plant, recently announced that 75 plant employees had perfect attendance during the calendar year 1976.

Mr. Polk, in review of the reporting indicated that, "Absenteeism is a constant concern to business and industry, especially in a time, such as today, where it is the general 'rule rather than the exception,' and, it is indeed a welcomed pleasure to recognize these employees for their record of attendance excellence."

Hourly and salaried employees with several years of consective perfect attendance include: Janice Sackreiter, Tecumseh, three years; and Ray Mattoon, Al Southard and George DiCarlo, Tecumseh, four years. William Hyder, Adrian, five years, and, Dale Nofzinger, Adrian, six years.

Employees with one and two years of perfect attendance include Calvin Lawson, Roy Brosamer, Allen Bower, Charles Rebottaro and Kenneth Kormos, Britton; Dean Cook, Tipton; and Ronald Born, Eduardo Olvera, Leo Wallace, Nancy Rundell, Ed Walters, Harry Keller, Cleatus Beasley, Stanley Dobek, Gerald Jardine, Deanna Beaubien, Donna Born, Fred Frolich, Maria Torres, Larry Bilkie, Robert Martin, Bruce DesErmia, Dennis Lewis, Murray Palmer, Wayne J. JUNIOR HIGH BAND RECEIVES "I" RATING — The Britton-Macon Junior High School Band received the highest possible rating at the 1977 Junior High District Band and Orchestra Festival on March 5 in Morenci. This is the first time a Junior High School Band from Britton received a "I" rating. (PHOTO BY FRANK WEIR)

Junior High Band Is Rated Number 1

BRITTON — The Britton-Macon Junior High School Band, directed by Meri L. Schoof, received a "I" rating, the highest possible rating given to bands that participate in the 1977 Junior High District Band and Orchestra Festival held in Morenci recently.

The festival is held every year for both the junior and senior high bands in the state of Michigan. It is sponsored by the Michigan State Band Directors Association.

This is the first time a junior high band from Britton has received a "I" rating.

"The band members put in a lot of time and hard work to achieve this honor. Congratulations to them for an excellent job," said Mrs. Schoof.

Each band performs in front of three judges three works it has prepared. Each judge evaluates the performance, writes comments and give and gives the band a rating. Then, the band is given two pieces of music they have never seen before and are rated by one judge.

These four ratings are then averaged together to give the final rating. The range of the rating system is from 1-V with I being the higest. The Britton Band received three I's and one II to give them an overall rating of "I".

The senior high band will travel to Onsted on March 17, to perform at the senior high band festival.

MONEY FOR SENIOR TRIP — Connie Price and Jim Frayer, seniors at Britton-Macon High School accept a check for $170.50 from Mrs. Robert Hunt of The Tecumseh Herald staff. Money was earned in a recent subscription drive and will help finance the senior's five-day trip May 23 to Washington D.C. and New York City.

Band Boosters Banquet

BRITTON — Band Boosters set May 10 for their annual Band Banquet at the high school cafeteria with potluck dinner planned.

June 26 was set for the annual chicken barbecue by the Boosters.

Mrs. Ardath Frayer was appointed Calendar Chairman. She will need volunteers to assist her in this project. It was announced that in three weeks samples of new band uniforms will be available to be seen.

More information on the band banquet will be sent out to Booster members as to what they are to bring for the potluck dinner.

Next meeting is May 10, the Band Banquet followed by election of officers for next year.

Family to Appear

RIDGEWAY — The Ide Family of Sturgis, will appear at the Ridgeway Church of the Nazarene, 6886 Ridge Hwy., on March 16-20 at 7 p.m. each evening.

The Ide Family presents a program designed to minister to all ages. The family expresses through music and word, the challenge to live a full positive and Christian life.

Featured within The Ide Family is Sherri, at age 9 an award winning soloist, and Jill, at age 12 a talented ventriloquist.

Both of them will join their parents, Sandy and George in family song. George Ide has traveled extensively throughout the county as a soloist for over 15 years.

"LOCK, STOCK AND LIPSTICK," a comedy by John Henderson, will be presented by members of the Britton-Macon High School faculty March 11 and 12 at 7:30 p.m. in the school gymnasium. Proceeds will be used for a scholarship which school officials give each year to a graduating senior. Below, cast members take a final look at the script, l-r, first row, Gerry Gorton, Peggy Jo Raeburn, Elizabeth Cheever, Nancy Evans, Jan Snyder; second row, Sandy Shannon, Larry Jacobsen, Al Lenz, Mark Lewis, Joanne Armentrout, and Jack Evans. Four Students in Honors Band

The honors band is composed of some of the outstanding students in the junior high bands in Southern Michigan.

The students chosen are Barry Hall, baritone; Shari Morgan, percussion; Mike Sanders, trombone; and Laurie Eccleston, oboe.

These four band members will audition in Howell on March 11. They will be placed in one of two bands that will be formed for the weekend.

Saturday will be spent rehearsing and getting to know students from other schools.

On Sunday, both bands will perform in concert.

Families in the Howell area have volunteered to host the visiting band members and will provide a place for the students to stay on Friday and Saturday nights.

Slides Shown to Women

Mrs. Brown, her husband and three children, had lived in Ethiopia for two years where Mr. Brown was a physical education instructor and coach of children of Missionary parents.

Mrs. Brown, attired in an Ethiopian outfit, exhibited a number of articles brought from there and showed slides of the country telling many interesting facts about the region.

Mrs. Geraldine Keran opened the meeting with a reading "Hymn for March," by Frances Heighton.

Mrs. Linda Hawk gave devotions, choosing Matthew 6:24-34 and closed with a prayer.

Mrs. Rosemary Auten and Mrs. Vivian Brown, of the sunshine Circle, were on the entertainment committee. Mrs. Brown took over for Mrs. Howard Wilson who was absent. Mrs. Brown was also on the refreshment committee.

At the business meeting plans were discussed for the father-son banquet set for March 25 and the mother-daughter banquet on May 6. Prices were set for both banquets. The two daytime circles will be in charge of the kitchen for both banquets. The evening Circle will have charge of the dining room and decorations for both banquets.

The World Day of Prayer was observed March 4 in the Fellowship Center of the church, with Mrs. Lorraine Hummel in charge of the program

A committee will investigate purchasing new drapes for the sanctuary.

Meeting adjourned with the "Lord's Prayer."

2 Candidates Seek Vacancy

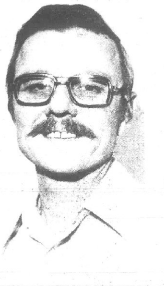
BRITTON — Virginia (Ginger) Cline (D) and Robert Spence (R) are seeking to fill the vacancy of councilman, a term to run until March 1978, at a special election for qualified electors of the Village of Britton, Monday, March 14.

The candidates were selected in January by their respective parties to run for councilman to fill the vacancy created by the recall of Henry Mastie.

Mrs. Cline was born in Britton and has lived here except for 15 years in Milan after her marriage. She is a 1953 Britton High School graduate and attended Cleary College for one term in 1964. She has worked the last 12 years at the University of Michigan as a research assistant.

Mrs. Cline has two married children, Jan (Mrs. Craig Cowen) and Mark. Mr. Cline is employed at the Tecumseh Products Co.

She said she was asked to run for the position of councilman and decided she would like to see how the council is run and do her part in improving it.



ROBERT SPENCE

Robert Spence, 39, 403 Elm St. was born in Findlay, Ohio. He graduated from Britton High School in 1958. He served three years in the Army and is presently employed as a designer for Kewaunee Scientific Equipment Corp. in Adrian. Mrs. Spence works in the Service Div. of the Tecumseh Products Co. They have two children at home, Robert 16, and Colleen, 8.

Spence served on the council in 1963-64 and is ready to serve again. He feels its his duty to serve as councilman and help straighten out the council.

Irish Theme Entertains Church Women

BRITTON — Mrs. Stewart Niblack was presented with a president's pin and thanked for her service at the March 3 meeting of the Grace United Methodist Women's meeting at the home of Mrs. Allen Bower.

Mrs. Charles Bishop presented the "Love in Action" program for the World Day of Prayer.

Fifteen sick and shut-in calls were made during the month.

Easter dinner will be prepared for the same needy family the women helped at Christmas.

The Spiritual Growth Retreat will be April 1 and 2 Adrian College.

Mrs. Bower and co-hostesses Mrs. Richard Seagert served refreshments of lime gelatin salad with a green gelatin shamrock on each piece.

The refreshment table was covered with a dark green table cloth and centered with an Irish centerpiece and an Irish girl music box which played "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling."

Charges Coach Is at Fault

Letter to the Editor:

Now that another basketball season drew to a close for the Clinton JV with an outstanding 20 victories, and the Varsity with a 4 win 17 loss, it makes one wonder what happened to all these good basketball players of last year that moved from the JV's to the Varsity this year. "COULD IT BE THE COACH?"

Coach Arnold's remarks last year was that the team did not work together and get along with each other. What is his excuse for this year?

In my opinion he is not doing his coaching properly at the practices and second thing the boys cannot concentrate on what they are doing while playing ball at the game when you have a coach constantly yelling at you from the side line.

I know it sure irritates me and many others, to see a coach carry on at the game the way Arnold does. It is no wonder the team doesn't get much support at the games. We don't like all that yelling either.

I also thought it was very rude of Arnold to keep six boys setting on the bench not even giving them a chance to play in the tournament game some which are seniors and their last ball game in their high school years. I think these six boys worked and practiced just as hard as the rest of the team.

It is about time that some one wakes up to the fact that it is NOT all the boys problem but the coach that these boys have. These boys deserve a new coach for next year so they have something to look forward to. "Many more victories" like they had when they were on the JV's.

Being a good basketball player does not necessarily make you a good coach anymore than a good student makes a good teacher.

Cindy Partridge, vice-president, chaired the meeting. She was honored with a birthday song.

Leathercraft members should have their projects selected; members are to contact the leather craft leader about the nights to work on the project.

Refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. Ed Lewis and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Miller.

May Fly-Up

TIPTON — Third Grade Water Lily Blue Birds fulfilled a year working on their Solo Flight, preparing them for their fly-up in May at the Grand Council Fire.

They are making nut cups and accessories for the father and daughter banquet on March 12. The girls faithfully attend the roller skating party every month at the Skate-a-dium.

The girls participated in the annual magazine sales selling a total of 42 magazines among the nine girls. They earned patches, pins and a stuffed animal for this project.

They hope to make macrame necklaces and tour interesting points in the area.

Celebrates 88th

TIPTON — Mrs. Rosa Spycher celebrated her 88th birthday on Sunday, March 6 in her home on Kempf Road.

A surprise dinner was served to 40 members of her family, including her children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

She received many cards, flowers and gifts from friends. She was also remembered by her other family members in Switzerland.

Rally Around Fall Festival

CLINTON — Popular support for continuation of Clinton's Fall Festival was demonstrated by a turn out of nearly 40 persons, Monday night, to discuss the matter.

David Van Tuyle volunteered to serve as general chairman of the Fall Festival Committee, and other volunteers are: Lester Proctor, car ticket sales; Mary Jane Richard, booth chairman (second year); Charles Steffens, parade chairman (second year); and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Woodward and daughter, Amy Haft, advertising.

The committee will meet Thursday, March 10, at 7:30 p.m. at the Community Center, to begin plans for the Fall Festival '77. A policy meeting date will be set later for input by representatives of all organizations concerned.

Those present Monday night expressed their interest in having the Clinton Chamber of Commerce maintain its affiliation with the Fall Festival.

Kathy Thomas, Chamber president, stated that she was certain that the people who had been active in past festivals were sincerely interested in having it continue.

The Chamber is "very thankful for the many, many people who have helped in the past to make it such a successful event," she said.

The main problem has been to have the key leadership positions filled for the festival, and apparently this has been solved by the response at this meeting.

Taxpayers Eye Review Dates

CLINTON — Taxpayers may be pondering their property assessed valuation with an eye toward Board of Review dates of March 14, 15, 16.

Township office will be open from 9 a.m. for at least six hours daily.

According to Gene Harbaugh, Clinton Township assessor, the County Equalization Committee determined that Clinton Township was undervalued by $505,000.

In order to raise this amount of valuation AVERAGE factors of 3.24 will be applied to residential property and 6.47 to agricultural property. Some property may be raised more, some less than these figures.

These factors are determined by current sales study in the township, Harbaugh explained.

In recent weeks, all tax payers whose property valuation has been increased this year have received notice of this change and their 1977 valuation.

To arrive at these figures the 1976 property valuation was multiplied by the necessary factors: 1.0324 for residential and by 1.0647 for agricultural property.

Clinton Township received the lowest factor among the townships in Lenawee County, an indication that assessments more nearly reflect 50 percent of current market value in this township.

Village Election Monday

CLINTON — Village election will be held, March 14 to elect a village clerk, to fill vacancy; and three trustees, full term. Also to be elected are two trustees on the Smith-Kimball Community Center Board.

Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. at Clinton Middle School.

Unopposed candidates for the offices are: clerk, Evelyn Harrison; trustees, John Jansen; Michael Tarske and William Stout.

Two candidates for the two positions on the Smith-Kimball Community Center Board are Genevieve Reilly and Mary Jane Richard.

Volleyball

Clinton's junior high volleyball program recently ended with the red team registering a 3-4 record and the white team a 5-2 record.

Both teams were coached by Pam McGahey.

The white team consisted of captain Rene Snyder, Debbie Baxter, Mary Campbell, Carrie Merillat, Lisa Moore, Teresa Murphy, Renee Peterson, Yvonne Tallman, Martha VanTuyle and Cindy Vincent.

Merillat was top scorer for the season with 85 points.

The red team was composed of Gisele DeKanv. Kathy Doig, Dawn Gonia, captain Terri Jurasek, Hiedi Pienta, Laurie Porterfield, Valerie Reyner, Sue Ritter and Karen Sanborn.

Robert Voorhees To Fill Vacancy

CLINTON — Clinton Township Board named Robert Voorhees, Pennington Rd., to succeed Frank Gignac on The Zoning Board.

In other action at Monday's meeting, the board set March 22 at 7 p.m. for the Settlement Day, when all bills are presented and budget hearing held.

Annual township meeting will be Saturday, April 2 at 1:30 p.m.

Township treasurer Mary Hull reported that 91.35 percent of the township taxes have been paid by the March 1 deadline, when they are turned in to the county.

Mrs. Hull's report showed approximately $854,000 in taxes collected.

Distribution of these funds, in round figures are: Lenawee County, $120,000; Intermediate Schools, $69,000; Clinton Township, $20,000; Clinton Township Library, $10,000; Clinton Community Schools, $590,000; Tecumseh Public Schools, $35,000.

Petition Opposes Franklin Extension

CLINTON — Village Council was presented with a petition signed by residents opposing the extension of Franklin St. to Sunset Dr., at the meeting Monday night.

Ten residents were present to oppose the extension as well.

Council indicated that it would abide by the public opinion.

At the public hearing on use of revenue sharing funds, no new suggestions were offered, so Council voted to use the funds for the village portion of the sewer project.

Council appointed County Commissioner Stanley Gibbard to represent council on Region II Planning Commission.

Bids will be sought for the repainting of the water tower.

Another one mill increase will become effective on current electrical reates, due to fuel price increase and Detroit Edison fuel adjustment costs.

Meeting was not formally adjourned, and at the reconvened meeting held Tuesday night park land acquisition matters were discussed.

Council voted to apply to the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation for the cost of a share of the purchase of 52 acres for park development under the Land and Water Conservation Fund Porgram.

UMW Meet, New Officers Installed

CLINTON — United Methodist Women heard a discussion of the question, "As Christians, How Free Are We Really?" presented by Mrs. Donald Bleam at their meeting Monday night at the home of Mrs. Carl Terry.

Mrs. John Knight gave the devotions, reading from "Friends" by James J. Metcalf and "Great Commandment."

Mrs. Terry installed the new officers: president, Mrs. Roger Waltz; vice-president, Mrs. James Akers; secretary, Mrs. Forrest Swift; and treasurer, Mrs. Wilbur Reiser.

Mrs. Martin Scott was named Missions Chairman and Mrs. Ruth Davis is materials chairman.

Date of April 23 was set for the father-son banquet.

Dorcas Circle will meet March 16 at home of Mrs. Jack Warren.

Faith Circle will meet March 17 at the home of Mrs. Leona Berry.

Program on Cancer will be presented by Lynn Sengbush at the April 4 meeting to be held at the church.

CHS Presents 'Guys and Dolls'

CLINTON — Cast for the spring musical "Guys and Dolls" at Clinton High School has been selected and rehearsals have begun.

Directed by Mrs. Don Geiger, the musical will be presented on March 24, 25 and 26 at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

The play centers around Broadway, New York and an interesting set of Damon Runyon characters in late 1940's.

Leading ladies are Sarah, a mission doll, played by Janet Hilderly and Miss Adelaide, a nightclub dancer, played by Cindy Haskell.

Wally Heimerdinger, Devin Schindler, Rex Geiger, Bill Schmidt, Brion Marion and Terry Sell play a group of questionable characters called "crapshooters."

Many more students fill out the cast of singers, dancers and actors.

Employ the Older Week Observed

March 14-18 is National Employ the Older Worker Week. The objective of this annual observance is to make Michigan employers aware of the skills and abilities of those men and women 40 years of age and older who are unemployed or underemployed.

All Michigan Employment Security Commission Job Service offices provide job placement assistance through out the year to the over-40 job seeker.

In Michigan alone there are over 2½ million people 45 years of age or older. Of that number almost 1.3 million are part of the state's labor force, either working or seeking work.

Older workers account for one third of the state's entire work force of 3.9 million.

Workers over 40 offer employers skills, judgment, reliability and maturity that comes from experience.

Workers hired after age 40 generally attain a higher performance in shorter time, have a more positive attitude, greater job stability and have fewer number of days lost.

MESC is sponsoring a new program called RENEW, a Referal Employment Network of Elderly Workers. The project aims to assist those 40 and over find work. Special aid is given to those over 55. Program is available at the Jackson office.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY MEETS

Microfilming To Continue

CLINTON — At the March meeting of the Historical Society of Clinton it was announced that the microfilming of the back issues of the Clinton Local will be carried on by the Michigan State University since the Monroe County Library has run out of federal funds for the project.

The text for the marker for the site of the Clinton Inn is still in the process of revision by the Historical Society and the Michigan History Division, reported Lawrence Bailey.

The Society voted funds to be used by Sharon Scott, society librarian, to obtain copies of books and pamphlets which have been compiled by neighboring communities. Details of the histories of other towns often help illuminate Clinton's history as no town develops or exists in a vacuum. These will be circulated among society members and may also be used at the library by non-members as is true of all the society's holdings on file at the library.

Genevieve Reilly presented a short history of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union (WCTU). Highlights of its local manifestation were gleaned from the memorablilia of Anna Heimerdinger, an active local member of the WCTU, and from Clara Waldron's book about Tecumseh. Miss Heimerdinger's material is in the Society's files.

Although the WCTU is best known for its crusade against alcohol and the activities of Carry Nation who used physical means of carrying out his crusade, the local members engaged in many other activities to aid the sick and aged, the county infirmary, and child welfare, as did also the national organization.

Mrs. Reilly opened the program playing the violin and Sally Scheer, the grand piano, Mrs. Scheer sang "There Is a Tavern in the Town", and closed with the whole group singing the WCTU words, "When Asked to Drink", to the tune of "Auld Lang Syne".

After the program the members discussed some other pertinent local facts, remembering that Hiram Walker bought the formula for his whisky from Newburg distiller Smith, only to find the closed envelope containing the formula for making ordinary "white lightning" corn liquor taste and look like rye whisky, contained the words "brown sugar"!

Clinton was a dry town in its early history, but changed its mind when local businessmen found the local farmers unwilling to trade where they couldn't drink.

It was again dry in the early part of this century, but those in the know could get their morning eye-opener at many local businesses such as B. O. Randall's from a common cup and bucket affair. Lenawee County was a dry county until quite recently.

Propose Offering of Stock

CLINTON — The Budd Co. filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission a registration statement relating to the proposed offering of 600,000 of its common shares.

Of the shares registered, 353,333 shares will be sold upon the exercise of outstanding warrants which will be purchased from certain institutional holders by the underwriters, and 246,667 will be sold by the company.

The offering will be made through an underwriting group managed by Smith Barney, Harris Upham & Co. Inc.

The company had 6,127,970 common shares outstanding as of Dec. 31, 1976.

Budd will use the net proceeds from the sale to reduce short-term bank borrowings.

'Bless This House' Is PTO Program

CLINTON — "Bless This House" was the title of the program at the Clinton PTO meeting recently.

Produced and filmed by Robert B. Wells, a science teacher in Monroe Public Schools, the program has received national, state and local awards for its inspirational message and photographic excellence.

Wells' slides presented from multiple projectors were blended with stereophonic music, he has captured the beauty and greatness of our country.

The A-V equipment purchased for the elementary by the PTO was on display.

A business meeting was conducted by the vice-president, Candy Martin. The children had a special movie during the business meeting shown on the new movie projector from the PTO.

The equipment purchased by the PTO was a movie projector, filmstrip projector, cassette filmstrip projector, A-V cart, $300 worth of filmstrips and a thermofax machine.

How Macon Came About

By Sharon Connors

MACON — In the spring of 1831 John Sage came to Michigan from Middlesex County Connecticut. He was obliged to cut a road through from Pennington's farm, (the present John Bank's home), to get his horses through to his land, (The birth of the present Clinton-Macon Rd.).

There were no settlers or roads for 20 miles east of his place. He erected a log house and began work on his future farm house (occupied today by the Bill Swanstons).

John Sage said, "It requires a young man with a strong will and undaunted courage to go into the woods alone and start in with the idea that some day if he lives he will have a farm."

This past week the Lenawee County Road crew was clearing trees in preparation for a "new" road. I couldn't help but think of this first time in the history of the road. Several years ago while doing some reading on local history this account of John Sage was found in a Lenawee County history book.

Seeing today's equipment and the speed with which an area can be cleared makes one appreciate even more the hard work done by founding fathers. The former Sage farm is the focal point of this reflection since 100 year-old trees were cleared just to the west of the Sage farm in preparation for proper drainage for the road.

In 1966 Bill and Marilyn Swanston bought the historic Sage house. Over the years they have worked hard restoring it, doing most of the work themselves. To their knowledge the house was built in 1832.

The kitchen and utility room were probably added on sometime later to the two story house. They feel this addition stands directly over where the log house was. A letter dated 1865 was uncovered while working on walls upstairs.

Some of the original windows have been replaced, a back stairway removed and a wall upstairs changed, otherwise the house remains exactly as it was. They continue to work upstairs and recently completed two rooms.

The Swanstons have three daughters, Jackie, Heather and Mindy. The whole family deserves a pat on the back for a good job of preserving a tie with older America.

The James Neitlings have celebrated several events over the past weeks. Feb. 22 was daugher Amy's 10th birthday and a dinner was held at grandpa and grandma Neitlings in Tecumseh. Feb. 27 Jim and Sharon celebrated their 12th wedding anniversary. Feb. 4 was Sharon's birthday.

Two couples from our area, Dean and Joanne Hamilton and Dean and Josie Jones and a Tecumseh couple, Jim and Dee Colson enjoyed a weekend in the beautiful city of Toronto. The couples left on the train Friday evening and arrived in Toronto four hours later. One of the main areas of interest they enjoyed was the Ontario Science Center. The scenic center is fabulous and interesting, well worth returning to, they said. The couples returned Sunday night and said the trip was well worth the aching feet and heavy eyelids.

Holloway Happenings

By Helen Smoll

HOLLOWAY — (Church History Continued). In 1869 the congregation officially decided it wanted to become a Presbyterian church.

On Jan. 16, 1869 the Holloway church sent a petition to the Monroe Presbytery asking for admission. The permission was granted, and the church was known as the First Presbyterian Society of Raisin Township.

The first meeting under the new affiliation was held on Nov. 29, 1869. In 1871 the Rev. Luther Pert, who had been an attorney in New York City, became the pastor of the Raisin church. After becoming seriously ill and recovering he decided to study for the ministry. The Raisin Presbyterian church was the Rev. Pert's first pastorate after he graduated from seminary.

PWP Elect '77' Officers

The Lenawee Chapter No. 902 of Parents Without Partners held election of officers at the March general meeting Friday evening March 4.

The following officers were elected — president, Larry Knierim; vice-president, Louise Moore; secretary, Carole Biddix; treasurer, Judy Nash; membership director, Shelby Raines; program director, Suzanne McGill; newsletter editor, Kathy Reynolds; publicity dierctor, Lucy Herron; children's activities director, Ray Ireland; grievance committee, Judy Elam and Ron Ladd.

Shelby Raines was elected for the Single Parent of the Year Award to represent the Lenawee Chapter at the regional conferance to be held at Lansing in May.

Any single parent interested in information about PWP may contact any of the officers or by calling the membership director at 486-2432.

Bake Sale Is Planned

A group of concerned mothers have joined together to secure funds to purchase radios for the 12 school buses that transport Lenawee Institute students.

The mothers plan a bake sale on March 25 and 26 at the Adrian Mall. Donations of baked goods will be accepted for the sale; readers may call 263-1052.

Anyone wishing to make a monetary donation may make a check payable to Lenawee School Services.

The mothers feel the radios are important to insure the children's safety and to help the bus drivers in time of need.

For further imformation readers may call Mrs. Moore, 265-8287 or Mrs. Brehmer, 263-4722.

The mothers' efforts are not connected with the Lenawee Association for Retarded Citizens (LARC) or Lenawee Institute, but are working on the radio project because of their concern for the students.

Camp Fire F-D Banquet Is March 12

The Tecumseh Camp Fire father-daughter banquet is scheduled for March 12. Theme is "Happy Birthday."

Jazz Band, Modern Dance at Mall

The Tecumseh 19-piece high school Jazz Band in conjunction with the Tecumseh High School Modern Dance Club, will perform in concert at the Adrian Mall on March 10 at 7 p.m.

The Tecumseh High School Modern Dance Club directed by Mrs. Eugene Cooley, will perform dance numbers during the program with musical background supplied by the band.

The Tecumseh Jazz Band, directed by Gerald J. Bach Sr. will entertain with something old — "I'm Getting Sentimental Over You", something new — "Where Is the Love", something rock — "Totempole"; something blue — "Rainy Sunday" plus many other old and new selections.

"Provide yourself the opportunity tonight to see the Tecumseh High School Modern Dance Club and to hear young musicians playing something nostalgic and something new," said Bach.

Sweet Violets Is Topic for Club

"Sweet Violets," a slide presentation on wildflowers, was the program for the March 2 meeting of the Town and Country Garden Club.

The slide show was narrated by Club member Judy Crittenden and was provided by the Federation of Garden Clubs.

Two new members, Cindy Rounds and Nancy Werner, were introduced.

The Club has received a certificate of recognition for its contribution of funds to the American Land Trust.

The Hidden Lake Gardens Committee reported that seeds have been planted for transplanting later in the Rock Garden, part of the club's restoration project.

The meeting was held at the home of Barbara Croft and was co-hosted by Toni Schneider.

An all green table arrangement entitled "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling" was designed by Mary Sue Ferraro.

The April 13 meeting will be held at the home of Mary Korving.

New Assignment

Airman Stephen C. Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Graby Miller of 1143 Carson Hwy., has received a new assignment following graduation from the jet engine mechanic course conducted by the Air Training Command at Chanute AFB, Ill.

Airman Miller, now trained to inspect and repair turbojet and gas turbine engines, will go to Eglin AFB, Fla., for duty with a unit of the Tactical Air Command. Completion of the course enables the airman to receive academic credits through the Community College of the Air Force.

He is a 1976 graduate of Tecumseh High School.

DESIGN FEATURES & BENEFITS

1. DOUBLE SWITCH — Positive on and off action is achieved through the use of two switches. Prevents lightning damage to the motor by disconnecting both 115 volt conductors. Two magnets prevent short cycling.
2. WICKING — Lubricates sleeve bearing pressed into motor end bell.
3. HEAVY DUTY MOTOR — 1/3 H.P., 60 cycle, 115 volt continuous duty. Filled with dielectric oil to assure quiet-cool running.
4. AUTOMATIC OVERLOAD SWITCH — Prevents damage to motor winding.
5. CORD SET — Waterproof 3 prong grounding type, 8 feet in length.
6. BALL BEARING — Permanently lubricated, never needs oiling.
7. WATERTIGHT SEAL — Ceramic seal is liquid lubricated. Prevents water from entering motor housing.
8. TOP SUCTION STRAINER — Allows lint and other particles to enter the pump without clogging. No special protection required.
9. STAINLESS STEEL IMPELLER PLATE — Corrosive water will not cause this part to rust or deteriorate.
10. STAINLESS STEEL THRU BOLTS — Rust and corrosion proof. Easily removed. No special tools or sealing cement needed.
11. IMPELLER — Open trash type impeller rids the pump of all foreign matter. It will not clog or become warped.
12. FLOAT — Operates vertically. Automatically starts and stops the pump.
13. CAST VOLUTE — Rugged construction is impervious to stress and cold weather conditions. 1¼" vertical discharge.

Council Reviews City Hall Plans

Tecumseh City Council reviewed plans Monday night for the addition to city hall. The addition proposed two years ago was approximately a 24 by 40 foot addition to the east side of city hall.

New plans viewed last night showed an addition of 240 square feet. Cal Zorn city manager explained the expansion of six feet gives a more workable floor plan and will provide office space for the city's director of community development which it is considering to hire.

Additional cost will likely be absorbed by the city. Zorn explained that alterations were made in the plan so that "Really all it is costing is the floors." Cost of the addition will approach $125,000, according to discussions held Monday.

Zorn also told Council that the city may have another chance to acquire public work funds as both the United States House of Representatives and the Senate are considering new versions of the public works bill.

City Council rejected all construction bids last August because it eyed public works funds. It requested $110,000 for the city hall addition and requested a total of $795,000 for other projects.

But the city received nothing, primarily because there was not enough money to go around.

Included for the cost of the city hall additions is a new heating and cooling system for the entire city hall. Cost is estimated about $35,000 for the mechanical system alone.

Also in the addition are officers including one for the office staff, an administrative office, conference room and clerical storage; a new vault, complete basement with storage, a new mechanical system control, a kitchenette and a women's restroom. Insulation and the required ramps for the handicapped are also part of the package.

Geisige Joins Staff

Richard J. Giesige, Jr. recently joined the staff of Catholic Social Services of Lenawee County as a full time counselor.

Catholic Social Services provides individual and family counseling to all residents of Lenawee County. The office is located at 307 E. Church, Adrian.

Catholic Social Services is a member agency of the Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation.

Career Day

A food service, lodging, and institutional management Career Day sponsored by Siena Heights College will be held Tuesday, in Ledwidge Ballroom on the Siena Campus.

Refreshments will be served and registration will be held from 9:30 a.m. to 10:00 a.m.

Mrs. Marilee Purse, F.S.L. & I.M. program director from Tecumseh and Dr. Thomas Maher, academic vice president will make introductions and welcome students.

LEADERSHIP PLAQUE — James Dehring, assistant Scoutmaster of Troop 272 receives a recognition plaque from Edwin Walters, institutional representative for Tecumseh Kiwanis.

First '77 Bloodmobile Set at Community Center

The first Bloodmobile of the year 1977 will be held at the Tecumseh Community Center from noon to 6 p.m. on Friday, March 18.

This is the only bloodmobile scheduled at the Tecumseh Community Center this year. Response at the December bloodmobile before Christmas was not encouraging.

The March 18 bloodmobile provides an opportunity for the general public to contribute to the blood bank for Lenawee County so that no resident has to pay for blood.

Green Thumb Openings for Senior Citizens

Tecumseh Recreation Department has four senior citizens assigned to work with it through a federal program called Green Thumb.

Those four senior citizens who have become familiar faces at the Community Center are Ruby Preston and Willie Southwell of Tecumseh and Ross Snyder of Manchester and Richard Capper of Adrian.

Green Thumb is a federal organization funded by the United States Department of Labor in Washington, D.C. It is designed to employ senior citizens 55 years and older who qualify according to federal guidelines.

In Lenawe County 22 people are employed under the Green Thumb program. There are openings to hire more people who qualify. Placement will be in the Morenci and Onsted Areas at the Senior Citizen Nutrition sites.

Local contact person for Green Thumb is Rose Bowman, Lenawee Council On Aging program director at 327 Erie St., Adrian. Applications for persons 55 years of age or over are being taken for immediate employment.

Green Thumb has been in "business" for over 10 years, nationally, and a little over four years in the State of Michigan. Mrs. Wanda Kibler is the state director, with Mrs. Joyce Lemerand serving as the assistant director. The office is located at 13631 Brest in Southgate.

Green Thumb is sponsored by the Farmers Union, and until recently, it was restricted to serve "rural" areas only, with a population of 50,000 or less.

In the rural areas, it is authorized by Washington to hire 181 senior citizens on a permanent basis, and up to 20 percent on a temporary basis. This will allow about 217 people on the payroll. It is now extending its efforts to include more populated areas.

To assist in this effort, it has hired Alfred S. James as district director. James will serve in a new branch called technical counseling.

Senior citizens are put to work in non-profit areas of employment, such as libraries, senior citizens nutrition sites; helpers with retarded children; teachers aids, guides in national forests; winterizing and repairing homes for senior citizens; insulation of homes.

Some Green Thumbers are designated as "outreach workers." They go into the homes of senior citizens and perform domestic duties. These services enable the older Americans to remain in their homes a little longer.

Green Thumb pays for and requires that every person on the payroll receives a physical examination once a year. Other benefits include paid vacations; coverage under workman's compensation and 15½ cents per mile mileage for drivers who transport Green Thumbers to and from work.

Green Thumb is now operating in 30 states and Puerto Rico, under Title IX of the "Older Americans Act."

Tecumseh Day Held in Florida

Sebring at Gracyce's Mobile Estates No. 2 will be the next picnic site on Feb. 22, 1978.

New officers elected were Paul Hadsell, president, Ralph Westgate, vice-president, and Helen Milheim, secretary-treasurer.

Those registered were:

Off to Pennsylvania

Sharing the spirit of brotherhood with khaki-uniformed friends from Main to Hawaii, three Tecumseh area Scouts will join 70 others from the Wolverine Council, Boy Scouts of America to attend this year's national Scout jamboree at Moraine State Park near Butler, Pa.

Boys attending from the Tecumseh area are John S. Beardsley, United Methodist Church Troop 672, Tecumseh; Jason Bolgos, Jaycees Troop 605, Clinton and William B. Raeburn, American Legion Post Troop 623, Britton.

A cavalcade of events will depict the heritage of Scouting and the range of its program for the nearly 40,000 young men and their leaders in attendance at the jamboree.

Major arena shows are scheduled for the opening night, Aug. 3 and the closing night, Aug. 9. Visitors will be welcome to these as they will be to the jamboree site itself daily from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m.

The arena shows will offer some top entertainment and closing fireworks. Other evening programs will feature youth-run campfires on smaller scales.

Thousands of young men will spend long hours trading patches and memorabilia, furthering internatonal friendships with some of the 324 foreign Scouts who have been invited and share the spirit of brotherhood.

Additional Scouts interested in attending may contact the Council Service Center, 2163 W. Stadium Blvd. Ann Arbor, Mi 48103, 313-663-8514. Several positions remain open.

Seniors Plan Rock-A-Thon

Senior High students of St. Peter's Episcopal Church will have a second annual Rock-a-Thon beginning Friday, March 25 and ending Sunday, March 27 at 5 p.m.

The Rock-a-Thon is being held to raise money to relieve the suffering of the world's hungry people.

Participants must provide their own rockers and diversions. Volunteers will provide regular meals through out the weekend.

To register, participants may leave their name at the church office.

The Senior Youth group will sponsor a series of preparatory, educational hunger programs and information on Sunday mornings in advance of the event.

Sale Planned

The Daughers of St. peter's will hold a rummage sale March 17 and 18 from 9 to 5 both days in the small parish hall.

All donations are accepted. Readers may call 423-4831 for more information.

ECOL Meets

Funding for the Bicentennial Woods project was the main agenda item at the February meeting of the Environmental Council of Lenawee (ECOL) at Adrian College. ECOL is seeking a loan from the Nature Conservancy, and application is being made for federal recreation funds. ECOL will raise a part of the purchase price through local donations.

Officers elected for 1977 were Lloyd Ruesink, president; Mickey St. Clair, vice president; and Dan Bruggeman, secretary-treasurer. Carl Kissner of Cambridge Township was appointed to fill a two-year vacancy on the ECOL board, and Michigan State Trooper James Anderson of Adrian was appointed to a one-year term.

Oral arguments in O'Connor vs. Lenawee County Road Commission will be heard at the Circuit Court at 1:30 p.m., March 14. The case will test the Road Commission's requirement of a $75 filing fee for applications for Natural Beauty Roads.

Other items discussed included the proposed improvements on Taylor Road, and the March 3 hearing on the Maumee River Basin at Adrian College, at which interested citizens may offer their comments.

Next ECOL board meeting is March 28.

Tax Relief Drawing Near

Single Business Tax relief for Michigan businessmen drew one step closer to reality last week.

The SBT Task Force recommended to Governor Milliken and the Legislature that all businesses be allowed to earn up to $20,000 profit without paying any business taxes to the state.

The task force recommendations now go to the full Legislature for its approval.

"The task force decided to let the Legislature set the cap on profits allowed before a businessman must pay the entire SBT," Senate Republican Leader Robert Davis pointed out.'

"I would predict that the cap will be set at $40,000. That way, any business with a profit of between $20,000 and $40,000 would pay a straight five percent rate on the difference between these figures," said Davis.

The recommendations are similar to the Davis-sponsored bill which won overwhelming approval by the Senate last year, but was held up by the House pending the task force recommendations.

"Even more relief will be given to the small businessman under the task force recommendations," Davis noted, "through raising the profit shelter from $15,000 as was previously discussed to $20,000 as they advised."

The task force narrowly defeated, by a vote of 11 to 13, a motion to repeal the SBT altogether.

The group also approved recommendations allowing business taxpayers to take a credit against their SBT liability, endorsing a budget stabilization fund, and urging a simplified short form for filing taxes.

$3941*

Definitely a No. 1 price. Another reason could be room . . . a major reason you buy a wagon in the first place. Volaré gives you more room than any other American compact wagon. More room in the passenger compartment, more room in the cargo area. Volaré even has 75% the cargo space of an average of full size wagons. No wonder America is saying, "Thanks for giving us what we need in a station wagon. Thanks for giving us Volaré."

Price and room. Not one . . . but two reasons why Volaré is on top.

End Regular Season, Take 2nd in League

Tecumseh's Indians wrapped up their regular volleyball season with two wins.

The Indians defeated New Boston Huron last Wednesday 15-7, 15-2 and went on to defeat Adrian Monday night 15-3, 10-12, 11-9.

The two victories gave Tecumseh a 6-1 league record, good for second place in the league behind St. Mary's posting a 7-0 mark. Overall, the orange and black posts a 13-1 tally.

Tammy Downing came up with 12 serving points against Huron for the Indians. Sandy Dunn and Tori Iffland each had five while Patty Brosamer came in with four and Debbie Steadley three.

Sandy Dunn led the way against the Maples with 14 serving points followed by Downing with 12 and Brosamer with four.

Coach Sue Allen said of the Adrian victory, "It was an all-around team effort. MacGeorge and Dunn had some excellent spikes set-up by Tori and Tammy. Debbie Steadley used the dink which was good for five or six points and Brosamer was tough on defense."

The junior varsity also won both their games defeating Huron 15-3, 15-10 and Adrian 16-14, 15-5. Gloria Fosbender was tops in serving points in both contests scoring 11 against the Chiefs and 10 against the Adrian Maples.

The junior varsity ended its season with a 9-5 overall record, 5-2 in the Huron League.

The varsity played Saline in a pre-regional game Wednesday night and a victory there would send them into the regionals to be held at Tecumseh this Saturday starting at 10 a.m.

If the Indians won Wednesday, they would open their regional competition at 11 a.m. against Dexter this Saturday. A win over Dexter would allow them to play again at 3 p.m. The regional finals will be held at 4 p.m.

All starting times may vary with the action.

3 Named All-League

Three members of Tecumseh's volleyball squad were named to the All-Huron League team last week.

Tori Iffland was named to the first team and tied with Flat Rock's Colleen Mahar for the most points awarded. Both received 13 votes.

Tammy Downing and Patty Brosamer were named to the second team.

Squirts Beat Neal Realty

The Tecumseh Recreation Department's Tomahawk Squirts played one of their best games of the season winning over Neal Realty 5-1 last Saturday.

Steve Eardley led the Tomahawks receiving his third hat trick of the season putting in four goals.

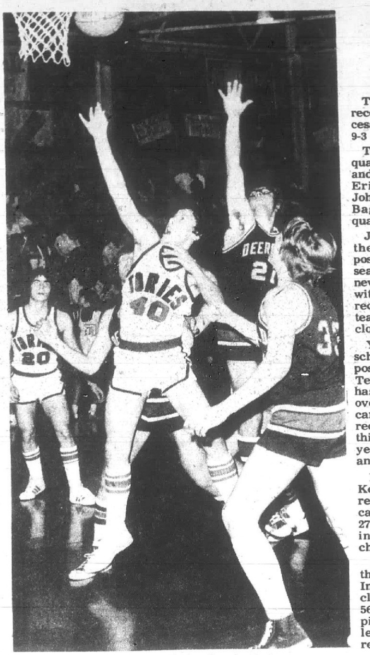
The victory keeps the Tomahawks in contention for the title since the two top teams lost over the weekend.

The Tomahawk Bantams are using their last games as a warm-up for the post-season tournament in Findley, Ohio on March 26 and 27. The Bantams tied Keegan Steel 2-2 Saturday.

Fred Sandberg and Tim Eardley scored for the Bantams. Assists went to Wendell West with two and Martin Henry, one.

Only one game remains in regular season play for both Tecumseh teams.



GREG FANSLAU Shoots for the Tories.

CHS JV'S Finish 10-8

Clinton's junior varsity volleyball squad recently finished the season posting a 5-5 LCAA League record, 10-8 overall.

The squad, coached by Jan Porter, consisted of Beth Langowski, Kelly Martin, Gay Service, Diane Weirich, Kay Beal, Brenda Buck, Lisa Cark, Fran Corwin, Carolyn Hartung, Jill Ingersoll, Dawn Markham, Sandy Minor, Lori Pike, Kathy Sanborn and Donna Tallman.

Pike and Cark were co-captains while Brenda Cark and Robin Witherow were managers. Cheryl Weirich and Leslie Meyers were statisticans.

Diana Weirich and Kay Beal were top scorers.

Table Tennis Tournament To Be Held

ELECT McELROY CHAIRMAN, THOMPSON TO BOARD

Downing New Bank President

A new president, a new board chairman and a new director of the United Savings Bank of Tecumseh were elected Tuesday afternoon at the bank's annual shareholders' meeting and at the organizational meeting of the directors.

Merlyn H. Downing was elected to succeed Kenneth C. McElroy as bank president, and Mr. McElroy, bank president since January 1970, was in turned named chairman of the board and chief executive officer. Besides assuming the bank's presidency, Mr. Downing also will be chief operating officer.

Prior to the board's actions, J.W. "Pat" Meadows, bank president from 1962 to 1970 and board chairman since January 1968, told approximately 100 shareholders present that he was not seeking re-election to the board because of his health.

Mr. Meadows reviewed his association here with the bank, its officers and personnel, and expressed sincere appreciation for their support and cooperation in the past.

Shareholders elected John R. Thompson, M.D., to replace Mr. Meadows on the board.

A resident of Fremont, Ind., Dr. Thompson returns to the board almost synonymous here with United Savings Bank itself. His father, a former bank president and board chairman who died last April, was the strength behind the bank for many years, starting here in 1933 - after the bank holiday - and continued as the area's leading banker until his retirement in April 1962.

Dr. Thompson, 59, Fellow of the American College of Surgeons, practiced in Tecumseh and Manchester at one time and for the past several years practiced at Wautoma, Wisc.

The bank's new president is far from a stranger and is probably the best known of the bank's executives. A native of Britton, Mr. Downing has been a life-long resident of the area and has been associated with the bank since January 1946.

During his 31 years with the bank, he has been an officer for the past 25 years.

In January 1952, he was made assistant cashier. Six years later he was appointed cashier, and in 1960, he was elected a director. He has been vice president and cashier since January 1965, and executive vice president and cashier for the past five years.

Mr. Downing has held a number of positions with community and area organizations. He has been very active with the First Methodist Church, serving a number of years on the church's board. He also has been a member and officer of the Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation, Chamber of Commerce, Tecumseh Country Club, Planning Commission and other similar organizations.

He and his wife, Myrna, and daughter, Tammy, reside at 413 Seminole Dr. Oldest son, Kent, is on the editorial staff of The Herald, and son, Jeff is a college student at Eastern Michigan University.

Since coming to Tecumseh in 1968, the bank's new chairman of the board has held the titles of vice president and president. During the past nine years, Mr. McElroy has served as an officer of the Presbyterian Church, the Tecumseh Country Club and Salvation Army Advising Board.

At the directors meeting, the board also elected William Danley, vice president and cashier, succeeding Mr. Downing. Mr. Danley has been

Report To Shareholders

Board chairman J.W. "Pat" Meadows and Kenneth C. McElroy, bank president, presiding at the bank's annual shareholders' meeting Tuesday afternoon at the Tecumseh Country Club, reviewed highlights of the bank's operations for 1976.

And, there were records to report.

Gross operating income reached a new high of $4,943,352 for the year. Operating expenses, affected largely by a substantial increase in interest costs, also reached a new high of $4,254,849.

Interest paid to savings depositors totalled $3,025,517.

Net income, after securities transactions and allowances for income taxes, was a record $740,724, or $3.70 per share. Net income, calculated on average daily assets for the year was $1.01 per $100.

B&E Losses Total $2,500

Tecumseh Police investigated four B&E's this week that netted perpetrators $2500 in equipment from Whelan's Implement, Tecumseh Saw and Rental, and from the House of Prayer.

Monday, vandals broke into the House of Prayer at 10 Bidwell by breaking out a back window. They took over $1000 in equipment, including a guitar, stereo casette and headphones.

That same day, an unknown number of subjects also broke into the Baptist Church on Milwaukee Rd. Again entry was through a back window. A small amount of change was taken.

In the March 10 robbery at Tecumseh Saw, police found a glass window door broken out on the south side of the building. Five chain saws from the front display were missing, valued at $775.

March 15, police discovered the second breaking of Whelans in two weeks. Police theorize that the same subjects entered Whelans the second time, as prints were similar to the previous B&E. Subjects broke a window pane on an east side rear window and reached in to unlatch the window. Inside they took a welder, charger, and compressors totalling $775.

A resume of other complaints includes:

March 10 — Nancy J. McCarty, 18, of Clinton was arrested for possession of marijuana after police responded to a call to the rear of Wrong Way Pub. A search of the girl revealed a bag of alleged marijuana. She was also arrested for being drunk and disorderly.

Paul J. Morzek, Jr., of Trenton was arrested for driving under the influence of liquor after police received a CB call that he was driving erratically. When police pulled Morzek over on eastbound M-50, Morzek was reportedly uncooperative and did have a number of empty and full beer cans in the car. A passenger, Ronald D. Lester, of Trenton was arrested for drunk and disorderly.

Robert Sterling, 18, of 5000 Burt St., was arrested for being disorderly after Sterling reportedly interfered with a juvenile arrest. Police warned Sterling to stop swearing at officers and trying to incite a riot. Sterling started yelling again when police arrested him.

Scott L. Sharpe, 25, of 9393 Pleasant Dr., was arrested for being drunk after police received a call of a fight behind the Second Wind. Upon investigation, police found Sharpe staggering in the alley.

March 11 — Police found the stolen auto of Pamela Hanna at 6:30 a.m. after it was taken from her apartment area at 106 W. Kilbuck. The keys were left in the ignition. The auto was found in the lawn area of Tecumseh Acres, as it was used to tear up the grass there. Hannas discovered the auto missing later that morning.

Floyd Bohannon, 120½ W. Chicago, reported malicious destructing involving his auto. His CB antenna was ripped off his auto while parked in a downtown meter lot.

Police arrested Bruce Spillman, 18, of 301 Herrick Park while on foot patrol. Officers observed Spillman at 1:15 a.m. He failed field sobriety tests.

While on foot patrol, officers also arrested Mark D. Keller, 18, of 106½ E. Chicago for littering. Keller was observed tossing a can into the window sill at Don's Sole. When given the choice to be arrested or cleaning up, Keller chose the arrest.

March 14 — Belinda Miller, of 715 Adrian was bitten by a dog at 610 Blanchard after she tried to tie the dog up while baby sitting.

March 15 — Police arrested Henry C. Anderson, 30, of 603 Stacy on a felony warrant for uttering and publishing a check over $50. He was taken to the county jail and booked.

Charles O. Squires Jr., of 116 S. Ottawa, reported the larceny of a CB, tape case and tapes totally $350. Police found marks on Squires' vent window. Auto was parked in a city parking lot.

Kim A. Schroeder, 22, of Clinton was arrested for possession after police checked his van while parked illegally on northbound N. Oneida. Police found an open beer can on the floor, a shoe box and black tool box containing alleged drugs, and found alleged marijuana in his jacket.

Tornado Alert on March 24th

A county-wide tornado siren test has been scheduled for Thursday, March 24, at 5:55 p.m.

Fire chief Wallace MacGeorge says the siren here will be a two-minute steady blast, same as in previous years.

The city and other governmental units in the county receive severe weather warnings from the sheriff's department. Such warnings include severe thunder storms, tornado watch and tornado warning, issued only when a tornado has been sighted in the area or is indicated by radar.

There are 33 pre-assigned tornado watch points in the county. Tecumseh's point is on Bramble Rd., west of M-52 and M-50 intersection. Mobile units at points have direct radio contact with their departments and with the communication division of the sheriff's department.

When a confirmed tornado has been sighted, the take cover warning will be broadcast, which is the two-minute steady sounding of a siren.

THOMAS RIORDAN

Former Editor Resigns Post

Thomas A. Riordan, former publisher and editor of The Herald has resigned as managing editor of the Jackson Citizen-Patriot, a position he held for the past eight years.

He will devote full time to conducting newspaper management seminars, which will be held in Jackson's new Sheraton Inn.

Riordan's newspaper career includes approximately 30 years experience, including 10 years in Tecumseh. He first owned a newspaper at Greenwich, Ohio. After leaving The Herald in 1967, he taught journalism one year at Hillsdale College, and then joined the Citizen-Patriot.

He was widowed last November when his wife, Cherie, died suddenly.

Club Is Set for 9th Sale

Kiwanis Club of Tecumseh special project co-chairmen Douglas Bird, Jr., and Dr. Ronald Curtis announced the following appointments of members to complete the committee for the ninth annual Used Merchandise Sale, set for April 14, 15, 16 at the former Arrow Parts building, corner of Logan and Evans St. downtown Tecumseh.

Appointments are as follows: Dr. George Burkhard, merchandising; Ned Swift, merchandise pickup; Russell Scott, sale treasurer; Donald Partridge, site cleanup; and Edwin Walters, publicity.

The sale project is the primary fund raising event sponsored by the Tecumseh Club. All net proceeds are returned to the community through various service projects and programs for the benefit of youth and community.

Used merchandise items not sold at the conclusion of the sale are to be donated to Goodwill-LARC for utilization in its program of assistance.

All residents of the Tecumseh area may donate their serviceable home, yard and household items for this project by calling 423-3413 or 423-4255 (after 6 p.m.) for free pick up, or, by contacting any Tecumseh Kiwanian.

TWO HONORED — Officials of the United Savings Bank honored two former officers Tuesday afternoon at the annual shareholders' meeting when they unveiled oil portraits of the late John R. Thompson and J.W. "Pat" Meadows. Bank board chairman, Kenneth C. McElroy, announced that they will be displayed in the future in the bank's board of directors' room. Here for the occasion were Pat and his wife, Dorothy, and son, Bob. At the right are Dr. John Thompson, new director, his mother, Mrs. Ruth Thompson, and his sister, Anne.

Ordinance to Council

The Tecumseh Historic District Study committee will present a historic district study and protective ordinance for the historic district to Tecumseh City Council March 21 at 7:30 p.m. in the city council room.

The regular council meeting is public. Residents of the historic district and all interested citizens are invited to the meeting.

The historic district will include 201 S. Union St. to 405 N. Union St., 206 to 710 W. Chicago Blvd. The district was placed on the Michigan State Register of Historic Sites in January 1976.

The Tecumseh Historic District Study Committee was appointed by the City Council in 1973 to recommend a historic district and ordinance.

The survey conducted by the historic district study committee identified about 93 buildings in the historic district and adjoining area, built before 1900, to be included in the district.

The study committee recommended the total area for a historic district rather than individual buildings because the architecture and natural environment of these buildings represented the cultural, social, political economic and religious history of the 19th century small town and preserved that history to a great degree.

Four THS Students Selected to Perform

Four Tecumseh High School students were selected to perform in the all honors chorus at Morenci High School gymnasium on March 29 at 7:30 p.m.

Phil Gamber, Tim Ries, Charlene Neville and Sue Murphy are the four students that will represent Tecumseh in the 28 member honors chorus. Four students each were also selected from Hudson, Blissfield, Onsted, Morenci, Addison, Adrian.

The Honors Chorus will perform "Come Where My Love Lies Dreaming," "The Horticultural Wife," "Some Folks," "Listen to the Mocking Bird," "Tenting on the Campground," and "Put the Right Man at the Wheel," all by Smith.

The Mass Chrous, composed of the choirs from each school, will perform "The Battle Hym of the Republic" by Wilhlusky; "The Road Not Taken" by Thompson; "Steal Away" by Luboff; "Everytime I Feel the Spirit" by Dawson.

The Tecumseh Choir will perform "The Old Ark's A-Moverin' " by Ehret and "Hope for the Future" by Strommen-Feldstein.

Historic District

district participated in neighborhood meeting held during late January and early February to become familiar with the ordinance and purpose of the historic district. Response was reported favorable.

The ordinance aims to preserve the exterior of the buildings, to promote a thriving neighborhood, to encourage improvements which enhance the historical architecture and to preserve the ecology which contributes to the unique character of Tecumseh's downtown residential district on Chicago Boulevard.

The reason for the number of stately homes on Tecumseh's Chicago Blvd. can be traced to historical events of the 1850's, said the historic district study committee report.

The railroad and a series of disastrous fires, which claimed many older commercial buildings, shifted the town's center from the Chicago and Maumee intersection, originally plotted by Founder Musgrove Evans, to West Chicago and Evans St.

The homes and commercial buildings on the boulevard symbolize that period of prosperity and pride which continued well into the next century.

Proposed highway expansion, each succeeding quarter century, most recently in January 1976, has threatened to alter the character of the downtown neighborhood.

Vacancy and deterioration are other potential threats the Tecumseh Historic District Study Committee stated.

"One way to insure the survival of this residential area is to adopt an ordinance which provides sensible guidelines to preserve the best of Tecumseh's architectural past while successfully incorporating the best for building Tecumseh's future," said the study committee's report.

Talking It Out

ROGER PROCTOR

"I Don't Know what to say . . ."

Does the question of knowing the "proper" thing to say at the visitation keep you from going to a wake or funeral? It shouldn't!

Your appearance at a wake or funeral is always a support and expression of love to the bereaved. The words you express as you embrace or extend the clasp-of-hand can add a sincere feeling of warmth and concern -- but the words aren't nearly as important as your "just being there."

Here are some expressions you might consider:

"John was such a fine person. I will miss him."

"My warmest sympathy to you and the family."

"Mary was such a dear friend."

"Mary enjoyed life and shared her joys so often with others."

You may find it easier to say these words of comfort if you practice them beforehand when you are alone. Sometimes just hearing yourself say the words out loud makes them easier to express to others.

$8,700 Goal for Boy Scouts

Members of the Sustaining Membership Enrollment (SME) for the Lenape District (Lenawee County) were recently challenged to raise $8,700, Lenawee County's portion of the $76,000 Wolverine Council goal to support of Cub, Boy and Explorer Scouting.

Richard Goodrich, 1976 SME chairman, acted for Robert Meyers, 1977 SME program chairman, in giving the challenge at the annual Boy Scout "kick-off" breakfast for the Lenape District SME on March 12 at Adrian College.

The SME program involves both Scout leaders and friends of Scouting in seeking additional memberships.

The United Fund supports local Scouting with 54 percent of the budget need. The SME support program has a funding goal of 23 percent. The remaining 23 percent support funds come from Scout activities, special events and projects.

Members of the SME Program Committee are Robert Meyers, (personnel director of Merillat Industries, Adrian,) chairman; Richard Goodrich, (M & S Manufacturing of Hudson,) 1976 chairman; Philip J. Chrzan, (plant supervisor, Fisher Body Tecumseh,) 1975 chairman; Jerome P. Becker, (personnel, Fisher Body Tecumseh,) Lenape District Finance Chairman and Dale O'Hara of Adrian, District Scout Executive.

Nearly 50 primary SME volunteers are assisting the committee as Neighborhood chairmen and captains, with additional local support from "enrollers" in the city areas. Those local businessmen and scout leaders involved in the SME effort are Earl Mason, Philip Chrzan, Kenneth Crause and Edwin Walters of Tecumseh; Steve Bowman of Clinton and John DeLine, Neal Judkins, Tom Judkins and Russell Scott of Britton.

There are five Cub Scout packs, four Scout troops and two Explorer posts in the immediate Tecumseh area that depend on community support to serve youths aged 8 through 18 in the Scouting program.

By-Laws Revised, Projects Planned

The Chamber of Commerce will meet at Don's Contented Sole on April 7 at 7:30 am. The public is invited.

At the special meeting March 8, the board of directors reviewed community projects presented by the project committee members Don Dobrosky, Dr. David Blanden, Mary Lou Danger and Don Ford.

Each project will promote events, displays, research, trade and business in Tecumseh. The Chamber wants to serve Tecumseh, said the members.

The Chamber by-laws are being revised by the committee, Roger Proctor, Opal Dickinson, Don Ford, Ray Rouleau and Mark King.

A membership committee will be selected by the April 7 meeting. Members will then receive information on the new dues structure, the operation budget for 1977, and approved projects, with designated chairmens. The board will keep in touch with all members by correspondence and special meetings.

The city will observe Michigan Week in Tecumseh May 15-21. Roger Proctor, vice-chairman of the Chamber is chairman of Michigan Week activities and will coordinate the program. An activity is scheduled each day, and the Chamber will join others working on this project.

A new location for the Secretary of State office will be chosen before July 1, 1977. Dr. David Blanden has been in contact with the regional manager. The City of Tecumseh, and other towns are bing considered. The Chamber supports this office and is working towards a Tecumseh location where new business is always welcome.

No. 11 girls have finished wise Owl patch work.

No. 393 troop is making macrame hangers. Girls are getting for Thinking Day.

No. 93. A troop of seven girls sold 187 boxes of cookies. Cookie patches were earned by Amy Palmer, Shannon Yarckow, Kris Kolby, and Kim Luper. Girls are planning to go roller skating and bowling. They are now working on gifts for Mother's Day.

No. 147. The troop held a successful cookie cupboard last Saturday.

Cookie chairwoman, Cathy Scott reports council sales were up about 14,000 boxes from last year.

Leaders met last Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Judy Klingensmith. The main topic was Thinking Day. The annual event will be held March 30 at Tecumseh High School. Registration cards are beginning to arrive for the troops. Next meeting will be April 13.

Soup Kitchen Every Friday During Lent

St. Elizabeth's parish is sponsoring a Soup Kitchen every Friday evening during Lent. The purpose of the project is to help the poor.

Participants eat a supper of soup and bread. They are asked to contribute whatever they wish to pay for the meal.

Proceeds to date have gone to Mother Theresa in India, migrant workers and Detroit inner-city.

Volunteers from the parish make the soup and bread. Serving is from 6 to 6:30 p.m. every Friday evening. Liturgy and stations of the Cross follow at 7 p.m. in the church. Anyone who wishes to attend is welcome.

Holloway Happenings

By Helen Smoll

HOLLOWAY — Last in the series on the history of the Raisin Presbyterian Church of Holloway. The church continued to grow. In the period from 1885-1891 when the Rev. L.M. Belden was pastor, 57 names were added to the church roll and of that number 41 were young people.

The Rev. C. B. Hawkins came from Chicago, and served from 1913-1916. It was during his ministry that the church building was moved from Rogers Highway to its present site in Holloway. On May 21,1916 the building was rededicated.

There have been more than 580 names registered in the membership book since the church was organized by the small group of settlers at the Rogers home in 1835.

These members and their relatives and friends are scattered as far away as Alaska in the West and many other states.

The Raisin Slickers 4-H Club had the meeting at the fire hall on Occidental Rd.

Tony Rebottaro opened the business. The members decided to purchase club shirts. The group had a booth with displays on Mall Day.

Harry Withrow demonstrated how to eat wich chop sticks.

The club members discussed the activity of the month of March and decided on roller skating.

Recreation was directed by Cheryl Withrow.

The annual fish supper of the Raisin Presbyterian Church of Holloway will be at the church March 24. Serving will begin at 5 p.m.

A family night potluck supper will be held at the church for the benefit of the Adrian High School Choir on March 17.

+++

Mrs. Carol German and Mrs. Mamie Gritzmaker took the plane to Palm Springs, Calif. and from there visited relatives. Mrs. German visited Ralston Calvert of Palm Desert, Calif. and Mrs. Gritzmaker visited Dr. and Mrs. Max Gritzmaker and family at San Bernardino, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. William German will entertain the Volunteer Sunday School class of the church on March 26.

Jennifer and John Gould of Morenci, spent the weekend with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Mumaw.

Allen Reister of Ava, Mo. spent a few days visiting Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Sawyer.

Mrs. Dorothy Kopke, Mr. and Mrs. Elwyn Green were dinner guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kopke, their son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Kopke had their baby girl, Elizabeth Arlene, baptized at Holloway Church Sunday morning. Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Kopke and family of Mt. Pleasant, were also guests.

Carl Griewahn of Vassett, Mich., the son of Mrs. John Young, is visiting his mother and sister, Mrs. Emily Faust and brother, David Griewahn. He spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. John Young.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Sawyer were dinner guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Reister of Sand Creek.

The schedule of coming events was discussed the March 15 meeting will be in Hudson, at the Thompson Saving Bank. The April 6 meeting will be Chapter Exhange, with fondue and wine tasting.

Members were reminded to bring food for the Easter basket at that April meeting.

April 19 meeting will be the Ritual of Jewels and will be held at the home of Judy Elwartowski, Founders Day will be April 28 at the Elks, and reservations are to be in by April 6. May 21 will be the Craft and Bake Sale at the Adrian Mall.

Two morning meetings will be held to make the crafts, these will be March 17 at Terry Long's at 9:15 a.m. and March 30, at 10 a.m. at the home of Peggy Long. Members were asked to save their cans for plants.

Loma Labarge spoke to the members about a workshop on "Women and Work," to be held at Siena Heights College, March 26.

Nancy Scheirer presented her program on "Esthetics-Perception of Beauty."

You Are What You Eat

by Shirley Weekley

Straight from the southland. . .these tasty recipes currently popular in Zepherhills, Fla., were brought home by Maxine Calhoun from her sister, Mrs. Delbert Tallman.

Marinated carrots would be a delicious addition to any meal and would be the perfect compliment to your Easter ham.

MARINATED CARROTS

2 pounds (about 5 cups) diced or sliced carrots, cooked just until tender
1 medium green pepper, sliced
2 medium onions (sliced in rings)
1 can tomato soup, undiluted
¼ cup vegetable oil
1 cup sugar
¾ cup cider vinegar
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon Worchestershire sauce

Mix ingredients together, using about ¼ cup water and pour over cooked carrots. Refrigerate. Keeps several weeks.

Macon Montage

By Sharon Connors

MACON — Soon Macon will mean one thing to lots of people — Golf! I talked with Mrs. Harold Gibson and although things are still too wet for any golf, she looks for conditions to change soon. The new season will be underway anytime now.

Meanwhile behind the scenes work goes on getting the carts, clubhouse, etc, ready.

While most people begin thinking golf, and of course baseball at this time of year, there is one exception. Pat Connors was found at a football clinic last week.

Pat, Ron Spagnoli, and Bob Ondrovick of the Tecumseh football staff attended the clinic which was held at the Hyatt Regency O'Hare in Chicago. The THS 1977 football wheels have started to turn!

Gail Gibson celebrated a birthday last week. Family members and Cindy Wright enjoyed dinner and a show in Ann Arbor for the occasion.

Don Davis made his return trip to Indiana last week and his checkup was favorable. He is not scheduled to return until April 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hawkins have returned from a month in Florida. They spent time in Largo, Fla. with Mr. and Mrs. George Harden and with a niece and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Whichello in Ochopee.

The couple reported a great time and a nice suntan. Sunday found the whole family out, not only to welcome them back home but to celebrate Mrs. Hawkin's birthday March 9.

April 14-26 is the 1977 cancer crusade week. Mrs. James Conrad of Macon has volunteered to be the Macon Township chairman this year. She is in the process of lining up her workers for the big job of calling on everyone. The week before the drive a list of all volunteers will be in the column so you might know who to expect to call at your home.

++

Mrs. Walter Bale of Tipton, a former Macon resident, was a weekend guest of Mrs. Agatha Camburn.

The annual Blue Bird-Camp Fire girl father-daughter banquet was held Mar. 12 at St. Elizabeth's hall in Tecumseh. Sharon Mohr's Blue Bird group and Lois Hover's Camp Fire Girls attended.

Honored guests were Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hall of Macon, the adopted grandparents of Mrs. Mohr's group. Mrs. Dorothy Marsh of Macon was also a guest of the Leader's Association.

The Camp Fire girls will be busy at their meeting this week transplanting seedlings which they started some time ago. They will pot the four inch high plants which they plan to use as gifts.

The Chancel Choir is sponsoring the Easter Lily sale at the Macon Methodist church this Lenten season. Lilies may be purchased from any choir member, and they may be designated "in memory" or "recognition of" anyone.

Sat., Mar. 19 — 6:30 p.m. Father-son banquet.
Sun., Mar. 20 — 7 p.m. Cluster Lenten Service at Tecumseh United Methodist Church. The Rev. Rupert will give the message. Britton Grace Choir to sing.
Tues., Mar. 22 — 7:30 p.m. General UMW at Serena Osborne's Program: Mary Lou Moore
Thurs., Mar. 24 — 6:45 Children's Choir - 7:30 Chancel Choir.

Daughter Is Baptized

Last Sunday Amanda Joy Lee, the adopted daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Bollinger, was baptized at the Gloria Dei Lutheran Church by Pastor Laszlo Gero.

Godparents were Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Bollinger.

Amanda Joy Lee was born Aug. 20, 1976 in Dae Gu City, South Korea.

Mission Speaker at Confirmation

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Borqn of Blissfield will talk to the confirmation classes on March 24 at 6 p.m. in the Gloria Dei Lutheran Church.

The couple will tell the classes of their experience as teachers at a mission school in Ethiopia.

Parents, friends of the congregation are cordially invited to attend this mission experience.

'Aladdin' at Siena Heights

"Aladdin" will be presented at the Siena Heights Francoeur Theatre on Friday, March 18, at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, March 19 and Sunday, March 20 at 2 p.m.

An admission is charged.

FFA Members to Attend State Convention

Members of the Tecumseh FFA Chapter will join approximately 1,500 persons attending the 49th Annual State FFA Convention at Michigan State University, East Lansing, March 23-25, during Farmer's Week. This year's theme is "FFA-Agriculture's New Generation."

Aubrey Schroeder, Mark Hunter, and Brad Williams of the Tecumseh FFA Chapter have been named to receive the State FFA Degree, which will be conferred Thursday evening, in the University Auditorium.

This degree may be earned in production agriculture or agribusiness, and is given to only two per-cent of the State's membership. The boy's parents plan to attend the banquet and degree ceremonies.

Karl Brown and John Gray are the official delegates representing the Tecumseh Chapter at the convention. Karl Brown is on the nominating committee for next year's officers.

On Thrusday all Tecumseh FFA members will attend the Convention, Farmers Week activities and tour the MSU Campus.

Over 1,000 members from 158 chapters will receive awards, compete for honors and conduct business of the State Association.

Jim Licht, Lakers FFA Chapter, State FFA President, and other officers will conduct the business sessions and other activities.

Special awards will be made for the chapter educational exhibits and agricultural proficiency awards will also be presented. Outstanding junior agriculture awards, outstanding FFA scholars, and winners of chapter membership contests will be recognized.

The Tecumseh FFA will have an educational exhibit at the convention, and Aubrey Schroeder will run for a state office.

Ray Monsalvatage will speak at the annual banquet on Thursday evening.

Vocational agriculture teacher Paul Burns is the advisor of the Tecumseh Chapter. Local officers are: Karl Brown, president; Terry Fox, vice president; Brion Salters, secretary; John Gray, treasurer; Ben Williams, reporter; and Leonard Dumire, sentinel.

Gloria Dei Mission Sunday

The proclamation of the president of the Lutheran Church in America Dr. Robert Marshall will be read by the lay-president of the Gloria Dei Lutheran Church Mrs. William Macbeth at the March 20 service.

This proclamation is a call for an intensive mission task for Lutherans. This year the "Strength for Mission" is a "once in a generation" special opportunity to fund the proclamation of the Gospel, said Pastor Gero.

The Chancel Choir will present two anthems during the service under the leadership of Mrs. Earl Mason, choir director.

Tipton Topics

TIPTON — Mr. and Mrs. John Wisner have returned home after spending four weeks in Arizona and New Mexico.

++

Weekend guests of Mrs. Fay Luce were Mr. and Mrs. James Ladd, Mrs. Gregory McCormick and daughter of Muskegon. Guests on Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Randy Ladd and daughter of Samaria, Michael Wilkin and Jim Newman of Ypsilanti. Mr. and Mrs. Richard Rudd and family of Tecumseh, Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Bird and sons, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Norton and family, and Mrs. Alta Brock of Adrian, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Wilkin and granddaughter, Julie.

Mrs. Kenneth Munger and Kathy and Mrs. Darlene Wolfe were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fay Munger in Columbus, Ohio.

The following persons won prizes at the card party at the Tipton Grange last Saturday night: Nellie Barrett, Carole Owens, Thomas Swanson, Charles Wolfe. Door prize was won by Louise Lott. Another party will be held in two weeks. Seven tables were filled for euchre.

Tipton Grange took the traveling gavel to Adrian Grange last Friday night. About 18 members from Tipton attended and presented the program consisting of a skit, group singing, a monolgue, reading and dance. Woodrow Hunt shows his collection of old coins. Tipton Grange will not meet on March 18. Next meeting will be April 1.

Methodist Women Meet

Mrs. Robert Randalls of Grand Rapids, guest speaker, spoke about "Tax Resistance in the Christian" at the March 2 meeting of the Tecumseh United Methodist Women.

Mrs. Randalls believes that citizens have a right and responsibility to know where tax dollars go and to legally protest when they disagree with governmental expenditures.

Mrs. Randalls explained that as a Christian, she could not support the large military expenditures of our government, and therefore, through letters and other legal means, she has protested these expenditures.

She explained that many times the citizenry is not aware of how they can actually have a voice in our governmental policies.

Plans are in progress for the annual White Breakfast Tuesday, April 5. The Rev. Juanita Ferguson will be the speaker. Mrs. Erwin Buss will take reservations until April 1.

Mrs. William Goodrich explained briefly about many new books that have been added to the church library by donations, memorials, and gifts from many members. Barbara Blanden explained the Women at Work Seminar to be held in Adrian on March 26.

Mrs. William Goodrich led devotions on "Spring — The birth of a new hope." Mrs. Don Rodehaver presided at the business meeting.

Through My Window

by Marda Gene Duncan

I was just beginning to mull over the possibility of working up an article about the birds who have not visited the feeders this winter. Oh, it has been a good season for birds — in fact, a few have been around in unprecedented numbers. The fact remains, however, that three or four have not shown themselves and they have been missed. The little pine siskin for example.

This particular day was bright and sunny but cold. The thermometer hovered in the low 20's, a fairly strong wind howled, and the ground was snow covered. So what else is new, Marda?

For once I have an answer. Mom, Auntn, Gertie T. and I were sorting out jobs for the afternoon and deciding who would do what when sudden activity on the near-my-window feeders attracted our attention. The two feeders were packed full of birds and for a short time none of us did anything but look.

Tables and desks full of work waited while we watched. And among other feeder visitors guess who we saw. None other than several pine siskins.

These are cute little birds but really, tiny is a better descriptive word than little or even small. They are slight and only five inches long. Dainty is another good word for them.

Pine siskins are striped. both front and back. The white wing bars are similar to those worn by the goldfinches but the striped breast and over-all smaller size, definitely says siskin and not goldfinch.

Likewise it is the smaller size, the unmarked head, and the finer stripes on the breast which sets the siskin apart from the purple finch.

The color plates in the books show decided yellow washing on the siskin's wings and backs but on this, the first visit of the winter, the yellow cast was not all that noticeable.

What was outstanding, though, was the deep fork in their tail. Another resemblance to the goldfinch.

None of us could get over how many customers were enjoying lunch. All of the eating spots at the thistle feeder were full and every inch of the near-my-window feeders was occupied. Those waiting their turn were perched in the nearby trees or either on or in the yews beneath the window. Everyone was hungry and thank goodness, fresh food had just been put out.

In addition to the pine siskins we were playing host to goldfinches, purple finches, juncos, chickadees, tree sparrows, white-throated sparrows and song sparrows.

Once or twice and upside down white-breasted nuthatch tried to join the gang but he was out-numbered and soon flew away to find other full feeders.

Papa and Mama Cardinal came by too and they apparently were heeding my advice in last week's article to THINK SPRING.

There was no friendly feeding of the female by the male but he was at least tolerating her presence on the same feeding tray. That is progress towards spring.

But it was the sheer number of birds that thrilled us. Five tree sparrows, four purple finches, and umpteen goldfinches. At one time I counted 14 on the near-my-window feeders and was so excited that I forgot to count those at the thistle cylinder.

These little charmers, by the way, are changing color fast now. Almost every day we can see that the males are more yellow.

Question: Why do most of the bird books make goldfinch one word but split purple finch into two?

Discuss Civil War Soldier

What do "Secession. Salt-Pork, Surgeons and Sin" have in common? For one thing, Michigan soldiers during the Civil War.

To get the connections readers are invited to a free lecture, by Dr. Gerald Herdman of Andrews University (Berrien Springs) on March 29, at 8 p.m. The talk will be given at Knight Auditorium, North Hall, Adrian College (corner of Madison and Charles, Adrian).

Dr. Herdamn has presented this talk, which deals with the problems, pathos and horrors faced by Michigan soldiers during the Southern Rebellion, to clubs and societies around the state for several years, and it has been popular.

Dr. Herdman also did much of his graduate work on this subject at Michigan State University. The program is jointly sponsored by the Lenawee County Civil War Roundtable and the Adrian College History Department. There is no charge.

For further information contact Dr. Charles Lindquist, Curator at the Lenawee County Historical Museum, 265-6071.

Camp Fire Girls Banquet Planned

The Tecumseh Camp Fire Leaders met March 1 at the home of Sharon Mohr to finalize the plans for the father and daughter banquet to be held at St. Elizabeth's Center in Tecumseh. A ham dinner will be served 12 to 6:30 p.m.

Other activities will be "Go to Church Sunday" on March 19 with all girls attending the church of their choice. Every girl who is in uniform will be earning a patch.

The Association is also planning a Bake Sale in April and Donation Days at the A & P Store in May.

The girls will also enjoy a day in the air with their second annual "Come Fly With Me" provided by Les Calhoun of Calhoun's Air Service. A letter will be provided for each girl later in the month.

The Annual Doll Parade will be May 7 with the Blue Bird Leaders planning the event.

The plans for the Grand Council Fire on May 21 was also discussed at the meeting. Final plans will be announced at a later date. The Camp Fire Girls reported a fun-filled day at their February Valentine's party at Tipton Church.

Game winners in the Adventurer Group were Kim Waycaster, Leslie Handy, Beth Covell, Tammy Sessons, Debra Walters and Melise DeRousha.

Blue Bird winners were as follows: Dawn Frazier, Cindy Dinius, Brandi Pawlowski, Carol Hayden, Dee Hardy, Kathy Little, and Stacy Frazier.

Next Leaders meeting is April 12.

Here is a man who can walk a steel girder hundreds of feet high — as casually as if he were hiking down a highway. Yet last summer he nearly panicked when he took his kids for a boat ride on a subterranean river at the bottom of a cavern.

What one man can do easily another flinches from. It really seems as if God planned it that way. He made us in varying sizes, shapes and colors. He gave us all different talents. When you add up the sum total it means that each of us is unique.

Next time you're feeling down, think about the uniqueness. You are you — you even have fingerprints that don't match those of any other person in the world. Being you is important. Don't let anyone tell you otherwise.

Why not take that important person to church next Sunday?

Report on Counseling

BRITTON — Peggy Jo Raeburn and Jim Sweigart, high school counselors, reported on the counseling and testing programs at the March 10 Britton-Macon School Board meeting.

The board decided to have the downspouts on the south side of the school building connected to the storm sewer.

The Board signed individual contracts for the teachers, head custodian, cafeteria manager, and bookkeeper.

The Britton Band Boosters and the board will split the cost of an alto clarinet.

School Board election was set for June 13.

Wit, Wisdom Club Meets

Dr. Genevieve Quigley, associate professor of English at Hillsdale College was guest speaker at the March 7 meeting of the Wit and Wisdom Club at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Feight.

Dr. Quigley is a former Tecumsehite and gave tribute to Alvin Brazee as one of her greatest teachers.

Dr. Quigley talked about "Some Impressions of England". She studied at Trinity College, Oxford University. She amused members with her experiences of being attended by a male servant or "scout" while at the university.

During her weekend travels from study, her most rewarding impressions were of the out of the way villages, century old pubs and towns such as Haworth, the home of the Brontes in Northern England. She was also thrilled at seeing Big Ben, Westminister Abby and the palace.

Church To Show 'For Pete's Sake'

RIDGEWAY — "For Pete's Sake," a film credited as "unique in its capacity to reach out to meet the problems of people", will be shown on March 19, at the Ridgeway Church of The Nazarene, 6886 Ridge Hwy.

The full-length comedy-drama, will be shown at 7 p.m., and is open to the public with no admission charge.

Filmed entirely on location in Denver and Colorado Rockies, "For Pete's Sake!" is the story of Pete Harper, a family man and service station owner, who is knocked flat by unexpected problems, but finds the strength to stand up again, to face life anew.

"For Pete's Sake!" is a family film, not only because it is good family entertainment, but because through its storyline, families can see and feel exactly what is needed to develop deeper understanding and build stronger ties."

"For Pete's Sake!" stars Robert Sampson, who also starred in "The Restless Ones." Pippa Scott, as Pete's wife, Marge, is well known for her Broadway appearances and television roles.

All families of the community are invited by Pastor James Stephenson.

David Tucker Is Honored

RIDGEWAY — David Tucker, of Grosse Pointe Woods, was the guest of honor Sunday at a birthday dinner party given on the occasion of his second birthday by his grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kish, Ridgeway.

A turkey dinner was served and a decorated birthday cake, resembling a merry-go-round, and ice cream were served later in the day.

Guests included David's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Tucker and brother of Grosse Pointe Woods, Mr. and Mrs. James Smith and son, Tecumseh, and Mr. and Mrs. Don Farmer and family and Mr. and Mrs. Gary Roe of Britton.

Boy Scouts Induct 2 New Boys

BRITTON — Court of Honor was held March 9 at the weekly Boy Scout meeting to induct two new boys into troop.

Conducting the ceremony were Scoutmaster Bill Szabo and Troop leaders Bruce Raeburn and Barry Hall.

Assistant Scoutmaster Bill Raeburn then presented Ron Pickell and Gregg Stotler with their Scout badges.

Raeburn also presented various skill awards to Richard McWilliams, Barry Hall, Bob Pratt, Adam Moyer, Dale Evans, Don Zeemer, Steve Raeburn, and Ron Pickell. Dale Evans and Steve Bearinger also earned their Scout rank.

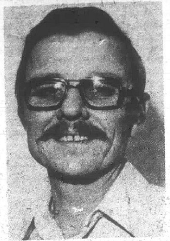
Elect Spence Councilman

BRITTON — Robert Spence (R) defeated Virginia Cline (D) for the one seat on the Village Council in Monday's special election.

Spence fills the unexpired term of Henry Mastie who was recalled Jan. 10 from the village council at another special election.

Spence received 64 votes to his opponent's 33. He will serve as councilman until the next regular village election in March 1978.

Only 35 percent of the 289 registered village voters went to the polls Monday to select a new councilman.



ROBERT SPENCE

School Election Set for June 13

BRITTON — The annual school election of the Britton-Macon Area School will be held June 13.

Nominating petitions for candidates of the Britton-Macon Board of Education are now available at the superintendent's office.

The terms of Wesley Gilmore and James Squires will expire this year. These two positions are for four-year terms.

Petitions must be filed no later than 4 p.m. April 11. They should be filed at the superintendent's office.

THE IDE FAMILY presents a program designed to minister to all ages, from March 16 through 20 at 7 each evening at the Ridgeway Church of the Nazarene. Featured within The Ide Family is Jill, 12, an award soloist and Sheri, 9, a talented ventroloquist. Both join their parents Sandy and George in family song.

Sorority Salutes Tecumseh Women

Three Tecumseh women were recently saluted with a story and photographs in the Omicron Nu Newsletter.

Omicron Nu is an honorary sorority for home economics majors. Scholarship, leadership and excellence are its standards.

The three women, Clara Waldron, Anna Carson and Gladys Pearson reminisced with Michigan State University Dean Lois Lund and Assistant Dean Norma Bobbitt in the October newsletter.

According to the Omicron Nu account, Clara M. Waldron was initiated into Omicron Nu in 1912. After her bachelor's degree, Miss Waldron took a "super dietitian course" taught by a staff of one at Lakeside Hospital in Cleveland, Ohio and then served as a dietitian in Council Bluffs, Iowa hospital for three years.

She spent three years as a home demonstration agent in St. Clair County and maintained a greenhouse and flower shop in Tecumseh. Clara is Tecumseh's resident historian and author of "One Hundred Years — A Country Town, the Village of Tecumseh, Michigan 1824-1924," in its third printing.

Anna E. Carson was initiated in Omicron Nu in 1916. She worked as a bacteriologist in a creamery in Detroit and in the health laboratory of a Detroit hospital.

Gladys Pearson was initiated into the honor society in 1920. She taught for three years after graduation and then worked as a bacteriologist in a Detroit creamery.

Mrs. Pearson raised four children and is proud of their accomplishments. "The greatest thing a man or woman can do in this life is parenting," she said.

Mrs. Pearson has played a leading role in beautification efforts in Tecumseh. She is a 1937 charter member of the Tecumseh Garden Club and organized The Little Garden Club of Tecumseh in 1958 and the Town and Country Garden Club in 1972. She supported the reorganization of the Lenawee County Council of Garden Clubs in 1972.

In 1976 she was awarded a life membership in the Federated Garden Clubs of America in appreciation of the years she shared the art of gardening.

Junior Play March 17-19

Tecumseh High School's junior class will present "The Mouse Trap" March 17, 18 and 19 at the Tecumseh Community Center Glass Room at 8 p.m. each night.

The Agatha Christie murder mystery takes place in England in the 1940's.

Cast members include Carolyn Carmean, Tom Conklin, Dave Graf, Gregg Forsthoefel, Mary Pat Holmes, Jim McKinney, Pam Palmer and Mark Phelan.

Lee Nelson, English teacher is the advisor and Cindy Welch is student director.

There will be only three performances. Tickets may be purchased from any cast member.

Graduates with Honors from Texas

CLINTON — LuAnn Knowles is a graduate of University of Texas, Arlington, Texas, summa cum laude, with a degree in music education.

She has directed children's teen and adult choirs and teaches private piano and voice students in her studio in Euless.

She has also participated in community music endeavors such as Bicentennial Chorus, Women's Chorus, Mixed Chorus and choir.

In 1976 she developed and directed summer music workshops for children in Hurst-Euless-Bedford area.

She is currently president of University of Texas, Arlington Chapter of Sigma Alpha Iota, National Professional Woman's Fraternity, director of music at Peace Lutheran Church, Hurst, Texas, and a member of Alpha Chi, honorary scholastic fraternity.

LuAnne is the wife of Philip D. Knowles of Euless, and is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis L. Whitcher of Somerset, and a sister of Mrs. Edward Day, Clinton. This winter, Mrs. Knowles visited in Clinton and sang with her sister at the United Church of Christ.

Clinton Calling

Arthur Schuler, former Clinton resident, now of Cheboygan, is a patient at Cheboygan Community Hospital, recovering from a heart attack. His address is: Room 34, Cheboygan, MI 49721.

Mrs. Gerald Marion entered Bixby Hospital, Saturday for treatment of phlebitis.

4 Attend Festival

Four members of the Tecumseh Music Makers attended the Junior Festival of the South Central District of the Michigan Federation of Music Clubs at Olivet College on March 5.

Piano contestants were Jeannie McLeod, who received a "superior" rating, Kajen Garvin, and "excellent" rating, and Jolynn Tilton, "very good" rating.

Timothy Packard received a "superior" rating on drums.

Why, Gov. Millikin?

Why add more taxes for the Michigan motorist? Why are you recommending an increase in the gas tax from 9¢ to 11¢ per gallon, diesel fuel tax from 7¢ to 11¢ per gallon and sales tax from 2¢ to 2½¢ per gallon? Already, we are 4¢ per gallon in taxes over Ohio - and you want to make it 6½¢!

Why are you recommending a change - almost certain to take our present tax dollars from scheduled highway improvements - that would switch the Department of State Highways and Transportation to a politically, influenced State Administered Transportation Department?

You Want An Additional $114.8 Million A Year In Taxes For What?

Mass Transit System?

Are we going to concentrate more of our tax dollar in a single area? Are we to invest heavily in a Mass Transit System that might or might not work? That might or might not be used by the populace as contemplated? If successful, the proposed Mass Transit System will benefit many citizens; however, it will have little or no effect on many other Michigan citizens, although their tax dollar will be expanded. Must we change our methods in raising revenue that have been deemed fair and just in the past, but now outdated because of your proposals that are obviously destined for a major expenditure? If your intentions are to be carried out, why can't the financial burden be spread among more tax payers, rather than the motorist who already is carrying more than his share? The Federal government, now collecting 4¢ per gallon, has talked increases up to 25¢ per gallon! Certainly the Federal government's possible hike was taken into consideration by you - or was it? We have highway needs and improvements throughout the state that could be postponed indefinitely - possibly cancelled - by your plans before the legislators. We'd like to go on record: "We Object!"

Students Create Model Village

CLINTON — The sixth grade science students of the Clinton Middle School have created a model village as the climax of an engineering unit.

Roads, bridges, buildings, and other structures including water towers were built to a scale of ¼ inch equals two feet.

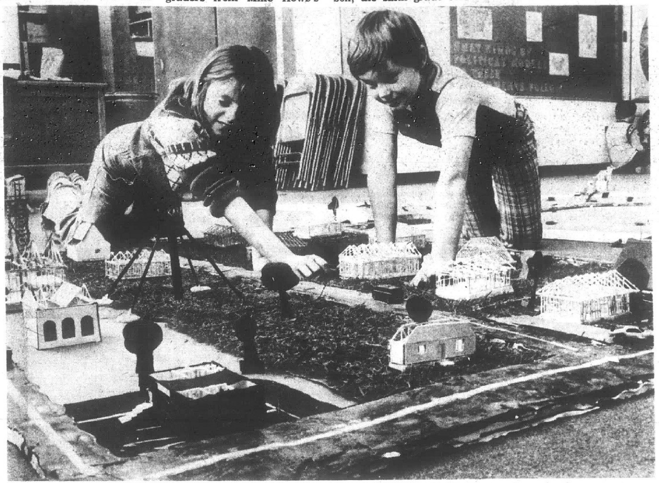
In addition, all of these structures were built as closely as possible to the methods used to build the real thing.

All buildings are built with studs and trusses, while roads were constructed on sand and gravel with steel mesh reinforcing the the plaster of paris surfacing.

Further, the assignment continued with the marketing of the finished products to fifth graders from Mike Howe's room. These students played roles of citizens from all walks of life with various incomes and bank accounts who mortgaged homes, voted for taxes, and in general did business with the sixth grade builders in much the same way these transactions would be carried on in real life.

"The results were most gratifying," Raymond Karbon, the sixth grade science teacher stated. "Students worked remarkably well during contruction and marketing. I'm extremely proud of all these kids."

Karbon extended a special thanks to Supt. Richard Wegner, Mike Howe, and Edward Day. These men offered their special expertise and time to make the project worthwhile.



LILLIPUTIAN VILLAGE — April Thilo, left, Jay Sweet appear to be enacting a scene from Gulliver's Travels. Actually, the two sixth grade students were part of an engineering project recently completed by Clinton fifth and sixth graders. The students built an entire village and then marketed the "houses" and property. The village, including an airport and bridges was built to scale. (PHOTO BY FRANK WEIR)

School Seeks CETA Funds

CLINTON — Board of Education will investigate applying for additional CETA funds under the Emergency Jobs program Extension Act of 1976, which provides dor an extension of Title II and Title VI CETA positions.

Some of the CETA projects that would benefit Clinton Schools are: track equipment storage building; building of a pressbox and adjoining restrooms; replacing roof on storage warehouse at the Middle School; and also the bus service garage could be added as a CETA project.

Superintendent Wegner was authorized to become involved in seeking these CETA funds.

Rental of the Gilbert's Automotive garage for routine bus maintenance jobs, was voted to be continued at a total of $1,100 yearly.

Board approved the construction of a building on the track site, which would house all the necessary track equipment, also some football equipment.

Vo-Tech Home Construction class would prefabricate the sidewalls, with instructor Carl Gumm taking charge of construction of the building. Estimated materials will cost about $1,667.56.

Board authorized the superintendent to revise certain policies to comply with the Open Meeting Act of 1976.

Low bid of $2,187.16 from Lenawee Glass was accepted for replacement of three doors at the Middle School entrance.

School census will be conducted by utilizing the newsletter, secretarial staff and personal contact.

Robert Way volunteered to serve as ex-officio member of the advisory committee for the Peer Listeners program. Gordon Clark will serye as alternate.

A special board meeting will be March 28 at 8 p.m. to discuss probationary and tenure teacher status for all first and second year teachers.

Seek Fan Opinions

CLINTON — At a meeting of the board of education, Monday, board member Steve Bowman addressed himself to the issue of the head basketball coach David Arnold, and the the discussion that is going on in the community concerning the basketball team.

After discussion, the board advised the superintendent to deal with the problem through normal administrative channels.

Superintendent Wegner asked all concerned parents or fans of the basketball team to put their opinions in writing and send them to atheletic director Fred McCrate or call him and talk about the matter.

Community attitudes and attitudes of the basketball players will be assessed before determining action to take.

Board Petitions Due April 11

CLINTON — Last day for filing nominating positions for the annual school election is April 11. Election is June 13.

A petition shall not be circulated in more than one township and each candidate must have a minimum of 20 signatures who are registered voters.

Two board members whose terms will be expiring are: Dr. R. D. Kirkland and Gordon Clark.

Woman's Club Plans Luncheon

CLINTON — Clinton Woman's Club members made plans to serve the luncheon at the April 6 annual meeting of the Lenawee County Federation of Woman's Clubs in the Clinton United Methodist Church.

Registration is at 9 a.m.; call to order at 10 a.m. and luncheon at 12:30 p.m.

Ian Brown of the Lenawee Family Counseling and Children's Service, spoke at last Wednesday's Woman's Club meeting.

His talk dealt with the various aspects of the nuclear family composed of father, mother and children, and the extended family group -- composed of in-laws, uncles, aunts, and cousins, and their changing influences on children.

In recognition of St. Patrick's Day, the refreshment table was centered with a paper shamrock and a vase of green and white paper carnations, flanked by green candles.

Mrs. Frank Ashton poured beverages.

The social committee included Mrs. Roy Bower, Mrs. Loren Dornen and Mrs. Thomas Pence.

Pistachio salad and green frosted cupcakes were served.

Next regular meeting will be April 13 at 7 p.m. at the Community Center, when Phyllis Weikert, of the University of Michigan School of Dance, will instruct members in circle dancing.

4-H Dates Announced

CLINTON — Several dates were announced at the meeting of the North Franklin Hustlers 4-H meeting Monday in the Community Center.

March 23 there will be a sewing meeting at Carol Rinehart's home.

March 26, Adult and Teen Leader Banquet will be at Adrian College at 7 p.m.

April 14, the Junior Dress Review at Patterson School in Tecumseh.

Next regular meeting is April 11 at 7 p.m.

Refreshments were served by the Hartung, Winzeler, Wright and Young families.

CHS Alumni Ask for Help

CLINTON — A few dedicated officers of Clinton High School Alumni Association have been struggling against great difficulties for the past several months to find a way to keep the association going and to stage this year's annual reunion of CHS graduates, the 100th one.

Mrs. Norman Campbell is chairman; Mrs. Larry VanDeusen, secretary-treasurer; and others on the committee are Mrs. Daniel Semark, of Tecumseh; Mrs. Mark Tschierhart and Mrs. David Stentzel.

Clinton Alumni Association has been remarkable for its longevity and continued interest, drawing around 100 persons in recent years and between 200 and 300 in years past for annual reunion dinners, dances or programs, for 99 years.

Many other small high school alumni groups have phased out of existance.

The Centennial Reunion of CHS graduates will be held June 11 at Peerless Gear Union Hall.

A catered dinner is arranged and there will be music for all types of dancing by Ray Jordan's band.

When the Alumni Association seemed to be floundering for lack of funds in recent months, a call for help went out -- and through some donations and a December bake sale, it was possible to keep going.

Now, more funds are needed to pay for printing and postage to publicize the reunion in June. All area CHS alumni are asked to donate to a bake sale, March 18 from 2 to 5 p.m. at the State Savings Bank, Clinton.

Any classes planning special reunions are asked to contact Carol VanDeusen, 456-4609, so they can be recognized at the banquet.

Volunteers are needed to help with arrangements and decorations. Those who wish to help are asked to attend a meeting March 23 at 7 p.m. at the VanDeusen home, 628 Jackson St.

Fall Fest Date Set

CLINTON — Committee chairmen for the Fall Festival '77 met at the Clintonian Inn, March 10 and discussed goals and standards for this year's event.

Festival dates will be Sept. 30, Oct. 1 and 2.

There will be a meeting April 6 at 8 p.m. This will be organizational and policy setting meeting when all organizations will be asked to send representatives.

March 16 the car committee will meet at 8 p.m. at Clintonian Inn. Final decision will be made what is to be raffled, how the tickets are to be handled and other matters related to the raffle.

Group representatives are welcome to attend the car meeting and make their wishes known. However, final decision in this has to be made by the committee consisting of the general chairman, Dave VanTuyle; chairman of the car committee, Les Proctor; and chairman of the 1976 car committee, Joe O'Donnell.

A Fall Festival Kickoff Salad Luncheon will be held for the public April 15 at St. John's Lyster Hall from 11 to 2 p.m. Assorted salads and beverages will be served.

Committee in charge of the luncheon are Mrs. David VanTuyle, Amy Haft and Mrs. Carl Woodward.

'Guys and Dolls' in Preparation

CLINTON — Rehearsals continue at Clinton High School in preparation for the Drama's Club's presentation of "Guys and Dolls" on March 24, 25 and 26.

Director, Mrs. Don Geiger, reported that some extra rehearsal time has been needed because materials arrived late.

However, she feels the group is almost back on schedule and will be ready for opening night.

Technical work is well underway and several set pieces have already been constructed. Technical director Rex Geiger has been grateful for some extra adult help from Greg Carpenter.

Adult seamstresses Pam McGahey, Sandy Swift, Marilyn Palatas, Janie Murphy, and Joyce Shaffer are busy making costumes for the dancers from the Hot Box.

Carl Terry is helping get tickets and programs printed. Student director Elaine Gilmore finds herself busy taking care of many details.

Mrs. Geiger thanked the adult who helped and also Kim Swift who will play the part of Arvide for the Saturday night performance. This will allow exchange student Bernd to visit his father in Chicago.

Memoriam

Allen H. Meyers passed away March 15, 1976. His memory lives not only in the airplanes which bear his name, the Al Meyers airport, and the Allen H. Meyers Foundation which assists in education and research, but most importantly in the minds and hearts of those whose lives he touched.

The kindness, sympathy, and encouragement of his many friends have helped ease the pain of this first year of loss. Thank you, the people of Tecumseh.

Card of Thanks

The family of Shirley Tucker wishes to thank their many friends and relatives for the many kindnesses shown them at the time of her death. The flowers, cards and foods were much appreciated. Special thanks to Pastor David Hawk for his comforting words, to Mr. Norman Spencer of Niblack-Spencer Funeral Home, and to the ladies of the Mary-Martha Circle of the Congregational Church who prepared and served a lovely meal. Your thoughtfulness will long be remembered. 3-17c

The Heritage Bath

Reflecting pioneer resourcefulness. Natural woodtones, reminiscent of pioneer days, are bathed with sunlight in this unusual setting. From the shower to the 6-foot Oval Pool, the room reflects a heritage that prizes beauty and primitive treasures. Americana Brown Ellisse lavatories, Luxor toilet and Luxette bidet add a deeper tone—with a lustre that reflects the sun's brilliance. All fixtures have gold Heritage fittings with acrylic handles. Stencilled Early American floor and wall patterns echo the colors of cascading flower pots.

SAND LAKE — Planning a June wedding? If you're looking for a moonlit lake, a cottage for two (room for expansion) and beautiful lakeview, then here it is! A Franklin fireplace for those chilly evenings, the sandy beach at your front door — who could ask for more at $22,500?

Herrick Park, Tecumseh - River view, large yard, well built home, full basement, attached garage. Needs some tender, loving care but there's a lot of living left in this home!

1261 FIRST ST. — Beautiful home, beautiful lawn and landscaping, a beautiful buy! Three bedrooms, 1½ baths, full basement, attached garage. Open glass doors to your private patio — so very much home to offer, it cannot be duplicated for $41,500.

BRITTON — Put away your paint brush and tools! This home is ready for the "busy family" that doesn't have time to fix things — everything is lovely, from the dining room decor to the three large bedrooms to the two baths to the maintenance free exterior! Large yard, large garage barn — just move in and enjoy! Today's unbeatable bargain at $29,500.

SHEPHERD RD., ONSTED — 5.9 acres with a cute and cozy three bedroom home. Owner leaving state and some lucky buyer will enjoy the loving labor that has been done here. So much to offer you at $18,900.

'Communication' Is Topic

"Communication in Christian Marriage" is the title of a series at St. Elizabeth Education Center, 510 N. Union St. Dates are March 20, 27, April 3, 17, 24 and May 1 at 6-8:30 p.m.

The board goals of the series are to engage the couples in the fundamental communication skills necessary for a meaningful relationship with one another and to help them understand interpersonal relationships to enable them to respond fully to that daily role.

The instructor for the program is Robert Totten of Detroit, a former religious education director and at present, professor at Madonna College.

A registration fee is requested and babysitting will be provided. However to take advantage of this, those interested are asked to call Sister Beth Hemminger ahead at 423-4501.

The program is not a transfer of information about marriage and communication but a workshop experience that includes intensive probing by participants into the meaning of the marriage relationship as it affects one's ability to communicate.

Sewing Day Is Planned

The ladies of the Gloria Dei Lutheran Church will have a sewing day on March 23, 9:30 a.m. Blankets will be made for the needy.

Meyers 200D Is New Model

Production of the Meyers 200D is planned to begin this year by a new company formed in Denver, Colo. said the General Aviation News.

The Meyers 200D is a high-performance, single-engine retractable gear aircraft designed by the late Allen H. Meyers, member of the OX5 Pioneer Aviation Hall of Fame.

According to the Feb. 28 story in the General Aviation News the new company, formed by a group of private investors, will be headquartered near the greater metropolitan Denver area (Jefferson County Airport).

General Aviation News said negotiations are in process for acquisition of a 28,000 sq. ft. manufacturing facility near that airport and plans are being made to construct a 12,000 sq. ft. flight test and final completion hangar on the airport.

The Meyers 200D has a cruise speed of over 210 mph. The design gained world recognition for Meyers, who also designed the Meyer O.T.W. and 145 plane models. The Meyers 200 was once produced here in Tecumseh.

Allen H. Meyers died in Tecumseh on March 15, 1976.

DAR Girls Saluted by Chapter

Tecumseh Abi Evans Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution saluted Tecumseh's youthful Good Citizens at the DAR meeting March 12 at the home of Mrs. Charles Mensing.

Lynn Wikle of Tecumseh, Margaret Campbell of Clinton and Mary Schroeder of Britton received DAR Good Citizenship pins from Mrs. Mensing, Good Citizens committee chairman.

The Good Citizen program started in 1934. Nominees are selected on the basis of leadership, dependability, service and patriotism, tenets of the DAR.

The young women and their mothers were guests for the DAR program.

Program chairman Phyllis Thomas introduced Judee Williamson of Macon who presented her miniatures. She read a story that explained an adult's facination for miniatures. Mrs. Williamson told she began making miniatures to please herself when her family moved to Macon.

Since that time she has done commissions that have literally gone around the world, she is partner in a Birmingham miniature shop, has displayed her works many times and will be featured in Creative Crafts and National Geographic magazines.

During the business meeting, members decided to continue preparing gifts for the patients at Veterans Hospital.

Irene Wisner will assume the duties as public relations chairman to assist DAR secretary Frances Rathbun who was hospitalized.

Mrs. Neil Pearson, national defense chairman, reported on Soviet efforts to acquire ports in the Southwestern Pacific for its fishing fleet.

Also conservation chairman, she reported about the needs for good management of forests and the need for and the need for congress to understand the problems of the industry.

After the program, the hostess served a sponge cake with pineapple filling, coffee and tea.

Tecumseh Attorney to Teach

Henry Newlin, Tecumseh attorney, will teach a continuing education course at Adrian College, starting next Monday night, March 21.

Interested parties may still register for the course, titled Contracts-Credit-Checking Accounts-Bankruptcy, by calling the continuing education office, 265-5161, ext. 449.

Classes will be held from 7:00 to 9:00 each Monday night for three weeks in Room 116, North Hall.

Golf Classes for Teens at Community Center

If Edward Jacobs has his way, Tecumseh will eventually boast of a top money winner on the pro golf tour.

Jacobs-father of Tecumseh varsity golf stars Doug and Sande Jacobs-has organized a golf class for Tecumseh students. The first session is just finishing up with another to start March 31 for players in grades 5-12. Classes are at the Community Center from 7-9 p.m. and run for eight weeks.

In addition, Jacobs is attempting to gain local affiliation in the Toledo Junior Golf Association. The TJGA would allow Tecumseh youngsters to participate in several tournaments including the Jeep Open.

Last year, the Jeep Open boasted a turn out of 300 junior players. Golfers are split into two age groups, 12-15 and 15 and over, so players always compete by age.

The Tecumseh Recreation Department has expressed interest in the affiliation and is willing to cooperate as is Stan Brion, Tecumseh Country Club pro.

The Thursday night classes have featured several different instructors including, Doug and Sande Jacobs, Stan Brion, Leonard Blaker, Jeff Hinshaw, Flave Vescelius, Jack George, Bob Marsh and John Gibson.

Jacobs' prime concern right now is to develop a greater interest among area youngsters in the classes. Students are required to pre-register for the classes at the Community Center. Office hours are from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

For further information, call the Recreation Department at 423-5602.

Recreation Baseball, Softball Registration To Begin April 4

The Tecumseh Recreation Department will begin youth baseball and softball registration on April 4 and run through April 23 at the Community Center.

Hours are the following: Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. - 4:30 p.m.; Saturday, April 9, 16, 23, 9 a.m. - Noon; Monday, April 11, 6-8 p.m.; Tuesday, April 12, 6-8 p.m.

The office is closed Good Friday afternoon.

Parents must register children. The child need not be present at registration. Cost of registration is $3 for all leagues except boys senior league. Cost of boys senior league is $4.

All youth must be registered with the Recreation Department prior to bring placed on a team.

Dept. Interested In Shift League

The Tecumseh Recreation Department is interested in forming a shift worker's slo-pitch softball league consisting of not more than six teams.

Games would be played on Sunday evenings at the athletic field in Tecumseh and players must be residents of Lenawee County.

The first six teams to sign up have priority. Players cannot be on any other slo-pitch roster in Tecumseh.

If interested, have your representative contact the Recreation Department at 423-5602.

Tories Lose Semi-Finals

Britton closed out its volleyball season by losing to Ann Arbor St. Thomas in the Class D semi-finals 15-3, 15-3 Saturday.

Earlier, the Tories got past Webberville in the quarter-finals, 15-12, 15-9 to advance.

On top in serving for Britton was Lori Monagin and Pat Armstrong both earning 12 points.

The Tories ended with a 10-11 record.

Bantams Close Out Season With 5-2 Win

Tecumseh's Recreation Department's Bantams hockey squad proved they deserved to be league champs of the Sylvania Metro Amateur Hockey League by winning their fifteenth contest of the season Saturday.

The Tecumseh squad defeated Hickory Farms 5-2 with Mark Van Buren scoring his fourth hat trick of the season putting in three goals.

Tim Eardley and Martin Henry added the other two goals.

Assists went to Wendell West, two, and Eardley, one. Final record for the 13-14 year-old players is 15-1-2.

The Bantams had a successful season with Van Buren leading the individual scorers. He had four hat tricks, 31 goals and 14 assists. Eardley had five hat tricks, 29 goals and 22 assists. The squad scored a total of 108 points and was coached by Ward Eardley. Assistant coach was Mark Davis, a forward from Southview High School in Sylvania.

The Tomahawk Bantams will play in an invitational tourney March 26 and 27 in Findlay, Ohio.

The other Tecumseh team, the Squirts, lost their chance to earn a three-way tie for first place when they lost to Reebs 4-1 Saturday.

The loss ended the Squirts' season. Their final record was 9-7-1. Top scorers for the season were Steve Eardley with one zero award, three hat tricks, 24 goals and 11 assists and Danny Lynch with one hat trick, 14 goals and 15 assists.

The squad scored a total of 56 goals. Ward Eardley also coached the Squirts assisted by Bill Lindboe of Sylvania.

Tecumseh Banquet Is March 22

The winter sports banquet honoring Tecumseh athletes in basketball, wrestling, gymnastics and volleyball will be held Tuesday, March 22 at 6:30 p.m.

The event will be held in the cafeteria of Tecumseh High School.

Coaches Meeting

The Tecumseh Recreation Department urges anyone interested in coaching for the summer youth baseball program to attend the general coaches' meeting on Wednesday, March 23, at the Community Center at 7 p.m

Anyone wishing to volunteer must be 18 years old or older. Fur further information, call the Recreation Department Office at 423-5602.

END WITH 16-2 RECORD

THS Falls To Christi In Regional Finals

Tecumseh's volleyball squad couldn't get past Jackson Lumen Christi Saturday, losing the final of three Class B regional contests. Christi won the regional final with scores of 7-14, 15-5, and 18-16.

The Indians took an early lead against Christi but soon fell behind. The orange and black were unable to make up the deficit.

Tammy Downing led in serving points in the final match with nine serving points followed by Sandy Dunn with eight and Sandy MacGeorge with seven.

The Indians began the day—in quarterfinal action—by defeating Dexter 15-6, 15-6. They faced Grosse Ile next, knocking off the Red Devils 15-11, 16-14 with Downing leading the way scoring 14 serving points.

The Indians earned the right to advance to the regionals by defeating Saline last Wednesday 13-11, 13-5 Debbie Steadley led the scorers for Tecumseh with 11 serving points while Tammy Downing had eight.

Tecumseh finished the season with a 16-2 record.

Softball Deadline

The Tecumseh Recreation Department reminds all men's and ladies' softball managers that March 24 is the deadline to have the entry forms returned.

After March 24, new team entries will be accepted.

CHS Girls End Season

Clinton's varsity volleyball squad ended its season with a loss to Hudson in the first round of regional play last Saturday at Addison.

Final scores were 13-9, 15-11.

Ruth King was the top server for Clinton with nine points followed by Cathy Gibson with six points.

Last Wednesday, the Redskins earned the right to advance to the regionals by beating Addison 15-4, 15-11. Ruth Kind had 12 points while Sue Richter had seven.

The Skins overall record ends at 14-6, 7-3 in the LCAA.

SERVING TECUMSEH AND AREA SINCE 1850

VOL. 126 OUR 127th YEAR—NO. 34 THURSDAY, MARCH 24, 1977 TWELVE PAGES—25¢

Restaurant Will Open Here in July

A McDonald's restaurant is definitely coming to Tecumseh and will be located in the former Partridge implement building, owned by John Underwood for approximately the past 10 years, on W. Chicago Blvd.

Present building will be torn down for a new structure, which will be similar to the McDonald's restaurant on N. Main St. in Adrian. Groundbreaking has been tentatively scheduled for April with the restaurant opening sometime in July.

Bill Sigmund, of Jackson, will be the owner. At the present, he owns seven McDonald restaurants in Jackson, Albion and Adrian.

He, along with Dutch Hoffman, supervisor of the two Adrian McDonalds, and Jim Abbs, present manager of the N. Main St. McDonald's and already selected to manage the restaurant here, were in Tecumseh Friday.

Two representatives of the Ross Roy advertising agency also accompanied them here and said complete details about the restaurant would be released within a few weeks.

Pair Tecumseh with Owosso

The city of Owosso and Tecumseh have been paired to exchange mayoral visits during Michigan Week in May this year.

Owosso's mayor Gerald F. Collamer sent a letter to city council approving the match. Letter was forwarded to Roger Proctor, vice-chairman of the Chamber of Commerce who is Tecumseh's Michigan Week chairman.

Owosso is a city of 17,179 located 25 miles west of Flint. It has diversified industry which manufactures such items as auto trim, power brakes, furniture and flour. Agricultural production also includes grain, vegetables and livestock.

Attack Fatal

Frank Marsh, 57, of 508 S. Occidental, died Wednesday morning apparently from a heart attack.

A neighbor flagged a passing police car and officers summoned the rescue wagon of the city's fire department. Bennett Ambulance transported the victim to Herrick Hospital where he was pronounced dead.

He was an employee at Tecumseh Products Co.

Funeral arrangements had not been made by press time.

Proposed Historic Ordinance Presented To City Council

Tecumseh City Council Monday night received the proposed historic district ordinance and report from the Historic District Study Committee. It has been forwaaded to city attorney Greg Forsthoefel for recommendations.

The report from the Historic District Study Committee represents a three year study made by the committee, appointed by Council on June 17, 1974 to study, survey, publicize and draft a Tecumseh historic district ordinance.

The area to be included in the historic district is bounded on the south by W. Pottawatamie St. and S. Union St. and on the north by Evans Creek along N. Union St.; on the east by 206 W. Chicago Blvd. to 710 W. Chicago Blvd.

Non-contiguous historic district sites are 411 E. Logan St., the "Musgrove Evans House,'' founder and surveyor of Tecumseh; 201 S. Maumee St., the "Peter Adams Home,'' Tecumseh forefather and contemporary of Evans and 302 W. Chicago Blvd., the first Catholic Church in Tecumseh and city's only cobblestone structure.

With the exception of the three non-contiguous sites, the historic district is the result of a 1975 architectural survey which showed the highest concentration of unaltered historical architecture.

The Tecumseh Historic District was placed on the State of Michigan Register of Historic Sites on Jan. 19, 1976.

In his presentation to Council, Owen Merrill, study committee member and district property owner, explained that the historic district has an example of almost every kind of architecture style popular in the 19th century Midwest small town.

Because the district is a physical history of Tecumseh's growth, the historic district study committee has recommended a historic district ordinance to make sure the buildings are well maintained for continuous use.

The proposed ordinance applies only to the exterior features of the structure, visible front and side yards.

The ordinance would accomplish two things: establish the historic district and a historic preservation commission.

The historic preservation commission would be a seven-member advisory board appointed by Council to advise Tecumseh City Council on matters related to Tecumseh's historic architecture. Three of the commission members would be residents of the historic district.

The commission would also cooperate with the Tecumseh Historical Society and the Tecumseh Chamber of Commerce as well as other groups to publicize the historic district, celebrations, special events, etc. regarding historic preservation.

Any expenditures would first be cleared with City Council. The commission would report to the Council annually.

One important aspect of the historic commissions functions, which was questioned by Council member Jay Tressler, was the historic commission's function to pass upon building permits "for any construction, alteration, repair, moving or demolition affecting the exterior appearance of a structure within any such historic district,'' before it shall be issued.

He cited Chapter 4 Section 4.18 of the Tecumseh City Charter which regulates Council in creating independent boards and commissions.

He asked whether there was enabling legislation to create the historic commission and whether its passing on building permits would preempt the building inspector's jurisdiction.

Enabling legislation for the historic commission and its functions comes from

Award PA Bid, Plan Second System at THS

A bid for a public address system in the high school gym was approved by the School Board Monday when members also authorized the purchase of a PA system for the cafeteria.

The gym's PA system will cost $2,546 and will be paid from a contribution received from the Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation. One scheduled for the cafeteria will cost $1,181 and will be paid from school funds.

Board also agreed to installation of new bleachers at the lighted softball diamond with $3,000 from the Community Fund aiding to pay the cost. Installation is to be made before the softball season starts this summer.

C of C Plans April Drive for Members

The Tecumseh Chamber of Commerce plans a membership drive in April. The chairman, Dr. David Blanden and the membership committee will contact prospective 1977 members.

The chamber will be more active and available to members this year, according to the board of directors.

The board plans to coordinate activities with council and other organizations. A future membership meeting or dinner is planned for later in the year. Regular meetings are held each month.

Next meeting is April 7 at 7:30 a.m. at Don's Contented Sole.

The board of directors welcome new ideas and communication with the entire Tecumseh area.

Only One Circulates Petition

Little interest has been expressed so far in the one vacancy that will be filled for the School Board at the June 13th election.

Todd Herrick, incumbent, is circulating petitions for re-election to a four-year term. No other petition for the seat has been taken out, Supt. Robert Duhan reports.

Deadline for filing is 4 p.m. on April 11. Petitions are available at the Board of Education office.

One slight change in the election laws has been effected this year. Although only 20 signatures are required - 25 are recommended - each petition will be designated for a particular area or district.

Petitions will be available for collecting signatures from Tecumseh voters only, another petition for those residing in Raisin Township, another petition for Tecumseh Township voters and the same for Ridgeway and Macon Township voters.

Purpose is to eliminate the problems in checking signatures of registered voters.

Tornado Test Today at 5:55

A county-wide tornado siren test will be made at 5:55 p.m. Thursday, March 24.

The Tecumseh siren will sound with a two-minute steady blast, same as in previous years.

This is a county-wide test. Residents are asked not to call the police department or fire department unless there is an emergency.

and this is spring?

It's about this time of year that the less hardy, who spend the winters in Florida, make their journey back to Tecumseh. We only ask that they bring some spring-like weather our way. Last week Tuesday, we Tecumsehites boasted of our "Florida" weather here. Temperature hit the mid-seventies, and jackets and sweaters were left hanging on their hooks. It didn't last. Late Thursday night, wet snow began falling and before it was through, some six inches had accumulated, and schools cancelled classes. Photo above shows a 10-foot mountain of snow in middle of the city's northeast downtown parking lot. At right, Robert Snyder puts the final touches on an "Easter bunny" that he and Frank Sterling built on Burt St. It wasn't over, however. Winter's last (?) blast occurred early Tuesday morning when rain, sleet and more snow fell, again forcing schools to shut down. This Michigan weather!

Water Mains Snap in Thaw

Winter of 1977 will be long remembered here by employees of Tecumseh's Water Department.

For the past 10 days the city has recorded 15 water main breaks, an unfortunate record, Cal Zorn, city manager, reports.

Most of the breaks have occurred in the older sections of town and are largely four-inch mains that have about three feet of cover. But, some mains, four and five feet deep, also have snapped. State now requires newer mains have at least five feet cover.

Zorn attributes most of the breaks to the thawing and heaving of ground. However, there have been some cases where the mains actually froze and burst, instead of snapping.

Players Start Theater Fund

Gerald U. Johnstone, president of The Tecumseh Players announced before City Council Monday night that The Players have established a Tecumseh Players Theater Fund at the United Savings Bank, with Doug Dillon as bank representative.

Johnstone said the move was made to demonstrate the Players' serious intentions of establishing a permanent theater.

Johnstone asked Council to consider placing the city's auditorium funds, about $2,000 tagged from Sesquicentennial profits, into the theater fund which has now been formally established.

Right now, Johnstone said The Players are considering renovating one of two existing buildings. But the group has not ruled out building a completely new theater facility.

Johnstone said a new building would depend on waiting to see the kind of support the theater fund receives.

Donations from the public will be received. Johnstone explained that The Players is interested in involving more people in the community to make decisions about the theater. Memberships are being accepted. Former members and area patrons are being contacted for support.

The Players are meeting regularly on a once a month basis on the second Tuesday of the month. At the last meeting Johnstone said 30 members were present.

"We're really serious this time,'' Johnstone said.

5 Projects Focus on Tecumseh

Why do some people remain healthy into middle and old age whereas others develop chronic diseases such as high blood pressure? Why does diabetes increase the chance of heart attack? Why do some people faithfully follow their doctor's orders while others ignore them?

These are among the questions researchers from The University of Michigan School of Public Health are currently investigating through five projects focusing on Tecumseh.

Pointing out that Tecumseh has been the scene of ongoing studies by the U-M School of Public Health since 1958, Nelson Meade, administrative manager for the school's department of epidemiology, says this year's activities will be conducted somewhat differently than in the past.

"Prior to this year we've always had one large 'umbrella' study consisting of several projects,'' he explained. "This year, however, changes in funding procedures have resulted in five projects proceeding more or less independently.''

Because of parking and space limitations, one of the projects—the Family Health Project headed by Dr. Ernest Harburg—will operate from an office at 900 W. Chicago Blvd. (tele: 423-7417), rather than at the Tecumseh Community Health Study Building at 9301 Tecumseh-Clinton Road (tele:2181).

"We realize these changes may create some confusion, and we urge anyone with questions to give us a call at 423-2181,'' Meade said.

Briefly, the five projects deal with influenza and its spread; patient adherence to therapy; the health of young people with particular emphasis on blood pressure levels; family health habits; and the relationship between diabetes, hyperglycemia, and cardiovascular disease.

Active in the community since January, the latter study is under the direction of Dr. Leon Ostrander, Jr., professor of internal medicine and veteran of U-M research in Tecumseh.

"Physicians have long recognized that people with sugar diabetes are more susceptible to heart attacks and other serious vascular diseases than nondiabetics,'' Dr. Ostrander observed.

"Because of research over the past 20 years, some of it from the Tecumseh Community Health Study, it is now also known that premature blood vessel and heart disease is not confined to those with obvious diabetes, but is also a serious threat to a much larger segment of the population with mildly abnormal sugar metabolism (hyperglycemia).''

Funded by the National Institutes of Health, the current study has two primary phases.

"It is essential to find out the health status of persons now 35-64 years old who participated in each of the earlier series of examinations when blood samples were taken for sugar determinations,'' Dr. Ostrander explained.

"Only then will the long term effects of high blood sugar levels on development of premature cardiovascular disease be clarified.''

The other phase consists of performing sugar tolerance tests on a large sample of the population in the age range 30-59 years.

According to Dr. Ostrander, preliminary information, mostly from earlier, less comprehensive Tecumseh studies, suggests that certain changes in body chemistry occur during this period of life which are likely determinants of arteriosclerosis, or "hardening of the arteries.''

Men seem more susceptible than women, and diabetics of either sex are at high risk.

"Levels of sugar, insulin, cholesterol, and triglyceride are determined from the blood samples, and a portion of each sample is stored for future analyses of other hormones, antibodies, and genetic markers,'' said Dr. Ostrander.

He said this part of the study "imposes a great burden'' on participants because they must eat a special diet for three days and fast after 7:30 p.m. the night before the test, conducted the following morning.

"A very large share of the credit for the scientific progress acheived through the Tecumseh research must go to the interested, unselfish people who have contributed, and are contributing, their time, and with good humor tolerate what must seem to be endless questions and tests,'' Dr. Ostrander declared. "Without their cooperation, there would be no Tecumseh study.''

Emphasizing that the Tecumseh research could help lead to the prevention of the deadly process by which diabetes damages blood vessels, Dr. Ostrander said he samples being stored could amount to "a priceless resource for further scientific study of diabetes.''

The four other U-M projects currently underway here will be examined in upcoming articles.

Assessment Hearings Next Monday

Board of Review will begin hearings Monday at city hall for residents who question assessments sent out recently by Robert Hamden, building inspector and city assessor.

The assessor says approximately 2,000 notices were mailed and increases in real and personal property amounted to an average of five percent.

Members of the board are Ted Ehinger, T.J. Wagner and James Freckleton. Mr. Hamden is secretary for the board.

Hearings will start at 9 a.m.

Delinquent Tax over $195,000

School Board learned Monday night that uncollected taxes amount to over $195,000, or about 2.24 mills for the schools.

Gene Cooley, assistant supt., said a year ago delinquent taxes were $166,000.

Late Garbage Is Explained

A representative of M. H. Weaver explained to Council Monday night that expansion of the collection route in the southwest section of town and the severe winter weather were the main reasons for delays in pickup in recent months.

Reasons given for specific dates mentioned by council were: Jan. 17, windchill factor was 50 degrees below zero; men could barely hang on to the trucks. Jan. 28, deep snow. Feb. 21, men got ahead for some customers. March 9, a truck had a flat tire. March 14, one man was sick.

"We need to impress upon you that these are not isolated incidents," said Council member Jay Tressler. Delays on Monday cause a "domino effect" on the pick-ups the rest of the week, he said.

Mrs. Weaver said she felt the citizens had a right to complain. She suggested that torn bags be placed in a box or plastic bag so the Weaver name shows, or if residents must use a new bag, the collectors would "hand it back" to them.

A resident suggested that people use ammonia to deter dogs and animals from tearing bags when pick-ups are late.

Radio Grant Is Approved

Tecumseh City Council Monday night permitted the city manager Cal Zorn and Police Chief Merlin Mowery to apply for a grant for radio equipment for the police department.

Fifty percent of the cost of equipment may be available to the city through a federal grant.

The police radio equipment would be updated with three new portables and chargers, four mobiles, (one more for an additional car) and antenna and base modification to include the Lenawee County Sheriff's frequency.

Total cost estimated in the manager's report is $14,000.

Council member Jay Tressler questioned costs for modifications necessary to include the Lenawee County Sheriff's frequency. These will be considered, said the manager.

Autos Are Approved

School Board approved the purchase of two nine-passenger station wagons from Les Dallas, Inc., Monday night.

Only one bid was received, according to Gene Cooley, assistant school superintendent, although invitations to bid were delivered to three other nearby dealers.

Cooley said that he even offered to extend the deadline for bidding but still did not hear from the other dealers.

Total cost for the Dodge wagons is $7,910, including a wagon traded in. Schools will now operate three station wagons for the general school program.

Leave Is Granted

A one year maternity leave was approved for Cynthia Opelt, Patterson elementary principal, by the School Board Monday evening.

Applications for her replacement will be taken this spring, Supt. Robert Duhan announces.

Area Obituaries

FRANK HENRY HOEKSTRA

Services are Thursday at 2 p.m. at the Purse Funeral Home for Frank Henry Hoekstra, 77, of 505 N. Pearl St. He died March 21 at Herrick Hospital. He was a patient there for five weeks.

Hoekstra was born May 3, 1889 in Muskegon. He married Bernice Lamkin in Adrian on April 5, 1945. She survives.

He was a resident of Tecumseh for 44 years. He retired from the city of Tecumseh and was superintendent of the street department for 33 years.

Survivors include two sons, Robert and Bruce of Tecumseh, one daughter, Mrs. Charles (Jane) Hensen of Tecumseh, one stepson, Ernest Lamkin of Tecumseh and five brothers, Henry, Gerritt, Chester, Roy, George Hoekstra, all of Grand Rapids; 12 grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren.

This Week Slowest

For the first time in several weeks, police were not called to investigate a burglary and only handled six complaints in one of the "slowest" weeks in months.

Past week's reports are:

March 17 - Police stopped Clyde L. Burleson, 37, of 515 S. Occidental, for speeding on N. Union. Investigation showed he was driving while license was suspended.

March 18 - John Shields, 515 E. Pottawatamie, suffered a dog bite while playing with the dog at 306 S. Evans, residence of dog's owner, Lazzaro Alamy.

March 19 - Officers stopped Michael K. Dloughy, 22, of 807 Shady Lane, at the N. Evans St. River Raisin bridge for having only one headlight. Investigation then showed that Dloughy and passenger, David A. Esterline, 22, of 310 E. Chicago, had open beer cans in the car. Both were charged with open intoxicants in a vehicle.

March 21 - A Green Hwy. resident called police about finding three CB antennas in a yard. Police recovered the antennas and discovered one belonging to L.A. Wittrup, 505 Parkway Ct., who had reported his stolen on March 19. Other two antennas are being kept at the police station.

March 22 - Rocky Lee Cole, 22, of 213½ E. Chicago Blvd. was arrested on a warrant from the Michigan State University campus police. He had been charged with aggravated assault. Cole was held at the police department, where he was picked up by the MSU police.

He was preceded in death by two sons, one stepson, one sister.

Dr. B.O. Bashore will officiate and burial will be in Brookside Cemetery.

WALTER NICHOLS

Masonic services for Walter Nichols, 65, were held in memoriam at Richmond, his birthplace.

Nichols died March 15 in Avon Lake, Ohio.

He formerly owned the Strand Theater in Tecumseh for 22 years. He left Tecumseh 14 years ago. He was an active sponsor of the Girl Scout program in the Tecumseh area.

He had been in ill health for the past eight years with emphysema and heart trouble.

Nichols is survived by his widow, Jessica, ("Jet"), a brother and a sister.

The body was cremated.

C. SHAFFER

Services were March 21 at Worthington Chapel, Braun Funeral Home, Brooklyn for Clifford E. Schaffer, 61, of Brooklyn who died March 25 in his home.

Survivors include a son, a daughter, Mrs. Shirley Dunbar of Tecumseh, three grandchildren, one sister, two brothers and several half-brothers and half-sisters.

The Fr. Wm. McKeon officiated and burial was in Roseland Cemetery, Jackson.

NINA BENEDICT

The Rev. Allan Gray of the United Methodist Church officiated services March 23 at the church for Nina Benedict, 91, a resident of the United Methodist Rest Home in Chelsea. She died March 19 at the home.

Benedict married Leon B. Benedict July 2, 1912; he died in 1943. They ministered in the area.

Survivors are one son, the Rev. Donald C. Benedict, and a daughter, Grace Warrington, both of Evanston, Ill.

Burial was in Brookside Cemetery. Arrangements were made by the Staffan Funeral Home in Chelsea.

CLAIR LINK

Services were March 21 at the Proctor Funeral Home for Clair E. Link of 2449 E. Monroe Rd., who died March 17 at Herrick Memorial Hospital.

Link graduated from high school in Defiance, Ohio and attended Adrian College.

He moved to Tecumseh after college, then to Dundee where he owned and operated the Bell Inn. He then moved to Petersburg and finally back to Tecumseh in 1967 where he was employed at Tecumseh Products Co. for 26 years, retiring in April 1976.

He was a member of the Quick Finger Clickers CB Club of Tecumseh.

Survivors include his widow, Carol, four sons, two daughters, Mrs. Dan (Rickie) Risher of Aurora, Colo., and Tabitha Link at home; three sisters and three brothers.

The Underwood-Orr Post No. 34 of the American Legion conducted services.

Burial was in Brookside Cemetery.

EMMA PARTRIDGE

Services were March 23 at the First Baptist Church for Mrs. Mel (Emma) Partridge, 91, who died March 19 at 8:35 p.m. in Provincial House, Adrian, where she had been since Nov. 1, 1976.

Mrs. Partridge had lived at 206 W. Chicago Blvd. since 1939.

She was born Nov. 7, 1885 at Farmington.

She married Melburn Partridge Feb. 27, 1907, in Plymouth, and he died Dec. 10, 1969.

Partridge was a member of the First Baptist Church of Tecumseh and was active in various church activities.

She was a member of the Order of Eastern Star of Tecumseh, Tecumseh Grange, the Wit and Wisdom Club, the Monday Club and the Herrick Hospital Auxiliary.

She and her husband moved to Tecumseh in the spring of 1939 from Plymouth where they operated Partridge Implement Co. They continued to operate the business for many years in Tecumseh.

Survivors are two sons, Austin of Tipton and Russell of Brentwood, Calif.; 10 grandchildren and 25 great-grandchildren.

She was preceded in death by two sons, one grandson, six sisters and three brothers.

Dr. Blair O. Bashore and the Rev. Kenneth Boyd officiated and burial was in Brookside Cemetery.

Arrangements were made by the Proctor Funeral Home.

LOUIS MESKA

"A Helpful Guide to Funeral Planning"

That's the title of a free booklet which may answer a lot of questions you may have.

Many residents of our community have used this guide in deciding NOW (when there is no stress or emergency) about making arrangements for funerals IN ADVANCE OF NEED.

Why pre-plan a funeral? First, you can make decisions and choices, Yourself, with full composure instead of under the unfortunate circumstances of grieving and emotional stress.

Second, you need not "overspend." You should select only that service and that casket, and those touches which you feel are important.

That beloved and meaningfully significant Scripture passage, that special hymn, the minister whose understanding and compassion you so admire -- all can be part of your service, if you make your wishes known and arranged-for in advance.

The "Planning Guide" covers a great deal more. Call or write for a free copy.

Kathy Roberts and James Ohlman United

Kathy Kay Roberts and James M. Ohlman were married March 12 in a candlelight ceremony at the Tecumseh United Methodist Church by the Rev. Jaunita Fergason, assisted by Fr. William McKeon.

Parents are Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Roberts of Onsted and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ohlman of Tipton.

Ardath Oberlin was the organist and Marcy Prettyman was the soloist.

The bride was escorted by her father. She selected a white silk organza gown with lace sleeves, deep ruffled hem and cathedral train. A Camelot cap of lace and seed pearls secured her veil. She carried a bouquet of white orchids and pink roses.

Laurie Whelan of Tipton was the matron of honor, Jackie Thompson and Caryl Fish of Onsted and Connie Tilden from Brooklyn were bridesmaids in pink gowns with burgundy hooded jackets, trimmed with pink marabou. They carried bouquets of pink and red roses.

Amy Burgess, the bride's cousin of Britton, was flower girl.

Joe Ohlman of Tipton was his brother's best man.

David Whelan, Gordon Whelan of Tipton, Ray Gentz of Tecumseh, and Dave Roberts and Kevin Roberts, the groom's brothers of Onsted, were groomsmen.

A reception for 275 guests was held at St. Joseph's Hall with Mr. and Mrs. John Marchal of Toledo, Ohio as the hosts.

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Stapleton of Britton registered guests.

Mrs. Raymond Bird, the bride's aunt of Britton, and Darlene Whelan of Tipton, served coffee and punch. Mrs. William Burgess, the bride's cousin of Britton, served the cake.

The groom's parents hosted the rehearsal dinner at Don's Beef Buffet.

After a wedding trip to Florida, the couple will be at home at Wolf Lake in Onsted.

JOHN BASINGER

Named to Conference

John Basinger, 2625 Russell Rd., a Lenawee County insurance executive for the Franklin Life Insurance Co. of Springfield, Ill., was named to membership in the 1977 Franklin million dollar conference.

The conference is the company's elite organization of $1 million-a-year sales and sales management leaders.

In qualifying, Basinger was recognized as one of the company's most successful agency associates during 1976.

Conference honors will be presented personally by Franklin president William J. Alley, on March 27 at the Hyatt on Hilton Head Island, S.C.

The 93-year-old Franklin is one of the world's largest life insurance institutions, with assets in excess of $1.6 billion and over $11 billion of insurance in force.

Basinger and his wife, Barbara, have two children, Meg, 4, and Amy, 2.

Guest at Wagon Club

Dr. Charles Lindquist was the guest speaker for the Welcome Wagon Club, March 17.

The program theme centered around the fact that Lenawee County has been settled about 150 years and the county has built up enough heritage worth knowing, understanding and enjoying.

By using slides, Dr. Lindquist presented a tour of the County Historical Museum, a miniature synopsis of Greek Revival architecture, and a view of the underground railroad. The program concluded with slides of interesting and outstanding homes in the area.

The Welcome Wagon Club will have a walking tour of historical homes in Tecumseh, April 13.

Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. Bentley Butters, Mrs. William Croft and Mrs. Jeffrey Kuhman.

Banquet Is Held

The first Past Commanders Banquet of the Disabled American Veterans will be held April 23 at 7 p.m. at the Lenawee Vocational Technical Center on M-52, just north of Adrian.

Past commanders will be honored and senior members will be given tribute.

Reservations are available from Herb Townsend, banquet chairman, 118 W. Beecher St. Adrian 49221.

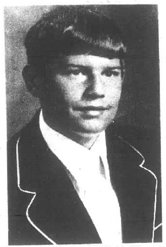
GREGG WONDERLY



JEFFREY MAYNARD

Enlist in Air Force

Three Tecumseh High School seniors have enlisted in the U.S. Air Force's delayed enlistment program.

The three are Gregg Allan Wonderly, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter A. Wonderly of 710 S. Union St.; Thomas E. Bartlett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bartlett of 2706 Coachlite Dr. and Jeffrey I. Maynard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Maynard of 211 N. Union.

Wonderly is scheduled for enlistment in August, Bartlett on July 21 and Maynard on June 14.

Upon graduation from the Air Force's six-week basic training course, Wonderly and Bartlett will receive technical training in the mechanical area and Maynard will receive training as a security specialist.

They will earn credits toward an associate degree through the Community College of the Air Force while attending basic and other Air Force technical training schools.

Completes GT Course

Ed Yocum, PBX repairperson for General Telephone Co. at Tecumseh, recently completed a course on voice frequency and testing at the company's service training center in Muskegon.

The 10-day course was designed to enable participants to develop the basic theory and practical knowledge necessary to properly test and maintain voice frequency transmission systems.

Yocum, his wife, Marjorie, and their children, Barry and Christina, live at 3261 Clinton Macon Road in Clinton.

Reservations Due

Reservations are due March 25 with Vaughn Curtis for the Lenawee County Retired School Personnel March luncheon and meeting at Lenawee Vo-Tech on March 31 at 12:30 p.m.

7 Accidents

Only seven accidents were investigated the past week by city police, and none was serious.

Resume is:

March 14 — Margaret M. Breitenwishcher, 68, of 609 Brook St., made a left turn in front of Eugene A. Wegner, 30, of 5212 Osburn Dr., on N. Evans at Herrick Park Dr. She was cited for failure to yield the right of way.

March 16 — Richard L. Brosamer, 35, of 820 S. Union, was southbound on N. Union St. and lost control of his vehicle. He struck a mail box, knocking the concrete base of the mail box approximately 150 feet through the air. Police ticketed Brosamer for failure to have his car under control.

March 18 — Pawn L. Wilkinson, 23, Tipton, backed into a car owned by Pauline Galazzi, 810 Red Mill Dr., in the A & P parking lot.

March 19 — Patrick R. Conners, 113 N. Maiden Lane. struck a vehicle driven by Donna J. Owen, 9439 Tecumseh-Macon Rd., in the Presbyterian Church parking lot.

March 22 — Jacqueline A. McCormick, 18, Brooklyn slid into Irving C. Gurtzweiler, 51, of 802 Occidental, as she was making a left turn off W. Chicago Blvd. into S. Occidental.

March 22 — Albert P. Tonneberger, 78, of Tonneberger Dr., was making a turn into the Party Shop parking lot on S. Maumee St. when he was struck by Tracy E. Matthews, 30, of 6601 S. Gove Court. Matthews was northbound.

March 22 — Ancel M. Renner, 41, Onsted, employee for State Highway Dept. was plowing snow on W. Chicago Blvd. when the blade struck the median strip at Adrian St. and abruptly stopped his truck. Duane A. Sanborn, 25, Clayton, following the plow, was unable to stop and ran into the rear of the truck.

Historic Ordinance

Michigan P.A. 169. City attorney Greg Forsthoefel said Monday he thought the historic commission's functions were legal. Matter was to be further considered.

In reviewing plans for alterations, etc. the proposed ordinance stated historic commission would consider architecture value and relation of exterior features to rest of structure and the area, the exterior materials used, economic feasibility of the plan.

The commission would approve permit for moving or demolition if the structure posed a public safety hazard, financial hardship, deterrent to major improvement for public good, or if retaining the structure was not in the community's best interest.

Notice of these hearings and notification by mail to property owners is part of the proposed ordinance.

Another important feature of the proposed ordinance is that owners aggrieved by a a decision by the historic commission have the same rights of appeal as anyone aggrieved by a decision by a zoning board.

Airport Sign Request Refused

In a 6-1 vote, Tecumseh city council refused the request of Harold Lange, manager of Al Meyers Airport, for signs to be posted by the city to designate the airport. Councilman Carlton Cook voted against the denying the request.

City was asked to post a sign at Macon Rd. and North Evans at the airport and at the city's north limits.

The Michigan Department of Highways will however post an airport sign at an intersection along a state highway.

For example, a sign designating an airport (for Al Meyers Airport) could be posted at N. Ottawa and W. Chicago Blvd. (M-50).

City attorney Greg Forsthoefel said the request "would require an ordinance change," and at this time the city did not have the authority to post the signs.

The Planning Commission sign committee has been studying the city's sign ordinance. The Methodists made a similar request for a sign at Brown St. and Bishop Reed Dr. to identify the church. It was refused because the city's ordinance permits only directional signs.

Members of the PC sign committee are Harry Stanifer, the chairman, Jan Baker and Bob Taylor.

Mischakoff Is Guest Artist

The Tecumseh Music Club announces that it has engaged the noted violinist and world famous concertmaster, Mischa Mischakoff, to appear in concert on Sunday, April 17, in the United Methodist Church.

Mischakoff, who has been acclaimed as the greatest concert master in the world, will be accompanied by his son, Matthew on guitar. (Matthew resides in Saline and practices dentistry in Clinton.)

Mischa Mischakoff was born in the Ukraine in 1897, one of 16 children. He left home at the age of seven to pursue a career in music and graduated from the Imperial Conservatory in St. Petersburg at 16, winning all top honors for that year, including the Gold Medal as best violin student, and the Anton Rubinstein Prize of 1,200 gold rubles — then a fortune.

The year of Mischakoff's graduation, Auer insisted that Mischakoff alone should be the Gold Medal winner.

The young musician spent 10 years as a concert violinist in Russia, Poland and Germany, and served as concertmaster of the Petrograd Orchestra, the Moscow Grand Opera and as Professor at the Conservatory of Gorki.

He served in the Russian Army for two years during World War I, and subsequently became concertmaster of the Moscow Philharmonic and the Bolshoi Theater orchestra, one of Russia's highest musical posts.

In St. Petersburg, he had hopes of studying with Leopold Auer, greatest violin teacher of the time, but was assigned to Korguiev, an assistant and pupil of Auer.

Auer observed Misha closely and in time offered to take him as a pupil. Mischa decided to stay with Korguiev, who was a scholarly, sympathetic teacher and had been so helpful to him.

Thus it was that Mischa studied under the eye of Auer as a pupil of Auer's assistant. Auer referred to Mischa as "my musical grandchild."

In recitals at the conservatory, Mischa often appeared with one of Auer's star pupils, Jascha Heifetz, establishing a friendship that is still enjoyed today.

Farmers Retire

by Thelma Younglove

BRITTON — For many years before the advent of social security, it was a common practice for many farmers to retire and move to a near-by village. Usually before a farmer decided to retire, the oller children in his family had reached adulthood. The farmer through hard labor, careful management, and practices of thrift had paid for his farm and saved some money for old age.

When the farmer retired, the farming operations were often taken over by one of his older sons, operational agreements having been reached. Some young men arranged to purchase the livestock and farming equipment.

There were various methods of renting farms. Some farms were rented on shares, (renter and landlord each receiving a percentage of yields). Others preferred moneyrent, paying a specified amount per acre.

Not all farmers had a son or sons who were interested in farming. In that case a farm might be rented to someone who was in no way related to the family.

During those days, farming was done with horses and horse drawn tools. Because less could be accomplished with horses, farms were smaller than the majority of present day farms.

Upon retiring, the farmer usually purchased a house in a nearby village. When the family left the farm home, they usually took their buggy horse, faster and lighter weight than a common farm horse, the family cow to provide milk, butter, cream, and cottage cheese and a few chickens to supply the family with eggs.

Most of those retirement homes in the village had a large lot, big enough for a garden with rhubarb, and asparagus bed, a few berry bushes, and a strawberry bed.

There was a small barn to store hay and feed for the horse, cow, and chickens and space for the buggy and hand tools.

A smaller building housed the chickens that were allowed to range in a small space adjoining it. Some building lots boasted of a peach tree, pear tree, apple tree, and a cherry tree.

When those farmers retired they had no intentions of being idle, It is true that he did take life a little easier, but nevertheless he kept busy.

He spent many days at the farm repairing buildings, making gates, maintaining fences, cutting brush and weeds along fence rows, roadsides, and ditches.

In addition to working on his own farm, most retired farmers were willing to work for others who needed extra help during haying or harvest time.

For his labor the retiree received his dinner and supper and some wages which were never unreasonable.

Good farms with well kept buildings and productive well tiled fields were much in demand by tenants, and brought a better price when the owner decided to sell.

Although the following names made only a partial list of farmers who retired and moved into Britton, it may help some senior citizens recall those people and remind them of the many contributions those hard working individuals made to the farming area and the village.

George Gripton, Lent Tuttle, Isaac Pilbeam, Wesley Exelby, Neil Exelby, Ernest Hoagland, Frank Hoagland, George Allen, Lavern Biggs, Walter Exelby, Edgar Exelby, John Taylor, George Smith, Edmund Smith, Will Swick, Joseph Wiggins, Albert Kniffen, Edgar Exelby, Ernest Oliver, Earl Murphy, David Boyd, A.E. Keran, A.D. Cooper, John L. Underwood, Clarence Underwood, Rufus Underwood, Lenard Daykin, Leon Daykin, Bryon Covell, Lewis Theeke, Garfield Gray, Ira Steel, Roy Britton, and Aubrey Pocklington.

As you recall these men, how many more names can you add to the list? Can you locate the farm from which each retired and the house where they lived in Britton? Many of these men went to their reward years ago, but they haven't been forgotten by those who knew them best.

MACON — According to our calendar spring officially began last Sunday, March 20. Where did this snow come from? Maybe the magician who performed at the Macon Methodist Church father-son banquet last Saturday night pulled it out of his hat instead of a rabbit!

The Rev. Albert Raloff gave the invocations at the banquet which was a roast beef dinner with homemade pie for dessert. The table decorations were top hats with pussywillows and shamrocks in them topped with a leprechaun. The Hope Circle was in charge of the decorations.

Gene Fisher was the toastmaster, with Ed Zick giving the toast to sons and Philip Zick giving the toast to the fathers.

The oldest father with a son present was Roscoe Hewlett with his son, John. The youngest father with the youngest son presnnt was Mark Tschirhart and his son, Mark.

Ed Mueller's son, Tom, got the prize for coming the farthest.

Mrs. Elizabeth Wilson attended the 90th anniversary of Beta Chapter of Alpha Chi Omega at Albion College on March 19.

Board Concerned

A position of concern was taken by the School Board Monday night relative to a historic district ordinance now before Council.

One concern included the old West Branch school building, now being used by the schools for storage. This concern was eliminated when the building was withdrawn from the district.

However, Supt. Robert Duhan reports, board members are also concerned about the Board of Education office, a former Dale Carnegie library. Concern deals with committing future boards in maintaining the present office under rules in the proposed historic ordinance.

Mrs. Vera Driscoll, who will be 80 years young March 23, was surprised Sunday with a planned birthday dinner by her family, Mr. and Mrs. Grank Gray and Tom; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Crosby, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Mattis, Lisa and Shanna, and Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Driscoll and Dale.

A daughter, Malinda Eleanor, was born to Mr. and Mrs. John Hayden of Lansing on March 15. She is the grandaughter of Mrs. Perry Hayden. Eleanor, who is named after both of her great-grandmothers, weighed 8 lbs. and 3 oz. Her birthdate, March 15, is the same as her cousin's Beth Satterthwaite's.

Report Good

An accreditation report about facilities at Tecumseh High School were complimentary in general, members of the School Board learned Monday evening.

The University of Michigan report had praise for a number of departments but did cite areas for improvements, mainly the gym, locker room facilities and need for more class rooms.

The gym and lockers have been criticized for a number of years in the past. Officials here feel that new addition now provides sufficient classrooms, since other additional space can be utilized.

Although there were comments about the design and limitations of the present high school, officials here point out that enrollment is expected to drop in a couple of years. And, unless there are developments that would encourage a population growth in the district, classroom space now available would suffice.

STREETS OF NEW YORK — Scene for the spring musical, "Guys and Dolls" is enlivened by cast of l-r, Janet Hilderley, Rex Geiger, Cindy Haskell, Bill Schmidt, Devin Schindler, and Wally Heimerdinger. Performances are at 8 p.m. Thursday, Friday and Saturday, this week, in Clinton High School.

(PHOTO BY FRANK WEIR)

CHS Presents 'Guys and Dolls'

CLINTON — March 24, is opening night for Clinton High School's presentation of "Guys and Dolls".

The show runs three nights, March 24, 25, and 26 and curtain time is 8 p.m.

Because this is a fantasy, the set for this show is representative rather than realistic. The action takes place on and around Broadway in the late 40's.

The characters are people on the streets of New York at that time.

Most members of the cast and chrous have taken on other duties to help make the show a success.

Many have helped build set, find costumes, make props and sew costumes. The students have worked hard to prepare a show quite different from those done in past years.

The cast also includes all four exchange students, Sue Bernhardson, Sweden; Berndt Weissuaar, Germany; Alain Inne, Switzerland, and Heidi Muller, Germany.

Little League Starts Warm Up

CLINTON — Clinton Little League held a registration and short business meeting, March 15, at the Community Center.

President John Hedlesky presided, and some 160 students registered for the summer baseball program.

This year a Tee-Ball league for ages six and seven will be initiated.

The entire Tee-Ball—Babe Ruth league will include ages six through 16.

For youngsters who missed this registration, there will be a final registration Tuesday, March 29 at 7 p.m. at the Community Center.

Students must register again this year, regardless of previous registrations.

No student will be registered unless accompanied by a parent or guardian.

Deadline for all registrations, Tee-Ball through Babe Ruth will be March 31, as a tentative date for try-outs is April 4. Babe-Ruth registrations are needed to determine where students play.

If unable to attend the meeting next week, contact John Hedlesky, 456-4836 or Alice Eddy, 431-3564 for application blanks.

Time for Tacos

CLINTON — Last year's Taco Dinner, sponsored by the Art, Music and Spanish departments of Clinton Middle School, was such a great success that the event will be repeated Wednesday, March 30.

Tacos, desserts and beverages will be served from 5 to 8 p.m. in the Middle School cafeteria.

The music department is providing entertainment at the dinner.

Middle School students are putting on a talent show, directed by the music teacher, Hank Shade.

A raffle for $100 cash will be ended and the winner announced at the dinner. Winner does not need to be present to win.

Proceeds of the dinner and raffle will be used by the Art and Music departments to purchase needed equipment and supplies, and the Spanish department will save the funds for Spanish Club's eventual trip to Mexico.

Old Eye Glasses Wanted

CLINTON — Clinton United Methodist Women are collecting old glasses and jewelry to help furnish glasses and artificial eyes for medical missionary work abroad and in the United States; for New Eyes for the Needy of Short Hills, N.J.

Items needed are: metal frames in any condition, unbroken plastic frames with single vision lenses, sunglasses, brown artificial eyes, cataract lenses, soft cases and precious metal scrap such as old watches or bits and pieces of cufflinks, chains, or earrings, dentures with bits of gold, silverware, and any costume or antique jewelry.

Unfortunately, they cannot use loose lenses, contact lenses or hard cases.

Look for collection boxes at the State Savings Bank, Court's Pharmacy, Ehnis's, and the following churches: Methodist, Episcopal, and United Church of Christ.

If you clean your carpet periodically with professional strength equipment you will help to prolong the pile's lifespan. Whenever you see sparse or disintegrating patches, you can make a pretty good wager that some carpet beetles are having a mighty fine meal--at your expense! Each of these little brown grubs lays about 100 eggs into the cracks in wood flooring, so be sure to fill all cracks with putty. It takes two weeks for the eggs to hatch, and then each of these beetles starts munching away at your carpet. Thorough vacuum cleaning will destroy the eggs. There are also chemicals you can use, but they are poisonous and therefore dangerous around children or pets.

A good way to keep your rugs in good condition is to shampoo them often and by renting a rug shampooer from TECUMSEH RENTAL CENTER, 112 S. Pearl 423-4470 you can do it the inexpensive way. If you have commercial and industrial needs your renting equipment is tax deductible. Why have to buy a particular article when it's cheaper to rent. We offer a special deal to church committees where by we will rent our equipment for 25% less than the normal charge. Stop in soon and let us show you want we have to offer. Open: Mon-Sat. 9-8, Sun 9-3.

HANDY HINT: Hanging small rugs out in the sunlight will also help control beetle pests.

Two Win Highest FFA Award

CLINTON — Seven members of the Clinton FFA will attend the State FFA Convention on the Michigan State University Campus. Convention begins Wednesday evening March 23 and ends Friday, March 25.

Robin Stoner and Brad Gauss will be honored with the State FFA degree which is the highest award attainable on the state level.

Robin had her major accomplishments in horticulture and leadership and Brad is involved in horse production at the Day Farm in Clinton. They will receive their awards Thursday evening.

Gary Henry and Alan D'Agostino will attend as official voting delegates with Steve Wahl as an alternate. They will be involved throughout the convention in conducting the official state FFA business.

Roger Roehm and Jamie Murphy will participate as ushers and helping the convention operate smoothly.

Clinton Chapter is also taking another educational exhibit this year based on animal care supplies.

They have received the highest Gold Award for the last 14 years and are hoping for 15th this year.

John Jansen, their advisor will accompany these students and the remaining students will attend the convention and Farmers Week by bus on Thursday.

1977 marks the 50th anniversary of the FFA and students attend both the state and national conventions will become a part of the FFA history.

Jim Bode, national FFA president will highlight the Wednesday evening session. Ray Monsaloatzge of Dayton, Ohio will be the banquet speaker Thursday evening.

JC Auxiliary Celebrates 3rd

CLINTON — The Clinton Area Jaycee Auxiliary celebrated its third birthday March 15 at the Smith Kimball Community Center.

Joining in on the festivities were members from: the Adrian JC Auxiliary, Manchester JC Auxiliary and the Tecumseh JC Auxiliary. Special guests included District vice president Marge Ball and Joy Hawkins.

Door prizes and refreshments corresponded with the theme for the year—"Mushrooming to New Hights".

During the business portion of the meeting, the members discussed their many projects. Some of these include: (1) Easter egg hunt—boiling the eggs in assisance to the Jaycees; (2) Bloodmobile—lining up workers, publicity and refreshments for the May Blood Drive; (3) American Cancer Society—coordinating the awareness and fund raising drive in April for Clinton.

Next general meeting is April 19 at 7:30 p.m. at the Smith Kimball Community Center. Elections will be held for the 1977-78 year.

Musical Chairs Played

CLINTON — A form of 'musical chairs' is taking place as several residents change houses — mostly on East and West Church St. and Sunset Dr.

In February George and Jo Lancaster moved to the former Lois Lancaster home at 101 W. Church St. That's the old Lancaster family home. They sold their house at 111 E. Church St. to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Davis.

Robert and Cheryl Davis and two sons had been renting the Proctor house on Sunset Dr. He's employed at Uniloy, Manchester.

Mr. and Mrs. George Lancaster, Jr. and twins, Christine and George have purchased the Robert Winder house at 129 W. Church St. The Lancaster house, formerly the Will Stewart property at 121 E. Church St., has been sold to Mrs. Janet Welch.

The Robert Winders and daughter, Barbara will move to a new house at Punta Gorda Isles, north of Ft. Meyers, Fla. in June, thus setting off the musical chairs movement.

Mr. and Mrs. James Welch will move from 107 Coman St. to the house at 115 W. Franklin St., to be vacated by his mother, Mrs. Janet Welch.

Demonstrate Art of Hooking

CLINTON — Mrs. Harold Hertler exhibited a large collection of hooked rugs she had made at a meeting of the Clinton Hobby Club, March 16, at her home.

She also demonstrated and explained the rug hooking process.

Mrs. Thomas Pence conducted a brief business meeting after the dessert luncheon.

Mrs. Benson VanDeMark will be hostess for the April 20 meeting.

Cantata Is April 3

CLINTON — The choir of the Clinton United Methodist Church will present an Easter Cantata, on Palm Sunday, April 3 at 7 p.m. at the church.

The cantata "The Last Week", by John Peterson, will be directed by Irma Broniman

AN INTERESTING VISITOR

He does not come around often enough to be called a regular and yet his visits are fairly frequent. In fact, he appears just often enough so that whenever any of us spots a black and white bird hanging on the side of a tree it is a good idea to take a second look to see whether it is a downy woodpecker or a yellow-bellied sapsucker.

The last two sapsucker sightings were extra fun — his timing was perfect and not only did he show up when visitors were here, visitors who had never seen him before, but in bothe cases the company was family.

On Wednesday it was cousins Pat and Ken and on Saturday Sheila and Orland.

Two words always come to mind when I think or talk about the yellow-bellied. Ragged and unkempt. This character always looks like a bunch of loose feathers carelessly thrown together.

Colorwise his back is striped, black and dingy white; each wing has a large lateral white patch; his front is a dirty white tinged with yellow and his facial markings are a pretty black and white.

He wears a red cap pushed forward on his forehead, his chin patch is also red and below that there is a bib of black. The female is dressed the same except her under-the-chin color is white instead of red.

These birds have a bad reputation and whether it is deserved or not is still an open question. The sapsucker lives up to his name and this causes the problem.

He uses his strong woodpecker's bill to drill holes in trees, birches and maples are favorites. Unlike the little downys, who seldom penetrate beyond the outer bark, the sapsucker chisels through to the inner layer.

He eats some of the cambium and slurps up the sap oozing into the excavations he makes. Often a tree is completely rimmed with sapsucker holes and in some instances the birds do so much drilling for sap that a tree is killed.

Ants and other creepy crawlies are attracted by the sweet sticky sap. Attracted and trapped. When the sapsucker dines on the liquid collected in his 'excavated holes' he thus receives a double treat. Bugs plus sap.

The bird also consumes a great many other insects, many of them harmful. The question not yet answered is whether his insect eating habits counterbalance the occasional tree that is killed.

As for size, the yellow-bellied sapsucker is listed as being 8½ inches long which puts him between the hairy woodpecker who is nine inches and the downy who is six inches.

Our show-off-for-relatives bird is, of course, a member in good standing of the woodpecker family and as such has the large strong feet so helpful in tree climbing and the stifftail feathers so ideally suited to use as a prop or brace.

However, whereas most woodpeckers have a long barbed tongue, the sapsucker's tongue is a bit shorter and is tipped with tiny bristles. The brush is to aid in the sap slurping up, or at least so say the books.

The books have other interesting things to say about this bird. He has a close relative — so close, in fact, he is classed as a subspecies — who is called the red-breasted sapsucker.

This is a far western bird and in addition to the reddish tinge on his front side, he has so much red on his head that he reveals the red-headed woodpecker. Our sapsucker is a tree nester and both male and female work together to chisel out a nest hole in a dead or dying tree.

Apparently these birds are not dedicated to the soft life, for instead of a nice comfortable cushion to cradle the white eggs, they merely put a few wood chips on the floor of their home.

And usually their front door is only about an inch and a fourth in diameter or, as one book says, it is just barely large enough for the birds to squeeze through.

And lastly, one book speaks about the sapsuckers addiction, especially at this time of year, to the sap which has been fermented by the warm sunshine. In other words, the grubby looking sapsucker is a drunk!

Card of Thanks

I would like to express my sincere thanks and appreciation to Dr. Dustin, Dr. F. Buenaflor, and the staff at Herrick Memorial for the fine care and consideration during my confinement. Also to my relatives and friends for the remembrances and visits at the hospital and their continued kindness after I returned to my home.

Mrs. Marjorie Mohr
3-24p

I wish to thank all the nurses and aids at the Herrick Hospital during my stay there. Also my friends for the flowers and cards. A special thanks to the Rev. Russell Cooper for his visits and all the girls in therapy.

Catherine Wilson
3-24p

Please convey this message of thankfulness to my many area friends. I am grateful for the telephone messages, the many cards and above all the prayers for my recovery from recent surgery. We wish to assure our inquiring friends of Raisin Valley Golf Club, that we will be open for their pleasure in early April. We will be looking forward to seeing you all in a few weeks. In sincere appreciation.

Bill Porter
(Willis G. Porter)
3-24c

The family of Janice Cox wishes to thank their many relatives, friends, and neighbors for their many kindnesses shown to them at the time of her death. We also wish special thanks to Rev. Roach for his comforting words, to Mr. Norman Spencer of Spencer Funeral Home, also special thank you to Ethel Nortley for her help. Your kindnesses will long be remembered.

25 Audition at CMU

The Tecumseh area will be represented by 25 young dancers at the March 26 selection of participants in the 15th annual Michigan Week Youth Arts Festival.

Adjudication for selection will take place at Central Michigan University campus, Mt. Pleasant. Attending from this area will be members of the Tecumseh High School Dance Club.

The dance to be auditioned is the "Overture to Jesus Christ Superstar" and a selection from the rock opera "Tommy."

The Tecumseh Dance workshop will audition with a ballet from "Coppelia" and a jazz dance from "A Chorus Line."

Both groups are students of Jo Ann Cooley of Tecumseh. The dancers are eighth through 12th graders.

If selected March 26, these young people will be honored at the Youth Arts Festival May 21 when they will be presented in a formal, public recital at Central Michigan University, Mt. Pleasant by the cultural activities board of Michigan Week.

The Festival will include two divisions — ballet and modern dance. Drama and poetry winners will be presented at the same festival.

Mrs. Cooley hopes that some of her dance students will be selected for the full concert and she said she is enthusiastic about the exposure they will receive seeing other young dancers and choreography.

In the competition Saturday, each group will be given a written evaluation of its work, will tour the campus and see a performance of the CMU Orchesis Dance Group.

You Are What You Eat

by Shirley Weekley

Salads, salads and more salads will be offered at the Herrick Hospital Auxiliary Salad Luncheon Wednesday, March 24.

This includes meat salads, vegetable salads, molded and dessert salads — over 20 varieties all together — and all are delicious. Here is a sneak preview of what you will find at the luncheon.

TACO SALAD

1 large head lettuce, shredded
1 medium onion chopped
4 tomatoes cut up
1½ lbs. hamburger, browned and drained.
1 lb. Colby cheddar cheese, shredded
2 - 15½ ounce cans kidney beans, drained
1 package 6¼ oz. Taco flavor corn chips, crushed
1 bottle 8 oz. Catalina French dressing

Combine first six ingredients and mix. Just before serving, add chips and dressing and mix well.

KOREAN SALAD

1 large package fresh spinach, washed and drained
1 can bean sprouts, 16 oz.
1 can water chestnuts, 8 oz. drained and sliced
5 slices bacon, cooked, cooled and crumbled
2 hard cooked eggs, sliced

Pour over the above ingredients with this dressing.

DRESSING

1 cup salad oil
1 grated small onion
½ cup sugar
¼ cup vinegar
1 tablespoon Worchestershire sauce
Salt and pepper to taste.

Serves 8.

24-HOUR LETTUCE SALAD

1 head lettuce, shredded
¼ cup chopped celery
¼ cup chopped onion
1 can water chestnuts, sliced
1 - 10 oz. package frozen peas, thawed

Layer the above ingredients in a 13x9 inch pan. Frost with two cups of mayonnaise. Sprinkle with ½ teaspoon of sugar. Sprinkle with Parmesan cheese. Refrigerate over night. When ready to serve, sprinkle with bacon bits.

The Herrick Hospital Auxiliary Salad Luncheon will be Wednesday, March 30 from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. at St. Elizabeth Cafeteria.

Advance tickets are available from Mrs. Vera Driffill, 423-3287 or at the Herald office or United Savings Bank, downtown.

Tickets may also be purchased at the door next Wednesday.

New Cash Film To Be Shown

The story is old, but the perspective is up-dated and brought into sharp focus by the film "The Gospel Road" to be shown on March 27 at Church of the Nazarene, 808 W. Chicago Blvd. at 7 p.m.

"The Gospel Road," was conceived and produced by Johnny Cash and his wife, June Carter Cash.

The film is a unique blend of scripture-based narrative, an abundant supply of specially written songs, and a series of in-depth character portrayals, with Israel itself as the mixing bowl.

Adding to the effectiveness of "The Gospel Road" in its endeavor to convey reality for this day are: the fascinating treatment of the Crucifixion, making this tragedy an event of significance that reaches from its own time across the years to take on meaning for all men of all ages; and the songs and background music of Johnny Cash whose contemporary style is not out of keeping with the story.

District II 4-H Program

District II 4-H Personal Appearances Program will be March 29 at Blissfield High School.

PWP Celebrate 20th

Parents Without Partners, Inc. celebrated its 20th birthday on March 21.

March 10, Gov. William G. Milliken presented Parents Without Partners, Inc. a 20th birthday present by issuing an executive declaration designating the week of March 20-26, 1977 as "Parents Without Partners, Inc. Week" in Michigan.

Parents Without Partners, Inc. is an international non-profit, nonsectarian educational organization devoted to responsible parenthood and to the welfare and interests of single parents and their children.

It was incorporated in the State of New York in March, 1958, and now has chapters in every state of the union, in Canada and in Australia.

Its program and activities are entirely the volunteer work of members of PWP, Inc.

PWP's conviction is that it can achieve responsible parenthood through working together, through the exchange of ideas, and through the mutual understanding, help and companionship with one another.

To contact the Lenawee County Chapter 902, write P.O. Box 671, Adrian.

Larry Knierim is president; Shelby Raives is membership chairman and Suzanne McGill is program director.

Former Honor Student Charged with Murder

Rebecca L. Davis, 21, a 1974 graduate of Tecumseh High School and a member there of the National Honor Society, is being held in Hillsdale on an open charge of murder in the death of her newborn son.

She was scheduled for arraignment in court Monday morning, but a source at the Hillsdale Daily News reports she was not arraigned, although attorneys met privately for over two hours.

She was arraigned, instead, Tuesday afternoon in district court on an open charge of murder with bond set at $60,000. It was not posted, and she is now confined at the Hillsdale County Jail.

Preliminary examination is scheduled for Thursday, April 7 at 10:15 a.m.

Information obtained Tuesday afternoon reveals the baby was born approximately March 20th and probably in Tecumseh. A legal question rose earlier this week involving venue.

Attorney general's office, asked to determine whether Lenawee County or Hillsdale County authorities would be responsible for prosecution, ruled in favor of Hillsdale County.

Two young men driving along Sterns Rd. near US-12, discovered the newborn baby boy last Thursday morning along side the road. Jonesville State Police then picked up the baby, wrapped in a plastic garbage bag.

Autopsy later showed the baby died either from suffocation or exposure.

After the discovery was publicized, officers at the Jonesville post received a phone tip and then arrested Miss Davis Friday evening at a relative's home. She was taken to the post for questioning and reportedly admitted the baby was her's and that she had left it on Sterns Rd.

Graveside services were held Monday morning at Lakeview Cemetery, Hillsdale.

Miss Davis was a member of the honor society her junior and senior years here. She also was a member of the Girls Athletic Association and the varsity volleyball team her senior year.

At THS commencement exercises on June 9, 1974, she received a scholarship from the State of Michigan and one from Eastern Michigan University, which she attended before being employed at Peerless Gear at Clinton.

PAUL L. PRESTON, JR.

New Official at City Hall

Paul L. Preston, Jr., of Rockford, Ill., has been hired as Tecumseh's Community Development Director and Assistant City Manager. Council will be asked to confirm his employment Monday night.

For the past six years he has been associated with the Department of Community Renewal at Rockford, and has served as director for the past two years.

Mr. Preston, 33, has a bachelor of arts degree in political science from Loras College, Dubuque, Iowa, and is working towards a masters degree in public administration.

Besides his duties at Rockford, he is also a member of the executive board of the North Central Region of the National Association of Housing and Redevelopment Officials.

He will officially begin his employment here on April 18.

Mr. Preston and his wife, Betty, have three children, Stephanie and Christine, ages 10, and a son, Paul, age eight. They will move to Tecumseh later this spring.

The family visited our community earlier this month and met with Cal Zorn, city manager, and members of the Council.

$1,300 Theft at Jiffy

Tecumseh Police were busy this week investigating 14 complaint reports, including a $1300 larceny from Jiffy Plastics and eight arrests on drunk or disorderly charges.

Tuesday, Ray Oliver of Jiffy Plastics called police and reported the theft of 130 sump basins, valued at over $10 each. The basins were stored on the east side of the building and were not fenced in.

A resume of other complaints includes:

March 24 - Police received a call from Blissfield police of a stolen car and then observed the described auto pulling into the Cedar Shack half an hour later. Police arrested the driver, Daniel Valdez, 17, of Riga for unlawfully driving away an auto.

March 25 - Jose Fuentes Jr., 19, of 212 Cairns, was arrested by police on disorderly charges after he was initially stopped for speeding down Sunset and for ignoring a stop sign.

Fuentes reportedly threw a box of beer out onto a resident's lawn when stopped. Fuentes verbally abused police, and officers ticketed him for the traffic violation and placed the beer back in his auto. Fuentes reportedly threw the beer out twice and refused to pick it up when he was arrested for being disorderly.

Charles Thompson, of Clinton reported a battery stolen from his auto while parked behind Ken-Ray's for two hours. Value was set at $40.

Robert A. Boyers, 500 Orchard Lane, reported a CB stolen from his auto while parked in his drive during the night. Estimated loss was $170.

Forrest Abner reported malicious destruction to his truck during the night while parked at 122 N. Evans. His wipers were broken and plates bent.

David L. Johnson, 35, of Milan was arrested for driving under the influence of liquor after police stopped him on W. Chicago, near Occidental. Johnson had only one taillight and was weaving in his lane.

Ronald E. Randolph, 26, of 5491 Green Hwy., was arrested for drunk and disorderly after police found him leaning against a light pole on the corner of Evans and Chicago. Randolph told police he had been drinking and failed field sobriety tests.

Police arrested Dennis L. Schultz, 26, of 124½ W. Chicago, on a warrent from Washtenaw Co. for simple larceny.

March 27 - Velma M. Bugh, 26, of Owosso, was arrested for driving under the influence of liquor when police observed her eastbound on M-50, near the Community Center. Bugh reportedly weaved in her lane and had one taillight out.

Robert J. Bugh, 23, and Richard M. Lewis, 26, of Grass Lake were passengers in the Bugh vehicle and were arrested for drunk and disorderly. Bugh was also arrested on a warrant from Brighton State police. Both were reportedly highly intoxicated. Bugh also resisted police.

March 28 - Calvin A. Thilo, of Hillsdale reported his auto stolen while parked behind the Eagles Club on N. Evans. He had locked it and left it there over night.

OK 2 Grants

Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation approved two grants Tuesday night with expenditures for community projects totaling $2,000.

Board approved a $1,000 grant to the Tecumseh Area Town Meeting organization for the purpose of sponsoring summer dances for youth.

A grant of $1,000 was made to the Tecumseh Fire Department for automated door openers for the fire hall.

A pledge of $1,000 for "jaws of life" was made to the Raisin Township Fire Department if the department could raise the balance of monies. Jaws of life equipment enables rescue team to pry victims from car wreckage.

Ward Eardley of the Tecumseh Recreation Department was asked to discuss the needs of senior citizens and Gerald Johnstone, president of the Tecumseh Players was asked to discuss the intensions of the Players, at the next meeting, May 10 at the office of Kenneth Crause.

Four to Girls State

Four Tecumseh High School junior class girls will participate in the 37th American Legion Auxiliary sponsored Girls State June 11-19 at Olivet College.

The four are Cindi Egli, Jill Hibbard, Mary Pat Holmes and Barbara Lemanski. Jill Greenfield was selected as the alternate delegate.

The local sponsors for the program are the Underwood Orr Post No. 34 chapter of the American Legion Auxiliary with financial assistance from the Tecumseh Business and Professional Woman's Club and the Tecumseh Products Co.

Mrs. John E. Snyder is the local Girls State Auxiliary chairman.

The Girls State program was founded in 1941 to give practical experience in the problems of self-government as in the State of Michigan.

The program's purposes are to emphasize the importance, stimulate a lasting interest and enlarge the understanding of government.

Cindi Egli, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Egli, 615 W. Chicago Blvd. is currently a three-year member of the gymnastics team, girls varsity cheerleaders. She was a Lenawee County Youth Convention delegate, chosen chairman for the Tecumseh delegation. She is active with the Presbyterian youth fellowship.

Cindi was a member of the Girl Scouts and went to Mexico with the Cabana Girl Scouts, received an award in public speaking and was named to the honor roll for two years.

Jill Hibbard has been active in girls sports at Tecumseh High School. She played two years junior varsity basketball and one year of varsity basketball. She begins her thiid year in varsity softball. She is a member of the varsity club.

She served the student assembly for the last three years and was a committee leader for the Lenawee County Youth Convention.

She is a member of the cross age tutoring class at Lenawee Institute and is employed in the business office of Herrick Hospital. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. James Hibbard, 507 Nokomis.

Mary Pat Holmes, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William M. Holmes of 410 Seminole Dr. is a member of the National Honor Society, Lenawee County Youth Convention and Youth Group president. She taught Bible school at St. Elizabeth Church.

An active class member, Mary Pat was junior class magazine sales chairman, participated in the junior class play and served as a student council member.

Barbara Lemanski was a member of the high school chorus for two years and student assembly. She was an assistant committee leader for the County Youth Convention. She is now involved in the pep club and employed at Eggleston's Jewelry.

Jill Greenfield, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Greenfield of 11891 Macon Rd. was selected as the alternate to the Girls State convention. She is active in girls sports, basketball three years, volley ball one year and softball two years. She is a student council representative and varsity club member.

Open Street Bids

State Highway Department will open bids April 20th for construction of a new Russell Rd. from Green Highway to Mill Highway, Cal Zorn, city manager, announces.

The one mile stretch will include curb and gutter and a bituminous concrete surface. Width, from curb to curb, will be 47 feet.

Except for a small section, all sewers and utilities have been installed.

The new street will be the initial stage that will eventually include a bridge over River Raisin and extension of Russell to Rogers Hwy. It is not known whether government funds will be available this year for the bridge and continuance of Russell to Rogers.

Main purpose of the overall plan is to divert truck traffic to industry located in the south section of Tecumseh and to Fisher Body Plant.

New Shop

Dixie Smith will open His and Hers Hairworks April 1 in the Mull building at 900 W. Chicago Blvd.

A graduate of Virginia Farrell School of Cosmetology, Detroit, Mrs. Smith has been employed in Detroit area salons for 12 years.

Mrs. Smith resides with her husband, Harold, a builder, on Tecumseh-Clinton Rd. She formerly resided in Clinton and Belleville areas.

Flowers At Funerals

In ancient days, fragrant flowers and strongly scented spices were ever-present at funerals. Wild flowers lent a natural beauty to the tribal funerals along with a "living" tribute to the departed tribesman. Flower and spice fragrances "perfumed" the area.

Today, flowers have retained an important place in funeral service. Today we can't always pick our own flowers so we have florists who design and produce breathtakingly beautiful floral pieces.

Flowers add a bright, colorful beauty to a setting which may seem sombre to some. Flowers still add beauty to a casket and provide a hint of delicate fragrance. Floral pieces treat kindly our senses of sight and smell. Still a "living" tribute, they are an emotional contribution to the comfort of the surviving family, a testimonial that the funeral, indeed, is for the living!

As an expression of sympathy and love, flowers serve admirably when the sender cannot be present to offer condolences. Most florists have developed special floral arrangements for funerals.

If you have questions about funeral flowers, ask us — better still, ask a florist!

Accidents Light, One Driver Cited

Accidents were light this week as police investigated five minor accident and cited one driver.

March 25 - Robin G. Skinner, 16, of 807 River Acres, was cited for failing to have her vehicle under control. She was eastbound on Spafford and hit a legally parked auto she failed to see. Parked car belonged to Paula C. Ollette, 27, of 504 Spafford.

Maynard W. Howard, 61, of Onsted backed from a parking space at Kroger's and struck an auto driven by Lafayette S. Janeway, 54, of 20 Cairns.

March 26 - Brenda K. Blatt, 24, of 5255 Osburn Dr., backed along the curb on Russell Road, near the Green Hwy. intersection when she sunk down into a hole. The ground was soft and a wrecker was called to free the auto.

March 27 - Linda C. Myers, 30, of 420 N. Evans was traveling west on Chicago when she passed a number of vehicles. One of the cars threw a rock up through the Myers windshield.

Dan Fitzgerald, 29, of 7815 E. Monroe Rd., traveled through a stop intersection on E. Pottawatamie and struck an auto traveling south on Wyandotte. Miles J. Burke, 28, of Ann Arbor could not avoid the accident.

Central List Honors Two

In all, 1,048 CMU students made the honors list and 108 had straight A's. Total enrollment at the university for the semester was 16,004.

Honors students were chosen from the top 10 per cent of each academic class. In addition, to qualify for honors a student had to have completed 12 or more letter-graded hours of on-campus credit during the semester and have a grade point average of no lower than 3.50 (out of 4.0 possible).

Reader Writes

Dear Editor:

On behalf of parents of the community, we wish to express our sincere thanks to the Tecumseh Herald for the excellent publicity provided for the Community (Parent) Drop In Center.

The Drop In Center, for many years, has brought to the community a variety of resources and involvement, and has been a successful effort on the part of parents, the Tecumseh Schools, and School Social Workers.

It is with sadness we see the termination of this effort. However, we feel that it has succeeded in its many goals and has provided some real help for the community. We feel that the purpose has been met and the time was right to terminate.

We thank you for your help. It has been sincerely appreciated.

Sincerely,
Edna Mae Henkels, ACSW

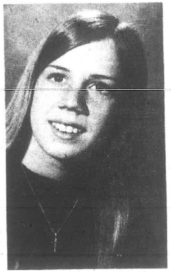
MRS. DOUGLAS JONES



The engagement of Cathy Anne Lawson to Andrew DeHaan Jr. is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James L. Lawson, 7221 Hendershot Hwy. Cathy is employed at Ford Motor Co., Saline as a secretary and graduated from Tecumseh High School in 1975. Her fiance is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew DeHaan Sr. of Adrian. Andrew is employed at Hoover NSK Ball Bearing Co., Ann Arbor and is a 1973 graduate of Kelloggsville High School, Grand Rapids. The couple attend Jackson Community College. A Sept. 19 wedding at St. Elizabeth Catholic Church is planned.

Shares Trip with Members

Mrs. Edwin Walters shared her trip around the world with other members of the Tecumseh Music Club at the March meeting held at the home of Mrs. Fred Schober, Milwaukee Road. Mrs. Cathy Weikart was co-hostess.

The Tecumseh Music Club is a member of the Michigan Federation of Music Clubs.

Some of the countries visited were Japan where they saw many Shinto and Buddha shrines and took part in the traditional tea service - a ritual to create peace of mind.

In the Philippines, they listened to the playing of a bamboo organ, and a tape recording of the organ was heard by the club members.

A Hindu mosque was visited in Malaysia where they had to don robes that covered them completely from head to foot.

In Bali it is believed that the island belongs to the Gods. There the art work contains much gold and wood carvings. The palace of Thailand is made up of many buildings. One of them contains the huge green Buddha made out of one piece of jade.

Nepal was found to be the least developed country in Asia and is very poor and dirty. Outstanding impressions of India were the temples with their monkeys and the many pilgrims who come to bathe in the Ganges.

The breathtaking beautiful Taj Mahal was seen at Agra. Agra is called the Venice of the East because of the many people who live on houseboats their entire life.

In Kashmir, one of their favorite products is the decorative papier mache box so strong it can hardly be broken.

To add to the spirit of the evening, Mrs. Walters wore a gold embroidered, black hostess gown from Damascus, Syria, and exotic gold earrings from the Philippines. Also on display were many interesting items that had been purchased along the way.

New Guinea Missionary To Speak at Services

Virginia Stimer, missionary to Papua New Guinea, is now home on furlough and will speak in the Tecumseh Church on the Nazarene, 808 W. Chicago Blvd., April 3 at 11 a.m. and the 7 p.m. services.

She arrived in New Guinea in September 1965. Her duties on the field are serving as a staff nurse in the Kudjip Hospital, and general missionary work.

Miss Stimer was graduated from Greenville College, Harper Hospital in Detroit for her R.N.; University of Colorado, for her masters and received her midwifery training in Australia.

~~She will make her home in~~ Linden during this furlough.

An invitation is extended to all by Herbert Nation, pastor.

SIGNS OF SPRING

An up-to-date log of all the many wonderful things which bespeak of spring is out of the question. This is such an exciting time of year, so much is happening and happening so fast that what is new one minute is old and out-dated the next. But oh how nice to watch the spring time happen.

In spite of what the calendar says, spring arrived in Tecumseh on March 15. It was a glorious day full of bright blue skies, brilliant warm sunshine, and recording high temperature readings of — well, in Detroit it was 77 degrees.

In the space of a few hours the crocuses, in front of the south window popped open and, although the yard was not full of robins, the first wave of these springtime harbingers had most definitely arrived.

As always we exclaimed how handsome these birds were, how well fed they looked and how bright their red breasts were.

Other migrators were not quite so welcome. The evil looking yellow-eyed grackles were everywhere. The cowbird -- the tendency is to call them a herd but I suppose I should call them a flock -- was only slightly smaller.

On a happier note it was fun to see that the skate board, bicycles and roller skates were being put to good use. It was also heartening to see that the red buds were swelling on the maple trees and that Dorothy's willows were slightly past the yellow stage and into a greenish tinge. Even the grass was beginning to show green.

Although we knew that officially spring was some days away this glorious Tuesday was a heady hint of what was coming. We knew that good weather really couldn't last -- and yet just maybe '77 would be the year of an early and lovely springtime.

We wanted to believe and yet deep in our hearts, we all knew better. Unpredictable March surely had not used all her tricks and Old Man Winter would definitely not leave without putting up a token fight.

Besides, one of the truisms of the early spring, is that our rash and eager crocuses always hurry to blossom and then get their faces full of snow.

It happend again this year. March 17, Jerry Hodak, casually mentioned the possibility of rain and perhaps an inch of snow, but when Mom opened the drapes Friday morning there was a thick and heavy blanket of the white stuff. One inch. It was more like eight.

Earlier in the season I could have exclaimed in pleasure about the white lace on the trees and the marshmallow topping on the feeders. This was just another March snow though and I was long past the admiring stage.

As it turned out, the bird feeders were so busy that neither Mom nor I had time to worry about the weather. We looked and looked and looked. Purple finches were the birds of the day. The highest count we made at one time was eight females and one male.

The gals were 'big headed' with dark backs and heavily stripped dark fronts. The male was a beautiful raspberry color, even his wing-bars were raspberry. These birds were with us all day long in varying numbers.

Late in the afternoon we entertained a second male who was slightly less colorful. Still most welcome though.

The goldfinches were busy too. Impossible to even guess at their numbers. We were amazed at how much yellow the males were showing -- in fact, as the dull day continued, Mom and I agreed that it almost seemed as if we could see them turning more yellow as we watched.

A few were even wearing the first traces of their cocky little black hats. Other birds at the feeders included juncos, mourning doves, bludjays, cardinals, song sparrows, tree sparrows, white-throated sparrows and tufted titmice.

I would as soon forget the starlings, cowbirds and grackles.

Even though it looked winter we still knew that Spring was at hand. After all, there were blooming crocuses under the snow and more than once we looked at the snow-covered limbs of the nearby mulberry tree and saw big, fat beautiful robins standing in the white stuff.

CB RADIO INSTALLED — A CB radio was installed in one of Tecumseh's special education buses last Friday at the Adrian Mall. The radio was the gift of the CB Boozers—Channel 5. Five other radios have been donated by Re-Act. Parents are trying to raise enough money so that all 12 special education buses will have CB's. Above, D.J. Frayer, a member of Re-Act installs the radio while Patricia Stele, driver and Julia Moore, project organizer look on.

Political Freedom Earned by Mischakoff

Mischa Mischakoff, world famous concertmaster and violinist, will perform as a guest artist April 17 at 3:30 p.m. at the Tecumseh United Methodist Church, sponsored by the Tecumseh Music Club.)

In 1921, Mischa Mischakoff and his friend, Gregor Piatigorsky, the famous cellist, decided to leave Russia, and effected an escape to Poland by fording a great river with their instruments held high above their heads.

Suspected of being Soviet spies by the suspicious Polish police, they proved they were musicians by Mischakoff performing popular tunes and Piatigorsky plunking his cello in the manner of a guitar accompaniment.

In Lemberg (Lwow) the situation was more serious as the chief of police was an avid music lover and had heard Mischakoff in concert in Russia.

The violinist chose a work which would establish proof beyond all question. It was the great passacaglia, which Handel composed for unaccompanied violin and viola.

Mischa showed his friend Gregor how to adapt the viola clef to the cello and there, in the police fortress, they gave a performance historic in more ways than one.

The police chief recognized musicians of stature and offered a round of vodka and set about helping Mischakoff and Piatigorsky to obtain passports.

They planned to go to London, but, while eating in a cafe in Lemberg, a patron overheard the name Mischakoff, and asked if he had a sister. The answer was, "Yes, but I haven't seen her since I was 6 years old."

He was then directed to the Hebrew Immigrant Aid Society where he found his sister. It was a joyful reunion. Mischakoff decided to tarry in Poland and soon became concertmaster of the Warsaw Philharmonic.

In about a year, he set sail for America as he was the only member of his family not in the United States.

On that trip, he advanced enough aid to a Russian acquaintance so that the friend did not have to make the trip in steerage. This friend became the famous conductor, Andre Kostelanetz, another of the noted musicians who have been fast friends of Mischakoff.

Auditions Held at Croswell

Special auditions will be held April 2 for the leading roles in the three summer musicals at the Croswell Theatre.

The early audition is being held in order to determine which roles will be filed by local talent, prior to considering the use of professional actors and actresses.

The individual roles for which tryouts are being held on April 2 are "Carousel" – Billy Bigelow, Julie Jordan, Carrie Pipperidge, Enoch Snow and Nettie Fowler; "Bye, Bye Birdie" – Albert Peterson and Rose Alvares; "My Fair Lady" – Henry Higgins, Eliza Doolittle, Alfred P. Doolittle.

Auditions will be held at the Croswell Opera House from 1-4 p.m. Those wishing to audition should be prepared to perform a musical selection, preferably one performed by the character for which they are auditioning, or a number in a comparable musical style. An accompanist will be provided.

Auditions for any other parts other than those listed above will be May 21 for "Carousel," June 11 for "Bye, Bye Birdie" and July 9 for "My Fair Lady."

The 10th Croswell Summer Theatre season includes "Carousel," the classic Rogers and Hammerstein musical to be presented July 6-10 and 13-17; "Bye, Bye Birdie," the nostalgic musical comedy of the 50's, performing on July 27-31 and Aug. 3-7; and "My Fair Lady," the ever-popular Lerner and Loewe musical success, scheduled for Aug. 17-21 and 24-28.

Jaycee Clinic On Babysitting Completed by 31

Thirty-one teenagers successfully completed the babysitting clinic sponsored by the Tecumseh Jaycee Auxiliary on March 14-17 and 21.

Students had to attend the classes four of five days. Speakers were featured at each session to give teenagers professional advice in areas such as health, care and feeding, recreation and safety.

The 31 teens who successfully passed a test were;

Yvonne Carson, Jody Newman, Doreen Frederick, Penny VanSickle, Wendy Scheirer, Cindy Every, Shawn Partridge, Peggy Haimbaugh, Laurie Edwards, Terry Myers, Wanda Kukral, Lynne Shroup, Lisa Bowers, Evelyn Campbell, Carrie Wright, Toni Vargas, Betsy Smith, Tammy Whelan, Bev Lawhead, Diane Johnson, Tina Winters, Charlene Escott, Joan Miller, Lori Miller, Julie Dehring, Debbie Garner, Lisa Bryan, Sandy Cole, Teresa Burnham, Wendy Helm, Scott Johnstone.

The Auxiliary reminds parents that they can help babysitters be more effective if they provide them with information such as sleeping and eating habits of the child, house rules, emergency phone numbers such as where to reach the parents, neighbors, fire and police departments, poison control center and doctor. Medical information such as child's medications and health problems and danger zones in the house.

1875 Diary of Stacy's Man

By Kathy Brown

Earl Murphy of Britton has a special interest in the "C.S. Stacy House," 710 W. Chicago Blvd. (ca. 1848-56) which will be on public tour during Promenade the Past 1977, May 21 and 22.

Murphy's father, Thomas Murphy was the farm operator for Judge Stacy for seven years (1871-1878) and he was married in the home in 1878.

Earl Murphy has preserved links to that era of his family's history: he has kept his father's wedding coat in perfect condition, a walking stick and two diaries, one dated 1870 and another dated 1875.

The first diary and memoranda was written by Thomas Murphy while he worked on a farm by the month for Edmond Hill, ½ mile east of Holloway Road, two years after he came from Ireland.

The second diary was given to Thomas Murphy in 1875 by Judge Stacy. Consider A. Stacy at that time was the County Probate Judge and was at one time prosecuting attorney.

Murphy left Cloughwater, Ireland in May 23, 1868 at age 18. According to his journal, he spent one day in Londonderry, Ireland and was at sea 17 days. He then spent two days in New York, three days on the train to Detroit and arrived at Tecumseh on June 18, 1868. He started to work for George Stacy on June 20 near Newburg.

The diaries reveal little of the personalities of the people Murphy knew and nothing about the Stacy house itself. The first diary chronicals the work and social life of a young rural farm hand, the second gives a good picture of the size of Judge Stacy's farm.

Entries in both diaries were brief, consisting of two sentences, one sentence about the weather, the second about the main activity of the day, whether it was chores or recreation.

From the first diary, one learns that Murphy's collarbone was injured when a team ran over him in the spring of 1870. The entries give more details of social activities, probably because he was layed up most of the early spring, and because he was young.

For example on March 16, 1870, Murphy took a "leap year ride" with two young ladies. He attended church regularly and visited with the Quakers and other churches in the area. "Chicken" and "fox and goose," along with croquet were springtime diversions among young people.

The weather was unbearable in the summer of 1870, on June 4, 1870 the temperature hit 94 degrees in the shade and 104 degrees in the sun,

The tone of the 1875 diary reveals a more mature, serious man who seemed to spend all his time working. Either he was kept thoroughly busy operating the Stacy farm or he had outgrown the spirit of earlier days and had expressed more serious intentions.

Thomas Murphy married Jane Anderson on April 3, 1878 in the Stacy home. Jane Anderson was the housekeeper of Benjamin Baxter, the well-known pioneer of Tecumseh, attorney, real estate owner and editor of that day who lived on Chicago Blvd. where the present Tecumseh Board of Education is located across from the Presbyterian church.

"Mv father worked for and lived with the Stacy family for seven years and was accepted as part of the family during his stay there," said Earl Murphy.

"When my father and mother were about to be married, Mrs. Stacy asked my father where they were going to be married. He said he didn't know yet. She said, 'You can get married right here in our home.' So the wedddng took place there."

After the marriage, the Murphys moved to their own farm in the area of Murphy Highway, east of the Al Meyers Airport. Apparently they did well for Murphy was able to bring his parents from Ireland.

Mrs. Murphy's parents, also from Ireland, lived in the Tecumseh area. Earl Murphy's grandparents are buried at Brookside Cemetery in a family plot.

"According to his (Thomas Murphy's) diary," said Murphy, "1875, 102 years ago, was also a very, very cold winter, with lots of snow.

"The Adrian Radio station has reported the weather conditions in Lenawee County in 1875 which compare favorable with my father's records," Murphy told.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Murphy display his father's diaries.

High Rating for THS Solos

The last two weekends have been busy ones for the Tecumseh High School bands. On March 19 both bands attended the District 8 Band and Orchestra Festival.

The Junior Varsity Band received a III rating and the Varsity Band received an overall II rating, with a I from one of the judges.

This past weekend, March 26, 16 events were taken to the State Solo and Ensemble Festival.

The trombone trio of Andy Neilson, Ann Rundell and Marty Gagneur received a I rating.

Three solo events did very well in their proficiency competition. Proficiency is a state level activity for soloists. There are three levels, Proficiency I, II and III. Each is rated by a percentage. The event includes the student solo, memorized scales and sight reading.

Janet Rundell received a 90 on her Proficiency I performance; Allison Phillips received a 91 for a Proficiency I and Tim Ries received a 94 in Proficiency II performance.

The other Tecumseh events received either a II or III.

Donations Needed for Society Sale

The Lenawee Humane Society would like donations of articles such as clothing, jewelry, small appliances, knick knacks, dishes and what not for their annual garage sale and for a white elephant sale, both to be held later this spring.

Donations will be picked up. Contact Anna Grigg, 423-2688 or Alice Johnson, 263-1618
